ISMAY ON DEFENSIVE.

Says He Courts Investigation.

Denies Charge of Selfishness Based on His Conduct on Carpathia.

Plans to Return to England at Once; May Be Arrested for Contempt.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 30.—More lifeboats on trans-Atlantic liners, an equipment of rafts that automatically would float clear of a sinking vessel and the construction of great passenger steamers with double hulls and extended water-tight compartments—all these reforms, as indicated today before the Senate Committee investigating the Titanic disaster, are contemplated by trans-Atlantic steamship companies.

J. Bruce Ismay, president and managing director of the International Mercantile Marine Company, told the committee that, in his opinion, these changes would be made. He promised to take up the question with the constructors of the big liners as soon as he returned to England.

The head of the most powerful shipping combination in the world shared interest in today's hearing with E. J. Dunn, a New York importer. Mr. Dunn proved a recalcitrant witness, for, after telling of information he had received that the White Star line officials had received positive information of the Titanic disaster twelve hours before they gave it out, he refused to give the name of his informant.

Senator Smith insisted on knowing the name of the person responsible for the statement. Dunn said he had received it in confidence and had pledged himself not to divulge the name. Summarily dismissed from the stand in the charge of an assistant sergeant-at-arms, the witness spent most of the morning on the long distance telephone endeavoring to be absolved from his pledge. As a result of Dunn's testimony Senator Smith dispatched two officers to New York to interrogate the officials of the Western Union Telegraph Company, by whom was employed the man who was said to have made the statement. Late in the day he learned that the officers were having trouble in getting at the facts. As a result he announced that he possibly would go to New York tomorrow and conduct the investigation himself.

The hearing today came to an abrupt end when Senator Smith suddenly announced that the committee would recess until Friday. This, he said, was necessitated because the Senate Commerce Committee, to which the members of the Titanic Investigating Committee belong, was completing its work on the Rivers and Harbors Appropriation Bill.

THE CITY. Every incoming train is bringing hundreds of visitors and Shriners, the city is rapidly being decked in gala attire, and every preparation is being made for a splendid celebration when the Supreme Imperial Council is convoked next Saturday.

April broke all records in the number of building permits issued in Los Angeles, and registered third place in valuation, a fact that is accepted as an indication of the city's prosperity.

The chief detectives in the District Attorney's office trapped an alleged white slaver at Santa Monica last night, announced the man was made a signed confession, and had him locked in the City Jail.

The grand jury returned an indictment against the treasurer of one of the local agencies yesterday, and it is said his defalcations are between $5000 and $10,000.

In a battle between two great hostelries for patronage, the doors of the Hotel Holyrood were closed yesterday morning, and its guests were ousted.

The City Council yesterday confirmed the appointment by the Mayor of his secretary, Frank G. Henderson, as a member of the Public Service Commission, to succeed Parley M. Johnson.

President Baer of Occidental College made a full statement to the students yesterday of the reasons why the trustees' ruling that the college shall become a men's institution was rescinded.

One of the largest transfers in the history of glass-in acreage in this vicinity was closed yesterday when a syndicate purchased 241 acres lying between Main street and Central avenue, a mile and a quarter south of the city, for $974,000.

Raisin Day was celebrated in all parts of the city yesterday, and 50,000 packages of the delicious fruit were distributed by young girls in automobiles.

An investigation by county authorities is to be made of babies' boarding-homes in this city as a result of a mix-up in the Superior Court yesterday over possession of an abandoned infant.

The clever schemes of a woman burglar were told in the Police Court yesterday, the woman was held for sentence, and a number of her victims recovered silk dresses and other finery she had stolen.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. The Santa Monica Chamber of Commerce has received assurance from the Navy Department that the Maryland would be anchored off that city during the automobile races next week. This effectually disposes of the rumor that the cruiser would be sent to Mexican waters.

By the donation of property worth $10,000, Ozmun has secured a Sisters' Hospital. A temporary building will be raised at once, and work started on the permanent structure.

Senator La Follette yesterday addressed a large crowd of people at San Bernardino. His vigorous criticism of Roosevelt was received with much enthusiasm by those present.

Riverside's carnival and industrial show opened most auspiciously last night. Three dozen large spaces were provided for exhibits and all were taken by enterprising business men. The carnival features occupy a half block, and the combined show will run until May 4.

A San Diego man has filed suit against another alleging that he has been putting up money to make expeditions to an island rich in minerals and guano. Now he says he has discovered the island is only an imaginary place, and he wants his money back.

A Fresno man arrested for not supporting his wife promised the judge that he would do so if put on probation. The court gave him the chance, and he immediately arranged with his alimony to change his name and resumed the old relation. The officers arrested him, and he will be compelled to go to prison for two years.

A young man arrested for passing a fictitious check on an Anaheim bank was found guilty yesterday. His attorney asked for an examination as to the man's sanity before sentence is pronounced.

A delayed automobile prevented Senator La Follette from delivering his speech at Pomona yesterday. He had only begun when he was compelled to leave for the North.

Raisin Day was celebrated over the State yesterday, but the greater celebration was held at Fresno, which is the raisin center of the globe. It was the fourth event of the kind, and the most successful, according to the committee in charge.

PACIFIC SLOPE. Miners and ranchers continue to flee from the revolution in Mexico, according to reports yesterday from Nogales, Ariz.

Two hundred convicts at the Arizona penitentiary were yesterday said to have organized a "Law and Order League" for self-improvement and prison reform.

San Francisco yesterday reported an acceleration in the vigor with which the La Follette campaign is being conducted in California.

The secretary of the Odd Fellows' Cemetery Association in San Francisco was yesterday shot dead at his desk by a frenzied laborer.

GENERAL EASTERN. Suit for the dissolution of the International Harvester Company was instituted by the government at St. Paul yesterday under the Sherman anti-trust law, alleging restraint of trade.

The woman recently acquitted at Denver for killing her husband may have been a white victim, according to yesterday's reports from Mt. Vernon, Ill.

The Steel Corporation failed to earn dividends on its preferred and common shares for the last quarter by more than $6,000,000, it was disclosed yesterday at a meeting of directors.

Chicago said yesterday Medinah Temple's representation to the Imperial Council of Shriners would leave for Los Angeles Thursday in three de luxe specials.

WASHINGTON. The House yesterday added the good roads movement with an item in the Postoffice Appropriation Bill.

J. Bruce Ismay and the surviving officers of the Titanic may be defendants in an action for contempt for refusing to recognize Federal court summonses in a suit for damages filed in Washington against the owners of the Titanic by the widow of Col. Astor's valet.

J. Bruce Ismay was on the defensive before the Senate Titanic committee yesterday, denying charge of selfishness in connection with his conduct on the rescue ship.

FOREIGN. The names of fifty-five identified dead recovered from ocean of Titanic disaster and buried at sea were given out by the White Star line officials at Halifax, N. S., yesterday.

The Irish home rule bill precipitated an acrimonious debate in the British House of Commons yesterday.

Ten thousand rebels under Orozco were said yesterday to be drawing siege lines around Torreon and Atotonilco.

The Panama-Pacific Exposition Commission reached London yesterday and at once began putting before the British government the invitation to participate at San Francisco in 1915.

Two hundred volunteers left by Gen. Huerta at Bermejillo to stand off the rebels were yesterday said to have raised the rebel flag as soon as Huerta's column was out of sight, which led to battle in which 120 Federals were killed, wounded and captured.

FINANCIAL. An improvement in crop conditions yesterday sent wheat traders to the bear side, and the Chicago market showed nervousness at the close.

Several causes contributed yesterday to reaction and hesitancy on the New York Stock Exchange, among them the Massachusetts primaries, the possibility of another hitch between the railroads and engineers, and adverse crop reports.

REBEL ARMY SHATTERED

Two Thousand Under Guerrero Driven Back by Valiant Garrison.

Ranks of Attacking Columns Raked by Deadly Machine Gun Fire.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TEPIC (Mex.) April 26.—[By courier to El Paso, Tex., April 30.] With 220 dead and more than this number wounded, a band of 2000 rebels, under command of Manuel Guerrero, has been completely routed by the garrison of this city, aided by the police of the local commandery.

The attack began on Wednesday, April 24, the rebels appearing in the hills surrounding Tepic on the day previous, and demanding the surrender of the garrison, which was under command of Col. Martin Espinosa. This town, which has 15,500 inhabitants, is excellently situated for defense, on a level plain almost at the foot of the extinct volcano of Sanganguey. The plain is surrounded by low hills, but is all cultivated, and is free from underbrush or other cover, so that the rebels did not dare approach closer to the city than the rim of the low hills, where they were plainly visible and whence they were driven twice by the fire of a three-pounder placed on the roof of the local cuartal before the battle actually began.

OPEN CANNON FIRE.

Wednesday afternoon Col. Espinosa responded to the messenger of the rebel chief by firing a cannon. The ball landed on a hill, killing three rebels and wounding two. At 3 o'clock the rebels, leaving their horses in the hills and crawling the several hundred yards across the plain, attacked Tepic from the north, east and west.

In the garrison were 315 men of the Seventh, Eighth and Fourteenth cavalry, all dismounted. Added to these were fifty State police, mounted, and 110 foot police from the city's streets, a total force of 475 Federals.

Col. Espinosa's outposts retired as the rebels approached, reporting that the enemy would enter, if possible, by three main roads, a fourth road being little more than a trail.

Putting a small guard at this last entrance way, Col. Espinosa sent a third part of the mounted State police to each of the main roads to receive and return the first fire of the rebels. Behind them were placed six squads of regulars, fifty men in each squad, one body just behind each party of cavalry and one half-way into the main plaza. This left fifteen soldiers, who were stationed in the cuartel, while the foot police of the city were armed with rifles and distributed through the Alameda, Plaza Principal, Parque Portirio Diaz, Jardin San Roman, Parque Zaragosa and Loma de la

HARVESTER TRUST SUED; PERKINS AMONG LEADERS.

Gigantic Combination Accused of Monopolizing Trade and Practicing Deceit on Farmers—Roosevelt's Financier Friend Named as One of Trio of Ringleaders Who Organized Concern and Gave Morgan Millions.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) April 30.—The government instituted a suit today against the International Harvester Company under the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law. The government in a petition in equity asks:

That the $140,000,000 corporation be dissolved on the ground that it is a monopoly in restraint of trade.

That injunctions be issued to bar from interstate commerce the products of the International Harvester Company or of the International Harvester Company of America, its selling agency.

That receivers be appointed to take charge of the property and wind up the business of the defendant, if the court finds such action compatible with public interest.

Asst. Dist.-Atty. J. Mark Dickey, who filed the petition, announced that the subpoenas issued for Cyrus H. McCormick, president of the harvester company, and for all the other eighteen individuals and seven corporations named in the petition, are returnable May 6. The defendants must enter their appearance in court by June 3, but it probably will be July 1 before they will be required to answer the government's petition.

After the government files its replication, probably in August, the case, in all likelihood, will be at issue.

FIVE YEARS' INVESTIGATION.

The filing of the suit comes as a climax of five years of investigation by the government. Lately the case has figured prominently in political discussion between President Taft and Col. Roosevelt.

In brief, the government charges the Harvester Company with being a combination in restraint of trade, monopolizing, or attempting to monopolize, the manufacture and sale of harvesting machinery. It is alleged that the company has advanced the prices of these articles "to the grave injury of the farmer and the general public, and is extending its business into all lines of agricultural implements with the purpose of monopolistic control."

The government alleges that the International Harvester Company controls at least 90 per cent. of the trade in the United States in harvesters or grain binders, 75 per cent. of the mowers and more than 50 per cent. of the binder twine. Considering agricultural implements of every kind, other than harvesting lines, the petition declares that the output of the alleged trust amounts to over 30 per cent. of the whole.

The government contends that the corporation has eliminated competition by securing control of a great majority of the retail implement dealers in the United States, who are made their exclusive selling agents.

The government charges that the defendants have absorbed competing companies but concealed their ownership, permitting them to be advertised "as wholly independent and

TAFT SURE OF MAJORITY OF DISTRICT DELEGATES.

Preference Vote of State Is for President from Boston to Smallest Hamlet—Republican Contest Is One of the Closest Ever Known in Old Commonwealth. George Fred Williams Overwhelmingly Defeated.

BY SUMNER CURTIS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON (Mass.) May 1.—2 a.m.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] So close is the result of the primary preference vote in Massachusetts that both sides are claiming a victory at this hour, and on the face of the returns at hand, Roosevelt may have carried the State by a few hundred, although the Taft managers declare the President has won by from 5000 to 10,000.

It seems to be certain, however, that the Roosevelt delegates-at-large have been elected, even if the final figures show a plurality for Taft on the preference vote. As it now looks, neither Taft nor Roosevelt will have more than a bare plurality of the votes cast in the preference column.

The discrepancy between the Taft preference vote and that cast for the Taft delegates-at-large, is due, in part, to the confusion incident to the listing of nine candidates pledged to Taft, whereas only eight delegates could be voted for. The Taft managers admit that they have lost the delegates as a result of the defective ballots, while claiming a majority of the popular vote for President. In many places, however, the Roosevelt delegates received a greater vote than was given to the colonel in the preference column. This is declared to have resulted from the attitude of the nonradicals who desired to register a protest against the State Republican organization, but who would not cast a ballot in favor of Roosevelt directly.

TAFT WILL GET MAJORITY.

George Fred Williams, who was one of the independent candidates for delegate-at-large on the Democratic ticket, apparently is overwhelmingly defeated, although Champ Clark, whom he supported, won a tremendous victory over Woodrow Wilson in the preference contest.

That Taft will win a majority of twenty-eight district delegations to the national convention seems to be assured at this hour. The Taft delegate ticket has carried the First, Second, Third, Eleventh, Twelfth and Thirteenth districts.

The Roosevelt delegates have won in the Ninth and Fourteenth districts. From the other districts, not enough returns have been received as yet to make the result certain, but it is believed that Taft will win in most instances. There is a possibility, even with Roosevelt winning the delegates at large, that the delegates to the national convention will be close to an even split.

In view of the closeness of the contest and the complications arising as a result of the defective ballots, etc., it is not possible to make deductions at this time as to the full effect which the Massachusetts primary will have on the country at large. All that can be said now, is that there has been no overwhelming victory for either side.

Taft carried the city of Boston by a plurality of 731 over Roosevelt. It was expected by his friends and practically admitted by the opposition in primaries that the President would do much better than this. The total vote in the city was: Taft, 11,308; Roosevelt, 10,698; La Follette, 344.

MANY TAFT VOTES LOST.

Returns up to this hour show that in every bunch of fifty ballots counted five have been thrown out, so far as the delegate expression is concerned, because the electors had made the mistake of voting for nine instead of eight candidates. At the Taft headquarters at midnight it was estimated that 10 per cent. of the delegate tickets designed to be in the President's favor had been thrown out.

There were no names on the preference ballot for Vice-President, but on the Democratic side especially the voters wrote in the expressions of choice several thousand strong. Undoubtedly there was a good deal of humor indulged in connection with the Vice-Presidency.

Many Republican voters wrote in the name of Thomas W. Lawson of frenzied finance fame. Democrats voted for Mayor Fitzgerald in large numbers.

Mayor Fitzgerald, who leads the Democratic ticket, declared tonight that, despite the preference vote, he does not feel bound to support Speaker Clark. He explains that Gov. Foss withdrew from the preference contest too late to allow Underwood, Harmon and others to enter, who originally had felt they ought to leave Massachusetts alone because it had a favorite son. Under these circumstances the Mayor says the Massachusetts delegation at Baltimore will be free to act as it thinks best for the interests of New England Democrats.

Champ Clark's houn' dawg is yelping with delight in Massachusetts. The Missourian swept the State in the Democratic Presidential preference primary, winning over Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey by nearly 3 to 1.

WILSON'S CAUSE LOST.

The houn's yelping was accelerated by the news from Florida that Wilson had been given another defeat in that State by Underwood, whom the Wilsonites claim is the third member of the alleged Clark-Harmon-Underwood triumvirate, which the New Jersey executive has openly charged with being arrayed against him.

From the earliest returns from the polls tonight it was apparent that the cause of Gov. Wilson was hopeless. In 206 out of 207 precincts in this city the count was 13,804 for Clark; 5848 for Wilson. Clark ran 3000 votes ahead of Roosevelt and 2000 ahead of Taft in the city.

The lead Clark obtained in Boston, was maintained in the country districts. At no time was his victory threatened. The inclement weather kept many voters from the polls, and the vote shows the Democratic count to be many thousands behind that cast for the Republican candidates.

ACCELERATION IN VIGOR.

La Follette and His Helpers Are Adding to the Speed of the Senator's California Campaign.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Senator Robert M. La Follette will speak at the Dixon May Day Fair tomorrow afternoon. In the evening he will talk in Sacramento.

State Treasurer Andrew H. Dahl of Wisconsin arrived here today and will campaign for La Follette in Humboldt and Mendocino counties. Prof. Charles C. Pearce of the University of Washington, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, also joined the La Follette campaign forces and will tour the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys.

In a statement issued from La Follette headquarters here today, Rudolph Spreckels urges the men and women voters of California not to "follow blindly the men who, after fighting so bravely to rid our State of the old Southern Pacific machine, are now assuming the role of dictators."

After asserting that Gov. Johnson and his supporters had unanimously selected La Follette as their Presidential choice, only to drop him at the time of the Governor's eastern trip in February, Mr. Spreckels declares these party leaders immediately sought to undermine La Follette's strength in this State by giving out statements to the effect that he had suffered a physical breakdown.

"I want to believe," says the statement, "that those who were the leaders of the progressive movement in California were deceived into abandoning La Follette for Roosevelt by the false statements originating in the East. These people are still held by false pride from again supporting La Follette, who is the only Republican candidate known not to have 'special privilege' backing."

CARRY TAFT PLEDGES.

New Hampshire State Convention Instructs for President and Protests Against Various Isms.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CONCORD (N. H.) April 30.—The State Republican convention elected delegates today to the Chicago convention, favoring the renomination of President Taft, and instructed them to vote for him until released. A clause in the platform presented to the convention instructing the delegates not to vote for Col. Roosevelt under any circumstances, was stricken out after a heated debate.

When the convention for the selection of four delegates at large assembled here today, the Taft forces were in control. The Roosevelt element offered no opposition to the organization of the convention as planned by the other side. Uninstructed delegations have been the rule in New Hampshire Republican history.

The platform as adopted included these planks:

"We protest against associating the lofty sentiments of Lincoln with any such perilous and subversive dogmas as the initiative, general referendums and the recall of judges, or their decisions by popular votes in the heat of partisan feeling."

SUGGEST STITT WILSON.

MAY RUN FOR PRESIDENCY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERKELEY (Cal.) April 30.—J. Stitt Wilson, Socialist Mayor of Berkeley, was asked today by the Socialist Committee of Milwaukee to become a candidate for the Socialist Presidential nomination. Mayor Wilson received a telegram from the committee which is in part as follows:

"We want you to allow us to place you in nomination at the national convention in Indianapolis on May 12 for the Presidential or Vice-Presidential nomination. We will be glad to support your name if you agree."

Mayor Wilson said he would consider the matter and that he would accept an accompanying invitation to address the Milwaukee Socialists on his eastern trip to the national convention.

Acrimonious.

BITTER DEBATE ON HOME RULE.

Churchill Says It Will Promote Consolidation.

Former Unionist Moves for Rejection by Commons.

Protestant from Ulster Out in Defense of Catholics.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 30.—Winston Spencer Churchill began the debate today at the second reading of the home rule bill in the House of Commons.

Mr. Churchill said he regarded the home rule question with a strictly modern eye. The whole character of the movement had moderated, he said, since the Gladstonian period. The question now was not comparable in importance to the problem of the growing discontent among the laboring classes in England, nor to the necessity for guarding British possessions.

Two of the most powerful empires in the world—Germany and America—Mr. Churchill pointed out, were carried on by a gigantic system of federated States, and he thought federation, of which home rule was the first step, would help further to consolidate the United Kingdom.

Walter Long, a former Unionist, Chief Secretary for Ireland, moved the rejection of the bill.

Mr. Long said it was not peace that the bill would bring, but war—bitter war—in every word and clause of it. The government had no right, even for the sake of settling the Irish question, to run grave risks with respect to national defense, which would exist under the Irish Parliament.

They sought to pass the bill by dishonest means, he said, with the object of retaining the Nationalist votes in the House of Commons. Ulster was in deadly earnest in its determination not to submit to home rule and the opposition was equally determined not to desert its friends in Ireland.

Thomas Scanlon, Nationalist from North Sligo, said the Nationalists wanted to build up an Ireland where Protestants would have equal rights with Catholics. He said that a large number of people in the North of Ireland had been converted to home rule in recent years, and the number was steadily increasing.

Charles Curtis Craig, Unionist from South Antrim, said that the feeling in the North of Ireland against home rule was stronger than ever.

"I have lived for years among Catholics," he said. "There is no spirit of despotism or tyranny among them. They do not desire to put down the Protestant minority, but are anxious to give fair play to all."

Leopold Amery, Unionist for South Birmingham, and a well-known writer, said the measure was so great a crime that Ulster was justified in resisting by every means at its disposal, however extreme.

LAY CASE BEFORE BRITISH.

Panama-Pacific Exposition Committee Reaches London and at Once Begins Its Arguments.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 30.—The Panama-Pacific Exposition Commission appointed by President Taft, which arrived here yesterday, made an early start in putting before the British government the case for British participation in the international exposition to be held at San Francisco in 1915.

The members of the commission spent this morning arranging the programme for their stay, in consultation with Whitelaw Reid, the American Ambassador, and in the afternoon they called on Sir Edward Grey at the Foreign Office.

The members of the party were invited by Foreign Secretary Grey to be the guests of the government at a luncheon in the House of Commons on Thursday and they will be presented to King George in Buckingham Palace Saturday.

The commissioners have not heard anything further in regard to the reported unsympathetic attitude on the part of Russia and they are hopeful that feeling in that country in respect to the passport question will not interfere with their visit to St. Petersburg.

FLOYD ALLEN IN COURT.

Will Be Tried First for Tragedy in Virginia Courtroom and Veniremen Are Called.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WYTHEVILLE (Va.) April 30.—Floyd Allen was before the bar in the Circuit Court here today to be tried for his life for the part he played in the Hillsville courtroom tragedy, March 14.

The prosecution elected to try Floyd Allen first for the murder of Commonwealth's Attorney Foster. The day was spent in summoning veniremen and witnesses. The latter will number more than two hundred.

SIDNA ALLEN PURSUED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MOUNT AIRY (N. C.) April 30.—Sidna Allen, one of the uncaptured Hillsville outlaws, was seen yesterday afternoon in the mountains near Fancy Gap by Dr. Thomas B. Ashby of this place, who was at the home of Charles Webb there. A posse is in pursuit.

AWARDED HARVARD PRIZE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Cal.) April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Franklin F. Wolff, a graduate student in the department of mathematics, has been awarded the Harvard scholarship from Stanford and California for the coming year. In awarding the scholarship to Wolff, the Harvard Club of San Francisco breaks a precedent by making the presentation twice in succession to a Stanford student. It has usually been the custom in the past to alternate between the two California universities, but Wolff's record seemed to justify the action of the western Harvard men.

Wolff was graduated last year from the department of mathematics, and is at present an assistant in the department of psychology. His work at Harvard will continue along lines of the latter study. Wolff registers from San Fernando. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and is enrolled in the Philosophy Club.

REBELS SHATTERED.

Cruz. On the roof of the cuartel three men were operating the three-pounder, throwing solid shot into the rebels as they approached, while in each of the three entrance ways mentioned, a rapid-fire gun was planted to reinforce the cavalry and the foot soldiers.

"FRIENDS TO THE FRONT."

Espinosa stationed five buglers in the towers of the cathedral, with orders not to play until ordered to do so by him personally, and then to sound once the "Amigo al frente," and immediately to blow the "fuego! fuego! fuego!" and thereafter to play the national hymn of the republic until ordered to cease.

The steady fire of the three-pounder, booming over the city like the notes of a giant clock, gave first warning to the inhabitants of Tepic that the battle was on in earnest, and did such effective work in the ranks of the approaching rebels that they were delayed until the garrison had transported abundant ammunition to all the outposts and completed all necessary preparations for the battle.

Then at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, just as the coolness of the tropic evening began to settle over the sun-burned valley, the bugles in the cathedral tower shrilled forth the call to battle. Doors were barricaded, shutters clanked on windows, and all non-combatant Tepic buried itself within its three-foot walls.

As the echoes of the first bugle call died in the sharper command to open fire, three half-hidden machine guns responded with an opening rattle that soon became a deafening clatter. The young gunners of the Federal army had the range and the rebels began to fall by ones and twos, here and there, as the assailants dodged forward among the furrows and hummocks.

At 200 yards from the stone walls which hid the machine guns and the waiting cavalry, the song of the rapid-firers ceased; the buglers' cry of "Fuego" rose, hung for an instant, and, as it merged into the "Mexicanos al grito de guerra," the cavalry, sabers and carbines sheathed, but with revolvers in each hand and bridle reins hung about their necks, leaped forth into the oncoming horde.

REBELS SURPRISED.

The sally took the rebels by surprise. The crackling revolvers did their work well, and many a rebel fell without time to cross himself or to mutter the name of his God. Barely to the first line of the rebels did the chargers reach, when the sabers were drawn and the mounted police cut their way to the second line, where they turned, and, amid a whistling hail of bullets, rode for their lives to the cover of the walls.

The rebels, thinking the force of the garrison had retreated into the cuartel, as was the custom of garrisons under the Diaz regime, followed in a headlong charge. One hundred yards they gained, then fifty more, and then from machine guns and rifles, well concealed behind thick stone walls, perfectly sighted and coolly operated, came a crackle as of dry boughs in a flame-swept forest, a ripple that became a roar and that turned from fire into a wave of leaden death.

The rebels fell like leaves, but on they came; fresh mounted bands of attackers led by Guerrero himself poured out of the hills. The reinforced rebels nearly reached the entrance to the town before their losses made them waver. At this juncture the rapid-firers, under orders from Col. Espinosa, withdrew to the corners of the cuartel, where they had a clean sweep of the plaza and the approaches to the heart of the town.

REBEL ADVANCEMENT WELL UNDER WAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AT REBEL FRONT, ESCALON (Mex.) April 30.—The southern advance by the rebel army is well under way and the indications are that within three or four days, Orozco's forces will be within striking distance of the Federals in the neighborhood of Torreon. Scouts report that Huerta's men appear to be preparing only for defense, although the possibility of a conflict with a government force on the road remains.

The advance movement to the southward, for which the rebels had been planning assiduously since the defeat of the Federal forces at Parral, was begun Sunday morning when Col. Jose Flores Alatorres's column was dispatched from Escalon to reinforce Gen. Salazar at Sierra Mojada and 2500 cavalry under Gens. Argumedo and Campos were sent south to join the force of 1100 men with which Gen. Murillo had been harrassing the Federals in the vicinity of Bermejillo.

Gen. Luis Fernandez was moved up from Rellano to garrison Escalon Col. Caesar Cannales with 1299 men has gone westward to intercept a force of Federals under Gen. Trucy Aubert, who was said to be coming north from Mapimi, along virtually the same route which led to his undoing at the battles of San Pedro and Atotonilco the last week of March.

The rebel artillery under Maj. Luis Caseo will remain at Rellano until such time as it is needed at the front.

Not only has the advance from the North begun, but it is said that Torreon is being menaced from the South and West by 3000 rebels from the Laguna district. Men who know the country thoroughly and who have valuable reputations as fighting men, rebel leaders in the field, are confident of the outcome of the movement. They waited until they were ready, they say, and believe that the capitulation of Torreon and its occupation by the liberal forces is only a question of days. They hope to destroy utterly the Federal army under Gen. Huerta. The entire rebel force is well supplied with ammunition for both rifles and big guns and has ample food and forage for men and horses.

Federal scouts appeared Sunday afternoon within three miles of Col. Cannales's camp at Rellano and engaged in a skirmish.

Acting on advices that a column of some 200 Federals was moving toward the State of Chihuahua from Sonora by way of Sahuaripa, orders were issued today for the dispatch of a column of similar strength to meet the rebel force. The men will be taken from the garrison at Casas Grandes. There is a disposition to regard the report of the Federal advance from that quarter as baseless.

As far south as Yermo, on the line of the Mexican Central, the territory is dominated by the liberals, and their forces extend far to the left and right. Reports from the Federal base at Torreon indicate that the government troops purpose awaiting the coming of the rebels.

One story that was brought today by scouts, was that Saturday there occurred between two troops of government volunteers an impromptu fight that resulted in the killing of several and wounding of others. According to the story, one group made up of railroad men and another of regulars, styled the "Amerillos," were repairing a bridge some miles south of Yermo when the men began a dispute regarding rations. A fist fight resulted in a rush to where their arms had been left and brisk firing at close range followed. The battle was stopped by an escort of regulars, who arrived on a train from the South.

OROZCO DRAWS SIEGE LINES ABOUT TORREON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ESCALON (Mex.) April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The entire rebel army under Gen. Orozco, consisting of nearly 10,000 men of all arms, is tonight drawing siege lines around Torreon and Atotonilco, and the insurrecto leader believes the decisive blow of his fight against the Madero government will be delivered at Torreon.

Before he captures Torreon, as he says he will surely do, Orozco expects a sharp engagement at Atotonilco, sixteen miles from the main line of the Mexican Central Railroad. Orozco says he has information that 2000 Federal regulars are entrenched at Atotonilco with the evident intent of making a flank attack when the main body of his army has pressed in to the siege of Torreon, and in order to rout or capture this force he has sent Gen. Fernandez with 1500 men and two guns to dislodge the Federals. He expects Fernandez to strike at dawn tomorrow.

Orozco had originally intended to await a Federal attack, but this afternoon he received news of the desertion of 200 volunteers from Gen. Huerta's army and occupation of Bermejillo by his forces and he decided to carry the fight to Huerta at Torreon.

Orozco has eight machine guns and six field pieces. The greatest number of his men are mounted. According to the rebel leader's information, Huerta has a dozen field guns and four machine guns, which latter Orozco claims the Federals are unable to use against his because of lack of skilled men to handle them. His own machine guns detachment is commanded by a captain of Mexican parentage who was raised in Arizona and has served in the Arizona Rangers. His name is said to be Juan Garcia and he is a machinist by trade. His name does not appear in the roster of Arizona or Texas rangers for the last ten years and is believed to be fictitious.

Gen. Orozco at his headquarters here tonight said he was sure he would defeat Huerta at Torreon and that Gen. Zapata would capture Cuernavaca this week, thus putting Madero on the defensive in his own capital.

He is particularly interested in reports of the sailing of American transports or warships to the West Coast and said there would be no need for American interference, as the "Liberals" would soon be in control of the government of Mexico.

ONE BATTLE ON; A TOWN BESIEGED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, April 29.—One battle in progress, a town besieged by rebels and a third retaken by Federals, was the burden of the day's war news in Mexico.

Federals and Zapatistas are reported to be fighting tonight at Tres Marias, twenty-five miles north of Cuernavaca. A detachment of Federal artillery, however, was subjected to a hot fire and was unable to unload its field pieces from the train upon which it hurriedly embarked for the scene.

Irapuato, an important town in Central Guanajuato, is reported besieged by rebels. A jail delivery took place during the day and the liberated prisoners joined the besieging forces.

Telegrams to President Madero from Tepic today advised him that the government forces had recovered Santiago Ixcuintla, one of the most important towns of the territory.

RAISE REBEL COLORS; HOT FIGHT FOLLOWS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JIMENEZ (Mex.) April 30.—Left as a rear guard at Bermejillo, with instructions to stand off the rebel skirmishers as long as possible, 200 volunteers hoisted the Orozco flag as soon as Gen. Huerta's troops were out of sight on the retreat to Torreon. This act precipitated a battle early this morning in which the Federal regulars lost 120 killed, wounded and captured.

On the advice of subordinate officers familiar with that part of the country, Gen. Huerta sent back a detachment of cavalry to spy upon the volunteers left at Bermejillo. They found the rebel flag flying from the trenches vacated Monday night by the Federals and opened fire. The volunteers replied and the fight was raging with chances about even when a detachment of Orozco's scouts summoned by courier from the volunteers rode up and joined the volunteers in repulsing the Madero regulars.

The fight raged all forenoon and in the meantime Huerta had sent a second detachment to ascertain what had become of the first. When the reinforcements were within five miles of Bermejillo they met the fleeing Federals with the Orozco men in hot pursuit. A stand was made on the crest of a hill while messengers were hurried on to Gen. Huert to send back a machine gun detachment. Huerta returned in person with 500 men and the rebellious volunteers and the Orozco scouts were forced to retire to Bermejillo, while Huerta hastily resumed his retreat toward the fortified camp at Torreon.

Orozco's scouts report the Federal loss at 120 men, forty killed and wounded and the balance taken prisoners. The loss of Orozco's men and the deserting volunteers is placed at twenty-six killed and wounded. By this engagement Orozco has gained 200 additional men, besides the moral support of the surrounding territory. Farmers are flocking into his army with supplies and forage.

HARVESTER TRUST SUED.

without connection with them, 'the trust' or any 'combination,' intending thereby to mislead, deceive and defraud the public and more effectually cripple existing competitors and keep out new ones."

UNFAIR METHODS CHARGED.

The bill contains these charges:

"Defendants have resorted to unfair trade methods; have made inaccurate and misleading statements concerning rival machines or concerning the credit of competitors; have by misrepresentations sought to induce competitors, agents and dealers to abandon them, and in divers unfair ways have endeavored to destroy them, and for the purpose of destructive competition have reduced prices of their machines in some localities below cost of production and distribution while keeping prices up in other localities.

"Defendants have systematically bought up patents upon harvesting machinery, tools and implements, acquired all new inventions therein in order thereby more effectually to perpetuate the combination and monopoly.

The foreign corporations and individuals are mentioned as defendants in the petition:

GROSVENOR DIRECTS FIGHT.

The prosecution of the case will be directed by Edwin P. Grosvenor, special assistant to the Attorney-General.

The International Harvester Company was organized in New Jersey in 1902. Prior to that time, the government declares, there were ten or twelve establishments for the manufacture and sale of harvesting implements in active competition with each other. The alleged trust was formed through the combination of the McCormick Harvesting Machine Company of Illinois, The Deering Company of Illinois, The Piano Manufacturing Company of Illinois, Warder, Bushnell & Glessner Company of Ohio, and the Milwaukee Harvester Company. The aggregate annual output of these five concerns amounted to over 85 per cent. of all the harvesting machinery and 60 per cent. of all the bindery twine produced and sold in the United States at that time.

The company was incorporated in New Jersey with a capital of stock originally of $120,000,000. The control of the capital stock was placed in the hands of three voting trustees—Cyrus H. McCormick, Charles Deering and George W. Perkins, who issued stock trust certificates to persons actually owning the stock.

In explaining the disposition of the stock the petition says that $3,451,803 was issued to J. P. Morgan & Co., for underwriting services and legal expenses, and $3,148,197 to the same firm in reimbursement for the cash expended to secure the property of the Milwaukee Harvester Company.

The absorbed Milwaukee Harvester Company was converted into the International Harvester Company of America, through which the alleged trust sells exclusively its entire output in the United States.

"The International Harvester Company of America is merely the selling agency of the other international company," continues the petition.

"The arrangement between the International Harvester Company and International Harvester Company of America was further devised, and now is being carried out by the defendants for the purpose of giving to the New Jersey company the appearance of not being engaged in interstate commerce."

UNLAWFUL ORGANIZATION.

The petition asks that this company be decreed an unlawful organization in restraint of trade.

Pointing out that as a rule agricultural implements are sold direct by the manufacturers to the retail dealer, eliminating the usual wholesaler or jobber, the petition accuses the harvester company of endeavoring to acquire control of these retail merchants scattered over the country. The means of accomplishing this in 1903, 1904 and 1905, it is declared, was through contracts making these dealers exclusive sales agents of the defendants, and binding them under penalties, "not to sell or be interested in the sale of any grain binder, header, corn binder, husker, shredder, reaper, mower, stacker, sweeprake, hayrake or hay tedder not manufactured by the defendant International Harvester Company."

During the succeeding years down to the present, it is charged, the company exercised a like control and domination over a great majority of retail implement dealers in the country by means of agency contracts which may be annulled by the International Harvester Company of America when it considers its interests neglected or jeopardized.

The petition alleges that the International Harvester Company in January, 1903, acquired control of D. M. Osborne & Co., its principal competitor in harvesting machinery and tillage implements, but for two years concealed and denied its association with that company.

DISGUISING OWNERSHIP.

"This," it is added, "was in pursuance of defendant's policy, by disguising ownership, to use controlled companies to break down competition and secure for themselves the benefit of public sentiment against combinations.

"The Harvester Company receives materials—iron, steel and lumber—through the Wisconsin Steel Company and the Wisconsin Lumber Company, subsidiaries, which the petition declares are used as means and instrumentalities to eliminate competition."

It is alleged that the defendants have used the Illinois Northern Railway and the Chicago West Pullman and Southern Railway Company, which they control, to obtain undue profits from railroads connecting with them.

To illustrate the expansion of the Harvester Company into all lines of agricultural implements, the petition says, that in the beginning, the company manufactured only harvesters or binders, mowers, reapers, rakes, twine, corn huskers, shredders and shockers; today it has spread to include tillage and seeding implements, threshing machinery, wagons, manure spreaders, gasoline engines, cream separators, auto-buggies, automobiles, tractors, cultivators, drills, seeders, hay loaders, hay presses, etc.

Judge Willard signed all the orders asked by the government. Subpoenas, returnable on May 6 were ordered issued for Cyrus H. McCormick, Harold F. McCormick, Charles Deering, James Deering, George W. Perkins, Norman B. Ream, Edgard A. Bancraft, Elbert H. Gary and for all other individuals and corporations named in the petition, not residents of this district.

M'CORMICK SAYS NO HARM HAS BEEN DONE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 30.—In regard to the suit filed at St. Paul by the government against the International Harvester Company, Cyrus H. McCormick, president of the Harvester Company, said:

"The International Harvester case differs radically in its facts from all the so-call trust cases heretofore decided under the Sherman law. The International Harvester Company was organized in 1902, for the purpose of securing economy in the manufacture and sale of harvesting machinery and of increasing the foreign trade. It had no water in its capitalization and it has earned only a reasonable return on its capital, less than 7 per cent. per annum on the average.

"The prices of its machines are now substantially the same as in 1902, notwithstanding an increase of 15 per cent in raw material prices and 30 per cent in wages. The company has caused a large saving to American farmers in the cost of agricultural implements. It has increased the foreign trade in agricultural implements four fold in nine years; its foreign sales in 1911 were over $42,000,000. It has not sold cheaper abroad than at home. Its treatment of its customers, its employees, its agents and its competitors has been in accord with the highest standard of ethics and honorable business methods.

"The charges of misconduct found in the bill have been met and disproved by the company in other cases; and they will fail again because they are untrue. The Supreme Court of Missouri, in a suit in which these charges were fully gone into, 'shows the International Harvester Company has not used its power to oppress or injure the farmers who are its customers, the price of harvesting machines has not increased in proportion to the increased cost of construction or the increased merit of the machines, and respondent has brought other farm implements into trade.

"The organizers of this company acted under the advice of able counsel, and in the sincere belief that they were violating the law. If, under late decisions, it should be held that the law was violated, it could only be through the creation of a power to oppress, which has never been exercised.

"More than six years ago the company asked for its investigation by the United States government and opened all its books and records for inspection and furnished all information requested. No suggestion of any change in its business methods has been made to it by the government at any time. Some plan may yet be found which will obviate the necessity of any protracted litigation by satisfying the claims made under the Sherman act without seriously impairing the economic advantage and benefits secured by the organization of this company.

"The government has been careful to avoid embarrassment to the foreign business from the litigation; the bill makes no attack on and seeks no change in the export business of the company. The filing of the bill will in no way interfere with the company's carrying on its business the same as heretofore."

CASE WILL BE RUSHED TO SUPREME COURT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The prosecution of the Harvester suit, it was declared at the Department of Justice today, will be expedited as much as possible. Because of the importance of the issue, Atty.-Gen. Wickersham will file a certificate of expedition, the effect of which will be to remove the case from the District Court of Minnesota to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the eighth circuit. This eliminates the District Court and to that extent hastens the issue on to the Supreme Court, where, it is generally conceded, the case will be determined finally.

The earliest possible date at which the case can come to issue before Judges Sanborn, Hook, Adams and Smith, comprising the eighth circuit, is about August 5.

Today's suit follows the failure of negotiations to reach a settlement of the case without recourse to a fight in the courts. Months ago, it is declared, the Attorney-General was prepared to file this civil bill.

Its filing was delayed because Mr. Wickersham was anxious to afford the company an opportunity to meet the government's demands. The company declined to separate the McCormick and Deering companies in any scheme of reorganization. The corporation appealed to President Taft, who sustained the Attorney-General and instructed him to file suit.

The House of Representatives was deterred from making an investigation of the trust only because the declaration of Atty.-Gen. Wickersham to the Rules Committee that he would file suit if the negotiations looking to a friendly settlement failed.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SMYRNA, April 30.—The steamer Texas, belonging to the Archipelago American Steamship Company, struck a mine at the entrance to the Gulf of Smyrna and sank. More than sixty persons were drowned.

The Texas was flying the Turkish flag and was engaged in carrying mail from Constantinople to the Levant.

It was first stated that the Texas was an American vessel, the error arising from the fact that she is part of the fleet of a local concern trading under the name of the Archipelago American Steamship Company.

NINETY PERSONS RESCUED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 30.—Ninety passengers out of the 156 on board the Texas were rescued, according to reports received here. Several of the rescued were injured. No mention is made of the crew.

It is alleged that the disaster was due to the Texas having deviated from the course indicated by the pilot boat preceding her through the mine field.

The Gulf of Smyrna is one of the finest harbors in the Mediterranean, and Smyrna itself is the principal seaport of Asiatic Turkey. The entrance was extensively mined recently by the Turkish authorities to protect the port against an attack by the Italian fleet. The Texas was a vessel of 261 tons net register, built at New Castle, Eng., in 1888. She was at first called the Olympia, then rechristened the Marguerite and finally the Texas.

TONG LEADERS MUST TESTIFY.

San Francisco Grand Jury Is Beginning an Inquiry.

Immigration Officials Working in Co-operation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Leaders of the tongs of Chinatown will appear before the grand jury tomorrow in response to subpoenas and will be closely questioned by that body. They will be asked as to the origin of recent tong wars and as to the sources from which the pay of professional gun-men comes.

The investigation will be thorough and far reaching, it is reported, and the grand jurors will attempt to learn what has caused unusually heavy bloodshed in the oriental quarter during the past year.

Dist.-Atty. C. M. Fickert and Capt. Patrick Shea, acting Chief of Police, who have carried on an investigation into the tong troubles, will present the matter before the grand jury. Already the immigration officials have co-operated with the authorities in the matter of stopping further troubles in Chinatown by deporting foreign-born highbinders as undesirable aliens.

Acting Chief Shea believes that all tong leaders are guilty of conspiracy to murder in planning the wars between the tongs, and it is believed that an effort will be made to secure grand jury indictments against the heads of the warring factions.

"All of the tong leaders have been summoned to appear," said Acting Chief Shea today. "They will be asked all about the recent wars which have been waged in this city and along the Coast. They also will be quizzed concerning the latest outbreak in Chinatown when two pistol duels were fought in the streets, endangering the lives of citizens and pedestrians. The grand jury wants to get at the bottom of the whole matter."

BANK HEAD IS CONVICTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VALE (Or.) April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles W. Thebaud, former president of the United States National Bank of this city, for getting away with trust property and converting it to his own use was convicted today in the Circuit Court. While president of the bank, Thebaud was given four notes of $5000 each to hold as trustee. A year later it was found that Thebaud had traded [illegible] to D. M. Brogan, the promoter of the Willow River Irrigation project, for $10,000 worth of the Willow River Land and Irrigation Company's debenture notes. The notes issued by the bank had been made out to D. M. Brogan, W. K. Lowery, Ed O'Donnel and John B. Hart. The real losers, who had to make good the $20,000 at the order of Bank Examiner Goodhart, are Fred Gellerman, Elwood Clark and the United States National Bank. The amount with interest was $22,000. Thebaud, it is understood, will appeal his case. He has not been sentenced.

CONVICTS FORM A LEAGUE.

Two Hundred Inmates of Arizona Penitentiary Organize for Improvement and Prison Reform.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 30.—Two hundred convicts in the Arizona State Penitentiary at Florence have organized themselves into a so-called "Law and Order League," the constitution of which sets forth the belief of the members in "God, prison reform and Gov. Hunt," and names as the purpose of the league, the promotion of better morals and the abolishment of crime.

The membership includes 96 per cent of the prisoners, who, above their signatures, have agreed to observe the following seven rules:

"To try each day to do some good deed.

"To set aside from each day a certain time for the study of pure and noble thoughts.

"To assist each other in all matters of grievance.

"To avoid and prevent disorderly conduct.

"To refrain from profane language.

"To respect each other, assist the weak, and do all in our power to uplift the principles of prison reform and the policies of our new State."

BOY BITTEN BY HUGE DOG.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 30.—John Young, 13 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Young of Stockton, was brought to this city this morning for the purpose of undergoing treatment at the Northern California branch of the State Hygienic Laboratory under Dr. F. F. Gundrum, bacteriologist in charge of the station. The boy was bitten by a Newfoundland dog last Sunday in Stockton, the animal sinking its teeth into the boy's neck and face.

The dog has been killed by the Stockton health officer and the head shipped to the State Laboratory at Berkeley for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the dog was afflicted with rabies.

RAILROAD MAN PENSIONED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After forty-one and one-half years of continuous service with the Southern Pacific Company and its predecessors, Robert Alexander Donaldson, assistant general passenger agent, was today retired upon a pension of approximately $3600 a year by the railroad company. Donaldson is 71 years of age, and he has been in the railroad harness since November 1, 1870, when he entered the employ of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad in Wisconsin.

In July, 1871, Donaldson entered the employ of the Central Pacific as clerk at Sacramento. In 1878 he was made assistant general passenger agent, the duties of which office he has since discharged. When he came to California the Central Pacific extended from Roseville northward to a short distance above Marysville. The line from Lathrop extended southward only to Modesto.

Donaldson was born in New York, educated at Middleboro College in Vermont, and is still a vigorous man, intellectually and physically. In speaking of Donaldson's retirement yesterday, Charles S. Fee, passenger traffic manager of the Southern Pacific, said:

"Were not the retirement clause in the organization of the Southern Pacific compulsory, Donaldson would without doubt be able for many years to discharge his duties in the same thorough and satisfactory manner that has always characterized his work. He carries into private life the cordial good wishes and high esteem of all of his co-workers, coupled with their very best wishes."

HANGING IS CENSORED.

Only One Newspaper Man Sees Execution in Utah and Details Withheld Twenty-four Hours.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALT LAKE CITY, April 30.—J. J. Morris met death on the gallows today at the State Prison. Morris selected death by hanging in preference to shooting, a choice seldom made. The last execution in Utah was by bullet eight years ago.

Morris shot and killed J. Walter Axtell in a desperate attempt to escape after he had held up and robbed a pawnshop.

He sent a written invitation to Axtell's father to witness his hanging. Mr. Axtell did not accept.

A feature of the execution of Morris was the enforcement of a strict censorship on newspaper reports of it. One reporter, chosen by lot, was sworn as a deputy Sheriff, obligated to tell nothing for twenty-four hours, and permitted to witness the hanging. His story was submitted to a member of the State Board of Corrections and the county Sheriff for censorship before the article was given to the three daily papers which agreed to publish it without alteration. A fourth daily, which stood out against this plan, had no representative at the execution.

POLICE CALL IT A CLEW.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON (Cal.) April 30.—What the police believe to be a very important link in the chain of evidence against William A. Dorr, charged with the murder of George E. Marsh, the soap manufacturer of Lynn, Mass., whose body was found off a roadside with five bullet holes in it, was discovered today in the files of a local newspaper of which a subscription was ordered from Tucson, Ariz., dated March 18, 1912, to be delivered at Boston, Mass., general delivery. The order was signed "W. A. Dow." Local officers believe that the handwriting is the same as William A. Dorr, the well-known business man accused of the murder. Willis A. Dow is also the name under which Dorr is supposed to have purchased an automobile from a Boston garage The same name also appears on a Boston hotel register.

The inability of the Boston postoffice to locate W. A. Dow led to the discovery of the order at this end. The police say that have evidence showing that Dorr registered as "W. A. Dow" several times in and about the city of Boston.

Dorr denies having been east of Chicago and the officers think that with this additional link his presence in Boston and in Lynn can be indisputably established.

Socialists in Convention Indulge in Acrimonious Debate Over Plan Proposed by Job Harriman.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—A resolution introduced by Job Harriman and adopted by the Socialist Constitutional Convention, in session here today, brought to an issue the most important question which the convention has yet considered. The debate, which occupied practically the entire day, hinged on the question of an alliance with craft unions, or a stand on the broader ground of industrial unionism. The State Socialist party has in the past been divided on this question and the debate was acrimonious.

The Harriman resolution, which Harriman's opponents construed as having been drawn in behalf of Harriman's plan of alliance with trades unions, provided for the appointment of a committee of five to confer with like committees from the State Building Trades Council and the Federation of Labor, with a view to devising a plan to bring about "complete political unity of the working classes." The debate was on the interpretation of the resolution, the Harriman followers declaring that the convention had, by its passages, sanctioned a political alliance with the trades unions.

STOCKTON PASTOR RESIGNS.

TAKES CHURCH BY SURPRISE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rev. I. D. Borders, for several years pastor of the Grace Methodist Church of this city, has tendered his resignation to take effect immediately. The action of the clergyman was a surprise to the members of his church. Rev. Borders did not state the reason for his resignation, but it is thought that he is compelled to go East on account of his wife's ill health. Before coming to Stockton, he held a prominent pastorate in Mississippi and it is understood that he will return to that State. His successor has not as yet been named.

AUTOISTS UP IN ARMS.

Porterville Machine Owners Assert that Exeter Officials Are Too Zealous in Making Arrests.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTERVILLE, April 30.—Motorists of the East Side simply rave at the mention of the word Exeter, and it is charged by the officials of local automobile organizations that arrests were made in the orange town Saturday without warrant, specific instances being given in which arrests were made when drivers had their cars miles under the speed limit set by the Exeter law.

As a result of the alleged unwarranted arrest of Leslie Claubes, a prominent young orange grower of this city, autoists plan a reprisal by sending a statement of the alleged facts to all organizations throughout the State, with the advice that tours of Tulare county are so planned as to leave Exeter out of the itinerary.

Claubes claims that he and a companion remarked about the wholesale arrests in Exeter while approaching the city limits, and that when he crossed the line of the city limits his machine was making just eight miles per hour, according to an accurate speedometer. In spite of this, he was arrested, taken into court and paid a fine of $7. Claubes paid the fine as he is a busy man and could ill afford the time necessary to fight the case.

Statement of the facts has been sent, among others, to the Auto Club of Southern California, and to the organizations about the Bay.

ACCEPTANCE IS AMENDED.

Spokane Shippers Endeavor to Avoid Prejudicing Their Rate Case When It Is Given Re-hearing.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) April 30.—The Spokane County Commissioners agreed today to the amended acceptance by the shippers of the compromise rate schedule proposed by the railroads. The reply of the shippers as presented last week to the railroads, provided that the acceptance of the compromise rates should not prejudice any suit before the Interstate Commerce Commission or any court. The railroads refused to agree to this and the Spokane Merchants' Association and the Chamber of Commerce amended their acceptance to dispose of the Spokane complaint to be heard before the Interstate Commerce Commission May 8.

The amendment sanctioned today by the county commissioners also must meet the approval of the city commissioners before it can be presented to the railroads, as the complaint was made jointly by the shippers and the city and county commissioners. The acceptance provides, however, that the putting into effect of the compromise rates shall not prejudice the Spokane rate case, which will be re-heard by the United States Supreme Court next October nor the reparation cases.

FAKE ORGANIZER SENTENCED.

PORTLAND MEN VICTIMIZED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] G. Walker Wilson, a dapper swindler, who victimized San Francisco people by organizing a fake fraternal order and pocketing the fees, according to advices received by the police, was today sentenced to six months on the rock pile for working the same game here. Wilson in this city formed a branch of the "Bison Herd of North America," an imaginative order. From each applicant he pocketed $5 to $10.

Wilson's victims are nearly all prominent. Among them are a dozen physicians, including Drs. A. N. Cresdick, Earl Smith, and A. H. Johnson, each of whom had been promised the position of medical examiner in the order. Ex-Mayor Harry Lane, Judge R. C. Morrow and County Clerk Coffey were among the men signed up.

ATTACKED BY ROYALISTS.

Efforts Are Resumed by Monarchists of Portugal to Restore Deposed King to the Throne.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LISBON, April 30.—There are marked indications that the Portuguese monarchists intend to make another attempt to seize the northern provinces of Portugal, according to information received by the government authorities here. This step is assumed to be preparatory to an effort to restore the King to the Portuguese throne. At San Gregorio, on the frontier, between Portugal and Spain, the customs officers were attacked by a body of monarchists, who captured arms and returned to La Ganiza, their headquarters. Similar movements are reported in the northern provinces.

KILLED BY A TRIFLE.

LIVES MORE THAN CENTURY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

YUMA (Ariz.) April 30.—Struck lightly on the breast by a stirrup as it swayed with the motion of a horse, an Indian, said to have been 106 years old, lies dead here today.

The accident happened in Yuma Valley, where the Indian was walking along the road. He met two American farmers, riding. One of the riders drove his horse near the Indian, who was struck lightly by the stirrup. He died six hours later.

The Indian's friends caused the Americans to be arrested and held for examination on a charge of murder.

GEN. BRUSH RETIRES.

GIVES UP ARMY COMMAND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Brig.-Gen. Daniel H. Brush retired today from the active service of the United States army, relinquishing at the same time his command of the department of California. He will leave tomorrow for Baltimore, where he is to make his home. Brig.-Gen. Walter S. Schuyler, who has been in command of Ft. Riley, Kan., will succeed Gen. Brush.

CREATES CONTROL BOARD.

TAKES POWER FROM GOVERNOR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 30.—If a bill recommended for passage by the lower house of the Legislature today becomes a law, the Governor will be shorn, to a great extent of his appointive, pardoning and paroling powers. The bill proposes to create a Board of Control consisting of the Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer and chairman of the Corporation Commission and to endow the board with powers now exercised only by the Governor.

The house passed the Senate bill repealing the bullion tax law.

RECALL BEATEN IN BERKELEY.

Bitter Personal Fight Calls Out City's Biggest Vote—Woman Breaks Down and Quits.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERKELEY, April 30.—The first recall election ever held here resulted tonight in the defeat of the recall petition by 3 to 2, and a vote of confidence in the existing school board.

The election was held at the instance of Frank S. Bunker, superintendent of schools, who appealed to the people when the board informed him that his services would not be required beyond the length of his present term.

The total vote was 9668, the largest ever polled in Berkeley, and the campaign was the more heated for being purely personal. Mrs. Elinor Carlisle, one of the board, broke down under the strain, abandoned her campaign, and is still in a hospital.

POLICE COMBAT STRIKERS.

Defend Themselves With Arms When Assailed by Thousand Men With Sticks and Stones.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BALTIMORE, April 30.—Defending themselves when about 1000 striking stevedores, many of whom were armed with sticks and stones, swooped down on them, a squad of police, guarding pier No. 6 at Canton, drew their revolvers today and fired many shots. Several men were shot, but not seriously, and a number of heads were cracked in the general melee. The strikers fled.

The strikers were attempting to get on the pier to reach strike-breakers engaged in discharging the cargo of the steamship Bulgaria. A riot call brought police reinforcements, which prevented further disturbances.

The sergeant in command of the squad of patrolmen said he realized that his small force was inadequate to cope with the mob, and when the leaders refused to obey his order to halt he ordered his men to fire.

There was a rattle of shots, to which the strikers replied with a volley of sticks, stones and bricks. As the policemen continued firing, however, the mob fled.

Five strikers received slight pistol wounds while several policemen were bruised by bricks.

When police reinforcements arrived they drove back the crowd from the pier. Little resistance was offered, but some of the dissatisfied ones accompanied their retreat with cries: "We want bread; we don't want to be driven about like cattle."

GIVES STANDARD OWNERS.

John D. Rockefeller Owns Two Hundred Twenty Million Dollars' Worth of Company's Stock.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—A list of the present stockholders in the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey has been published here by a Wall street house which obtained its data, it asserts, from the stock books. The list credits John D. Rockefeller with 244,500 shares, worth $220,000,000 at the latest quotation. This sum, of course, does not include his holdings in the various subsidiaries which in the Indiana company alone are worth nearly $25,000,000.

Owner—	Shares.	Value.

SOUTHERNER IS EDITOR.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 27.—Miss Marjorie Driscoll ('13) of Pasadena was beaten in the race for the editorship of the Sequoia, the students' monthly publication, by John Wesley Howell ('12) of Los Angeles. Howell received 322 votes out of 583. Four candidates competed in the preliminaries and Miss Driscoll and Howell survived. Miss Driscoll has been on the staff of the Sequoia for two years and has unusual literary ability. Howell is a law student. He was editor of the 1912 Quad and is a member of the staffs of the Sequoia and Chaparral. He was coxswain of his freshman crew and is a member of the Press Club, Skull and Snakes, Phi Delta Phi and Beta Theta Pi.

PROVIDES ZONE SYSTEM.

Senator Bourne Introduces Parcels Post Bill Fixing Rates According to Distance.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 30.—A zone system of parcels post is provided for in a bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Bourne, chairman of the Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads. The rates are the lowest yet suggested but the Postoffice Department expressed the opinion that the system would be self-sustaining.

Eleven-pound packages are authorized and 15 cents fixed as the charge of maximum packages in cities. For one-pound packages the rate is 5 cents and 1 cent is added for each additional pound. For the fifty-mile zone the rate is 2 cents a pound and 2 cents for each additional pound. For the 200-mile zone, 7 cents for the first pound and 3 cents for each additional pound; 2000-mile zone, 12 cents for first pound and 10 cents each additional pound; more than 2000 miles, including island possessions, 12 cents a pound.

PHILANTHROPIST BURIED.

CHICAGO, April 30.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The funeral of the late Dr. D. K. Pearson, aged philanthropist, who distributed $6,000,000 to small colleges, was held today in the suburb of Hinsdale. Burial was in Oakwood Cemetery at Hinsdale, where Mrs. Pearson was buried several years ago.

Wedded.

LOS ANGELES BRIDE WON IN COURTSHIP ON OCEAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A romance which began two years ago on the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's liner Governor, while the vessel was bound from San Francisco to Los Angeles, resulted tonight in the marriage here of Miss Myrtle May Perkins, 20 years old, and A. W. Desart of the construction department of the United Wireless Telegraph Company.

Miss Perkins, who is a pretty brunette, was on her way from San Francisco to Los Angeles, where she had been making her home with a sister, Mrs. Karr, when she was introduced to Desart, then the wireless operator on the steamship Governor. The blind god bestirred himself, and when Miss Perkins arrived in Seattle last Monday afternoon on the steamship President the wedding day had been set.

Miss Perkins was born in Seattle and made her home in this city until a few years ago. Desart was wireless operator on the steamships President, Governor and Northwestern, in the Alaska and Coast-wise service, and on the steamship Makura in the Australian trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Desart will live in Seattle.

Bowels are Basis of Child Health

The careful mother, who watches closely the physical peculiarities of her children, will soon discover that the most important thing in connection with a child's constant good health is to keep the bowels regularly open. Sluggish bowels will be followed by loss of appetite, restlessness during sleep, irritability and a dozen and one similar evidences of physical disorder.

At the first sign of such disorder give the child a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at night on retiring and repeat the dose the following night if necessary—more than that will scarcely be needed. You will find that the child will recover its accustomed good spirits at once and will eat and sleep normally.

This remedy is a vast improvement over salts, cathartics, laxative waters and similar things, which are altogether too powerful for a child. It is really more than a laxative, for it contains superior tonic properties which help to tone and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels so that after a brief use of it all laxatives can be dispensed with and nature will do its own work.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington st., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

DETERMINED TO ABOLISH MINT.

House Sub-Committee Has Made Up Its Mind.

Coinage Department Is Chief Bone of Contention.

California Delegation Will Fight Action on Floor.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The coinage department of the San Francisco mint will be abolished if the sub-committee of the House Appropriations Committee has its way. Tomorrow the sub-committee will report to the full appropriations committee. Its report in all probability will recommend that the coinage department of the mint be abolished. This is believed today by the California delegation for the following two reasons:

First: The sub-committee has not held a meeting to take any action on protests by the California representatives at the recent hearing, when the Congressmen urged the sub-committee to reconsider the action it had already taken to omit any appropriation for the coinage department of the mint.

Second: Representative Fitzgerald, Democrat, of New York, chairman of the Full Appropriations Committee, said today that "the machinery of the San Francisco mint is antiquated."

No better evidence than this remark is needed, declare members of the California delegation to show that Fitzgerald has determined to abolish the mint. No member of the sub-committee could be induced today to discuss the matter.

When these facts became known today the California Representatives and Senators held an informal conference and decided to bend every effort to frustrate this intention of the Democrats to abolish the mint. They will fight to have the usual mint appropriation included in the appropriation bill by amending the bill when it gets on the floor of the House. They will have a hard time doing this, and the issue will be doubtful, because the Democratic majority usually follows recommendations of Fitzgerald in all appropriations. Speaker Clark, who has been solicited to aid in retaining the mint, today informed Representative Knowland that he had spoken to members of the sub-committee on the mint matter, but could get no information from them.

LOOKS GOOD FOR HARBOR.

Senate Sub-Committee on Commerce Expected to Make a Full Favorable Report Today—Deeper Water.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON (D. C.) April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Senate sub-Committee on Commerce will make its report to the full committee tomorrow in regard to the Los Angeles Harbor deep-water dredging. Congressman Stephens says he is thoroughly satisfied that the report will be favorable, just as Willis Booth has assured The Times it will be.

From other sources also come the assurances that the sub-committee will report in favor of deepening the outer harbor and making a substantial appropriation at this session for the work. In fact, so far as can be learned, there have been no adverse comments on the plan, so that it seems certain the sub-committee will recommend the passage of the amendment tomorrow.

DIRECTED BY SUN SPOTS.

Father Ricard of Santa Clara College Makes up Weather Forecast on Solar Disturbance.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE (Cal.) April 30.—Father Ricard of the Santa Clara College observatory issued the following statement today:

"The eventful solar group of spots has reappeared according to expectation. It stands now near the eastern limb in latitude 10 deg. south and longitude 65 deg. from central.

"All the weather disturbances based upon it since March 6 have been verified to the very date, and on the same we venture to sketch the weather of May as follows: There will be disturbances on the Coast from May 3 to 6; from May 8 to 11; from May 14 to 17, and from May 22 to 26. The two first were already announced privately at the beginning of June. According to advices received from W. T. Foster of Washington and from Prof. Nodson of France a great solar manifestation will occur, on which the weather of June could be delineated even now. Hence it appears to be a mistake on the part of certain writers to say boldly that nothing is known as to the cause of sun spots; they are simply due to planetary influence at the time of heliocentric conjunctions, oppositions and even quadratures."

ACTIVE CAREER IS ENDED.

Benjamin Thorpe, Sr., One of the Pioneers of Los Angeles, Succumbs to Paralytic Attack.

An active career of almost three-quarters of a century came to an end late yesterday afternoon when Benjamin Thorpe, Sr., one of the leading citizens and pioneers of the city, passed away at the family residence, No. 787 West Eighteenth street. Death was caused by a paralytic stroke sustained two months ago.

Thorpe is survived by a widow, Mrs. Kate F. Thorpe, and four sons, Benjamin T. Thorpe, Covina; Dr. Lewis S. Thorpe, Charles H. Thorpe and Dr. Harvey L. Thorpe, of this city.

Mr. Thorpe was born in New York City seventy-three years and a few months ago. He was engaged in mercantile pursuits for a number of years in that city when he moved to Cedar Falls, Iowa. There he engaged in the mercantile business until almost 50 years of age, when he moved to Los Angeles. He came here twenty-six years ago. For a number of years Thorpe was connected with the circulation department of The Times.

Thorpe had a host of friends throughout the city, which he made while engaged in pursuits which brought him personally in contact with the business world. He enjoyed the happy faculty of retaining friendships. His own friends and acquaintances, besides those acquainted with the family, are invited to attend the funeral.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bresee Bros'. chapel. The remains will be cremated.

TRUCE DECLARED IN ZION.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 30.—A truce was declared today in the Zion City tobacco war after a recurrence of the rioting of yesterday, when the adherents of Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion, were routed by the tobacco-using employees of a manufacturing concern after many heads had been broken. Voliva declared there would be no more militant marching against the employees of the factory, and Mayor Miller, whose deputies had a busy time quieting the warring elements, said he was satisfied to leave the question for the courts to settle.

The school children now are making a commercial map of the world with the samples which the various Consuls sent.

OPERATE MARRIAGE MILL.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 30.—That several employees in the county building, including judges, are interested in operating a "marriage mill" will form part of a report that Frank Ryan, Deputy County Comptroller, will make to his superior. Ryan, after a careful investigation, says that he had discovered that a lookout is kept for couples entering the building who appeared to be there for the purpose of being married. They are approached by the "watch-out" and boldly asked if such was their intention. Ryan says they are placed in charge of an elevator operator, who directs them to a certain judge's rooms. The man goes for the license with another guide and returns to the courtroom, where the ceremony is performed for a fee of $5. Ryan says that the discovery was made through the unusually large number of returned licenses signed by one jurist.

Life's Seamy Side.

KIDNAP, DRUG, ROB COUNTESS.

Victim Is Student at University of Chicago.

Seized and Chloroformed by Automobile Bandits.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Countess Gertrude Gorecka, aged 19, pretty, descendant of a noble Polish family, and a student in the University of Chicago, was kidnaped by three men in an automobile, drugged, robbed of jewelry and money while the car was speeding through Jackson Park, and then thrown out of the car on the Midway, according to a report that was made to the police of the Hyde Park station today.

The young woman is now under the care of physicians, and is said to be in a serious condition as a result of hysteria caused by her experience.

The abduction and robbery, according to the report made to the police, and confirmed by Dean Franklin W. Johnson, occurred shortly after 8:45 a.m. Monday. The young noblewoman, whose father, Count Stephano Gorecka, is a wealthy real estate dealer on the West Side, was crossing the Midway, at Woodlawn avenue, on her way to classes, when three men jumped from a limousine car and seized her.

Rain was falling at the time and Countess Gorecka held an umbrella low over her head, which prevented her seeing the men as they leaped from the vehicle and ran at her.

When she was seized, a handkerchief, which is believed to have been saturated with chloroform, was placed over her nose and mouth.

Another was wrapped around her eyes, according to her story, preventing her from seeing the men who held her prisoner in the car.

While one of them held the gags in place and another held her to prevent struggling, the third removed her rings and earrings, which were studded with diamonds, and a gold chain which was around her neck. Her chatelaine was wrested from her hand.

The trip through the park was completed in less than fifteen minutes and the car was driven back to the Midway and Woodlawn avenue, where it was slowed up and the girl thrown out on a grass plot.

WOMEN MUST NOT TALK.

Outsiders in New York Wonder if Suffragists Will Obey Orders While on Long March.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While it is expected that women taking part in the suffragists' parade on Saturday will comply with all the orders given by their leaders concerning their conduct while marching from Washington Square to Carnegie Hall, there is one edict that mere outsiders believe will not be obeyed to the letter. That is an imperative order to all marchers to refrain from talking during their long walk. The ban also has been placed on high-heel shoes. How 15,000 women can do this for two solid hours even psychologists cannot explain, and they have their own ideas as to the possibility of its being done. Of course there are other orders, but they are easy enough to be carried out. The clause about talking—some of the marchers may obey it as a sort of martyrdom to the cause. Those in charge of the arrangements for the parade declare that the sale of 37-cent hats for the marchers is even greater than they expected.

PENROSE STILL FIGHTING.

HARRISBURG (Pa.) April 30.—The Roosevelt leaders assert that tomorrow's Republican State Convention will be dominated by the Roosevelt delegates. This claim is not denied at the regular Republican organization headquarters, where Senator Penrose is in command.

The Roosevelt claim includes between 275 and 300 of the 373 delegates, the nomination of candidates for State Treasurer, Auditor-General, four Congressmen-at-large, twelve delegates-at-large, instructed for Col. Roosevelt, and the reorganization and control of the Republican State Committee.

Senator Penrose has not admitted defeat or even indicated an intention to relinquish his leadership of the Republican State organization.

It had been at first announced that the Roosevelt leaders would be satisfied with the naming of twelve delegates-at-large to the national convention favoring Col. Roosevelt, but it is apparent from statements they now make that they will name the entire State ticket, write the platform and elect the new State chairman and national committeeman. For the latter place William Flynn is suggested to succeed Senator Penrose.

WILSON GETS DELAWARE.

DOVER (Dela.) April 30.—The Democratic State Convention named six delegates today to the national convention at Baltimore—two from each county of the State.

The New Castle and Sussex county selections are advocates of Gov. Woodrow Wilson. The Kent county selection was not made by the Wilson leaders of that county, but the two delegates are said to favor Wilson. They were not instructed.

SEIZURE OF ARMS IS EXPLAINED BY MADERO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, April 30.—The seizure yesterday by the Mexican police of thirty of the 1000 rifles shipped to the American Ambassador for the use of the American colony in the event of trouble in the capital, is explained today by the Governor of the Federal district to be pursuant to an order of the secret police intended to prevent the traffic in arms with the revolutionaries. On application, the Governor says he will issue a permit for a continuance of the distribution of the weapons among American residents, even at points outside the capital.

The arms which were confiscated have been returned.

AMERICANS ABANDON RANCH AND FLEE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BISBEE (Ariz.) April 30.—After being attacked successively on April 14 and 16, by rebels, who were repulsed by Americans on both occasions, the Comichi ranch, the largest in the territory of Tepic and owned by Californians, was abandoned by the defenders, who underwent terrible hardships in escaping from the country, according to refugees who arrived here today.

There were five men and five women, all Americans, at the ranch and they fought off the rebels with sawed-off shotguns. During the last attack, the leader of the rebels poured coal oil on the hacienda porch and when he struck a match to light it, he was riddled with buckshot. Following this repulse the ranch, which included 22,000 acres of growing corn and 30,000 acres of tobacco, was abandoned to the rebels.

At night the Americans, one of the women carrying an infant, left by stealth and started on foot and by canoes for Port del Rio, twenty miles away. A gasoline launch was to have met them at the mouth of the river, but it was not there and the Americans were compelled to lie in the shallow harbor for thirty-six hours without food.

Growing desperate two of the men took one of the canoes and started on a hunt for milk for the baby. They succeeded in getting the milk and food for the party but their boat was riddled with bullets by rebels from the shore as they were leaving to join the party.

After a long wait the launch arrived and the refugees were taken to Mazatlan and thence to Guaymas by steamer.

The Mexican laborers on the Comichi ranch joined the rebels after the ranch was robbed earlier in the month.

MINERS AND RANCHERS FLEEING FROM REVOLT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) April 30.—Anticipating early intervention by the Washington government, refugees from Sinaloa and Sonora continue to arrive here. Most of those now leaving Mexico had intended to remain there throughout the trouble.

Mines and stores operated by Americans in Northwestern Mexico are being closed in haste and ranchers are exporting their cattle to the United States as rapidly as possible.

Today's business at the American customhouse included the entry of more than 3000 head of cattle of the value of $48,000, on which duties aggregating $13,000 were collected.

SAYS INSULTS DEMAND STEPS TOWARD RELIEF.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MOBILE (Ala.) April 30.—"Insults to which American men and women have been subjected in Mexico and the danger surrounding them should impel the United States to send relief."

This statement, accredited to Mrs. Bernard Sweyer, is printed in the Mobile Item today.

"I have witnessed terrible scenes," says Mrs. Sweyer. "In the mining country, where many Americans are engaged, the greatest suffering and danger exists."

Mrs. Sweyer was for three years a resident of Chihuahua.

Indians Raid Hacienda.

TUCSON (Ariz.) April 30.—[By A. P. Day Wire.] Reports received here today tell of depredations committed at Toledo, Sonora, last Sunday, by the Yaqui Indians. Three Mexican teamsters and one rancher were killed in a raid on a hacienda. Quiet was reported south of Culiacan as far as Tepic, to which point wire communication was restored today.

Padre's Tonic Laxative Co.,

Gentlemen:—

Since your remedy, PADRE'S TONIC LAXATIVE, has practically made me a new man, I think it only fair to tell you so.

I was practically a physical wreck when I read your ad. for the first time, and, must confess was very skeptical.

However, I was compelled to keep trying for relief, so commenced taking the pink pellets.

My stomach trouble, constipation, headaches (from indigestion), and all unpleasant symptoms of disordered stomach, liver, kidney, bowels and intestinal tract are gone, and gone to stay.

I will be glad to recommend your pellets to any one desiring a pure herbal remedy of wonderful merit.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The House today aided the National Good Roads movement by passing a provision in the postoffice appropriation bill which would grant a subsidy to all highways used in the rural free delivery mail service. These roads would be divided in three classes with subsidies of $25, $20 and $15 a mile. It is estimated the cost the first year would be $16,000,000 to $18,000,000.

The amendment offered by Representative Shackleford of Missouri was a compromise of twenty-nine good roads bills introduced during the present session of Congress. It divides all highways used in the rural free delivery mail service into three classes. Class A is to receive $25 per mile a year; class B, $20, and class C $15. The amendment was adopted by 132 to thirty-nine. The division was between city and country. Democrats and Republicans from rural communities combined to defeat the arguments of a similar coalition of Representatives from the cities.

ISMAY ON DEFENSIVE.

learned that J. W. Andrews, builder of the Titanic, who went down with the ship, told Capt. Smith after the collision that the boat would sink within an hour. Andrews had gone over the ship immediately after the crash and discovered that her hull had been ripped open.

E. J. Dunn, an importer of New York, the first witness, said that a day or so ago a friend told of the receipt by the Western Union Telegraph Company of a wireless message which was transmitted to "Isiefrank" between 7:30 and 8 o'clock Monday morning. The code address is that of P. A. S. Franklin, vice-president of the International Mercantile Marine. The message, the witness said he was informed, told of the Titanic disaster, news of which was not made public by the White Star line until twelve hours later.

"What was your informant's name?" asked Senator Smith.

"I can't tell you," replied Dunn. "I am under pledge not to reveal his name. He promised to come over here to testify, but today I received the following telegram:

"'Regret present circumstances do not permit departure.'"

"Did your informant tell you why you should not give his name?"

"Simply a matter of protecting his father. He said his father was employed by the Western Union and that if this matter came out and it was known that he gave it, his father would lose his position."

Mr. Dunn temporarily was excused.

Mr. Franklin suggested that the committee call on the Western Union to produce the message.

"We want this matter sifted to the bottom and we want you to have every message, sent or received, that has any bearing on the disaster," said Mr. Franklin.

Charles H. Morgan of Cleveland, a deputy United States marshal, who brought the witness Louis Klein to Washington, who suddenly disappeared, next was called. He said Klein disappeared from his home several days ago and could not be found.

ISMAY ON STAND.

J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the International Mercantile Marine then took the stand.

He told the committee he had been manager of the International Mercantile Marine since 1904; that his duties were general control of the International Mercantile Marine and its constituent companies except the Leyland line.

Mr. Ismay said that the ships of the various lines aggregated about 1,000,000 tons. He added that the investments of the company were almost entirely in ships and property necessary to their conduct.

"Was any officer of your company on the trial trip of the Titanic?" asked Senator Smith.

"Yes, sir. Mr. Sanderson, general manager and director of the White Star line, and also Mr. Grenfell, another director."

The witness told of mail contracts with the British government but denied that there was anything in the contract calling for high speed.

"Is there any minimum speed?"

"Yes, I think that we are not allowed to put mails on a ship that makes less than sixteen knots," Mr. Ismay replied.

The witness declared that the mail bounty was so small that in itself "would not induce anyone to build big ships."

THREE SHIPS LOST.

How many ships has your company lost since you have been managing director?" asked Senator Smith.

"The only ones that I can recall are the Republic, the Naronic and the Titanic," said the witness, and added that the fate of the Naronic never had been cleared up.

Senator Smith asked if a limit of cost had been placed on the building of the Titanic.

"None, whatever," said Mr. Ismay. "The builders were given carte blanche. They go ahead and build on their own plan as passed upon by us and when the ship is completed they add on their percentage of profit, which we pay. In building a ship you begin its construction four or five years before you need her."

"Who of your company directed the Harland and Wolff Company to build the Titanic?" asked Senator Smith.

"I did, sir. It was in a conversation with Lord Pirry. I ordered the Olympic and the Titanic at the same time, I told him that we wanted the very largest and best ships possible to produce irrespective of cost."

Mr. Ismay said another sister ship to the Olympic now is being built.

Asked as to the provisions for safety taken in building the Titanic, Mr. Ismay said that while there were no longitudinal bulkheads, the vessel had a double bottom.

"It was the desire," he said, "to have a ship that would float with her two longest water-tight compartments crushed and full of water."

IN SELF DEFENSE.

Mr. Ismay said that he heard no reports from the captain or any one else after the accident concerning the extent of the damage. He said he went to Capt. Smith and asked him. The officer replied that he thought it "was serious."

"How did it happen that the Titanic had only twenty life boats?" asked Senator Smith.

"That was a matter for the builder, sir, and I supposed that it had met with the requirements of the British Board of Trade," replied Mr. Ismay. "otherwise, the ship never would have left port. I think, in view of the disaster, that the whole question of life-saving appliances and devices should be carefully gone into, to determine just what should be done.

"I have given sufficient instructions that none of our ships shall leave port without boats sufficient to care for all of the passengers," said Mr. Ismay.

Senator Smith asked Mr. Ismay what he did aboard the Carpathia.

"I understand that my conduct on board the Carpathia has been severely criticised," replied Mr. Ismay. "I court the fullest inquiry. The facts in the case are these:

"When I went aboard, I was standing with my back against a bulk head when some one came to me and said, 'Go into the saloon and have a bite of something hot or a drink.' I told him I would be happier if I could get off by myself. He took me my the arm and led me to a room which proved to be the doctor's room. I was not out of there until the Carpathia docked. I was ill and ate no solid food on the run into New York.

IN DOCTOR'S ONLY ROOM.

"Right here I want to say that the doctor did not occupy a suite. He had one room in which he slept. He did not occupy it for I was in it. He was busy with the Titanic's survivors."

"What can you say, Mr. Ismay, as to the treatment you have been accorded by this committee?"

"I have no criticism to offer, whatever," said Mr. Ismay. "I was naturally disappointed in not being permitted to go home, but I suppose you had good reasons for keeping me here."

Replying to Senator Burton Mr. Ismay said there were no experts in naval construction, so far as safety appliances were concerned, in this country. He expressed a willingness of his company to send such experts from England to testify before the committee if it desired. Mr. Ismay denied that he had any conversation with Capt. Rostron of the Carpathia concerning messages to New York, Liverpool or London, excepting as to one message announcing the accident, and addressed to the officers of the White Star line in New York.

"I asked for no preferential treatment for my messages," he said.

Senator Smith asked Mr. Ismay to return in the afternoon, as Senator Bourne desired to interrogate him.

WATCHED SPEED OF SHIP.

When the hearing was resumed in the afternoon C. E. Henry Stengel of Newark, N. J., a manufacturer and a survivor of the Titanic, testified that he had watched the speed of the ship.

"When I went to bed Sunday night about 10 o'clock I told my wife that the engines were going at an awful rate," he said. "Being a manufacturer I have general knowledge of engines, and it seemed to me that the Titanic's engines were being strained."

"Where were you when the accident happened?"

"I was moaning in my sleep, dreaming. My wife awakened me, and just then the crash came. I seized what clothes I could, and my wife put on a kimono, and we went on deck. The captain said he thought it was serious, and my wife and I put on lifebelts.

"When the first lifeboats were sent away an officer said it was done merely as a matter of precaution. I put my wife aboard, and went forward. I found them lowering an emergency boat, and asked the officer if I might get in. There were only about ten persons in the boat, among them Sir Duff-Gordon and three other passengers. I rolled into the boat, and the officer laughed heartily.

"'That's the funniest sight I've seen tonight,' he said.

"His hilarity served to convince us that the entire affair was not serious."

The witness said he believed the light toward which lifeboats were rowing was nothing but a northern light reflected on an iceberg. The

Fifty-five Names Made Public, Include Widener. Cable Ship Brings to Halifax One Hundred Ninety Bodies, Among Them Astor's and Straus's—Only Eighteen Women's Bodies Found Afloat.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HALIFAX (N. S.) April 30.—The White Star Line officers here today gave out a list of fifty-five identified dead, buried at sea, from data supplied by the purser of the Mackay-Bennett.

Although Capt. Larnder had said that he was convinced it was not George D. Widener's body, but that of his valet, which was consigned to the sea, Mr. Widener's name appeared on this list, which follows:

BODIES BROUGHT IN.

One hundred and ninety bodies, among them those of Col. John Jacob Astor and Isidor Straus, were brought to Halifax today on the cable ship Mackay-Bennett which had been searching an area of more than thirty square miles near where the great White Star liner Titanic sank after striking an iceberg.

All told, 306 dead were found and 116 again were consigned to the sea. While the city's church bells tolled and British flags hung at half-mast, the cable ship Mackay-Bennett steamed slowly into Halifax harbor bearing the dead picked up from the scene where the White Star liner Titanic sank.

As soon as the ship was sighted down the harbor, the canvas curtains shielding the coffins and embalmers' tents on the pier were lowered and twenty sailors from the Canadian cruiser Niobe, in the yard for repairs, lined up as a guard. A patrol boat was stationed in front of the pier to prevent any craft docking in the vicinity.

A woman was the first mourner to arrive at the pier. She was Miss Eliza Lurette, a maid for Mrs. William Augustus Spencer of New York. Mr. and Mrs. Spencer were passengers on the Titanic. Mr. Spencer went down but Mrs. Spencer was saved.

The maid hopes to find her late employer's body, although it had not been reported among those on the Mackay-Bennett.

J. A. Kenyon of Southington, Ct., arrived shortly afterwards, hoping to identify the body of his brother, F. R. Kenyon of Pittsburgh.

Her own flag at half mast, the ship docked slowly, her crew manned the rails with bared heads, and on the after deck were stacked the coffins with the dead.

Members of the crew, talking over the side, said that every body picked up had a life belt and there were no bullet holes in any. Many uncoffined dead lay on the forward deck, covered with tarpaulins. As the undertaker came aboard it was decided to take off these bodies first. Col. John J. Astor's body, it was said, was somewhere in the pile of rough coffins at the stern.

White Star line officials had boarded the ship down the harbor, and they superintended the arrangements for docking.

All told, there were not more than half a dozen mourners or their representatives at the pier, for they dreaded the sight and preferred to await the work of identification at the morgue.

The first body removed was that of a seaman. When the tarpaulin was thrown back more than fifty bodies were disclosed. Men with stretchers came on board and the work of removal was begun. It was announced that the total number of bodies on board was 190 and it had been found necessary to burry no less than 116 at sea. Capt. Richard Roberts, seeking Col. Astor's body, after a conference with Commander Lander of the Mackay-Bennett, said there was no doubt that the identification of Col. Astor's body was correct. In the pockets $2500 cash was found.

The body identified as that of George D. Widener of Philadelphia was so mutilated that Capt. Lander could not say positively whether it was that of Mr. Widener or his valet. This body was buried at sea.

Col. Astor's body was brought off the ship and taken with others to the morgue.

RELICS DOTTED THE SEA.

Not one name of prominent persons missing was added to the list of recovered dead by the Mackay-Bennett's arrival. Sailors worked four hours unloading her and the dead were taken to an improvised morgue in a curling rink, where relatives will have an opportunity to claim them.

The captain told of the finding of the body thought to be that of Mr. Widener.

George Widener, Jr., feels sure that it was the body of Edward Keating, Mr. Widner's valet. There were letters in the pocket addressed to George D. Widener, but the initials on an overcoat were "E. K.," and the quality of the underclothing was not similar to that Mr. Widener wore.

Relics of the great Titanic dotted the sea over an area thirty miles square, Capt. Lardner said. Doors, windows and chairs by the score were found floating, but to none of them were bodies lashed. In several instances there were groups of floating bodies numbering fifty or more, but none were lashed together. Col. Astor was found standing almost erect on his lifebelt.

Small boats were lowered by the Mackay-Bennett whenever a group of bodies was sighted and into these the dead were piled three or four at a time. Each was numbered with a large canvas tag and the valuables and papers were placed in a canvas sack similarly numbered.

Canon Kohlnd of All Saints' Cathedral here conducted the services in connection with the burial at sea. On three occasions services were held.

"We buried so many at sea," said Capt. Larnder, "simply because we could not accommodate them. We had limited embalming supplies and it was absolutely necessary to consign many to the deep. None, if any of the passengers, I believe, was buried, except perhaps in the case of Mr. Widener's valet. The majority of those sunk were unidentified. We had instructions when we left here to pick up all the Titanic's dead we found but under the conditions, it was impossible to carry out these instructions."

NO EVIDENCE OF DRINKING.

"Did you see any evidence of drinking among officers of the Titanic that Sunday night?" Senator Smith asked.

"I did not," Stengel replied. "I remember hearing a Mrs. Thorne, who was at the Sunday night dinner party which was attended by Capt. Smith, remarking that the captain did not drink a drop."

Mr. Ismay was recalled and Senator Bourne began his examination by inquiring into the history, extent and real status of the White Star line and the owners of the Titanic.

Mr. Ismay said captains were virtually unhampered in their authority.

They were not compelled to keep to the established lanes, he said, when they felt that safety demanded their deviation; they were not instructed as to the speed to be maintained, and no specified time was fixed for their arrival in port. Everything was left to their discretion.

"What impression has been made on you as a result of the disaster?" asked Senator Bourne, "as to the reforms in life-saving apparatus?"

"Well," the witness said with deliberation, "I believe there should be higher bulkheads, double hulls, or an extension of the double bottom, and liferafts that will be easy to launch or which might float from the ship when it went down."

The witness said that inspection of the merchant ships by the British and American naval authorities would not be of any assistance or safeguard in their construction.

"I would dislike very much to operate ships designed by naval constructors," he said. "They go about it in a very different way from ours."

Mr. Ismay then was excused, after Smith had thanked him for his testimony. He pledged himself to return to testify further whenever the committee might want him. He left for New York at 5 p.m.

PLANS TO SAIL TOMORROW.

"I plan to sail for England on Thursday on the Adriatic," Mr. Ismay said.

Asked about subpoenas in damage suits, he said he would be in this country again in a few weeks and that his attorneys would keep in touch with all local affairs following the catastrophe.

Col. Archibald Gracie was then called and told of the crash and of the efforts made to induce Mr. and Mrs. Isador Straus to get into a lifeboat. Mrs. Straus refused to leave her husband.

"We waived the rule against men entering the boats," he said, "and urged Mr. Straus to go. He said: 'No, I shall stay here and share the fate of the men.' Then we abandoned our efforts."

The witness told of assisting Mrs. John J. Astor into a lifeboat and of Col. Astor's request that he be allowed to accompany her.

"Why did Col. Astor make the request?" inquired Senator Smith.

"I think because of the condition of Mrs. Astor," the colonel replied, adding that he believed the officer who prevented Astor from going probably would have permitted it had he known.

Col. Gracie said that when he retreated toward the stern because of the advancing water he was met by a "mass of humanity" swarming up from the lower decks.

"Among them were many women," the witness said, "although we believed all women were taken off."

WOMAN SURVIVOR EXAMINED.

Mrs. Dickinson H. Bishop of Dowagiac, Mich., a bride on the Titanic, who was saved, with her husband, told of the wreck and her experiences in the rescue.

Mrs. Bishop said she and her husband were talking with Mrs. John Jacob Astor when Capt. Smith came along and spoke in an undertone to Col. Astor. The latter, Mrs. Bishop said, told the group to put on life belts, after which they went on deck.

"An officer took me by the arm and told me to get into the boat quickly," she said, "and my husband was pushed in with me. There were twelve women, thirteen men and three members of the crew. There were a number of unmarried men aboard."

"What have you to say about the conduct of the officers and crew?" asked Senator Smith.

"Their conduct was excellent. All the men behaved splendidly. On our lifeboat was a man whose brother was on the Titanic. When she sank this man buried his face in his hands until the ship disappeared, carrying his brother down. Then he did everything he could to cheer up the women."

Dickinson H. Bishop, her husband, testified briefly, stating that there was trouble in closing the water-tight compartments.

"The locks of the water-tight compartments," Bishop said, "did not close properly when the sailors tried to shut them. I saw the sailors trying to turn them and heard one of them say: 'We can't turn this. There's no use trying. Let's go on the other side.' Then they tried the other side and failed again."

AIMED AT NEWSPAPERS.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The Barnhart bill to compel all newspapers, magazines and periodicals to print the names of their managing editors, owners and all stockholders was attached to the postoffice appropriation bill in the House today. It was amended to make this obligatory on newspapers one day of each week. The amendment was agreed to by a vote of seventy-two to thirty-two.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 30.—To prevent the introduction of bubonic plague, yellow fever and other contagious diseases into the United States from Mexico, Surgeon-General Blue of the public health and marine hospital service today detailed Assistant Surgeon J. A. Campbell to supervise the departure of vessels from Vera Cruz to this country and assigned Surgeon C. Milo Brady to perform a similar duty at Tampico. These officers will report upon the sanitary conditions of the ports, especially with regard to yellow fever and bubonic plague, sign bills of health with the American Consul, fumigate vessels in order to kill mosquitoes and rats upon them, and inspect passengers destined for American ports.

PROMINENT PEOPLE SAID.

Marconi, Mrs. Gouraud, William H. Crocker, Caruso, Farrar and Scotti on List.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] On the Kaiser Wilhelm II of the North German Lloyd, sailing today, were many passengers distinguished in various walks of life.

Guglielmo Marconi, the wireless inventor, said he was going to Europe to look at some new device for strengthening the wireless system.

Mrs. Jackson Gouraud went aboard on crutches. She broke her ankle alighting from an automobile two weeks ago.

"I want to correct one statement," said Mrs. Gouraud. "It is not true that I am going to Paris because New York is too tame to be interesting. I never said such a thing."

By a strange coincidence William H. Crocker of San Francisco, Mrs. Gouraud's first cousin, occupied the next stateroom to her. He said he had not set eyes on her for twenty years, but would be very glad to make her acquaintalnce over again.

Several opera singers were also passengers, among them being Enrico Caruso, who is going to Paris to sing in "The Girl of the Golden West;" Geraldine Farrar, who has a sore throat, and is taking a physician and her mother with her; Leo Slezak, Antonio Scotti, Andrea de Segurola and Dinh Gilly, the Algerian baritone.

Josef Hofman and his wife and daughter were also passengers.

SHOT DEAD AT HIS DESK.

Secretary of Odd Fellows' Cemetery Association in San Francisco Slain by Frenzied Laborer.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Edward W. Stansbury, a disgruntled laborer, walked into the office of George Penlington, secretary of the Odd Fellows' Cemetery Association, this afternoon, and shot him dead at his desk, in the presence of two witnesses. Then he laid the revolver and a box of cartridges down on the desk and gave himself up.

Stansbury had been eight years in the employ of the association. He told the police tonight that he had never quarreled with Penlington, but that three months ago his wife had complained to the president of the association that he was neglecting his family, and he believed that Penlington had instigated the complaint.

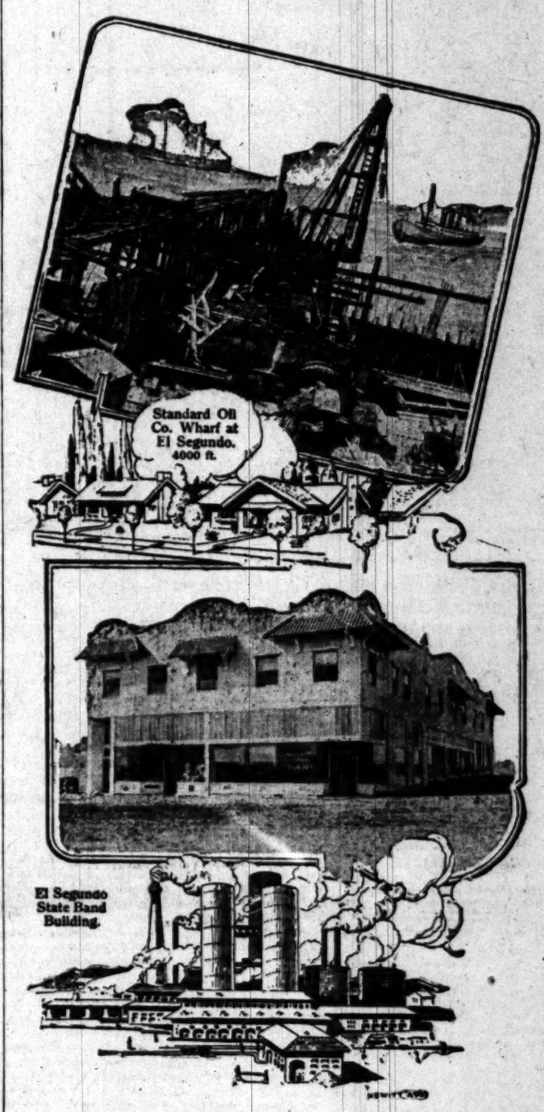
UNDERWOOD LEADS WILSON.

TAMPA (Fla.) April 30.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The Tribune says: At 9 o'clock the count in the Presidential preference primary in this city showed nearly three to one for Underwood over Wilson. Partial returns from some of the smaller precincts in South Florida indicate a substantial majority for Underwood.

Brisk Activity at El Segundo

The industrial possibilities and real estate investment opportunities at El Segundo — Southern California's thriving new manufacturing city, — are attracting wide attention. The millions of dollars now being expended by the Standard Oil Company at this point naturally form the basis or nucleus of a prosperous industrial city. One unit of the Standard's big plant is now being operated, and several hundred men are being employed. It has been stated by those who are in a position to know, that several more units will be added, until the plant is many times its present size—thus making it the largest Standard Oil Refinery in the world.

If nothing else were to be located at El Segundo but this vast refinery, that development alone would make it a busy little city. But wherever the Standard Oil Company has located, industries of all kinds have flocked in to secure the exceptionally low-priced fuel, created by the residuum from the refinery — and the terminal freight rates. Port Richmond, California, the site of the Standard's first big Pacific Coast plant, is today one of the most important of the smaller manufacturing towns of the United States. Whiting, Indiana, and Bayonne, New Jersey, are great manufacturing centers, made so by the Standard Oil Company's cheap residuum fuel.



Newspapers, magazines, and industrial experts are being enlisted in the campaign of securing industries for El Segundo. No section of the United States presents such splendid virgin opportunities for manufacturers as Southern California. 90% of the manufactured products used in Southern California are brought from the East—despite the fact that a great wealth of raw material is right at hand. We have the best cotton in the world. Wool, mohair, bone, horn, kelp, citrus by-products, deciduous fruit products, grape products, proximity of quarries, and the world's greatest mines, valuable woods from the Orient, Mexico and South America, timber from the Puget Sound district — these, together with much other raw material, are available.

Manufacturing opportunities at El Segundo will never be as advantageous as they are right now, because of the opportunity of securing free factory sites. The El Segundo Land & Improvement Company, present owners of industrial property, business and residence lots, acreage, etc., not only offer the advantage of free factory sites, but will even cooperate with manufacturers to the extent of erecting buildings. The company also erects homes for workmen, and sells them on terms equal to rent.

Go down and see what has been accomplished at El Segundo in seven short months. Note that the nucleus of a real industrial city has been created here within the brief space of seven months. Take Del Rey-Redondo cars from Hill street station. Cars leave every thirty minutes. For information relative to industrial opportunities, business property, residence lots, acreage, etc., call or write to the El Segundo Land & Improvement Company, owners, 561 I. W. Hellman Building, 124 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 22.—In the presence of a dozen survivors of the Titanic, twenty nuns and several prosperous New York women, including Mrs. Frederick Vanderbilt, Miss Sarah Roth, a survivor, and Daniel Michael Iles were married in St. Vincent's Hospital. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Anthony Grogen. Miss Emily Bachman was bridesmaid and Thomas Kelley best man. G. Redman gave the bride away. The bride's gown was the gift of Mrs. Vanderbilt. Mrs. Iles's trousseau went down with the Titanic.

What's Up?

MYSTERY SURROUNDS PLANS OF THE BUFORD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sentries guard the gang-way and every other means of access to the army transport Buford anchored in San Diego Bay since 7 p.m., tonight, and only members of the ship's company are allowed to board.

Newspapermen requested permission of Capt. Frank D. Ely, U. S. A., officer in charge, to come aboard and were told that they must keep away. Capt. Ely spoke to them from the gang-way rail, evading answers to every question that was asked and clearly intimating that he was under orders to withhold all information pertaining to the Buford's announced mission of rescuing Americans imperiled by bandits on the West Mexican Coast.

Even the deck hands on an attending tug had explicit orders to be silent concerning anything that they saw aboard the transport. The army tug Harris went alongside the Buford with a supply of crated vegetables, and from that time on the harbor boat became as much a mystery as the transport itself.

When the Harris docked after leaving the transport, its decks were guarded from the public. Capt. Ely came ashore for mail and to telephone a message. He was interviewed at the wharf and again evaded answering any questions.

He was asked in six separate attempts for information concerning the United States representative, Claude E. Guyant, reported from Washington to be under orders to embark aboard the Buford for Mexico, but he successively answered every question without even hinting at the desired information. The captain was seen again an hour afterward, at leisure, and he parried all questions again, while still managing to refrain from directly saying that his lips were sealed.

Frederick Moore, newspaperman of San Francisco, succeeded in shipping aboard the Buford in a quartermaster's capacity, but an unavoidable incident made his identity known and he was put ashore at San Diego. Observers in a launch alongside the transport estimated that 150 persons were in sight on board at the time of anchoring.

There were about fifty soldiers, some officers of the army, some civilians, and three women, said to be nurses. The Buford is expected to remain in San Diego tonight and to sail early tomorrow for the Mexican port of Topolobampo and thence to all other West Mexican ports where Americans are to be rescued.

REBELS ATTACK JAIL; TEN OF THEM KILLED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GUANAJUATO (Mex.) April 30.—Rebels who attacked the jail at Irapuato, twenty-one miles from here, last night, were repulsed by the small garrison of rurale guards and volunteers.

In the fight, which lasted two hours, ten of the insurgents were killed and several others wounded. The defending force had one man killed and one injured. The assault was made to release Miguel Macias, who had been arrested on a chage of being connected with the rebels. Two of the Macias brothers led the attack.

Several were wounded by stray bullets.

RAILROADS ARE CRIPPLED.

Mexicans Here Left in Such Numbers to Fight Country's Battles That Chaos Ensues.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, April 30.—The return of hundreds of Mexicans from California to their native land to fight either with or against the revolutionists has seriously delayed several contemplated improvements of the Santa Fe Railroad, according to statements officials of that line made today.

Because of the scarcity of Mexican laborers, which the railroad authorities said would become a serious problem, more than 500,000 ties, which otherwise would already nave been transferred to material yards of the line, have been waiting at San Diego for some time.

A MORNING BLAZE.

The handsome Mission apartments on North Broadway, extending from Franklin street north to the alley on the south side of the Hall of Records, were threatened with destruction by a fire that started in a barrel of waste in the rear of the Broadway Painting and Paper Hanging Company, No. 208 North Broadway. The flames were discovered by T. Hopkins, an employee of the Empress Theater, who turned in the alarm. The flames were confined to the rear end of the store, not doing in excess of $150 damage. There was considerable smoke which filled the apartments on the two upper floors. Many of the men and women roomers fled to the street in scanty attire, while others hung out of the windows calling loudly to the firemen and pedestrians. "Where is the fire?" "Will I have to get dressed and come down?" Are we perfectly safe?"

A stream from the chemical hose quenched the flames. How they started is not known. It is thought it was spontaneous combustion.

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) April 30. Returns from the Presidential primaries held in this State today with Woodrow Wilson and Oscar Underwood as the only participants, were meagre at midnight. Few precincts had been reported complete, but these and the vote of other precincts as far as counted indicated that Underwood was leading by a fair majority. The ballot was more than two feet long and it takes four to six minutes to count one vote. Anything like complete figures on the vote is not expected before Wednesday night.

JAPANESE SWORD MAKING.

[London Globe:] The swordmaking of Japan is perhaps the most curious in the whole world. In that country swords said to be the equal to those of Toledo and Damascus are made by a special series of processes, but a feature of the industry is the religious ceremonial that accompanies every process.

On the walls of the huts in which the work is done are representations of the god of the swordmakers and the chief goddess of the Shintos. There are also bits of paper and wisps of straw, charms to keep away evil spirits. No female is allowed to enter the place, as the presence of women is supposed to be conducive to the appearance of demons, who would certainly bring disaster to the sword mission. Prayer is offered before the work begins, and various religious rites must be performed before any one of the swords can be declared to have been well and truly made.

The last thing that takes place after the polishing and sharpening of the swords is the offering of them one by one to the sword god to be blessed. The weapon is placed in front of the kakemona on the wall, with an offering of saki, rice and sweetmeats, after which prayer scrolls are read and a blessing upon the work is invoked.

Wherever the making of metal swords may have originated the chief fame of the industry belongs, of course, to Damascus, where these weapons have been made from time immemorial. But almost equally famous are the swords of Khorasan, which is still the center of the best Eastern work of the kind. The best Eastern blades are, however, at least equaled today by those of European manufacture, which fact is evident when we remember that European swords are often met with in Asiatic hands, though in most cases they have been remounted in Eastern style to suit the fancy of their owners.

The particular treatment of the steel used for the making of Asiatic swords has had not a little to do with the reputation of the latter, for the damascening or "watering" of choice Persian and Indian arms gives a most attractive appearance to the work. Much the same thing was in evidence in the manufacture of "Damascus" gun barrels until it was discovered that fluid steel was preferable for the latter, at least from the manufacturer's point of view.

In the case of sword steel the "watered" effect is produced by a process of crystallization, so that when the metal is forged out a more or less regular pattern is seen running through it, and the effect is pleasing to the eye, though it is said that the quality of the metal is neither better nor worse for being treated in this fancy manner.

TROUBLESOME NEIGHBORS.

United States Cannot Escape the Responsibility for Good Government in Central America Republics.

[Youth's Companion:] Whether we like it or not, the United States is in a large measure responsible for the peace and order of the republics of Central America and for good government in Cuba, Haiti and Santo Domingo. Lately, events have shown that the United States cannot escape the responsibility also for Mexico.

Disorder and failure to pay foreign debts on the part of any of these countries are likely at any time to be made pretexts for intervention by some European power. For years the policy of our government has been to prevent any situation that might justify Germany or France or England in sending a military expedition to the countries south of us. Now that the Panama Canal is nearly done, this policy must be followed with greater zeal than ever.

In that necessity lies the reason for the recent southern tour of Secretary Knox of the State Department. That American control of the canal may not be in danger, Central America and the West Indies must be orderly, and the relations between the governments there and the government in Washington must be friendly. It was the mission of Secretary Knox to promote friendliness.

There are other signs that the interest of the United States in the conduct of its neighbors is active. The State Department has drawn up and the Senate has under consideration treaties with Honduras and Nicaragua designed to discourage revolutions by putting the custom-houses under the control of Americans pledged to divide the revenues between the creditors and the native governments. An arrangement of this kind is working well in Santo Domingo. Morover, the government keeps a close watch on Central American politics. Only a few months ago the State Department brought pressure to bear on the Nicaraguan President to keep him from retaining his office in violation of the Constitution. The State Department also reminded the President of Guatemala, suspected of designs upon the territory of Salvador, that the Central American republics had promised to keep peace among themselves. He withdrew his soldiers from the Salvadorean frontier after the gunboat Vicksburg was ordered to a Guatemalan port.

The national government is determined that the Presidential elections soon to be held in Panama and Cuba shall be conducted legally and in order. It has already intimated as much to Cuba, and if any revolutionary plans have been made in Panama, no doubt Secretary Knox has let the leaders know that those plans must be abandoned.

Tehuantepec.

REAL RIVAL OF PANAMA CANAL.

GREAT BUSINESS DONE ACROSS UPPER ISTHMUS.

Larger Part of the Increased Business During the Past Six Years Has Been Passing Over the New Transisthmian Railroad the Only Competitor of the Waterway.

[Christian Science Monitor:] Attention is being paid at this session of Congress to figures tending to show what will be the probable volume of business through the Panama Canal when it is completed and opened for traffic because of recent action by the House, in giving the Panama Canal bill, establishing the Federal policy of canal government and management, a legislative status the same as that of appropriation bills.

This status is one of high privilege and assures the consideration and final passage of the legislation by the House, perhaps before May. There will thus be ample time for the legislation to be put through the Senate and for the definite announcement of a policy with regard to canal management long enough in advance of the canal opening to suit the requirements of the rest of the world.

It is assumed in this city that when the canal is ready for operation all the traffic which now crosses the lower isthmus, excepting that of local destination, will be transferred from the Panama railway to through steam navigation. What will happen at the upper isthmus, however, can only be conjectured, but the experts believe that the Tehuantepec railroad is to be the canal's most formidable rival.

In 1906 the traffic between the two coasts was valued at $6,000,000. This was before the completion of the Tehuantepec route, and when the Panama railroad was the only means of communication between the two oceans. In 1907 the Tehuantepec route was opened and the volume of business rose to $21,000,000. In 1908 it went up to $42,000,000, in 1909 to $62,000,000, in 1910 to $82,500,000 and in 1911 to $99,000,000. The increase has been, according to these figures, sixteen and one-half-fold in six years. The figures, it should be further said, refer solely to American commerce between Atlantic and Gulf ports on the one hand, and Pacific and Central and South American ports on the other hand.

The greater part of the increase just noted has been over the Tehuantepec route. The $6,000,000 of 1906 was all at Panama, while of the $99,000,000 in 1911 Panama had only $26,000,000, and Tehuantepec $73,000,000, or practically three-fourths. Traffic at Panama has been more than quadrupled in the six years, while that at Tehuantepec, exceeding that at Panama in the first year of completion, is now nearly three times greater, and is steadily increasing its preponderance. For these reasons it is agreed here that the Tehuantepec is to be the chief rival of the new canal.

This transisthmian traffic is largely domestic between ports of the United States and its possessions. In 1911 85 per cent. of the westbound traffic was of that class, and 98 per cent. of the eastbound traffic. These figures form one of the strongest arguments in favor of free passage or practically free passage for American shipping through the canal. The fact that through increases of facilities—an improved railroad at Panama and a new railroad at Tehuantepec—traffic has been so wonderfully increased leads to the belief that a similar and perhaps still more marked growth will follow the opening of the canal.

Col. Goethals, however, and some of the other canal experts in the War Department, do not favor free passage. This question of tolls is perhaps the most important one connected with the pending canal bill recently given the same status as appropriation bills. The committee which reported the bill is divided on the tolls question, and probably the House is divided, also. There will probably be no definite information on how the vote in the House will stand as to tolls for some time to come.

The canal bill is to be taken up as soon as the House can pass the post-office appropriation bill.

Free Seats For Shriners' Parade

PROVIDED BY FURNITURE STORE ON BROADWAY.

With characteristic enterprise and as part of the broad policy of their big store, Lyon-McKinney-Smith Co., located at 648 to 652 South Broadway, will provide seats for their patrons to view the Shriners' parade next week.

Located in the heart of the fashionable Broadway shopping district, at a point where the festivities will reach their height, an unusual opportunity will be afforded to view the parade in its entirety without discomfort. A fifty-foot frontage of plate glass extending three floors up, which comprise the show windows of this big store, will be filled with comfortable seats, affording an unobstructed view of all that takes place.

Numerous offers for the rental of this space have been received by the firm from speculators who realized its unusual advantages as a viewing stand, and big prices have been offered for single seats—in fact, the requests for seats from customers, friends and the general public have been overwhelming.

This demand for seats, far in excess of the supply, forces the firm to place restrictions on the number of persons accommodated, so it has been decided to issue tickets to customers whose purchases THIS WEEK are in excess of a given sum. In order to clear the way for a week which will be devoted largely to the entertainment of our city's guests, unusual effort will be made to crowd two weeks' business into one—there will be sensational special sales this week in every department and in every line handled by this big furniture store.

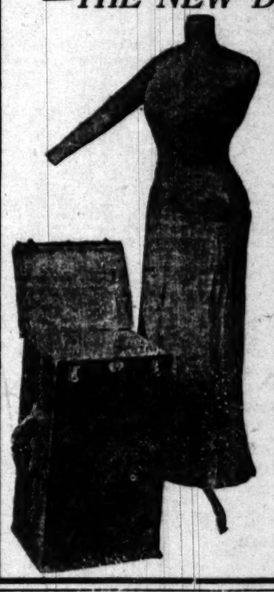
—THE NEW DRESS FORM—



Your Own Accurate Figure.

—Made of papier-mache, very light, durable, can be altered any time you should become heavier or reduced in flesh.

—So constructed that it can be easily taken apart and encased in beautiful leather receptable for closeting or travel.

—But a few moments required for taking your measurement and with no inconvenience to yourself.

—Not necessary to pad or guess where necessary to leave garment tight or loose, as is necessary with all bunglesome adjustable forms.

—Gowns, underwear, shirt-waists, etc., made with astonishing ease and in one-third the time required on any other dress-form made.

—It will be an inducement for you to economize because sewing will be a pleasure instead of a bore.

—You may begin your gown today and finish it at your leisure as you have time to spare, leaving the unfinished garment on your "NATURE FORM" until complete.

—If worn and tired standing hours at your dressmaker's, a "NATURE FORM" is just what you need, it never tires and your presence is not necessary.

All guessing is eliminated because it is absolutely perfect—exactly LIKE YOU.

FOR SALE—

UNUSUAL HOLLYWOOD VILLA.
BUILT FOR OWNER'S HOME.

Here is a place that will appeal to any one who wants a home that is unusual, something different from the usual house. It will appeal to any one who loves a large yard and a fairyland of a garden. $2000 have been spent alone in the improvement of these grounds. Palms of all descriptions, some costing as high as $80; ornamental firs and pines, large clusters of bamboo, rubber trees and a live oak. In fruit trees there are orange, lemon, apricot, guava, fig, tangerine, apple, plum, peach, nectarine, etc. The gardens are a bower of blossom; over 250 rose bushes blooming, and the climbing roses over the unique garden fence are exquisite. There are pink Cherokee roses, jasemine, Hollyhocks, lilac, Scotch broom, hybiscus, a hedge of ragged robin roses, sweet syringa, violets and wistaria. The pergola and summer house are both covered with beautiful vines and flowers; two stone Japanese lanterns lend an artistic touch. The gardens are laid out in landscape effect with winding walks and border flowers. It is a garden and grounds to cause any one to exclaim, though they may have traveled around the world. In the rear is a large chicken yard, a tool house and a garage large enough for two machines; cement floors; servants' quarters upstairs; cement drive to garage.
The house will attract you as much as the grounds. The lower front is of brick, covered with a beautiful vine. Large cement front porch with glass end. On the railing are beautiful plants in Japanese jars. Large oak front door leads into a good size reception hall panaled almost to the ceiling in curly birch. The cosy den and very large living room are in mahogany, paneled high with silk in gold effect above. The 12-foot window in front and the circle bay with seven windows make it very cheerful. Very fine Gruby tile mantel, built-in bookcases with leaded glass doors; beamed ceilings; large cluster center light and four ceiling lights; a room for perfect comfort. The dining room is equally as attractive with its 8-foot front window and circle bay with seven windows. This room is in oak with beamed ceilings and a buffet 11 feet wide; massive and elegant with beveled glass doors; very beautiful center light. The two bedrooms and bath downstairs and three bedrooms and bath upstairs are all in white enamel with mahogany doors and cut-glass knobs; one corner bedroom downstairs has five very large windows, window seat with drawers underneath, and the full length of room with two doors and light switches at each door; dainty flowered paper on the wall; the ceiling here, as in all the rooms, beamed and with white enamel effect over. There is a center light and four side lights, full length mirror; bathroom down stairs has tile floor, full length and smaller oval mirror, oval lavatory and a door leading out to balcony. One of the upstairs bedrooms has Gruby tile mantel with mirror, built-in bookcases, drawers, large closet and full-length mirror. There is a large number of windows in all bedrooms, an unusual number of electric lights and switches for each light. The bedrooms has two large closets. The hall upstairs has drawers and closets and the rear hall downstairs has two large closets. Stairway in mahogany. Kitchen is large and roomy, buffet style, with cedar closets reaching the ceiling; sink with boards entire width of room; hood for stove. Large cement basement with furnace. Everything is complete and ready for occupancy. All the window draperies and portieres are up and will be included with the house. Price $58,500. If you want to see a home that will attract you at first sight call at this place any afternoon, including Sunday, between 2 and 4 o'clock, when the house will be open to your inspection. Address 1 to 147 MORGAN PLACE. Take Hollywood car, get off at Morgan Place. This is the first house on the west side of street. Telephone Home A3133.

FOR SALE—

We have just completed two of the classiest nine-room houses in the West End. On Crenshaw blvd., between Pico and 16th sts., where values on account of location and surrounding improvements are certain to advance. In construction and appointment these homes are masterpieces of the builder's art. The moment you step in that "something different" effect at once impresses you. Those ideal home features which have come to your mind from time to time in a hazy sort of way are here presented in concrete form. They have every up-to-the-minute built-in feature which has proved desirable in the finest homes, and the whole interior scheme of decoration suggests that air of quiet elegance and complete harmony so pleasing to people of refined tastes; the lots are large, 50x141, and have all improvements, including lawns, cement walks, the garage, etc. We are offering these properties at $7500, which is below their real value; but we are determined to dispose of them quickly, and will make terms to suit. We could say a great deal more on paper about these fine homes, but we want you to go out and see them. They speak for themselves. The Pico st. car will take you within half a block, or call us up and one of our machines will come promptly to take you out.

FOR SALE—
I am a well-to-do old maid and bought a fine lot, 60x120, in Highland Park, near the Arroyo Seco, amidst poplar and oak trees, where I could have peace and seclusion for myself, cats and parrots, and still be within two blocks of both the red and yellow car lines, and built for myself. After day's work, a beautiful modern five-room bungalow of artistic design, where I have had a haven of peace, comfort and rest. Now, to my intense disgust, the city of Los Angeles is arranging to open the Arroyo Seco Park to adjoin my lot, and will thus destroy my privacy with park visitors, sightseers and tourists. In consequence, I will sacrifice $500 on my house, and now sell same at $2500. Only $100 to $250 cash, and $25 monthly takes it. Apply to my agents, MATTHEWS & MATTHEWS, 229 Douglas Bldg., or at their branch office, 8180 Pasadena ave.

FOR SALE—
Handsome Swiss chalet bungalow, in beautiful Hollywood. Five rooms with many features that are especially attractive. Large living rooms 15x25, other rooms proportionately as large. This is one of those bungalows built with the idea of including all the best and most modern conveniences attainable. The present owners who are now living in the property are anxious to sell and have made a special low price of $3750 for a limited time. Monthly payments will handle the greater portion of this.
We have sold similar property in this location at a price much in advance of this and the buyers are satisfied with their bargains. We know this to be an exceptionally good buy.

OWENSMOUTH

Owensmouth is being built just where it is needed; business demanded a town here, as a shipping and trading point for the hundreds of inhabitants in this locality, and the thousands more soon to come. Mr. Business Man, Mr. Investor, this is opportunity. Activity means quick profits for the merchant, the builder, as well as the investor. Surrounding Owensmouth are thousands of acres of the richest land, fruit land, bean land and sugar beet land; already 8000 acres have been planted to the profitable sugar beet; this means an army of workers and hundreds of carloads for shipment. Do not overlook this great opening.

CHOICE RESIDENTIAL LOTS, $300.

CHOICE BUSINESS LOTS, $500.

The extension of the $500,000 boulevard and the new electric road is fast nearing completion. Construction already started on bank and fourteen stores. Now's the time to invest; lower lots have made fortunes for many. Get in ahead of the vast improvements; prices are bound to advance.

HOW TO GO: Autos leave office daily at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. for Owensmouth, or take Van Nuys-Lankershim cars at P. E. Hill st. depot, to Eighth st. and Sherman Way. Owensmouth auto stage meets every car.

FOR SALE— A CHOICE HOME IN HOLLYWOOD. Hollywood has become the center of fine and costly residences for the city of Los Angeles. The ocean and mountain views from this section are unequaled in California. The fine drives lead out in every direction and the trolley service is the best on the Coast. Hollywood is the center of attraction for the people who can afford and enjoy fine homes. Therefor residence property is in demand and good locations are rapidly advancing in value. This is all preliminary to our purpose to place before you one of the choicest located moderately priced homes, that will give your family comfort and happiness at a very moderate expense. This home is located near the foothills in the frostless belt, where the tender shrubs and flowers will flourish in summer, and will not be impaired by winter. The house has 11 rooms, 2 stories high. The property is surrounded by fine residences valued at from $10,000 to $25,000. The lot is level and has an east front, while the view of the ocean is all that heart could desire. If you want a homelike house that is surrounded by luxury you will find your time well spent in going out to look at this property. A spacious living-room, a cozy reception hall, an attractive front cement porch, a massive fireplace and mantel in the living-room. Dining-room and gorgeous buffet, beautiful mirrors and elegant den, a sun parlor, breakfast-room, white enamel kitchen. These are some of the beauties of this elegant home. There are fine sleeping rooms upstairs, with large closets and 4 bathrooms. The entire house is finished with fine hardwood and expensive hardware. A description of the property will convey no adequate idea of its beauty and value; go with us and look at it. Photographs of this most beautiful home can be seen at our office. The bargain price is only $8250. TIBBOTT-HOLT CO., agents. 2154 So. Hill st. F5176. Main 8416.

YUCAIPA VALLEY—

FOR SALE—
YUCAIPA VALLEY.
RED APPLE LAND.
Offers the best investment in California today. Adjoins the beautiful foothill lands on the east; elevation 2000 feet above sea level; no fogs, no hot desert winds, no cold storms. Soil is a rich decomposed granite, from 20 to 30 feet in depth. Big Red Apples, cherries, pears and other deciduous fruits have been grown here for years, at immense profits. Potatoes, Sweet Potatoes, Onions, Beans, Tomatoes, Cantaloupes, etc., are being grown here between the rows of the young trees at big profits. Orchards come into bearing at the fourth year. More than 2500 acres already set out to trees; ninety families are now living on the young orchards. We have stores, postoffice, telephones, hotels, schools, churches, lumber yard, planing mill, etc. We have every reason to believe that the Pacific Electric Railway will soon extend its system from Redlands into Yucaipa. This promises to be one of the richest and most thickly settled communities in the State.

You can buy this wonderful rich land today at $275 an acre. One share of water stock in one of the best gravity water systems in the State goes with each acre purchased. Don't overlook this opportunity. Take a trip out with us any day and convince yourself of the truth of our statement.

GOVERNMENT LANDS—

IT'S YOUR CHANCE.
Our Mr. L. O. Hall, who is a State licensed surveyor, has just returned from investigating an extensive valley near railroad in San Bernardino county, that is open for settlement under the general land laws, where water is available and apples, pears, and other fruits, as well as all grains and alfalfa, will grow. A new town, with good railroad facilities, just starting near land. This is not going to last long; as hundreds are settling now. Mr. Hall leaves again Saturday. Call and arrange to accompany him. We guarantee a correct location, best references furnished. HOSPERS, DYKE & CO., 329 Byrne Bldg. A1193.

FACTS.
320 acres under Enlarged Homestead; level sagebrush land of great depth. Domestic water, 20 to 35 feet. 2 to 4 miles to R. R. shipping point. Rainfall, 14 inches.
Many of our satisfied clients are living on the land. One Dollar per acre pays all expenses to acquire a 320-acre Homestead. Next excursion Saturday, May 4. NEECE-EVERETT CO., 214 Wright and Callender Bldg.

WE HAVE A 320-ACRE ENLARGED HOMEstead relinquishment, lying on both sides of the railroad. It is now a railroad stop and there is a half mile siding on the land. Splendid opportunity for general store, postoffice, etc. $1600 takes this 320 acres, including townsite. Party needs cash and must sell at once.
NEECE-EVERETT COMPANY,

A SQUARE DEAL—
is what Carey act means. Land 50c; water backed by State. Excursion Saturday, 10:30 a.m. FITZER REALTY CO., 609 Bumiller Bldg., 320 S. Broadway. Phone F1303.

CAN PUT YOU ON 40 ACRES FOR $100, OR sell 20 acres for $1200; 40 miles out. Address I, box 220, TIMES OFFICE.

FOR SALE—
26 acres of the best potato land in Southern California. Just the kind of soil that will produce large crops of high-grade potatoes. We know the soil is twenty feet deep.
Water conditions are the very best. If you are looking for potato land, don't fail to see this tract. Only thirty miles from Los Angeles and close to two railroads. At the price we are asking for it, $250 an acre, one crop will more than pay for the land.
$2500 cash will handle it.

40 ACRES—$175 PER ACRE.

40 acres, located three miles from Los Angeles-Santa Ana line of Pacific Electric R. R. This land has not been plowed for years—has been pastured constantly. When broken it should produce enormous crops.
The price is about one-third of what improved land adjacent to it would cost. The crops on the adjoining land demonstrate what this could produce from this property, after it is in cultivation.
We can give easy terms to the man who will agree to improve it.

40 ACRES—$12,000.

This property is improved with a new 5-room, 1½-story house, with all modern conveniences, including acetyline gas plant.
It is conveniently located being one-quarter of a mile from the center of town, same distance from railroad station, and proposed electric line will pass directly by the property.
The grounds surrounding the house are beautifully improved with flowers, shrubbery, shade and ornamental trees.
A young orchard, consisting of about five acres of a complete variety of fruits, is just coming into profitable bearing. About 35 acres of the ranch is leased for this season. A purchaser will receive this rental.
A cash payment of $4000 will secure this bargain, with practically one's own time on the balance.

25-ACRE ALFALFA RANCH—$10,500.

Improved with 6-room house, large barn, poultry houses and yards; artesian wells; 5 acres old stand alfalfa; 20 acres new seeding; family orchard, variety of fruits. Land is well leveled and produces enormous crops of alfalfa. Hay brings $12 per ton in the field. One can expect more this season.
This is all subirrigated land. If you wish to irrigate, the water costs you nothing.

2 acres in full bearing apricots.

Good 6-room house, barn, small gasoline engine, pump and tank for domestic water. Poultry house and yards. Gravity ditch water for irrigation at a maximum cost of $5 per acre per year.

5-ACRE TRACTS.

WITH WATER.

A PART OF LUCKY BALDWIN LAND.

READ what Judge Rives says in not confirming a sale of Baldwin land in court:
"I am familiar with the land near La Puente," said Judge Rives, "and I know it has at least doubled, if not trebled, in value since the death of Baldwin. I think this increase may apply to virtually the entire estate, and I do not feel like confirming this sale now."

It is worth you while to thoroughly investigate the many advantages which our land presents. We know the soil is absolutely the best in the country. We know there is no hardpan under the surface. We know the water supply is abundant and ample for all time.
Permit us to demonstrate these facts to you.
Grow oranges, lemons or walnuts. Raise alfalfa, potatoes and all vegetables. Chickens thrive wonderfully well in this valley, owing to the dryness of the climate.
The only acreage near the big city which will have gas and electricity, and the proposed new electric car line will pass the Ranchos.
Both the Salt Lake and Southern Pacific now serving the land.
20-minute ride, 90 fare by book.

WHERE

VAN NUYS-LANKERSHIM LANDS.

The extension of the magnificent $500,000 boulevard and the new electric road are being rushed toward Owensmouth. Great gangs of men are at work. Buy acreage adjoining the new town, before these vast improvements are completed. Profits should be quick, whether you use the land for beans, fruit, sugar beets or melons, or whether you hold for a turn of the market; present low prices cannot remain for long. The soil is rich, deep and subirrigated, and the location perfect. The fine citrus and olive orchards near by prove its fertility. Now's your opportunity.

$225, $250 and $600 Per Acre.

The Highest Priced Fronts on $500,000 Boulevard.

All subject to 25 per cent. improvement discount.

Get in ahead of these improvements; own a country estate or small ranch close to the fast growing city of Los Angeles, and directly adjoining the great new town of Owensmouth. Some choice sections just placed on the market.
Come out today—see for yourself. Our machines make several trips daily.

A REAL INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY—
A prosperous machinery and pump manufacturing concern in Los Angeles desires to increase its capital and equipment by $5000. We are now earning better than 20 per cent. per annum on our investment. The additional facilities we plan will largely increase this. To the right man or men with $5000 cash we will make an attractive offer. Investigate this opportunity to get into a live, profit earning, permanent business; connect yourself with successful men of high standing and character. No brokers; principals only. See our attorney at 530 TITLE INSURANCE BLDG., between 10 and 12 a.m.

CAPITALISTS—
Something Worth Investigating.
This is a Money Maker.
I have 63 acres of high-class residence property ripe for subdivision, 12 minutes from center of city, on Hollywood car line; any one with the capital can make a big thing of it. For further particulars address L, box 376, TIMES OFFICE.

SUBSTANTIAL AND PROFITABLE BUSIness, requires additional capital. Can use $500 to $2000 and will pay up to 5 per cent. interest every month. Can give strong security to investor so that loss is impossible. This is surely one of investigation. Can arrange to use services of book-keeper if agreeable. Address K, box 309, TIMES OFFICE.

LOCAL COMPANY, MANUFACTURING A staple, can use additional capital, $1000 to $5000, for increased factory equipment; has unquestionably large possibilities, controlling an exclusive supply of its raw materials; will employ 1 or 2 capable men. Call 446 I. W. HELLMAN BLDG. Arthur Bridgman.

WANTED—A PARTY TO FURNISH FROM $5000 to $10,000 in a cafeteria proposition, as a partner, active or silent. Address K, box 344, TIMES OFFICE.

BUSINESS INVESTMENTS—

TWELVE PER CENT. DIVIDEND.

Stock now selling at $1 per share. Price of stock goes to $1.20 soon. This stock has never been raised since organization, and the company has over $100,000 in assets. The company owns its own office building in Santa Monica, and has two leases that the most conservative judges of values say is worth $6000 to $8000. Splendid factory equipment; has unquestionably large possibilities, controlling an exclusive supply of its raw materials; will employ 1 or 2 capable men. Call 446 I. W. HELLMAN BLDG. Arthur Bridgman.

Danish Woman Visits the Lappa.

[New York Herald:] A daring Danish woman explorer, Mme. Demant-Hatt, a graduate of Copenhagen University, has returned to the Danish capital after many months' sojourn among the Lappa with a brief for that strange race of the Far North, the members of which have kept their race pure and their customs unchanged for untold generations. In their tents amid snow and ice Mme. Demant-Hatt lived as long as fifteen months at a time, and tells of how all lay down to sleep at night around the fire in their fur dress of the day, fur boots and gloves. The numerous dogs creep near the human beings to warm themselves, but the "daughter of the house," in spite of her youth, she says, must spend the night in the vast, silent snowfields, guarding the precious reindeer against the much-feared wolves.

The Cardinal men who will enter the competitions are Brown, sprints; Wallace and Taylor, quarter-mile; Bonnett, Angell, half-mile; Murray, mile run; Dodge, two miles; Horine, Finney, high jump; Morrison, Argabrite, broad jump; Miller, Peake, pole vault; Woolley, weights.

California is to enter fifteen men. All the men who loomed up in the intercollegiate meet are enterer. The teams from Washington and Oregon are expected to arrive on the scene of action not later than Tuesday and the southerners are expected two or three days before the meet.

ESTABLISH NEW STATION.

CHICAGO, April 30.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Secretary C. W. French of the Aero Club of America today notified officials of the Aero Club of Illinois that Lincoln, Neb., had put up $10,000 necessary to become a stopping place for the aeroplanes in the great American grand circuit aeroplane race planned for September with Chicago as the central point. James S. Stephens, general manager of the committee, said that other plans were making rapid progress.

CASCARA TREES PAY MORTGAGE

HOMESTEADERS CLEAR SUMS OF MONEY.

Great Harvest Is Now on in Northern California, Oregon and Washington—Market First Opened Nine Years Ago—Bark Has Medicinal Value.

CORVALLIS (Or.) April 15.—(Special.) The cascara harvest is on in Oregon, the cascara center of the world, and in Washington, where large quantities of the bark are gathered every spring. Cascara grows only in a very limited area in Western Oregon and Western Washington with a sprinkling of trees in Northern California. It is estimated that the cascara crop in Oregon this year will be worth $1,000,000, while that of Washington will be about two-thirds that sum.

During the year 1903, when the market of the world was first opened to cascara bark, there were shipped from Oregon to eastern cities, London and German ports, fifty carloads of cascara bark. This product is said to be a most valuable addition to materia medica.

The shipments in 1903 represented a total of about 500 tons, which was produced in the valleys of the Willamette and Columbia rivers. As high as fifteen cents was paid for bark following the movement of 1903. A fair day's work is bark peeled is placed at 150 pounds, when dried, but many exceed this figure. Harry Nash of Buena Vista, Or., holds a record of 350 pounds.

The bark is dried in the sun by the peelers, who care for their work and put each evening. Wires are stretched from tree to tree upon which the bark is then suspended with the inside down. It is left thus for four or five days, which, with favorable weather, is sufficient for thorough drying.

After the curing process is completed the bark is cut into small pieces preparatory to sacking. The strawcutter often being used. Grain sacks holding

OLD OMNIBUS ONLY A MEMORY.

Mormons Are Seeking Pretty Girls in England.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

LONDON, April 4.—The autobus has finally dominated London. Another link with the city's picturesque past has just been severed by the discontinuance of the last survivor of the real coach-omnibus, with its spanking team of four horses, which had performed the journey from the southern suburb of Balham to the city as long as the present generation can recollect.

The driver will be missed as much as the coach, for "Old Tom," as Tom Rickman was familiarly known along the route, has driven his little party of "regulars," as he termed his passengers, for only a few months less than thirty years.

"Old Tom" is the embodiment of the typical old coachman, who used to be so frequently seen on the highways before the days of railways. His expansive, ruddy face was "well known to the police," and they, recognizing from afar the beaming countenance of "Old Tom," perched above his well-groomed team, allowed the favored coachman to thread the London traffic with a latitude that would never have been granted to a junior whip or the most impatient of chauffeurs.

"Old Tom's" memory carries him back to the days when the London omnibus was a far less commodious and comfortable vehicle than the one which he has just ceased to drive. One need not be a centenarian to recollect the rumbling old vehicle on which the outside passengers had to climb to their seats along the "knife-board" by perpendicular little iron steps, which afforded the scantiest foothold.

No woman in those days ever dreamed of traveling on the outside of an omnibus, and the bold spirit who aspired to sit by the side of the driver on the box seat had to hoist himself up by the aid of the strap which dangled from the front. The inside passengers in winter time had the luxury of straw to keep their feet warm, and the sickly flame of an oil lamp, hung on the door at night, feebly illuminated the faces of the shivering occupants.

The old coachman regrets the passing of those days, when the driver's seat was over the off-wheel and there was always a good cigar to be had from his companion. He is very proud of his record on the road, and besides his regular city trip he has driven down to twenty-eight Derby races and has driven a team of white horses in as many Lord Mayors' shows.

PROTEST OF "REGULARS."

"I wouldn't take my hat off to any man driving four horses on the road," affirms "Old Tom." "It needs some driving if you have a young horse that wants to read every advertisement on the roadside from Balham to Gracechurch street, and maybe to look in at the 'bus window now and again."

Every morning his little party of "regulars" assembled at the foot of Balham hill, where the 'bus started, and in winter time they brought their own rugs, which were tucked away under the seat on reaching the city and taken back to the coachyard.

Some years ago the proprietors of the omnibus decided it must go, but so earnest was the protest of the "regulars," who bound themselves by a written agreement to be reliable passengers every morning, that the owners relented and the four-in-hand continued to bowl along the Clapham road and thread its way over London Bridge in time for the day's routine.

Another protest was promptly forthcoming when the discontinuance of the service was recently announced, but this time it was without avail and "Old Tom" drove his sociable little party over London Bridge for the last time. The pleasant morning drive behind the jingling team is now a memory of the past.

TRAINING LICENSE REFUSED.

The outlook for Charles Kohler's racing enterprise in England is not too hopeful. Everyone thought the antagonism to American owners disappeared when Richard Croker was invited to continue his activities at Newmarket after being unceremoniously asked by the Jockey Club to take his horses and himself elsewhere.

But for some reason, which is not clearly disclosed, this same body now refuses to license Sam C. Hildreth as a trainer in England, so that if Charles Kohler's horses are to make an appearance on the English track during the coming season they must be saddled by a trainer already licensed.

This action of the Jockey Club is deeply resented by many of the leading "sports," who feel that racing in England is already sufficiently handicapped without such irritating interferences on the part of the body that ought to encourage and support the enterprise of "new blood."

As Kohler has no idea of repudiating his trainer, and as the Jockey Club magnates do not appear to have any objection to him as an owner, he means to try other plans. He will use France as a training ground and have his horses saddled in England by one or another of the American trainers already established here.

"OLD PROS' PARADISE."

It is not generally known that the Countess of Suffolk was chiefly responsible for the equipment of what is now become known as "The Old Pros' Paradise." This consists of a picturesque old mansion situated on the upper reaches of the Thames and acquired for the purpose of providing a home for old performers on the variety stage who have fallen on evil times.

The "Paradise" has been opened ostensibly under the auspices of the Music Hall Benevolent Fund, but it is understood that more than one American has had a hand in providing the "needful," which amounts to a very substantial annual sum.

Those who know what a fascination the variety theater has for "Daisy Letter," as the Countess is known to her intimate friends, will not be surprised to hear that she has dipped her hand deeply into her purse to make the old "pros" happy in their declining years.

It is well known by those in her set that she gives in one way and another a big sum every year to philanthropy of this kind, but the outside public never hears of her benevolence.

This open-handedness is said to be such that if her powers of dealing with her fortune were not somewhat curtailed she would be in danger of impoverishing herself.

SEEK GOOD-LOOKING GIRLS.

Resentment against Mormon activity is again finding expression in the English midlands and northern counties, where missionaries of the Latter Day Saints have been conducting their campaign with renewed pertinacity.

Stubborn resistance to the Mormon propagandists is now on foot. Local city councils are refusing the use of the city halls to them, although for many years the use of such halls has been granted without demur for conferences and public meetings of every sect.

The Mormon leaders accompany their latest applications by written statements that polygamy has been abandoned in Utah, and offer $1000 reward to anyone who can produce evidence of any instance of an English girl who had been induced to go to Utah for polygamous purposes.

This challenge has in no way allayed the fears of Manchester citizens, who are indignant at the house to house campaign carried on by Mormon emissaries for some months past. The method is to call and leave some tracts at a house, then to return a few days later in the hope that the literature has produced results.

CLERGYMEN ON WARPATH.

Rev. W. J. Canton, rector of St. Margaret's Church, Whalley Range, is one of the most active and stalwart opponents of Mormonism, and he meets their denial of polygamy with scornful incredulity.

"Many girls from Manchester, Liverpool and the neighboring districts," he alleges, "have been enticed from their homes and situations by Mormon missionaries, to discover too late that while Mormonism may have been purged of many of its grosser evils, polygamy still exists, and that when they arrive in Salt Lake City they have no choice but to accept what is virtually a form of slavery."

Another clergyman of the Church of England, Rev. J. Williams of Bury, is also on the warpath. He declares that the Mormon missionaries only visit houses where good-looking women are to be found, and he has invoked the aid of the police in trying to rid the town of the missionaries. The young men of the various religious organizations have promised him their cooperation with a view to making Bury too hot for the Mormons.

Several appeals have again gone to the Home Office, invoking official help in suppressing the propaganda, but the government's programme is already too congested with overdue business, and there is no likelihood of parliamentary assistance, even if there was a strong body of opinion in the House of Commons in favor of it.

So the matter is left to local action in the districts most affected, where to judge from the present temper of the citizens such action will soon find drastic expression, especially in Manchester, which, as the center of Mormon activity in England, has been described as "the Mormon monastery."

TRADE SPY PUNISHED.

German spies in England are not all in search of military secrets. Frans Winzen, son of a German textile printer, has just had to pay $1500 for trying to spy out trade secrets from the workmen of Sharp and Sons, who have a big business in that line in Yorkshire.

This was one of the prosecutions undertaken by virtue of the prevention of corruption act. Winzen came over from Germany especially to extract the details of the secret process used by the Sharp company, and he went about his spying in a systematic way.

Calling on an engraver employed at the Sharp works he asked him to get a bottle of the printing mixture used and as much information as possible as to the machinery, offering $250 for the work. But the engraver was loyal to his concern and told his boss, who arranged that he and others should have further interviews with the spy and lead him on to commit himself to a more definite extent.

So the tricky Teuton was made to pay sundry dollars to the engraver and finally drew up an agreement to engage another of the Sharp men who knew the process, for his German factory, for five years. When that interview ended Winzen was arrested, but the Sharp company was content to make him pay the fines and costs as a warning, and did not press for a prison sentence.

REALISM IN ART.

Realism in art has become a specialty of the Hon. John Collier, the distinguished British artist, and son of the late Lord Monkswell. A year or two ago he sent in to the Royal Academy a picture of a doctor in his consulting-room, telling a young man he was doomed to die. This year he is going further, giving the scene at the operating table of a great surgeon.

J. Bland Sutton, one of the best known surgeons in London, will be the central figure in this daringly realistic work. He will be seen standing by the bright copper operating table with its side array of anaesthetics, glass shelves and blank white walls, lecturing the students on the work in hand.

Those who have seen the picture in the artist's studio predict a storm of controversy over it when the Academy opens.

NORWAY'S AMAZING ARMY.

[Tit Bits:] One of the most fascinating military sights in the world is to watch Norwegian infantry, mounted on skis, traveling and maneuvering. Even with rifle and full marching kit on his back, a Norwegian soldier, when equipped with his snowshoes, can travel at thirty miles an hour on a slight grade, and even on level ground he can cover from fifteen to twenty miles an hour. The skis used by the Norwegian soldiers consist of flat pieces of wood from eight feet to twelve feet long and from four and one half to six inches broad. The Norwegian infantryman is trained from childhood in the use of skis, and his skill is such that he can glide in and out of the trees without a crackle to betray his whereabouts.

When marching orders are sounded the leader swings out and keeps up a hot pace. Once in sight of a supposed enemy a pile of snow is quickly scooped up, and, ensconced behind this simple but effective protection, the ski man can take pot shots at the foe.

During some recent maneuvers, in which 10,000 infantrymen participated, the value of skis as an adjunct in warfare was clearly demonstrated. Over roads piled so high with snow that cavalry would have been unable to make any progress whatever, the infantry mounted on their skis, covered from twenty to thirty miles an hour without mishap of any kind. Of course, it would be practically impossible in most instances for the artillery, with their heavy guns, to follow the infantry over the snowclad roads and passes, but for skirmishing and scouting ski running soldiers are extremely valuable.

Perfect Type.

REAL SPARTANS ARE DEVELOPED.

Training at West Point Is No Child's Play.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

NEW YORK, April 13.—Uncle Sam takes a great interest in developing the perfect type of the American man. West Point is Uncle Sam's principal factory, and there men are developed under conditions as rigorous as those that made the warriors of ancient Sparta the greatest fighters of their time. It is no boy's play to take a course at West Point, but when the four years of hard work is over and the cadets become officers in the army of the United States the result is worth all the trouble that it cost.

Uncle Sam is not experimenting any more. He knows the best way to turn out men that are perfect physically and mentally. And so a comparison with Uncle Sam's methods with the free and easy athletic life of our college and club athletes is of some interest.

In the first place, a boy must be strong and healthy and able to pass strict physical and mental examinations before he can get into West Point. But on entering he is only good news material. The four years grind brings out the best that is in him.

The moment a youngster enters the academy every moment of his time is mapped out by his superiors, and he is moved about like a pawn on a chessboard, with no violation of his own. He has certain kinds of work to do. If he does it well he goes on smoothly until his graduation. If he can't or will not do the work laid out for him and keep strictly to the regulations he is dropped, and that's the end of it. Uncle Sam has no time to waste puttering around with unsatisfactory material—and there is always plenty of good material at the gates.

On arriving at West Point to make a study of the stystem by which the United States rears men to command its armies, I felt proud that I was an American, born and bred.

In all the castled cities of Europe there is no more magnificent scene than West Point presents, perched on a hill, marvelous in the grandeur of its massive architecture, looking down upon the broad sweep of a river beside which the Rhine is a mere mill stream. On the reservation everything was busy. Everywhere cadets were doing sentry duty, pacing up and down and paying little attention to the storm or the cold sleet that was driven into their faces, as fine looking a lot of youngsters as any one could find anywhere in the world.

MEASUREMENTS.

October	68.28	141.60	33.60	35.83	28.23	9.63	11.39	9.54	11.02
June	68.78	147.89	34.92	37.40	28.40	10.59	12.51	10.16	12.00

An officer met me, and we began a trip into a strange land, as full of unexpected things as a visit to the poles.

Uncle Sam is a strict guardian. One of his wards would find it hard to get into mischief. In the first place for two years after entering West Point the cadet is not allowed a day's leave. His family might live a mile from the reservation. For two years he could not go to make them a visit. The rule, like all of Uncle Sam's rules for his cadets, is an inflexible as cast iron.

COMPLEX "SIMPLE LIFE."

People advocate the "simple life" for those who want health and strength. No one who has never visited West Point knows what the simple life is. West Point is the only place I've ever seen where the simple life is enforced to the last letter—outside of a prison. And yet in a way it's a complex life—so complex that it's a wonder any boy can master its intricacies.

We went through a room in the barracks. It was a small, square room, with bare floor and a table and two chairs and two windows. Two cadets lived there. One end of the room was partitioned off into something that resembled two horse stalls. In each was a cot. Under each cot, on precisely similar spots on the bare pine floor, stood in a row one pair of gaiters, one pair of heavy shoes, one pair of dress shoes and one pair of felt slippers. On each partition side were seven hooks; on each set of hooks an exactly similar arrangement of different articles of clothing. On a post was a cadet's helmet or cap.

There were two metal lockers, each with the same number of shelves, and on each shelf a certain arrangement of a certain number of collars, handkerchiefs, socks, shirts and simple articles of clothing.

On the next-to-the-top shelf of each locker lay a polished breast plate, face down on a piece of chamois. On the top shelf the cadet was allowed to have a limited number of pictures, and this, apparently, was the only thing he was allowed to have, except the required articles of clothing.

On entering West Point the newcomer's civilian clothes, with the contents of his pockets, are packed and stored. He gets them again when he graduates. While in West Point he is not allowed to have money in his possession. He pays his clothing and his "mess" on a credit system out of his government allowance.

On the door of each room in the barracks was a printed diagram showing what must be exactly the position of each article in the room.

Everything is done absolutely by rule. To get a new pair of socks, or to have a torn garment mended, the cadet must apply for permission in writing, and wait until his request is officially approved. On the table in each room was a thick book of regulations. The breaking of even the slightest of these meant demerit marks—106 demerit marks during six months, immediate expulsion from the academy. A cadet might have 104 demerit marks. Enough dust on the top shelf of his closet to mark an inspecting officer's white glove—and out he goes.

BUSY DAILY ROUTINE.

And the daily routine is iron clad. Each cadet is "checked up" nineteen times a day. To be absent or even a moment late on one of these nineteen occasions would mean demerit marks. The cadet is called out—reveille—at 5:45 a.m. Roll call is at 6 o'clock, every man newly shaved and fully dressed for the day.

They say any cadet can shave—and there aren't ten safety razors in West Point—and dress in five minutes. After sweeping and making up their rooms, they march to the messrooms with drum corps and martial music at 6:25. Breakfast at 6:30.

After that comes the day of recitations and military duties and horseback riding and gymnasium work, ending with a short "release from quarters," during which the cadet is allowed to spend his time playing football, baseball, polo, tennis, handball or some other game, or in the gymnasium, fencing, boxing, wrestling or swimming. After this comes supper formation. The cadet can make up his cot and go to bed after 9 o'clock. He must be in bed by 10.

Except in the two and a half months of the summer season, when the cadets are in camp on the reservation "roughing it" like real soldiers, released entirely from studies and engaged in applying their knowledge practically, they have certain prescribed forms of exercise in the gymnasium, taken in "sections" of some forty or fifty men. These exercises are compulsory. All of the athletic sports and competitions, like football, baseball and track athletics, are voluntary, and may be indulged in only during the short hour or so of liberty each day.

The development of West Point's great football teams under such conditions is by the fact that their military studies and drills all help to develop strategy and team work. Of compulsory gymnasium work, the members of entering, or Fourth Class, have five hours a week—one hour daily, the men of the other three classes having three hours a week each. Of course, there is a great deal of drilling and marching, and these exercises do as much good as the work on the apparatus.

Fencing, boxing, wrestling, athletics and other sports are handled in such a way as to bring out a great number of contestants, the one object being to benefit every cadet, not only a few champions and specialists.

PHYSICAL FITNESS.

These tables here show the physical development plainly. What they cannot show is the patriotism and the spirit developed in the men. It is this, perhaps, that counts as much as physical fitness. In the last intercollegiate fencing championships West Point entered a team.

During a contest one of the cadets, Anderson by name, was run through by a broken foil. It entered below the arm pit, went straight through his body, puncturing one lung, and came out under his shoulder blade.

He walked from the mat to the dressing room, pulled off his fencing jacket and said calmly: "It went clear through me. I'd like to go on with the bout, but I think I'm seriously hurt."

Then he was taken to the hospital, and eventually recovered. Another fencer was substituted, and the team defeated each of the college teams in turn.

Again, the Japanese Consul once brought a jiu-jitsu expert to West Point to show how superior the Japanese method was. "Show him the American method," was the whisper between the cadets. The Japanese had the American cadets don Japanese canvas jackets to help with his holds. He tackled Daly. Daly danced around and around and refused to be cornered. The Japanese protested. How could he defeat a man who refused to be caught in a grip? But Daly was only waiting; suddenly he went in head down and bowled the Jap over with a hard football tackle. That wasn't fair—it wasn't a science like jiu-jitsu, protested the Japanese.

Tipton, the big linesman, was put on next. He walked right at the Jap, who caught a grip on his jacket and kicked him in the stomach. This didn't fit in with Tipton's ideas of fair fighting, jiu-jitsu or no jiu-jitsu, and, falling on the Jap in a rage, he smashed him to the floor, caught a strangle hold and choked him until his eyes hung out. The onlookers tried to drag him off, but he held his grip until the commandant himself ordered him to let go.

The Japanese jiu-jitsu expert was rescued, barely alive, and that ended all talk of introducing the Japanese method of fighting at West Point.

Yes, they turn out fighting men up on the Hudson, men who have the spirit and the physique. The four years of Spartan life is worth while. It might be a good thing if more American boys had a month or so of it now and then.

Last Thing He Did.

[Tit Bits:] The heavy, fur-coated man owned the gunpowder factory, and the lean, cadaverous person by his side acted as foreman and general factotum.

"And how did it happen?" asked the employed sadly.

"Well, sir," came the reply, "you see, sir, old Bill went into the mixing-room and by mistake struck a match."

The boss looked surprised.

"Fancy Bill, of all people, doing that," he cried. "I should have thought that would have been the last thing he'd do."

"It was, sir," replied the lanky one remorsefully.

Suffrage in Sweden.

[Boston Transcript:] Outside our own country and perhaps Great Britain, there is perhaps no nation whose women are as well prepared as those of Sweden to undertake the new civic responsibilities that are now about to be put up to them. The educational system of that country has given them opportunity for high mental cultivation and the literary prominence which many of them have won shows that they have made good use of it. Suffrage in Sweden for either sex has a less comprehensive meaning than in this country, but the sentiment of the people is evidently progressive on this point.

RAISING BAMBOO NEW INDUSTRY.

GOVERNMENT PLANTS FIVE ACRES IN FLORIDA.

Much Difficulty Experienced in Getting Plants Started but There Appears No Reason Why It Should Not Be Raised for Commercial Purposes in the United States.

[Washington Star:] Raising bamboo for the market is a new industry that the Department of Agriculture has just succeeded in launching. The report of the flourishing condition of the bamboo plantation has just come from Florida to David Fairchild, chief of the Bureau of Foreign Plant Introduction. The establishment of the crop is the result of over four years' hard work. The department also has found a way of shipping the bamboo so that the young plants will grow, and this has been the hardest part of the problem.

Raising bamboo commercially has been a flourishing industry in Japan for years. It was felt for a long time that it was a business that ought to do well here, because it furnishes a quick-growing timber that is susceptible of a number of special uses. There is as much difference between the ornamental bamboo commonly grown here and the timber bamboo as there is between a dray horse and a polo pony. It has never been accurately determined just what the structural strength of bamboo is, though the strength is immense for its weight. Some tests are to be made of the new government crop at the bureau of standards. The wood is already much used in the manufacture of aeroplanes and when it is known just what can be expected of it there will be even a greater demand for it in this field.

It is used very largely in Japan for house building, though it is not expected it will be in much demand as a building timber in this country except in restricted localities. But there are a number of other uses for it. The wood makes the lightest strong furniture known, and, although it has never been very much used for that purpose here, it is thought that the hard, naturally polished bamboo will make bedsteads that will have all the advantage of brass, besides being quite as handsome, much cheaper and a great deal lighter.

One of the important uses of the wood that has been found abroad is for cheap, subsurface irrigation pipes. This may not appeal to the resident of this locality as a very important use, but in the arid region, where water is more valuable than land, and where the average small farmer cannot afford to pay from 5 to 8 cents a foot for iron pipe, the use of bamboo pipes is very important. The government of Russia some years ago introduced bamboo growing in the Caucasus, and there is a flourishing industry. The scheme was tried of using the stems for subsurface irrigation pipes, and it has recently been reported to the department that some of these pipes, after being buried and in use for seven years, are still perfectly good. They are not only cheap, but light and easy to work, much easier than iron or terra cotta pipes.

There was an immense amount of trouble at first in getting bamboo to grow after it was brought to this country. It is a plant that takes a good soil, wants a tropical climate at least to make a start in and that varies greatly in texture and appearance with the character of the soil on which it is grown. A bamboo will develop quite different qualities on a clay soil and on a loam with a clay subsoil. There is a variety grown in restricted areas in Japan that brings a very high price because of a special disease. There is a fungus growth that attacks it and without injuring the strength leaves the surface with a curious mottled appearance. This wood is greatly fancied for making small ornamental objects. There is a great art also in splitting it, and when properly split it is used for the most intricate and beautiful basket work.

When the department first introduced the bamboo here it lost practically the whole shipment. The plant, which is really nothing but a magnified grass, propogates by sending out long rizones or rootlets under ground. These have buds, from which new shoots come up. The buds are fragile as glass, and if they are broken they never replace themselves.

After an infinity of experiments it was found that instead of digging up a whole plant and boxing it with care that usually was futile to make an expensive shipment, these rizones could be cut into six-inch sections, the ends of the section sealed with wax and shipped in damp earth cheaply and with great success.

The department now has five acres of bamboo in flourishing condition at the Brooksville (Fla.) experiment station, and, having solved the preliminary problems connected with the culture, is ready to turn the new industry loose in the hands of any commercial people qualified to make a success of it.

Wales Has the Largest Chimney.

[Harper's Weekly:] In Wales is to be found the largest and at the same time the highest chimney in existence. It is the chimney of the copper smelter at Cwmavon. Seventy years ago the smoke from the copper foundry nearly raised a riot, because it destroyed everything in the way of vegetables and crops within a radius of twenty miles, while the sulphur and arsenic vapors attacked the hoofs of cattle, producing gangrene. The workmen demanded wages so high as to be prohibitive, and the company was driven to desperation to find a remedy. After trying a multitude of ways to avoid the disastrous effects of the smoke an engineer was engaged, who succeeded in solving the problem. The foundries were at the foot of a very high mountain, which, fortunately, sloped sufficiently for the purpose the engineer had in mind. He, therefore, set to work to construct a chimney which would lean over a waterfall on the mountain and follow its inclination for the height of thirty-five meters to the top. The inside of the chimney was then so arranged that a rill of water could run in and out again, condensing the smoke.

Use of the Transformer.

[New York Tribune:] With the spread of the use of electricity comes the knowledge of the devices to render this powerful servant of mankind harmless. "High voltage is necessary to send electrical current great distances," writes an electrical engineer, "but when it is delivered, so to speak, into the hands of the users the voltage must be reduced in order that their hands may not be burned. Wires carrying a voltage sufficient to kill a man cannot be safely used in a factory where they might come in contact with the employees. The device for effecting this reduction is called a transformer.

Why Use "Second-Hand" Soap When You Can Get Beau Brummel Liquid Soap?

Even in this day when people are particular about having their own things for personal use, many of us still cling to old habits.

We have become accustomed to individual tooth brushes, hair brushes, combs, razors and other things, but the majority of us continue to scrub our hands with the slimy, dirty cake of soap which others have used before us.

There it lies on the wash basin in the bathroom, and in the lavatories of hotels, clubs, offices and elsewhere, its lather thick with the grime gathered from those who have used it and with dust from the air—and possibly carrying germs of disease ready to transmit infection.

And this is what we have accepted as something cleanly and sanitary!

It's time to reform the old soap habit and it's easy, for there is a soap which is clean itself and which gives cleanness to those who use it.

Beau Brummel Liquid Soap

It is a pure, clear, cleansing liquid which forms a refreshing lather and not only drives the dirt from every pore and crease in the skin, but makes the skin soft and keeps it healthy.

Beau Brummel is made from pure, edible vegetable oils, not from refuse fats which are the basis of so much cake soap.

Kept in the Dispenser it is absolutely protected against contamination. It is always clean. A tilt of the Dispenser gives enough for a wash and everybody gets soap which no-one else has ever touched. And it's economical—a gallon is sufficient for seven thousand washes.

Every bathroom and every public lavatory should be equipped with Beau Brummel Liquid Soap and the West Dispensers. And every toilet room in office buildings, hotels and clubs, should also have the West Sanitary Paper Towels—a clean, new towel for every user, every time—as far in advance of the old dirt gathering, unsanitary roller towel, as Beau Brummel Liquid Soap is in advance of cake soap.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE
by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Kit" writes: "I am far below normal weight. I suffer with headaches and am nervous to the point of exhaustion. If you can tell me something to help me I shall be very grateful."

Answer: I can prescribe nothing so effective as a thorough course of three grain hypo-nuclane tablets. These tablets will aid in extracting the nutrition from the food which will increase the red blood supply, overcome nervousness and you will become plump and healthy. This treatment should be continued for several months, as it takes time to change the tissues and cells of the body.

"Sarah" says: "Can anything be done for one who is bothered with rheumatism? If so, please reply."

Answer: You can be entirely cured of your rheumatism if you take the following: Mix by shaking well and take a teaspoonful at meal times and at bed times and you will soon be cured. Comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz.; comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz.; syrup sarsaparilla comp. 5 ozs.; wine of colchicum, one-half oz.; sodium salicyate, 4 drams; iodide of potassium, 2 drams.

"Ray" writes: "Can a sufferer from bronchial trouble be relieved? Doctors do not seem to help me, what would you suggest?"

Answer: To cure chronic cold, sore throat and bronchitis I would advise the use of concentrated essence mentho-laxene. Purchase this at any drug store in 2½ oz. packages and mix according to directions given on bottle and you will very shortly be cured of all bronchial trouble. This will not only relieve, but will cure, and is very pleasant to take.

"Hulda" says: "I cannot eat without great distress after eating. I am sleepless and restless, nervous and irritable. Can you tell me anything that would cure me?"

Answer: Your trouble is all due to your stomach, which causes the nervous, restless feeling. Take tablets triopeptine and you will soon be cured of all this trouble. These are packed in sealed cartons and are pink, white and blue tablets to be taken after meals. Take the pink tablet after breakfast, white after dinner and blue after supper. If this is continued the curative agencies will soon restore natural digestion.

"Miss M." writes: I suffer greatly with my nerves, am almost on the point of nervous prostration. I cannot sleep and am hysterical at times. Can you help me?"

Answer: Many women, old and young, who have suffered as you do, have been cured by using the following tonic restorative treatment. Get from your druggist 1 oz. tincture cadomene (not cardamon) and 5 ozs. syrup of hypophosphites comp., mix, and take a teaspoonful before each meal. Always shake well before taking.

* * *

"Mary" writes: "In the last year I have been gaining weight so rapidly that I am uncomfortable and frequently embarrassed by slighting remarks. Diet does no good whatever. What shall I do?"

Answer: You can very easily reduce your weight by using the following: Aromatic elixir 5 ozs., glycol arbolene, 1 oz. Mix, shake well and take a teaspoonful after meals for three days, then double the dose and take for several weeks. This is harmless and I have had many people write that they lost a pound a day after the first week or so.

* * *

"Carpenter" writes: "My liver and kidneys are in a bad condition. I have dizzy spells and dark spots before my eyes, also have twinges of rheumatism. Can I be helped?"

Answer: To cure kidney and liver trouble use three grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur). These are packed in sealed tubes with full directions for taking. They act pleasantly and tone up the bowels and liver and purify the blood. They are convenient, effective and highly curative.

"Phoebe"—The following will cure your children of bedwetting: Get 1 drams of tincture rhus-aromatic; 1 dram tincture cubebs and 1 oz. comp. fluid balmwort. Mix, and give the child from 10 to 15 drops in water about one hour before each meal.

* * *

"Eloise" writes: "I have tried all sorts of tooth pastes and powders but cannot find one to cleanse and whiten the teeth and preserve the gums. Please give a harmless formula."

Answer: Most ready prepared tooth powders contain a strong flavoring which is harmful. You can make three-fourths of a pound, equal to two or three dollars worth for less than one dollar. Buy separately 5 ozs. precipitated chalk; 1 oz. powdered soap; 1 ozs. powdered sugar and 2 ozs. antiseptic vilane powder. Mix all together thoroughly and use twice daily. This prevents decay and purifies the mouth.

"Onda" writes: "I am troubled with itching scalp, dandruff and my hair is falling out. It is harsh and brittle."

Answer: Plain Yellow Minyol is the best remedy for itching scalp, falling hair and dandruff that I know of. It can be bought in 4 oz jars and if used according to directions will cure all diseases of the hair and scalp. If the hair is harsh and brittle and you are bothered with those straggling locks, the use of minyol will restore that soft, fluffy appearance and bring back the intense natural color.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.

Times Office, No. 617 South Spring street.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Man From China to Lecture.

Rev. Dr. Hager from Hong Kong, China, will speak in Peniel Hall, No. 227 South Main street, at 11 o'clock a.m., and 2 o'clock p.m., today. The public has a cordial invitation to hear him.

Heave-a-Wa Outing.

A score of happy little ones, proteges of the Heave-a-Wa Home, were given a glorious outing at Santa Monica yesterday by the officials of the home, of which Mrs. L. J. Wiles is manager. The party went down by auto in the morning and a highly enjoyable day was spent on the strand by the boys and girls.

Federation Club Luncheon.

Dr. James E. Shepard of the National Religious Training School for the Colored Race and himself a colored man, will address the Federation Club at its luncheon at noon today on "The Right Education for the Negro." Dr. Shepard is recognized as a leader of his race and speaks with authority upon his subject.

Read the "Melting Pot."

Miss Ruth Hemenway of the department of English at Illinois Wesleyan University read Zangwill's "Melting Pot" to a good-sized audience in the auditorium of the Y.M.C.A. last evening. Her interpretation of the drama was at once accurate and pleasing from an artistic and elocutionary standpoint.

Church Oratorio.

The choral society of the First Congregational Church will sing "The Creation" at an oratorio to be given in the church next Monday evening. The production will be given under the direction of G. Hayden Jones, who will render solo parts. The public is invited.

Talks Birds to Students.

Charles Kellogg, who is appearing at the Orpheum, entertained students of the Los Angeles High School yesterday in their auditorium. He made an extended talk on nature, imitated the calls of birds and animals and drew a strong moral. It was that one should be above fear, believe in himself and be in harmony with the universe.

Wanted in Walla Walla.

Arrested Monday night and charged with petty larceny by Patrolmen Shy and Robinson, Joe Davis, alias Joe Robinson, was identified yesterday as Daniel Parra, who escaped from the Washington penitentiary at Walla Walla in 1910. Parra had been sentenced to serve fourteen years at that institution for burglary. He maintained there was a mistake, that he had never been in a penitentiary, and would fight extradition. The police have notified the warden of the Walla Walla penitentiary.

Low Rates to Beach.

Vice-President Shoup of the Pacific Electric yesterday authorized the traffic department to arrange for eight days of cheap fares to the beaches during June, July, August and September. Last year three days of 25-cent round-trip rate were given in the week days of the summer months to accommodate the women and children who otherwise would not be able to enjoy an outing at the beaches. The dates of the low fares have not yet been set, but it is planned to so fix them so as to give every one a chance.

Salvation Army Review.

Commissioner Thomas Estill, who is in command of the Salvation Army operations west of Chicago, accompanied by Brig. Flynn, will visit this city next Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The commissioner is conducting a series of officer's councils and inspecting the various branches of the work in this city. Public services, at which the commissioner will speak, will be held on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at No. 127 Wilmington street, and at 7:30 p.m. at No. 431 South Hill street. Music by the united bands at each service.

Entomological Club Meeting.

Pellopa Petroiel, more familiarly known as the oil fly, will furnish the subject for an address to be delivered before the Entomological Club at Christopher's Broadway cafe tomorrow evening by Prof. C. O. Esterly of Occidental College. Dr. A. Davidson will recount the first discovery of this interesting insect and there will be a general discussion of the subject. A general invitation to those interested is extended. Such persons are requested to notify the cafe management in advance so that reservations may be made for them.

Tag Day to Hold Its Own.

What with Associated Charities Tag Day, the Shriners and the Santa Monica road races, next Saturday promises to be full of music. The first-mentioned does not propose to be wiped off the map by either of the other attractions and tags will be in evidence, under the lead of brass bands and automobile parties. There will be a warm contest for the splendid cash prizes offered by a benevolent gentleman for the school which sells the most tags, as well as the individual prizes from the same source. A great contingent of boys and girls will go to the races to sell tags there also.

PACIFIC ELECTRIC PLANS.

ORANGE, April 30.—That the Pacific Electric expects to build a line through Orange, connecting the Santa Ana line with the La Habra line, was shown in a letter written by Paul Shoup, head of the Pacific Electric system, to a committee of Orange citizens.

The letter was read at a mass meeting last night, called to consider steps to get the electric extension from Santa Ana. Shoup asked for a free right of way from Main street, Santa Ana, to the south end of Lemon street, Orange, and from the north end of Lemon street to the Southern Pacific tracks, well to the north of Orange.

As a committee to negotiate with the Pacific Electric, D. C. Drake, S. M. Craddick, P. W. Ehlen, F. E. Hallman, J. G. Heinig, J. M. Donley and L. M. Hartwick were appointed. A resolution was passed favoring a route along La Veta avenue rather than along the Santiago creek, between Santa Ana and Orange.

IT MAKES THEM ANGRY.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charged by H. L. Wilson, president of the Los Angeles Copper Field Mining Company, with looting the company's storehouse of provisions valued at $25, Westley and Jesse Martin, wealthy mining men, are under arrest here. Westley Martin was arrested on the desert near Calzona. Jesse Martin was arrested at the Murietta Hot Springs, where he and his bride are spending their honeymoon. They denounce the arrest.

P. J. Hickman, wanted in Tuolumne county on a misdemeanor charge growing out of a mining deal, was also landed in jail today.

VENTURA NOTES.

VENTURA, April 30.—Charles McDonell of this city left for Bakersfield this afternoon on receipt of the news that his brother-in-law, Hon. Charles Barlow, had been hurt in an automobile accident in the latter city.

George Adair, for speeding in this city a year ago, must pay the fine placed against him by Justice Knox at the time. Adair was fined $50 for exceeding the speed limit, but refused to pay the same and has since carried the matter to the Appellate Court on a test case. It was sent back for a rehearing in the Superior Court before Judge Bledsoe, sitting for Judge Clarke here. Judge Bledsoe sustains the lower court and Adair must pay.

Judge J. C. Daly has made his eighth report in the receivership of the Collins bank, which suspended in 1908. Eighty-one cents on the dollar has been paid depositors, the last dividend being 1 per cent.

Miss Gertrude Marie Smith of this city and Oxnard, now lying in the Bard Hospital as the result of an automobile accident at El Rio a week ago, is reported today as very low. She suffered a fractured thigh and it is thought now there are internal injuries and peritonitis has resulted.

TULARE ASKS HELP.

TULARE, April 30.—Admitting that their attempts to boost the so-called orange grove route through the foothills has been a complete failure, and fearing that their work for the orange grove route will lose the highway for the county seat, a committee of Visalia boosters are here today to secure the co-operation of the Tulareans in landing the $18,000,000 on any old route that will include Visalia. W. F. Ingwerson, former head of the Tulare county fairs; C. A. Whitmore, Visalia newspaper man; J. W. Fewel, County Tax Collector, and C. C. Kyle, identified with packing interests in Visalia, headed the committee which came praying for Tulare assistance.

Tailor Made Suits
The Season's Best Offer
THESE suits are the selected designs of several of the foremost makers whose lines we control. Splendidly tailored, perfectly finished garments, worth and intended to sell for from ¼ to ⅓ more than the special price we've put upon them. Some plain and others in semi-fancy styles. Made of season favored fabrics, including fine serges, whipcords, shepherd checks and novelties. The offer is unusual, and if there is not the fastest kind of selling while they last, it will be because we've not told you forcefully enough just how great the bargains are. Special $25.00
Auto and Outing Coats
A COAT of some kind is almost a year-around necessity, particularly for those who have an auto. Our assortment of them leaves nothing that we know of to be desired. Made of handsome medium and heavy weight cloths, including the two-toned double face weaves. All sizes for women and misses. Special at..... $26.75

Hollywood vs. Beverly.

HOTEL GUESTS STAND; WAIT.

Great Hostelries in Battle for Patronage.

Foothill Inn's Fashionable Clientele Ousted.

New Management to Unlock It Again Today.

The Hotel Hollywood, among the largest and best-known hotels in Southern California, closed at 6 o'clock yesterday morning and its 200 guests were ousted. It will re-open today at noon.

Yesterday the residents of Hollywood, who have looked upon the hotel as its center of amusement and social affairs, saw the great hostelry closed as tight as a drum and no sign of life about it.

Yesterday morning the new Hotel Beverly, at Beverly Hills, a magnificent $500,000 structure was thrown open and the guests of the Hotel Hollywood were made welcome.

The closing of the Hollywood and the opening of the Beverly hotels are closely connected. Thereby hangs a tale of the disagreement of two women, the one Mrs. M. S. Anderson, lessee of the Hotel Hollywood, and the other, Miss Mira Hershey, its owner. The unfriendliness dates back about five years when Miss Hershey suddenly left the Hollywood Hotel and would never return as a guest. There was nothing particularly between the owner and the lesses of the hotel, except a difference as to which should make certain improvements.

DIFFICULTY'S HISTORY.

Mrs. Anderson and her son, Stanley Anderson, built up the patronage of the Hollywood until it became one of the most desirable hotel propositions in this vicinity. They entered into negotiations with the Rodeo Land and Water Company, which owns the Beverly Hills property on which is located the Los Angeles Country Club. A deal was made whereby a new hotel was erected and Mrs. Anderson and son were to own and operate it.

The lease which Mrs. Anderson held upon the Hollywood property expires today at noon. The guests were advised that the hotel would be closed between the time that the lesses left and its opening again for patrons. As a result the majority of them immediately made arrangements to go to the Beverly Hills.

Breakfast was served in the Hollywood Monday and in a body the servants, cooks, managers and guests moved over to the Beverly. Luncheon was served strictly on time and the guests found themselves moved bodily into a new hotel.

In the meantime the owners of the Hollywood had foreseen the closing of the hotel, and had engaged Orville C. Howland as manager. Howland came to the Hollywood for information concerning the operation of the hotel, as a new manager should, but encountered a rather cool atmosphere and retired.

MEETS HEGIRA.

From across the street he watched developments. Monday, when the hegira of guests was under way he had stationed several moving vans at the corner of Highland and Hollywood boulevard and had sent out word that the guests who wished to stay in the hotel could have their trunks and belongings taken care of by Howland and held in the moving vans for twenty-four hours and then returned to their former rooms in the hotel.

Yesterday morning the doors of the Hollywood were locked tightly and a watchman placed in charge. Every guest had been requested to leave. For the last two weeks no guests were received and only the regular house guests were permitted to remain.

The result was a complete vacating of the big hotel and the unique spectacle of fashionable guests hurrying their trunks and belongings either to the auto trucks which were to carry them to the Beverly Hills or to the big vans which were to house their effects until the magic lease expired today at noon.

TO AVOID EXTRADITION.

One of Alleged Plunderers of Canadian Bank Will Make Fight for Writ of Habeas Corpus Here.

In a last effort to avoid being taken back to New Westminster, B. C., to stand trial for bank robbery, Charles Dean will make a fight to obtain a write of habeas corpus in the United States District Court Friday morning.

Judge Wellborn signed the petition for the writ yesterday. It is intimated that failing in this attempt Dean will confess when he reaches New Westminster, and ask for leniency.

Attorneys H. A. Massey and C. White Mortimer, representing the Dominion government, will offer the testimony adduced at the examination of Dean in this city and various affidavits presented to Commissioner Van Dyke last week. As a result of that examination Dean was ordered returned to the British Columbia authorities for trial.

The Bank of Montreal was looted of $271,000 on the night of September 15 last. John McNamara, who is now at New Westminster, Dean and three other men are charged with the job.

Big Yearly Figures.

SHAVES RATES ON UTILITIES.

Small Reductions by Board Large Aggregate.

Gas, Electricity and Water Under the Knife.

And 'Phones to Be Rung in This Morning.

The Board of Public Utilities yesterday fixed the rates to be paid in the city during the next year for gas, electric light and electric power, and made its recommendation to the City Council for water rates for the same period. The question of telephone rates was not disposed of, it being apparently the intention of the board to attempt an equalization of the figures for the two companies. This will be taken up this morning for final adjustment. There is a marked reduction in rates for gas and electric light and power, which a member of the commission has figured out will cost the utility corporations close to three-quarters of a million dollars during the year. His estimates are as follows: Loss to the Edison Company, $172,000; Pacific Light and Power Company, $171,000; Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, on electricity, $115,000; on gas, $165,000; other companies, on

FAILS TO REPORT ACCIDENT.

Motor Car Driver Knocks Down and Painfully Injures Little Girl, but Doesn't Tell Police.

Vera Holliday, 10 years old, who lives at No. 1019 South Hope street, was painfully injured when knocked down by an auto at Grand avenue and Tenth street at 5:55 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The machine was driven by C. E. Perry, No. 4972 Pasadena avenue. It was stated by the police last night that Perry will be prosecuted today for not reporting the accident in accordance with the law.

The first the police knew that there had been an accident was when a man telephoned the Receiving Hospital and asked if the girl knocked down by an auto at Tenth street and Grand avenue had died.

As no such patient had been received at the hospital, and as there was no report of such an accident on file at any of the police stations, Sergt. Adams made an investigation. It resulted in Perry being found to be the man who ran the girl down. He took her to the California Hospital, from which she was sent to her home. Roy Swayne, No. 934 South Figueroa street, was a witness of the accident.

INUNDATION OF BRIGHT FEZZES.

Hundred and Fifty Thousand Visitors, Estimate.

Imperial Potentate and His Council Here Sunday.

With every incoming train unloading hundreds of visitors to the gala festivities planned for the Shriners' Imperial Council week, beginning next Saturday, the city is being rapidly filled with those who will see and actually participate in the brilliant programme.

Exclamatory literature portraying the details of the elaborate programme of the entertainment have been spread broadcast by Chairman Motley Flint of the executive committee and the results have been instantly apparent.

Seventy special de luxe trains bearing 7000 potentates, nobles, unsurpassed bands and the wives and families of the nobility are speeding toward Los Angeles over the various railroad systems. The city, Mecca of the nation's pleasure seekers, is preparing to outdo itself.

All of the railroads notified Chairman Flint yesterday that they had completed arrangements for extra passenger service to handle the flood of sightseers to the Angel City. Many of the Pacific Coast delegations will come on chartered steamers. Five hundred San Diegans will be brought here on the steamship Yale. They will arrive Wednesday.

It was announced yesterday that fifty Arab patrols in gorgeous uniforms will attend the conclave as against seventeen patrols at the meeting five years ago. This comparison affords some idea of the magnitude of the Imperial Council meeting and fiesta which will officially open Saturday morning. Five years ago $50,000 was expended in entertaining the visiting Nobles. Twice that will be spent this year. All the other possible comparisons are in like proportion.

Sixty special trains will arrive in Los Angeles between Friday morning and Sunday evening and ten other special trains and a score of private cars will arrive on Monday. Approximately 7000 persons will arrive on these specials and the number will be greatly augmented by those taking advantage of the reduced rates on all the transcontinental lines. It is estimated that 150,000 persons will visit this city during the big week.

TREAT HERE SUNDAY.

HAWLEY A BANKRUPT.

Ex-Fire Commissioner Secures Final Adjudication in Federal Court on $18,000 Liabilities.

Charles O. Hawley, ex-Fire Commissioner, was discharged in bankruptcy in the United States District Court yesterday. The petition has been in course of adjudication for some time.

The total liabilities of the bankrupt were $18,955.96, of which sum $7,572.71 was in the shape of unsecured claims, and $9,184.58 notes and bills claimed to be payable by other parties.

The assets amounted to $10,240, of which $6740 was in life insurance policies. The amount claimed to be exempt was $6740. There was no opposition to the final order of the court.

Ho for Venice.

TODAY'S CALL FOR ALL WHO WILL GO ON RIDE.

Complete Plans for the Joyous May Day for Children of the Poor—List of Volunteers and Instructions for Reporting for Duty—If You Have Not Got In Now Is the Time to Get In.

JOY RIDERS, attention to orders! Call at the institution to which your car has been assigned at 12:30 today noon and report at Westlake Park (west side) to J. Alex Sloan at 1 o'clock with your load of children. From there Sheriff Hammel, the grand marshal guarding the little queen of the May, will lead the procession to Venice.

If you have not already offered your car, come anyhow.

All cars which have not been assigned should report to Mr. Sloan one hour earlier—at noon today at Westlake Park in front of the residence of Gen. Otis, on Park View avenue. From there you will be assigned.

There are plenty of children. We want your car. Come whether you have already offered or not.

If, by any chance, your car has been offered, but not listed, please report at noon.

Few of the trucks have been assigned. They are held for the emergencies that always arise. If you have an unassigned truck, please hold yourself in readiness to be assigned by telephone at any time this morning.

If you have been assigned, go directly for your children and report with them at Westlake Park at 1 o'clock. If you have not been assigned or make up your mind to go at the last moment, report at Westlake Park at 12.

Following is the complete list of automobiles and the various institutions to which they have been assigned. In addition to these cars, Mrs. Ida Hancock Ross, Thomas F. Low and Senator Sullivan of New York have each directed that cars be entered at their expense:

BIG MAN'S BIG DAINTY.

Huge Mushroom Raises Sub-Cellar Floor and the Rotund Diner Is Made Happy by It.

Down in the sub-cellar of the Hayward, one of nature's miracles came to light yesterday morning in the shape of a mushroom weighing 17 ounces and a fraction. In order to make itself known, it had to force aside a plank used in crossing the mushroom bed by the dungeon gardener, a feat in itself worth attention since the wood weighed fourteen pounds.

Nor was the end of the mushroom romance at hand with its birth. It helped to pacify and satisfy one of the largest and most rotund men who ever came into Los Angeles. The coming of the mushroom created much excitement for an inanimate object and it was made an exhibitive feature by Manager Fryman, who evolved the idea of a mushroom bed in what was mere waste space below the street level.

Scientists were called in to investigate and pronounced the marvel one of the largest edible mushrooms on record.

Lunch hour arrived and with it a customer in the grill who could not be seated. He weighed a trifle over 300 pounds. Not a chair would hold him. He tried several and finally became angry.

Finally he started to get out, when the grill manager, noticing the commotion, hurried over. Words failed to pacify the huge man. He was not to be mollified with less than an unusual accident, which happened to be the mushroom.

When Manager Carter came up, he laid aside the fungus growth and the heavyweight, bumping against the table on which it reposed, came within an inch of smashing it when he brushed it to a chair. He expressed surprise at the mushroom, delight at the idea of eating just such a delicacy, and when promised the treat, offered to remain if a seat could be fixed. Two chairs were arranged with a board across them and the big man sat down to the big mushroom. 'The best feast I ever had,' he remarked as he tipped the waiter generously.

A Record-Breaker.

CLOSE-IN ACREAGE SOLD FOR NEARLY A MILLION.

ONE of the largest transfers in the history of close-in acreage in this vicinity was concluded yesterday when the Wright-Callender-Andrews sold to a syndicate represented by James H. Adams & Co. a tract of 841 acres of land lying between Main street and Central avenue, a mile and a quarter south of the city limits at Manchester avenue. The purchase price, which is given at $924,000, marks the deal as one of the record transactions of the past few years.

The Wright - Callender - Andrews Company and C. F. W. Palmer had jointly held an option on the property for several months previous to the time of its sale. The owners were the heirs of the late George Wright and the holding is commonly known as the Wright ranch. The original owner secured a large part of the land directly from the government, the rest being acquired at a few dollars an acre. Until yesterday's transaction none of the property had ever passed out of the possession of the Wrights and the holding is today one of the largest of the intact pieces in the neighborhood of Los Angeles.

The ranch fronts for a full mile upon Main street, now improved as Harbor boulevard, and for two miles on Central avenue. South Park avenue runs directly through the center of the place. The property is traversed in an easterly and westerly direction by the Redondo cut-off of the Pacific Electric Railway.

The holding is one of the best developed tracts of its character near the city, the soil being of an excellent quality. A large portion of the ranch is planted to alfalfa and a considerable part is used for truck gardening. Three pumping plants supply over 400 inches of water for irrigation purposes.

The Wright ranch lies in a direct line between the business and manufacturing center of Los Angeles and the harbor district and is close to the zones of development that have been reaching out from both directions. Its transfer for close to $1,000,000 typified the enormous advance in valuation that has characterized all acreage close-in to this city and the almost unbelievably large profits realized by the old-time families that have retained their early holdings.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The City Council yesterday approved of the Mayor's appointment of his secretary, Frank G. Henderson, as a member of the Public Service Commission; three Councilmen protested, and one absented himself when it became evident that the programme would go through.

The proposed ordinance prohibiting city employees accepting passes to any place of amusement was before the Council yesterday, and after a lively discussion was referred to the Legislative Committee for further consideration.

At yesterday's Council meeting it developed that the city has no fish inspector. Provision is to be made for one in the new budget.

The City Council yesterday unanimously decided to submit to the people the question of making a 5-cent levy on each $100 of assessed valuation for the building of a City Hall on the Temple Block site.

At the City Hall.

MAYOR'S MAN IS CONFIRMED.

HENDERSON NOW ON PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION.

After Caucus in Which Three Councilmen Oppose Giving Him the Place, Only Betkousky Refuses to Vote in Favor of the Appointment—Frank Criticism.

By eight votes, two of them under protest, the City Council yesterday confirmed the appointment by the Mayor of his secretary, Frank G. Henderson, as a member of the Public Service Commission. Councilman Betkouski stated that unless the other Councilmen should excuse him from voting he must vote against confirmation, and he was allowed to retire while the ballot was taken. Councilmen Lusk and Topham protested, but cast their votes with the other six in favor.

The matter came up at the forenoon session of the Council, when the message from the Mayor was read and Councilman Reed moved that the appointment be confirmed. This was seconded by Whitten. Councilman Topham protested, but Reed urged immediate action. Finally the matter was put over until the afternoon session.

Before this session a conference of the Councilmen and Henderson was held, to which representatives of the newspapers were invited, and the situation was frankly discussed.

Betkouski, Lusk and Topham urged that Henderson should withdraw and not place the administration in an embarrassing position. They spoke of the criticism that is to be heard on all sides.

"It is an undisputed fact that Henderson is aspiring to become president of the board," said Betkouski, "and while this is the first time that I have been forced to take issue with the Mayor, I feel it my duty to oppose this appointment. I shall have to vote against it unless I am excused from voting.

"Henderson has not the ability for the position. He is not of big enough caliber for the place and will have to assent to whatever proposition is put up to him. I feel that I know Henderson probably better than any one here, and while I do not impugn his honesty, I know he doesn't measure up to the position.

"We have had big men, men of wide experience, on this board, and while Henderson makes a good secretary to the Mayor, it is absolutely foolish for him to throw himself into this turmoil. He is making a big mistake."

Councilman Lusk stated that it was certain that Henderson would have to vote for himself if he become president of the board, which is his ambition, and that Henderson would make a great mistake, politically and otherwise, to follow such a course, while the approval of the appointment was certain to call forth a great deal of criticism.

Topham covered the same grounds with his protest, but the majority was against these three, and when the matter came up in the Council chamber the programme was carried through, Lusk and Topham registering protests before recording their votes.

As soon after the confirmation of the Mayor's appointment as he could possibly do so, Henderson telephoned to the Public Service Commission, then in session, stating that his appointment had been confirmed, and asking whether he should go over, even though he had not yet received his commission. He was informed that he could choose his own policy in the matter, but that the president of the board would pass upon his eligibility, and the board adjourned soon thereafter, to meet again next Tuesday, postponing the appointment of a president to that time.

George Baker Anderson, who is to be the new secretary of the Mayor, is confined to his bed by sickness, and it is probable that Henderson will continue to be in the Mayor's office for several days.

ASSESSMENT PLAN.

FIFTH-STREET WIDENING.

The City Council yesterday instructed the City Engineer and City Attorney to prepare plans for an assessment district for the widening of Fifth street from Broadway to Main street. All the property on Fifth from Broadway to Main is to be included in this assessment district. The public is now using a five-foot strip of private property on the north side of Fifth street, between the streets mentioned, with the exception of the property at the northwest corner of Fifth and Spring streets, where it is proposed to erect a skyscraper.

COUNCILMEN ASK

SHALL PASSES CIRCULATE?

Shall the free passes cease to circulate among city employees? This is the question on which there is a difference of opinion among the Councilmen. Tax Collector Taggart's anti-pass ordinance came before the Council yesterday and evoked some lively discussion, and finally was referred back to the Legislative Committee for further consideration. Councilmen declared that the provisions were too drastic and placed absurd prohibitions on city employees. The objection was also raised that the penalty attached was too severe. Councilmen Andrews and Lusk acknowledged receiving and using passes, although Andrews supported the ordinance. Lusk said he had asked for four circus tickets—and got them. Councilman Reed argued that when License Collector Lovie received fifty tickets to the last circus it was done by the circus to avoid the payment of certain regular fees, and that the dignity of city employees would be raised by the prohibition of their acceptance of passes of any sort.

ONE WANTED.

NO FISH INSPECTOR.

When several ordinances proposed by the Health Commissioner went before the City Council yesterday the fact was developed that this city has no regular inspector of fish, the vegetable inspector being supposed to cover this inspection in connection with his other duties. President Williams declared that evidently the inspection was not a very rigid one, citing the fact that when he was at a luncheon given at a hotel in this city recently fish was served so badly tainted that it was not fit for food. He urged that a fish inspector be appointed, and it was announced that provision is to be made for such an officer in the Health Commissioner's appropriation under the new budget.

NEW HEALTH ORDINANCES.

MAXIMUM PENALTIES.

The City Attorney yesterday presented to the City Council a batch of ordinances which the Health Commissioner desired adopted. Most of these are redraughts of similar ordinances, with slight changes to conform to the present charter provisions, but in all of them the maximum penalty has been fixed at $500 or six months' imprisonment. The ordinances adopted were one relating to the licensing of pharmacists, regulating the manufacture and storage of shoddy, regulating slaughter houses, and regulating the sale of meat, fish, game and poultry. The others were referred to the Legislative Committee.

FIVE-CENT LEVY.

PEOPLE WILL DECIDE.

The City Council yesterday formally adopted the ordinance providing that there shall be placed on the ballot at the coming special election the proposition to make a levy of 5 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation for the purpose of erecting a new City Hall on the Temple-block site. This was adopted by a unanimous vote of the Council. The resolution of intention to sell the present City Hall site has been held in abeyance until after this special election.

Public Sealer Appointed.

The Mayor yesterday sent to the City Council a communication announcing his appointment of J. D. Irons as City Sealer of Weights and Measures, vice S. W. Green, resigned. Irons has been a deputy in Green's office. The communication was laid over for one week.

Allows More Money.

The City Council yesterday approved the recommendation of the Finance Committee that $2000 be transferred from the general aqueduct fund to the Aqueduct Investigation Board.

Committee Makes Report.

The special committee composed of Gibbon, Chaffee, Booth and Osborne, who went to Washington in behalf of the Los Angeles harbor appropriation, yesterday made a formal report to the City Council, in which the work of Senator Perkins, Senator Smith of Michigan, Senator Works and Congressman Stephens on behalf of the harbor was commended.

Spur Track Franchise.

John B. Dawson yesterday was granted a spur track franchise by the City Council for a track at Violet and Santa Fe avenue. The application of the Southern Pacific and Salt Lake railways for an extension of their spur track in Andrews street was referred to the Legislative Committee.

Minimum Prices Set.

The City Council yesterday in adopting an ordinance of intention to sell certain city property that has been held as sites for fire engine houses set as the minimum prices for these properties the same figures paid for the properties about three years ago. For the Downey-avenue property the minimum price is $1550, for the Reno-street property, $13,500, and for the property at First and Breed streets, $3750. The Fire Commission asks that these properties be sold.

City Hall Brevities.

The City Council yesterday approved the plans of the City Engineer for the improvement of East Seventh street, from Utah street to Boyle avenue. A part of the proposed grade is 6 per cent., with an eight-foot fill at the center of the street and a fifteen-foot fill of the property lines. The City Engineer recommends that this portion be simply graveled and oiled for a year or more, in order to allow the grade to settle, and that it then be paved with brick instead of asphalt, because of the heavy grade that would make asphalt dangerous.

A proposed ordinance providing that no hospital receiving patients with certain types of diseases shall be operated within 200 feet of any school, church or residence, was before the City Council yesterday and was referred to the Legislative Committee. Councilman Reed pointed out that under these provisions established hospitals could be compelled to move or else would be required to purchase all the property within 200 feet of their buildings.

Plans for an assessment district for the opening of an alley between Broadway and Hill streets, from Seventh to Eighth streets, were ordered by the City Council yesterday.

The Russell-Green Company has been awarded the contract of furnishing the park department 1500 tons of crushed rock at $1.05 per ton, for use in the improvement of Exposition Park.

The City Council yesterday approved the purchase by the fire department of a motor-propelled combination pumping engine and hose wagon. Three lines of hose can be operated from this pumping engine and Councilman Betkouski indorses it as the best he has seen in that line.

The City Council yesterday approved the recommendation of the Streets and Boulevards Committee that the Board of Public Utilities and the Board of Public Works jointly require the Pacific Electric Company to lay a double track on Avenue 64 from Robles street to the northerly city limits, and also that the car service on this line should be investigated.

Authorities Will Investigate Conduct of Babies' Boarding Homes as Result of Disclosures Made in Court in Regard to Abandoned Mite—Complications.

Because she had mothered eight children of her own and did not feel disposed to care for a baby her daughter-in-law had adopted, Mrs. Coenen unconsciously precipitated an investigation by surrendering the baby to the Home Finding Society.

Superintendent Whitty of the society filed a complaint in the Juvenile Court to have the infant declared a dependent with the view of later having a good home provided for her. During the hearing the history of the case was told with its ramifications.

The baby, now 4 months old, had been left at the Partridge home by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Anschutz. This is a children's boarding home. Anschutz paid board for two months, and the couple disappeared from the city. A month later Mrs. Mary Partridge, the proprietor, put an ad in the papers.

Meantime, Mrs. Joe Coenen, No. 1744 South Vermont avenue, conceived the idea that she would like to board a baby girl. She saw the advertisement and applied at the Partridge home. Mrs. Partridge surrendered the baby to her.

On the heels of this, Joe Coenen was arrested for burglary and sent to the County Jail. This necessitated Mrs. Coenen and the baby seeking a home with her mother-in-law. She told the latter it was her own baby girl. Later she admitted it was not her child.

The mother-in-law resorted to the papers. She advertised the baby, and in this way Superintendent Whitty came into the case. Learning these facts, Judge Wilbur advised Mrs. Partridge that she had violated the law by turning the baby over to Mrs. Coenen without sanction of the court. It was intimated yesterday that an investigation will be made of the various homes where babies are boarded with a view of discovering if they are farmed out.

Humane Officer McLaughlin is on the trail of the parents of the abandoned child and will have them arrested if he can find them.

CAREER CUT SHORT.

SHUTS DOWN ON PROBATION.

The order placing Harry Diegel on probation was revoked by Judge McCormick yesterday and he was sentenced to nine years in San Quentin on the charge of forgery.

This is one of the instances where probation was misplaced, according to the court, who now places forgers on the dead list, on which night-time burglars occupy first place.

Diegel was first arrested charged with having forged an order on an auto company for tires. He said his age is 19 and he was sent to the Juvenile Court, where he pleaded guilty and was placed on probation during his minority.

Later Diegel was arrested for begging and drinking. Information was received from Colorado that the prisoner had been in a reform school under the name of Day. Judge Wilbur refused to take him out of the jurisdiction of the Superior Court. He came before Judge McCormick for revocation of his probation, the matter being then discovered by the court, and on the recommendation of the probation officer, who stated Diegel could obtain work at the County Hospital, he was released.

Twenty-four hours later Diegel went into a Main-street saloon, stole a check, used the proprietor's rubber stamp, endorsed it and forged his name. After several attempts, he succeeded in passing it at a stationery store, pretending he wanted a wedding invitation engraved. He even went to the trouble of writing out the invitation. He was arrested before he left the store.

HE WINS HIS SUIT.

CRITICISM FOLLOWS JUDGMENT.

In awarding judgment yesterday for John P. Steele in his suit against Guy A. Cherry, president of the United Milk Producers' Association, and W. S. Rosecrans, its secretary, for $857.80, the balance alleged to be due for securing signatures to a referendum petition, Judge Wood thought Steele ought to find a better purpose for his energies, and expressed his disapproval of the act of Cherry in obtaining the petition to hold up the tuberculin test ordinance.

The court declared if he could he would have given judgment for neither party. He held that the agreement entered into with Steele provided he should be paid for all the signatures he obtained until notified by Cherry. But something had been left out of the contract, and as it appeared to the court, the idea was not to obtain so many names that a special election would have to be called, but to throw the matter over to the general election.

DELAYED PROBATE.

HELD UP BY LITIGATION.

A postmaster and two former judges were the particular lights in the Probate Court yesterday when the will of George Miller, who owned personal property in this county valued at $52,000, was admitted to probate. The postmaster is J. W. Wood of Pasadena, who is one of the executors under the will. Mrs. Wood is a beneficiary. Wood was represented by former Judges McKinley and McGee.

Miller was a retired Cuba sugar planter. He drew his will in 1887 and at the time of his death he was worth about $125,000 his property being in Delaware, Kansas and California. The will covering the eastern property was probated in Delaware in 1909, after a contest, the heirs, including his brothers and sisters, alleging that at the time he made it he was of unsound mind. This litigation held up the probate of the will covering the California property.

DECIDES NEW POINT.

INVOLVES SPRINKLING WAGONS.

Judge Houser relied on eastern cases in passing on the demurrers of the city of Pasadena, John Beyer, assistant superintendent of streets, and John W. Ritzman, who has the contract for sprinkling the streets, to the complaint of Charles S. Davis, a driver.

Davis fell off the water wagon. That is, owing to an alleged fractious horse, the water wagon overturned and he was injured. He brought suit against the city, which furnished the wagons, Beyer and Ritzman, for $10,000 damages.

The question was whether or not a sprinkler is a governmental function. There are no cases on record in this State on this point, although it has been held here that the repair of sewers is governmental function.

Judge Houser sustained the demurrer of the city, holding it was not liable, and overruled the demurrers of Beyer and Ritzman.

HE IS SO MODEST.

RUNS AWAY BECAUSE OF RIP.

That the life he had been leading had not blunted the sensibilities of Orr Knickerbocker, aged 16 years, who had been sent to the George Junior Republic, seemed evident when the lad explained to Judge Wilbur yesterday his reason for escaping from the institution.

"I was working in the carpenter shop," he said, "and ripped my pants—right here, Your Honor. They wanted me to join the music club, knowin' I play the mandolin and guitar, an' honest, judge, I was so mortified thinkin' I'd have to go with that tear right there, that I couldn't do it, an' I ran away. I just went home to get another pair of pants, honest, judge."

Orr was sent back to the republic with a caution not to be so modest next time, but to provide himself with a needle and thread and repair the next rip.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

HIS NEW DAUGHTER. Lois Isabel Topham was legally adopted by Councilman Topham yesterday. Judge Rives is god-father and impressed upon Mrs. Topham the responsibility she assumed in taking under her wing a three-weeks'-old infant from the Maternity Hospital. The mother of the baby gave her written consent to the adoption. Topham's family now comprises three sons and the adopted daughter.

NOT INTERESTED. The motion to join the City of Los Angeles and the State of California as defendants with R. H. Miner in the suit of A. S. Koyer for $100,000 damages alleged to have been sustained when access to the ocean was cut off by a fill in front of his lot, was denied by Judge Bordwell yesterday. Argument in the case was concluded yesterday and the matter submitted. A second suit will follow for another lot owned by Koyer and alleged to have been damaged in the same amount.

SEEK ACCOUNTING. Julian P. Jones, trustee of the estate of E. A. Hubbard, has been cited to appear in Judge Rives's court this afternoon to show cause why he has rendered no account since 1903. The trust in his hands is approximately $1500, and the beneficiaries, Evan Hubbard, Mrs. Edward M. Stockman and Mrs. Nellie Hubbard, are seeking an accounting. They are represented by Attorney Coyne.

ALL TO WIFE. In a brief will Robert Dollard, who died at Santa Monica April 28, disposes of his estate, valued at $20,000, to his wife, Carrie E. Dollard. She is named executrix. The will was filed for probate yesterday. The accompanying petition names the securities at $9000; real estate in Santa Monica, $10,000; personal property, $1000.

SEEK INJUNCTION. Alleging that, although they hold a year's lease from the L. A. Thompson Pacific Coast Steamship Company, their factory at Ocean Park is being torn down and the space will be occupied by an auto maze at a much greater rent, the Crescent Crispett Company filed a complaint against the amusement company yesterday asking the court for an injunction to prevent being ousted. The Crescent people say their lease runs until February 28, 1913. They allege that the premises have been relet to the auto maze concern for $13,000 a year.

WOMEN'S FINERY LOOT FOR HER.

BURGLARESS IS FOUND GUILTY ON THREE CHARGES.

Works New Scheme on Lodging-house Keepers, Whereby She Is Saved Difficulty of Breaking in Like Common Thief—Owners Recover Clothing in Court.

When Mrs. A. S. Gray, alias Sadie Spurlock, alias Sadie Bowman, was found guilty on three charges of petty larceny by Police Judge Fredericksen yesterday, more than twenty persons pressed forward to identify and regain possession of articles of wearing apparel said to have been stolen from their rooming-houses by Mrs. Gray. The woman will appear for sentence tomorrow.

Patrolman McKenzie told the court Mrs. Gray is one of the smoothest rooming-house thieves ever caught by the local police. McKenzie and the score of alleged victims said her method was to secure a room at an apartment house, put off the landlord or landlady when she was asked for the rent on the plea that when her trunk came she would get the money out of it, and, when left alone, would operate throughout the house with pass keys. A heap of clothing and jewelry secured at No. 848 Wall street by McKenzie completely filled a large table in the courtroom.

Some of the alleged victims of Mrs. Gray who signed their names to warrants for her arrest are: Mrs. A. Rowland, No. 1001 East Eighth street, who missed a blue serge suit, skirt and hat; Mrs. A. Thomas, No. 726 Crocker street, who recovered a picture hat, silk dress, serge skirt and white underskirt; Mrs. Rose Rowland, No. 729 Merchant street, from whom was stolen a black dress and hat; Miss Louisa Scott, No. 749 Merchant street, who lost a hat pin and shawl; Mrs. M. E. Bentz, No. 777 Kohler street, who lost a silk dress and muff.

TO CORK HIS MOUTH.

WORKMEN WORRIER IN COURT.

Determined to make an example of a man who he says has taunted and hurled insults and vile epithets at independent workmen at the Salt Lake railroad shops, Attorney S. A. D. Gray has associated himself with the prosecuting attorney's office for the prosecution of Joe Gerkovich, Italian barber, who has a shop at No. 1824 East Fourth street. Gerkovich was arraigned before Police Judge Fredericksen yesterday, charged with having disturbed the peace.

Gerkovich's shop is near the corner of Fourth and Gless streets. It is the assertion of Gray and Mrs. G. L. Ward, who operate a rooming-house occupied by Salt Lake workmen, that when the men employed in the shops to take the place of the unionite strikers passed by his place, he would call them "scabs" and vile names.

Attorney Gray says he has information also that Gerkovich has insulted little girls who pass his shop. The workmen have passed by in a dignified way, not noticing the Italian or his remarks, but they have heard of his actions toward the little girls in the neighborhood, and they have been with difficulty restrained from doing him harm.

Gerkovich pleaded not guilty and deposited $50 bail to appear tomorrow to answer.

SELLS POOR WHISKY.

CONFLICT IN LAWS ALLEGED.

Special Officer Frank Oakley appeared against W. K. Shanklin and A. K. Martell, proprietors of a wholesale liquor house on Temple street, who were charged with having sold impure whisky, in Police Judge Fredericksen's court yesterday.

Shanklin was fined $25 and the case against Martell was dismissed.

Oakley declared that a brand of liquor kept for sale by Shanklin which was labelled "superior whisky" was not whisky at all, but was so diluted with water that it contained only 35 per cent. alcohol, where as the State requires that whisky be at least 50 per cent. proof. Shanklin pleaded guilty, saying at the same time that the national and State liquor laws conflict and that his goods were passed upon by government inspectors.

MUST STAY IN JAIL.

The Supreme Court has denied the petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of C. S. Hemstreet of Santa Ana, Orange county, who was recently convicted of selling liquor to a minor, and sentenced to 200 days in the Santa Ana jail by a justice of the peace in that city. It was claimed that under the code the committing magistrate should have sentenced Hemstreet within forty-eight hours after conviction, but this was not done, seventy-two hours intervening.

SECURITY TRUST & SAVINGS BANK

SAVINGS—COMMERCIAL—TRUST

How About Your Will?

¶ If you want to have your estate distributed according to your wishes, the first essential is to make a legal will and to select a proper executor who will carry out its provisions.

¶ To select an individual, no matter how trustworthy he may be, or how dear a friend, is to take chances with fate. The individual is mortal and he is fallible. If he does not die before the estate is settled he may make mistakes injurious to the interests of your heirs.

¶ There is but one safe course to pursue to prevent possible loss to your legatees, and vexatious and costly litigation to them.

¶ That is to name as your executor a Trust company of known and tried responsibility—an institution of great resources and an established record—managed by men who long have been identified with the upbuilding of the city and have reputations to maintain.

¶ A trust administered by the Security Trust & Savings Bank costs no more than if an individual had the business in charge, the fees being regulated by law. It is the advantage of a bank to wind up an estate as soon as possible, and being under heavy bonds, it must make an accurate accounting.

¶ There are manifold advantages in using our services as a trust company in such matters, and these will gladly be explained by the trust officers of this Bank.

DEATH'S QUICK CALL.

End Comes Within Few Hours t Chief Sanitary Inspector O'Brien Beloved by His Associates.

John Joseph O'Brien, chief sanitary inspector, and known to a wide circle of friends as "Jack" O'Brien, died suddenly Monday night at his residence, No. 1028 East Thirty-third street, from an attack of heart trouble.

O'Brien had been connected more than nineteen years with the health department and was the first secretary to Dr. Powers. He was well and seemingly in the best of spirits Monday and became sick after eating a hearty dinner. He sank rapidly and passed away within a few hours.

Chief Inspector O'Brien was born in New York City and was taken to San Francisco when a child. He remained there twenty-five years and came here a quarter of a century ago and engaged in business, and later became connected with the health department.

He leaves a widow and two daughters. Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock. Solemn requiem mass will be said at St. Patrick's Church.

O'Brien was a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, and this organization will have full charge of the funeral arrangements. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Theodore T. Adams, chief clerk of the Police Identification Bureau, resigned yesterday, the resignation to be effective today. Adams has secured the position of secretary of the Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Association. He has been connected with the identification bureau for seven years. Capt. The Oil Industry.

EASTERN ROADS MAY ADOPT OIL.

Coal Miners' Strike Causes Officials to Act.

Use of Petroleum Would Be Beneficial Locally.

Increased Demands and Pipe Lines in Prospect.

Out of the coal miners' strike in the East may grow a greatly increased demand for California oil. With large supplies of coal on hand as storage, in case of emergency, the railroads are getting estimates on oil-burning engines.

The Baldwin Locomotive Works, it is announced, has been asked for such estimates by some sixty railroads and the conclusion is drawn in financial circles that the railroads, even with their great storage supply of coal, are looking about for a new field and oil-burning facilities.

The cheap handling of oil as a fuel has always been a great inducement for transportation companies to adopt it and wherever possible and convenient, they have done so. With the eastern railroads turning their attention to petroleum, comes the taking of notes by California producers and already the talk of better prices has begun.

It is estimated that California fields taken collectively have not reached one-tenth their maximum of production. Estimates of oil under ground have proved of little consequence by reason that in every new estimate made, it is seen that the probable supply is greater than the preceding estimate. The supply, in fact, is unlimited and every industry could draw from this supply without crippling it.

The probable adoption of oil fuel by eastern railroads has led California oil men to believe that a great proportion of the supply would come from this State's fields, where the best fuel oil is obtainable. It opens possibilities of new pipe lines and in the main, an entirely new field for the local product.

THEIR BUSINESS RUSHING.

Receiving Hospital physicians were unusually busy yesterday afternoon between 2:20 and 3:30 o'clock, there being eight accident cases brought in in that time. A major operation took up almost an hour of one doctor's time. Once there were four persons waiting to be treated.

Those who were injured, with their injuries, during the hour and ten minutes were: Paul Nicoletti, No. 211 South Avenue 18, who was struck by an auto truck and sustained a bursted vein in the left thigh; T. O'Connor, No. 1216 South Figueroa street, who was struck on the head and shoulders with a spade by James Manners, sustaining bruises; O. B. Hull, No. 501 Amethyst street, who fell off a wagon, sustaining bruised knees; Otto Niedrich, who slid against a cement wall while playing baseball and sustained a sprained left ankle; James Rennie, No. 248 East Second street, who was seized with a fit and fell, lacerating his left shoulder, and Mrs. M. E. Garnier, No. 320 North Raymond avenue, Pasadena, who was knocked down by a bicycle and suffered a sprained right knee.

QUESTIONS PHYSICIAN.

Coroner Investigating Death of Woman After Forty-five-Day Fast Advised by Health Concern.

Coroner Hartwell is investigating the death of Mrs. Cora Parkhurst, of Santa Monica, who died Monday in the offices of the Normal Life Company on South Broadway. He may decide on holding an inquest, although he has not yet announced his intention of taking this formal step.

When questioned by the Coroner yesterday, Dr. H. L. Wells of the company stated that he holds a license as a naturopath and that he is competent to take care of cases referred to him by the Normal Life Company, which advocated fasting and natural methods of curing disease and reducing flesh.

It is claimed that Mrs. Parkhurst had been advised to fast for the purpose of reducing flesh by the Normal Life people. She subsisted on little else but milk for forty-five days, the Coroner learned yesterday. She died in the office of the concern early in the afternoon and was removed to the morgue of Pierce Brothers.

A report was made to the Coroner in the course of the afternoon, but the latter took no action until yesterday morning.

NOT READY FOR PUBLIC.

Grand Jury Prepares Partial Report on County Clerk's Office, But Withholds It on Court's Advice.

Owing to the decision of Judge Hutton of the Superior Court, the grand jury report on the conduct of County Clerk Lelande's office was not made public yesterday.

When the members of the jury appeared in Department Ten, Foreman Hubbard told Judge Hutton the body had passed a resolution and would leave it to the court to decide whether it should be given to the press or be held secret until the final report is made.

"I see no good to be gained by publishing the resolution at this time," said the court. "In case of public necessity, a partial report of a grand jury can always be received, but in this case I see no cause for haste. If you are leaving this matter with me for decision, I advise withholding the report until you make the final report."

The jurors left to meet again Friday.

The resolution is believed to be similar to the informal poll of the members taken several days ago, in which most were reported to be of the opinion that the registration department should be separated from the County Clerk's office.

Several days ago Lelande declared it had not been his desire to assume charge of the registration department and that he had recommended a separate office of register of voters be created. Inasmuch as he had to assume control of the department, he said he had done the best he could with the funds at his disposal and the fact that the Presidential primary was added to the other elections was what caused the shortage in funds.

GARBAGE TRUCE MADE.

No arrests will be made today by the county authorities when the garbage ordinance becomes effective. A truce was arranged at a meeting yesterday morning in the office of Dist. Atty. Fredericks. If the city shows any disposition to find some other means of disposing of the garbage the county will not aggressively prosecute, but if the matter is disregarded there will be wholesale arrests and prosecutions, it is said. City Attorney Shenk will have the rest of the week to make a decision.

METAD FINISH SUIT.

C. F. McCarthy, president of the Finch Art Building and Metal Company, was a witness before the grand jury yesterday, presumably to offer testimony concerning the metal finish in the Hall of Records. The work was sublet by the principal contractor, and there has been much dissatisfaction on the part of the Supervisors regarding the alleged inferior quality of finishing. It is said a civil suit will be filed.

THE USUAD RESULT.

Struck by Pasadena car No. 274 near Fourth and Main streets while he was attempting to board the front end of the car, A. T. McCulley, aged 58 years, who lives at Florencita Park, sustained a fractured skull and bruises about the head and arms. Motorman William Kistner and Conductor E. Cunning of the car declared McCulley tried to get on the car while it was in rapid motion.

No Cash Payment Required
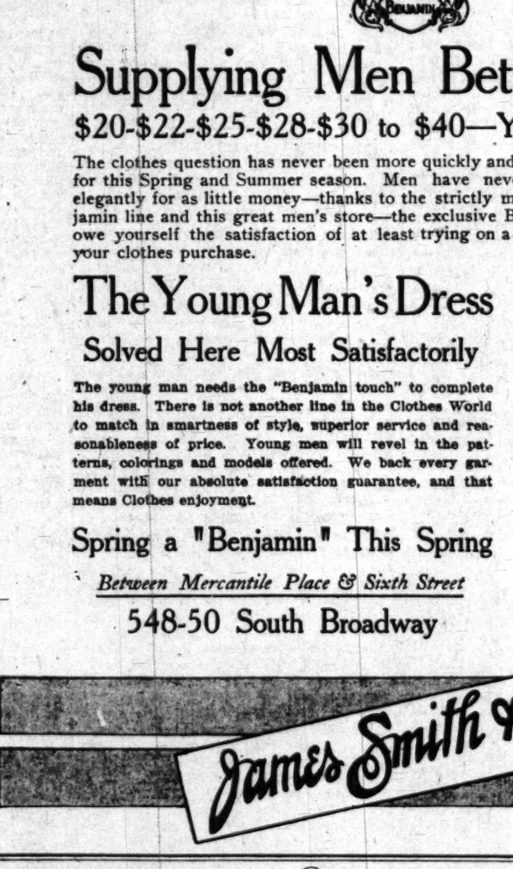
San Fernando Mission Lands

—Instead of requiring purchasers in this tract to turn over a cash payment to us, we give them the opportunity to use their money for immediate improvement for putting in their crops and improving their land.

—This is the first time these lands have ever been put on the market, and the first time such a selling plan has ever been offered the public. But we can do this because we are selling PROVEN LANDS.

—We want settlers and we want improvements, and any purchaser who will spend $2000 or more (according to amount of property purchased) on immediate bona-fide improvements, will not be required to make a cash payment for one year.

—Never has such an opportunity to buy citrus, deciduous fruit and general farming lands so advantageously been offered you—and only 22 miles from Los Angeles. What an opportunity to get started on the road to independence. Some of these lands are absolutely frostless, as last winter proved—and such lands are very scarce.



—Orange growers who are located elsewhere are turning to these lands and pronouncing the fruit grown here the finest in Southern California. Some of them will invest here—and if YOU ever want to own an orange grove—on proven citrus lands, close to Los Angeles, by all means buy now at these ground floor prices.

Citrus Lands $450 to $500
Deciduous Fruits $300

—Call at our office for directions for seeing this property. There is nothing so convincing as to see the crops that are growing here now, and the miles and miles of young orange and lemon groves, thrifty and flourishing.

GOLD DUST makes hard water as soft as rain water

Every good housewife knows the value of nice soft, rain water for washing clothes and for all cleansing purposes. It isn't always convenient to secure rain water, however. Neither is it necessary. Gold Dust will soften the hardest water, and make it so near like the water that falls from the clouds that you couldn't tell the difference.

Think what this means to you on wash day. There's a deal of difference between the action of hard and soft water for all cleansing. Just a little Gold Dust added to the water renders it soft and brings out the greatest cleansing value.

Try it the next time you wash clothes or dishes.

Gold Dust really cleanses so easily that it relieves housework of all its drudgery.

"Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work"

Do not use soap, naphtha, borax, soda, ammonia or kerosene with Gold Dust. Gold Dust has all desirable cleansing qualities in a perfectly harmless and lasting form.

IS REGULAR STUNT.

ALL RIGHT THEY ARE.

Of the twenty-three ex-Governors of California only five survive—Perkins, Markham, Gage, Pardee and Gillett. All of them are stalwart Taft Republicans. Not a Democrat nor a Rooseveltian in the outfit. Their longevity is attributed to their clear consciences.

A POSSIBLE RESULT.

The public schools are encouraging school gardens for the use of the boys and girls attending them. Perhaps some of these young gardeners will grow up with a desire for something more than a lone geranium in a clay pot stuck in the airless window of a close apartment.

FIELDS ALL ABLAZE.

All along the foothills, from Altadena to Ontario, throughout the San Gabriel Valley, on thousands of spots between Redondo and Santa Monica, the fields are all ablaze again. But let no alarm be felt on this account. Our fields are all ablaze—'tis true—but only with the flaming gold of the Californian poppy and the bright yellow bloom of the wild mustard.

GETTING MONOTONOUS.

A Los Angeles man who arrived in El Paso reported that he had been forced by Mexican rebels to deliver to them a valuable ranch of which he was the manager, in the State of Chihuahua. The Mexican rebels should not be too indelicate in their appropriations of property belonging to persons in the United States, as Americans are sometimes sensitive about the things they own. There is always danger of making a man angry by robbing him, and robbing people in large numbers is, generally speaking, quite injudicious.

MADAME LA COMTESSE.

So her ladyship, the Countess of Warwick, has decided to leave us unenlightened upon socialism after all. After our waiting with impatient enthusiasm for her promised lecturing tour in the United States to materialize, she now regrets that, owing to the fatigue of railway traveling, she has abandoned her tour.

Now just fancy the dear Countess leaving us to our fate like that! We were yearning to be instructed in socialism from her cherry lips. Indeed, we had already shed many of our silly old conservative principles in readiness to assimilate all that we felt she could teach us. Quite a number of our local society ladies had hastened to put themselves upon a social equality with the Countess, and altogether we may be said to have been in a very receptive mood. "Drat them railways, why will they be so fatiguing?"

Now we shall have to wait till the syndicalists own the railways. Things will surely be more comfortable then.

THE TEMPERATE SCOT.

There is a bill before the British Parliament known as the Scottish temperance bill, devised for the purpose of inducing the canny Scot to cease to patronize home industries with quite such affectionate zeal—for, as everybody knows, some of the best whisky comes from Scotland.

The Scot is quite willing to admit that a Scottish temperance bill has a certain raison d'etre, but so also and likewise the Scot is a democrat to his backbone. Therefore the bill is to give purely local option in the delicate matter of licenses. In any case no town can vote dry for ten more years!

In all Scotland there is not a man or a newspaper that does not whole-heartedly advocate temperance—for the next town! There is not a Scottish member of Parliament who is not sadly distressed at the lack of sobriety—of the next town. And not a single elector who is not willing to vote a reduction of licenses—in the next town. It is obvious therefore that the only way to get any sort of satisfactory working out of that Scottish temperance bill is to let each town vote on behalf of the next town.

DRESS AND HEALTH.

Hygienists, athletic instructors, artists have hammered away at dress reform since time immemorial, but so far fashion has always beaten them to the ropes. A continuance of well-directed blows has nearly knocked out the tight-laced corset, which was never artistic and was always dangerous. Now a German physician, the well-known Dr. Francke of Munich, has made a scientific assault on the sheath skirt, the worst feature placed to its account being that it will produce a race of knock-kneed women. And we should think that the fair sex will never stand for this.

The idea of dress directed by the laws of health along graceful lines and curves is slow in penetrating the skull of convention and conformity. Some day we may return to the simple classic robes of ancient Greece. Some day our women may substitute the airy silken knickerbockers of the harem for the heavy impeding skirts of solemn, stiff convention. Some day economy and not showiness may dictate the style in dress. If these changes ever come they will come from the fashion makers of Paris and New York, and not from the protests of artistic natures or the attacks of health culturists, or from an appeal for economy on the part of paterfamilias.

A LETTER TO COL. ROOSEVELT.

Col. Roosevelt: You have sent two messages to the voters of California—one by letter, the other by wire. Your position as the once honored leader of the Republican party of the nation entitles you to a reply not from the "progressive Republicans," nor the "insurgent Republicans," nor the "reactionary Republicans" nor the "standpat Republicans," but from the Republicans who refuse to be hyphenated, the Republicans who stand fast and stand sure by the principle of protection to American industry, and who do not propose to allow it to be submerged beneath the shallow but noisy waves of populism or strangled in the leprous embrace of anarchic socialism.

The Times denies the statement made in your telegram of Sunday last to the "progressive" Republicans of California, that the pending contest for election of delegates to the Chicago National Republican Convention is "a square line up between the plain people of the United States on the one side, and, on the other, a corrupt alliance of crooked business and crooked politics." Your statement that those who support President Taft instead of you for the Presidential nomination are "engaged in a corrupt alliance of crooked business and crooked politics" is as false and insolent as is your assumption that you, and you alone, represent "the plain people of the United States."

Your statement that you are "fighting the battle of every decent citizen of the United States" and that therefore all who do not agree with and admire you are indecent citizens is so unwarranted that it would be supremely offensive if it were not supremely ridiculous.

You "point with pride," Col. Roosevelt, to "workmen's compensation acts, and acts safeguarding workers from dangerous machinery, and acts preventing excessive hours of labor for women, and, where necessary, for men, and acts prohibiting child labor, and all similar legislation for social and industrial betterment, which have been put on the statute books of the nation and the States during 'my' administration as President." You claim to be the author of all Federal legislation and the inspirer of all State legislation on these subjects.

Your claim is unsustained by the facts. It is baseless. It is a night dream as wild as your statement that President Taft moved in your Cabinet to not prosecute the harvester trust, at a time when President Taft was on the Pacific Ocean on his way to the Philippines.

That California is largely indebted to you for promoting the treaties and the Congressional action which made possible the construction of the Panama Canal is conceded. But one swallow cannot make a summer, and the gratitude of her people does not entail upon them an obligation to follow you in your absurdities and submit cheerfully to your insults.

Hoping that these lines may find you in good physical health and on the road to a recovery of your mental equipoise, we are, with great regret that the occasion makes this reply necessary,

No longer yours,
THE TIMES.

THE TITANIC INQUIRY.

It is fast becoming apparent that the inquiry into the Titanic disaster, as conducted by Chairman Smith, is deteriorating. Puerile and personal questions that will throw no light on the real issue and only fritter away valuable time have caused Messrs. Burton of Ohio, Bourne of Oregon and Fletcher of Florida to seriously consider the advisability of withdrawing from the committee. Other Senators are said to be equally disgruntled.

Such an investigation, to be effective, should be conducted by experts in shipconstruction and navigation under the direction of judges who understand the laws of evidence and are able to eliminate everything that is immaterial and irrelevant. Otherwise we shall simply have a volume stuffed full of personal opinions and dramatic fiction instead of a concise report featuring the vital facts in the case.

The primary reason for this important investigation is not to manufacture sensational reading for the public, but to supply technical data through which to fix the responsibility for this sudden sinking of a vessel supposed to represent the best the world has to offer in naval craftsmanship, and to promulgate measures, legislative and scientific, for diminishing the risk of ocean travel in the future. It matters nothing for this purpose whether any individual on board left the sinking liner on the first or on the last of the lifeboats. The newspapers have already made public the impressions and experiences of the survivors, and they have made wonderful human reading. But except where these experiences throw some light on the cause of the disaster their repetition before the committee has no practical bearing.

Perhaps the most significant evidence as to why this mammoth vessel on glancing along an iceberg with so slight a shock that it did not even disturb a game of cards or awaken sleeping passengers should have so quickly sunk to the bottom of the ocean, might be given by the shipwrights, the carpenters and mechanics who helped to build the leviathan of the seas. Perhaps some information as to the quality of the steel plates used in the water-tight compartments might be germane and to the point. If in the construction of the Titanic strength and safety were sacrificed to economy, this is a far weightier matter than the fixing of which boat the company's managing director made his escape in.

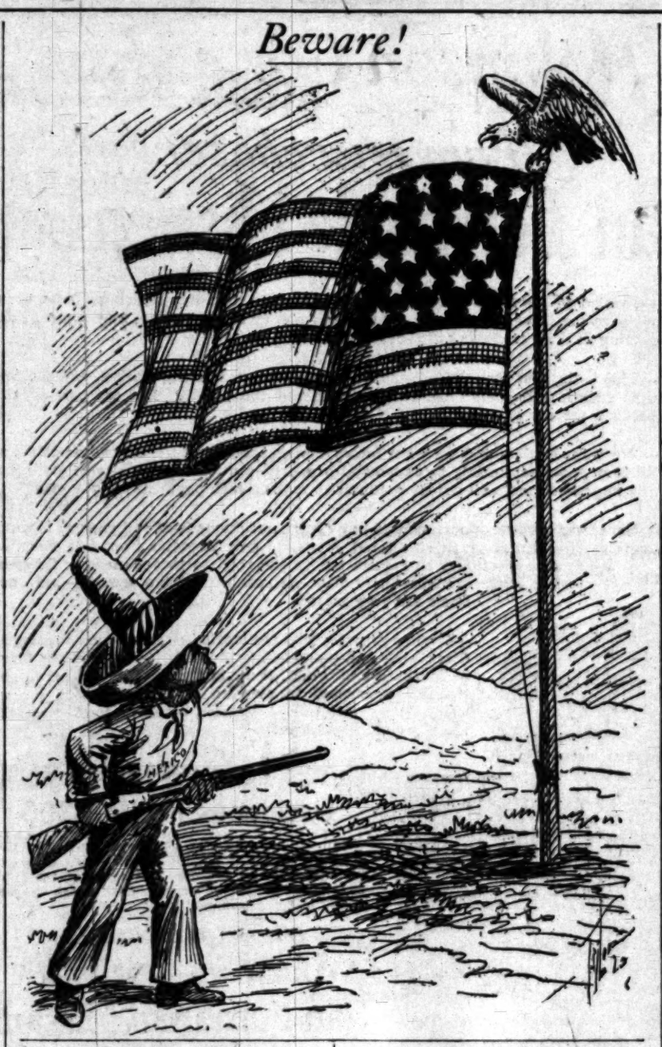
IT SMELLS TO HEAVEN.

The action of the District Attorney in enforcing the county ordinance against dumping city garbage on any land that comes under the county jurisdiction is receiving hearty support from the citizens of Covina. No less was to be expected, since these good people are the chief sufferers from the abominable and unsavory hog ranch established upon their borders. Every Angeleño, too, who values his health, should back up the efforts of Capt. Fredericks and the city of Covina in ridding our county of this long-standing nuisance.

Day after day a string of nasty swill and slop cars on the route of the Pacific Electric leaves a bad brown streak in the atmosphere all the way from Los Angeles to Covina. El Monte, Charter Oak, Ramona and Bassett have to absorb their share of the passing perfume. Finally the pork consumers of Los Angeles digest it in the shape of dubious ham and undesirable bacon.

Our city authorities have had ample time to remedy all this. Two months ago the 1st of May was fixed by the County Supervisors as the last day on which the shipping of city garbage into rural communities would be tolerated. An incinerator, capable of cremating all this unavoidable refuse, should have been installed before that date. Some of the farmers and orchardists living in the vicinity of this hog-swill ranch could make revelations that would wake up public sentiment in the city of Los Angeles as strongly as it has been aroused in the country districts.

Those who know the determined character of our District Attorney can be sure he will not be swerved from doing what he considers his duty under the circumstances. Our City Council must be brought to time. No more dilatory tactics will go down. Officials who have dubbed themselves progressive must not be allowed to travel at a snail's pace where real public improvements are at stake.



TAFT AND THE SOLDIERS.

President Taft favors a liberal pension policy for veterans of the Civil War and their dependents. There is not an old soldier in the country who does not know and love Congressman "Cy" Sulloway of New Hampshire, author of the "$1 a day pension bill." In marked contrast to the attitude of President Taft, Theodore Roosevelt has opposed the granting of pensions by special acts. Congressman Sulloway, who was chairman of the Committee on Pensions until Democratic supremacy gave the chairmanship to a Democrat, testifies to the attitude of President Taft and of Theodore Roosevelt as follows in a telegram to Hon. Charles Gale Schedd at Keene, N. H.:

"President Taft has always favored liberal pensions. In his last annual message to the Sixty-first Congress he earnestly recommended legislation of that kind. The Sulloway bill (the $1 a day act) would have been signed and approved by him. That bill was held up in the Senate until so late in the session that one Senator could defeat and did. President Roosevelt opposed pension by special acts. I had several letters from him to me, as chairman, insisting that I stop reporting bills, many of which were for blind, bed ridden, paralyzed, helpless, penniless veterans of the Civil War. I favor Taft as against Roosevelt for their interests."

If any soldier doubts the true attitude of President Taft toward him he is asked to consider the following sentiment expressed in President Taft's annual message to Congress December 6, 1910, with the assurance that all doubt on the subject will be dispelled:

". . . To the man who risked everything on the field of battle to save the nation in its hour of direct need we owe a debt which has not been and should not be computed in a begrudging or parsimonious spirit. But while we should be actuated by this spirit to the soldier himself, care should be exercised not to go to absurd length or distribute the bounty of the government to classes of persons who may, at this late day, from a mere mercenary motive, seek to obtain some legal relation with an old veteran now tottering on the brink of the grave.

"The true spirit of the pension laws is to be found in the noble sentiment expressed by Mr. Lincoln in his last inaugural address, wherein, in speaking of the nation's duty to its soldiers when the struggle should be over, he said we should 'care for who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and orphan.'"—(Congressional Record, third session, Sixty-first Congress, page 28.)

That there has been a "systematic and willful perversion of President Taft's attitude" toward the veterans of the Civil War, and that the President has always been a real friend of the soldier, is declared in vigorous language by a committee of veterans who achieved brilliant military records in the great struggle to preserve the Union. This committee is composed of Gen. Richard N. Bowerman, Baltimore, Md.; Gen. Samuel S. Burdette, Washington, D. C.; Gen. Louis Wagner, Philadelphia, Pa.; Lieut.-Col. Robert B. Beath, Philadelphia, and Col. John C. McElroy, Washington, D. C.

In an open letter this committee says: "President Taft now, with all the vigor and force of his great legal mind, is contending for that noble form of government established by our forefathers against those pernicious doctrines that would tend to destroy it, no less courageously than we fought on many a battlefield to preserve the Union and constitutional government. We believed that the government of the people as established by Washington, Franklin, Hamilton and other wise statesmen should not perish from the earth; that the framers of our Constitution were not mistaken and that our representative system of government was devised as safely as human beings could devise it, and should be maintained.

"In no less degree, but by the force of logic rather than an appeal to arms, is President Taft seeking to maintain the principle for which we fought and personal interest temporarily in the back, we should rally to the call of President Taft and combat with him those who seek to overthrow our established form of government just as we rallied to the call of Lincoln in the sixties."

"PROGRESSIVE" JEREMIAHS.

The wailing of the Cassandras of the mulligrub press over the wrongs and outrages that "special privilege" and "big business" and "loathsome capitalism" are inflicting upon workingmen who don't want to work, pierces the starry vault of heaven and echoes along the sultry aisles of—"The place downstairs where can be found A good hot fire the whole year round."

Jeremiah, who wished "that his head were waters and his eyes a fountain of tears, that he might weep day and night," and who insisted that the Lord advised everyone "to take heed of his neighbor and trust not his brother, for that every brother will surely supplant and every neighbor will walk with slanders," was a cheerful booster compared with a progressive insurgent knocker, when he gives voice to denunciations of the owners of "predatory wealth."

Whatever may be said of other communities who have not had the progressiveness to graft the initiative, the referendum and the recall into their organic laws, it cannot be said that the California "progressives" lack either the opportunity or the machinery to drive the "oppressors of the poor" from their alleged cotgn of vantage. The insurgents hereabouts are in the saddle which they have placed on the back of capitalism. Why don't they whip the alleged beast into a trot? They have the initiative, why don't they initiate a law to remedy the wrongs which they avow the owners of property have inflicted upon them? They have the referendum, why don't they clear the statute books of laws which enable big business to do big business? They have the recall, why don't they recall all county and State officers and judges who do not belong to their bund? Why has the initiative not been invoked in favor of a law to establish free soup houses and cafeterias and abolish the collection of debts? Why has the referendum not wiped from the penal code all laws that provide for the punishment of picketing, boycotting and assaults on fellow-workmen? It surely is not because the progressives distrust their own abilities. Every one of them believes that he can make a speech, write an advertisement or keep a hotel, and most of them as experts in governmental organization make President Lowell of Harvard and Gov. Woodrow Wilson look like twenty-nine cents.

SYNDICALISM.

Where Brains Come In.

By Alma Whitaker.

With the revival of syndicalism as the new menace—it was the syndicalists who engineered the last devastating British coal strike—it behooves the various governments to face this new and greater problem with calmness and understanding. That syndicalism is a growing power is an established fact—with all its unreason, with all its weak logic, with all its impracticability.

That syndicalism will bring chaos and disaster to the world is a fact accepted by most thinking minds, but the syndicalists are not thinkers and they are marching ever onward in their unthinking, overpowering hordes. With the loud-voiced, insistent agitator ever at their elbows to assure them that the employers and capitalists are all rich loafers, battening on the labor of others, living idle, riotous lives while the worker sweats out his life blood, how can we blame them if that is the only view they can see?

In an able letter to the London Times an anonymous writer makes at once the most simple and logical suggestion for meeting this menace, so simple that one wonders it has not occurred to a thousand minds before. Just that each large business concern shall make a point of holding a quarterly meeting of all its employees and laying a statement of business before them in the same way that it is now laid before a meeting of shareholders. But in this instance the employees are to be shown where the brains come in, what the heads of the firm have done for their money.

It is difficult for us to realize that this is a point which the millions of miners and factory workers can never see for themselves. Yet in order to meet this new menace it will be absolutely essential for us to see through their eyes and hear through their ears, in order that we may teach them to see with our eyes and hear with our ears. Just as we are unable to conceive how any man could regard the head of a large business as a voluptuous idler, a bloated tyrant who does not earn his salt, so they cannot realize why we should permit him to continue in power and wealth without working for it. That is all they know, that is all they can see, and that is the everlasting cry of the agitator, whose very existence depends on their continued ignorance

Obviously, therefore, the muscle must be introduced to the brain and logically shown how entirely it is dependent upon the clear, careful, strong working of the brain. At present syndicalist muscle thinks it works absolutely independently of the brain. It is under the impression that it could run the whole body as well or far better if the brain were only muscle, too. That, in fact, is the whole teaching of the syndicalists. They maintain that the coal miners are to run the coal mines independently of directors or capitalists; that the railway men shall run the railways, the telegraph operators the telegraphs and so forth.

The most urgent need, therefore, is for the brain—the far-seeing capitalists and directors of great business—to show the muscle—the laborers—just what they do for their money, just where and how they have won their authority. The quarterly meetings suggested should explain carefully the difficulties of finance, of competition, of the search for orders, of watching conditions and markets all over the world, of providing for contingencies, of facing new movements in trade or fashion, of applying and testing new inventions, new materials, of devising and planning new methods, opening up new branches, keeping thoroughly au courant with each and every department of the work.

This education should be possible even at this stage, when the poor misguided workers are rushing their countries headlong into revolution and chaos. Brain should be equal to this task of explaining itself, of justifying its existence. It must—and it must act quickly. Each new strike organized by the syndicalists is more devastating than the last. England alone has had two terrible strikes in the last six months and no large nation has been free from strikes for the last five years. Most of these strikes seem senseless and unreasonable to the logical mind, as indeed, they are. But this is the material the syndicalists work with and their avowed object is to break the back of the owner, the employer, the capitalist—make "big business" so unprofitable that it will be abandoned to the workers, who will then run the various concerns themselves for their own enrichment.

Syndicalism is not socialism—it is more deadly, more selfish, more easy of accomplishment, more seductive to the workingman, and far, far more terrible for the nations. But syndicalism is a very real force—the great, powerful, unrestrained muscle that can wreak incalculable damage if not held in proper control.

Jake Ris recently told us that "Col. Roosevelt will not lift a finger to obtain the nomination." Who's looney now, Jake?

The threatened coal strike in the East has been averted, and with the political hot-air we will manage to get along somehow.

If it be true that the Martian year is 730 days long, how long must a man wait to celebrate his birthday if it occurs on February 29.

It will be noted that Tama Jim Wilson has emerged from that Everglades investigation with none of the shine off his patent leathers.

It is our idea that the committee on credentials will be the "big noise" at the Republican show billed for Chicago the last week in June.

Every Republican in California who believes that one good term deserves another ought to rally to the standard of William Howard Taft.

We have always noticed that the man who has the goods need not be worried about the knockers. Hence the coming victory of President Taft.

Great is the climate of California. We know some folks who dropped in here weighing seven or eight pounds who now tip the beam at 200 pounds.

What has become of the old-fashioned boy whose job it was to peel the boiled potatoes after dinner so as to have a lot on hand for the evening fry?

We shall now see whether the new republic of China lives up to the high standard set by President Yuan Shi Kai in his first message to the reborn nation.

Suck a lemon after kissing a girl is the dictum of the Colorado Board of Health. But suppose there is no lemon handy? Suppose you would have us wait. Not for mah!

Don't compel your wife to ask you for every cent she needs. Give her a nickel every morning. That is the philosophy of some married men, but it is a mighty poor philosophy.

A man in New York is quite ill after a visit to the Roosevelt headquarters. The managers of the colonel ought to heat the floors better so that callers will not suffer from cold feet.

When one speaks of Harmon these baseball and political days it is hard to tell whether he means the pitcher of the St. Louis National League team or one of the near-candidates for the Presidency.

There are only 106,944 persons eligible to vote at the primaries in San Francisco. That town is so far behind Los Angeles that it is necessary for us to use a binocular to see it at all on the map of California.

Objection is raised to the staging of the mocking birds, and an ordinance to prevent the delightful singers from giving voice to their melody is asked. Which reminds us that it takes all sorts of people to make a world.

It is claimed that at an election of officers of a Los Angeles woman's club recently it was found that the number of votes cast was in excess of the membership. Perhaps some of the ladies being plump could not help "plumping."

Ringling Brothers have shattered a tradition. There will be no red lemonade this season. Shades of salted peanuts and ghosts of purple popcorn, not to speak of the air full of gas balloons tied with a string, did it have to come to this?

The attitude of the House Republicans in favor of the retention of the citrus fruit duty ought to rally the vote of every grower in Southern California to the support of the Taft administration. Remember, if it had not been for the "progressives," who split the Republican vote in the Congressional districts, allowing the Democrats enough to carry the House, there would have been no bill that threatens the very life of the citrus industry.

THE TURNING WHEELS.

You are striving, you are straining,
And you watch and scheme and plan;
Day by day you keep on gaining
What advantages you can;
You have ceased to care for beauty,
Pleasure's call you cannot hear;
You've become a slave to duty,
And your breast is full of fear.

You are urged on by the notion
That if you forget to care
Things would cease to keep in motion,
Leaving silence everywhere;
You refuse to trust to others
What their faithfulness has earned;
You forget your toiling brothers,
And you pass them, unconcerned.

Greater men than you are buried,
But the world goes on, you know,
As it did when they, too, hurried,
Thinking that they made it go;
You are straining and conniving,
Scorning pleasures you might claim,
But the wheels, when you quit striving,
Will be turning, just the same.

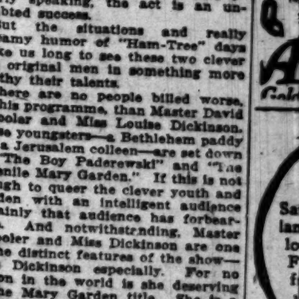
MINTYRE AND HEATH—THEMSELVES—NOT THEIR SKETCH

Master David Schooler and Louise Dickinson Score Pleasing Impression—Pantages Features This Week—Other Theatrical Mention in Brief.

BY JULIAN JOHNSON.

Often, when a combination show of small merit comes to town, we wonder how the things possibly existed, for two, three or six months in a supposedly enlightened village of the caliber of New York. The prescription for the success of a mediocre vehicle may be read in the contemporary popularity of McIntyre and Heath, most famous black-face team in the world, and the million-dollar headliners on the week's form chart at the Orpheum.

They call the shapeless thing in which they cavort "Waiting at the Church," and were the waiters other than McIntyre and Heath themselves, the skit would probably receive a salary as parsimonious as the colored preacher so gravely impersonated by that burnt-cork capitalist, Tom Heath.



Louise Dickinson,

Jim McIntyre, whose classic legend of the "rotten tomatus" will pass into history along with the yarn about Horatius on the suspension and Gunga Din on the hell-field, is here seen as a dusky bride of sullen but determined disposition, about to wed a silent and retiring smoke who has no word to say through the length and breadth of the turn—about to wed, and about to be conducted, led, driven and backed into the matrimonial shafts by the aforesaid camp-meeting parson, Tom Heath.

As masters of negro dialect McIntyre and Heath, in their really unctious and genuinely natural humor, have been rivaled by only a few geniuses like Walter J. Kelly. Hence the crippled old jokes, tame new gags and pabulous lines pulled, shuttled, bandied, kicked and thrown about by this celebrated pair for a space of twenty minutes sound funny—but in most instances really are not funny—because the imitable McIntyre and Heath are shooting them. Humoresques so bewhiskered that Joe Miller kicked them out of his collection, are greeted with loud laughter, and, popularly speaking, the act is an undoubted success.

But the situations and really screamy humor of "Ham-Tree" days make us long to see these two clever and original men in something more worthy their talents.

There are no people billed worse, on this programme, than Master David Schooler and Miss Louise Dickinson. These youngsters—a Bethleham paddy and a Jerusalem colleen—are set down as "The Boy Paderewski" and "The Juvenile Mary Garden." If this is not enough to queer the clever youth and maiden with an intelligent audience certainly that audience has forbearance. And, notwithstanding, Master Schooler and Miss Dickinson are one of the distinct features of the show—Miss Dickinson especially. For no reason in the world is she deserving of the Mary Garden title. She is a beautiful, bright-looking young girl, of decided racial type, and is the possessor of a brilliant, clear and splendidly-used soprano voice. I don't remember any vaudeville singer of recent years who left a more pleasing impression. Master Schooler is long on technique, and presumably will acquire temperament and taste as he goes on his interpretative way.

Harry Girard of this city again demonstrates that he is an artist, near to his finger-tips. His turn is a "suggestion" of certain artists, and the suggestion leads to a certainty that he is some master himself.

The three Shelvey boys, athletes of prowess, have some bending and contortional work, which wins large applause.

The bill also proffers Kellogg, the nature singer, who can vocalize a tune out of existence—should be recalled by the fire department; Ce Ce, running around her golden globe on a gas velocipede; Art Bowen, who sings sketches and draws songs; the Whittakers, English comedy performers, and the Pathe news pictures.

Pantages.

Pantages this week makes a startling departure from the usual procedure by featuring a moving picture as life history of the Titanic is the subject, and, though fragmentary, is highly interesting. The first pictures show the laying of the keel, the next the launching of the vessel. Following this are views of the ice floes and bergs among which the Titanic went down. The landing of the Carpathia, the dispatch of the funeral ship to search for the bodies of the dead, and other minor events are faithfully recorded. It is an illuminating comment on the press stories of the disaster.

The vaudeville part of the programme is along about the Pantages average. Seymour's dogs are doing only new stunts, and some of their old ones. They maintain the reputation of the act as a standard vaudeville attraction. Harry Brown & Co.

Pantages this week makes a startling departure from the usual programme by featuring a moving picture play—life history of the Titanic is the subject, and, though fragmentary, is highly interesting. The first pictures show the laying of the keel, the next the launching of the vessel. Following this are views of the ice floes and bergs among which the Titanic went down. The landing of the Carpathia, the dispatch of the funeral ship to search for the bodies of the dead, and other minor events are faithfully recorded. It is an illuminating comment on the press stories of the disaster.

The vaudeville part of the programme is along about the Pantages average. Seymour's dogs are doing many new stunts, and some of their old ones. They maintain the reputation of the act as a standard vaudeville attraction. Harry Brown & Co. play for the heart strings with a comedy of pathetic complexion, entitled "A Case of Divorce." The plaintiff and defendant are an aged and childless couple, the co-respondent a young girl whom the old farmer plans to adopt, but fearing the opposition of his wife keeps his loving secret well, but not wisely. The story ends in the obvious and natural way.

The Oliva Gypsy quartette sing picturesquely. Clarke & Verdi make good with the audience in a line of comedy conversation that is not merely original, but also hilariously funny. The newly-arrived Italian immigrant, looking for a corporation job, and the Italian ward boss are new characters in vaudeville. Clarke & Verdi translate them into amusing dialect.

The Musical Goolmans are favorites who have been a long time away from home. In the days when the Orpheum was a Main-street institution Goolman was one of the regular decorations of the orchestra pit. In vaudeville he has the most truly musical of all the novelty musical turns that have been seen here. Mrs. Goolman still adds good looks and cleverness to the ensemble. Two strong men, the Behrwalls, furnish an interesting number.

TAFT TRUTHS STING OPPOSITION DEEPLY.

Former Governor Gillett Shoots Facts Home at Insurgents and Roosevelt Followers Try to Break Up Big Meeting in Auditorium, but Thousands of Men and Women Cause Rout of Disturbers.

STUNG by the hard facts that former Gov. Gillett used against Col. Roosevelt before the large audience in the Auditorium last night, a small crowd of men who were recognized as Roosevelt followers, sitting in the rear, tried to make a disturbance by shouting and loud talk. They began by howling for something on the tariff, which the former Governor answered later in such a way that they had no more to say.

A louder voice from a Roosevelt man in the rear again tried to break into the speech, and a man in the audience near the stage asked whether the voices worried the speaker.

"No," ex-Gov. Gillett answered from the platform. "No. I am not worried by these interruptions. I want the people of Los Angeles to understand just what sort of campaign is being carried on against the greatest American we have."

Cheers and loud applause came from all over the hall at this, and later, when an effort was made by the disturbers to renew their tactics, Capt. W. T. Helm of the District Attorney's office stopped them by calling attention to the fact that the Socialists had used the same methods in an effort to break up the speaking during the last municipal campaign.

GREAT MEETING.

It was a great meeting. Counter inducements for crowds to gather, that other speakers had not been compelled to contend with, kept the people from arriving as early as at other meetings, but before the former Governor began to talk, the Auditorium was well filled with an enthusiastic crowd that was free with its applause and worked up to the cheering point by the time Gillett had entered upon his address. The fife and drum corps of veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, whose inspiring music opened the meeting, was applauded, and there was no need of music to bring the audience to its feet when the ex-Governor appeared, accompanied by Col. L. J. C. Spruance, chairman of the evening, Chairman Stanton of the Taft Campaign Committee, and Capt. Helm, the other speaker.

Chairman Stanton, speaking briefly and declaring that the Republican party, even the life of the republic itself, was at stake, introduced Col. Spruance, who, without any speech, at once called upon Capt. Helm. Capt. Helm reviewed the history of the ancient republics to show that there was a point when they had gone wrong and so had gone to destruction. This country, he pointed out, was now facing such a crisis. He spoke of the trusts, showed how few had been prosecuted under the seven and a half years of Roosevelt and how many under Taft's three years, and closed with a prediction of the election of William Howard Taft again to be President.

Former Gov. Gillett was greeted with prolonged applause. He apologized for being hoarse, explaining that in speaking at Huntington Beach he had been compelled to compete with the roar of the surf on one hand and the noise of the electric railway on the other. As he spoke the hoarseness wore away and at all times he was heard distinctly in every part of the hall.

TAFT FOR CALIFORNIA.

"When I was Governor of this State," he began, "I went back to Washington in the interest of the Panama-Pacific Exposition for San Francisco. On reaching there it was seen that New Orleans had the majority and that unless something was done at once, New Orleans would win. With Senator Flint, we went to see President Taft at the White House and laid the facts before him. He asked us a few questions and at length he said he was with us and that he would send for some of his friends in Congress. He did so, and we won the Fair. I feel a sentiment of gratitude to the President, and California should feel that sentiment for a man who has always been her friend and has always showed his friendship on every occasion.

"In this campaign we have been told that the people no longer rule. Now I have been foolish enough to think that the people have always ruled in this country, but in the last few weeks we have been told that they do not. I thought we had a great President, that we had a great Supreme Court, but now we are told that the courts do not belong to the people any more. We also thought that we had representatives of the people at Washington enacting laws for the people, but now we are informed that Congress does not belong to us any more. These three great co-ordinate branches of our government have been taken away from us, if we believe our friends.

WHEN THE PEOPLE RULE.

"But the people ruled when they elected George Washington President of the United States. They ruled when they elected Thomas Jefferson, and they ruled when they gave Anin the rear, and the challenge was reins of power. They ruled when they elected Abraham Lincoln and William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt"—here cheers for Roosevelt were given, starting with the Roosevelt men in the rear, and the challenge was taken up with a will by the thousands who were for Taft and a great shout for Taft made the Auditorium ring. The speaker spoke of Roosevelt's recommending a great man to the American people and their electing him in William Howard Taft. "We, as American citizens, know him to be loyal, honest, and able, and kind, and patriotic," said the speaker, and again cheers for Taft were heard.

Taking up the subject of Congress, the speaker said that it was easy to find out whether it had been untrue to its trust by the laws it had passed, and this Congress when ruled by the men whom Roosevelt is now denouncing, he said, had passed the Sherman act, the Interstate Commerce act, the employers' liability law and the postal savings bank law. "Were they in the interest of Wall street or of the people?" he asked. He explained the tariff law, and showed that at Taft's demand a clause had been inserted for a tariff commission to ascertain the facts of foreign costs of manufacture and lay them before Congress, and another section had been added under which a tax on corporations now produces an income of $13,000,000 a year for the nation. Taft had signed this bill because it carried those sections and thus had secured a better tariff law with two valuable additions to the old law. Under this bill the country is wonderfully prosperous, Gillett went on, the people are all employed and the only men out of work are those who don't want to work—the I Won't Works in San Diego. Taking up the decisions of the Supreme Court, he showed how under its decisions the Standard Oil had been broken up and the salt trust, the tobacco trust and others dissolved.

AND THE TRUSTS.

"And do you think the steel trust, with its millions of employees, its enormous capital and with all its influence in every direction, is putting up money to elect Mr. Taft when the government under his direction is seeking to dissolve it in the courts?" demanded Gillett. Cries of "No, no," came from all over the audience. "Do you think the tobacco trust is working overtime for Mr. Taft? Where is the pledge the Republican party has made that Mr. Taft has not kept?"

He asked why was the Republican party being rent asunder—was it because one man's ambition had become so great or because he was trying out of pique to get even? When did this man find that the President and the men who had been leading the Republican party for ten and fifteen years were unfit to be trusted? The speaker read from several newspaper articles letters from Roosevelt showing that he had commended not only Mr. Taft but all the leaders in Congress whom he was now denouncing. He recalled to the audience how Roosevelt had always shown the deepest trust in Taft, had called him to Washington, sent him on delicate missions and, when Roosevelt as President had left Washington, he had always "left Bill sitting on the lid." He told how, when he was a member of Congress, Roosevelt had always called Aldrich, Cannon and the other leaders to the White House to advise and suggest—the very men he was now abusing. "He was President then and did not want the organization changed; now he wants to be President and he does want the organization hanged—that's the difference," said Gillett. At Saratoga, Roosevelt asked that the Congressional organization be maintained; now, the speaker pointed out, after this man had said Congress had passed splendid laws, he was denouncing them. The others say, too, Roosevelt had said that Taft had not treated him right about the steel trust.

"I'll tell you about that," said Gillett, and he narrated how in 1907 Judge Gary and H. C. Frick had obtained permission from Roosevelt to absorb the steel trust's greatest rival, the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company and had thus, with government support, become the enormous trust it was today—with its control of 95 per cent. of the steel output of the country, ownership of 55 per cent. of the street railways and influence through its directorate in all the great banks of the United States. This trust was protected by Roosevelt, and since then has been defended by him in the Outlook and in the investigating committee of Congress. Last October, by direction of President Taft, the government began an action in equity against this trust to dissolve it and in that bill the Tennessee Coal and Iron transaction, promoted and assisted by Roosevelt when President, occupied four pages. "If the courts shall dissolve that trust," said Gillett, "it will put somebody in a mighty bad place. And if Roosevelt shall be elected President, will the steel trust be prosecuted?" [Cries of "no."] And if he won't prosecute the case, who is putting up the money for his campaign?" The audience caught the point and applauded to the echo.

The speaker showed the duplicity of Roosevelt in the matter of Canadian reciprocity, which he was now pretending to oppose, while he had written a letter to Taft favoring it, and Taft had fortunately kept the letter. Reciprocity with Canada, Roosevelt knew, had been in the McKinley platform, had been in his own and had been in Mr. Taft's. Roosevelt was saying a great deal about Lincoln in this campaign. He seemed to think there was a resemblance between him and Lincoln. [Laughter.] But Roosevelt had forgotten one thing that the great President had said in the dark days of this nation: "Charity toward all and malice toward none."

JUST FOR THIRD TERM.

He declared that insurgency stands for neither the tariff nor money reform, but simply for a third term—something that had been refused by Washington and again by Jefferson had been denounced, as it had a hundred years later by McKinley and, in the first years of his term, by Theodore Roosevelt. But in 1904 Theodore Roosevelt was a different man from the Roosevelt of today, said the speaker. He then discussed the tariff, showing that the so-called progressives had always voted with the Democrats and that the Democrats had already written lemons down on the free list, had reduced the tariff on olive oil and wanted to put sugar on the free list to help out the sugar trust. "How long will it be before they reach out for oranges and put them on the free list, too?" he asked. He explained how this looked at Washington and how the insurgency in California would react on the State. If the industries of California will go by the board and be placed on the free list, it would be because of the failure to support the Republican party, he said. "Don't blame anybody but yourselves when the settling day comes," he said.

No matter who shall be nominated at Chicago, he pointed out that the convention will have to commend the administration of a Republican President, William Howard Taft, and he concluded with an appeal to the people not to be led astray by demagogues. An impromptu reception to the ex-Governor after the meeting was one of the features of the evening.

CAN GET ORIENT TRADE.

Business Man from Java Says Los Angeles Harbor Is in Position to Secure Business There.

"The Los Angeles harbor can get the business of the Orient if the merchants of this part of the country will go after it," declared G. Romer, one of the largest coffee and tea exporters of Java, who registered at the Van Nuys yesterday from Sourabaya. With him is G. A. Voute of Amsterdam.

Romer said the people of the Dutch Indies, India and other countries in that part of the world are little interested in the building of the Panama Canal.

"The Suez Canal will always remain the shortest route for them to the great markets of the world and for that reason little thought is given to the great work which the United States is accomplishing," said Romer.

As for shipping to Los Angeles, Romer said the only way to develop business of this kind is to work up commercial relations with the nations of the Orient and of the East Indies.

"We are shipping large consignments at this time to Los Angeles merchants by the way of San Francisco. From Hongkong to that port or to Los Angeles there is no differential basis in freight rates at this time, an arrangement being in force between the steamship and railroad company apparently whereby this sameness is effected. The only reason for a change from the present plan would be the bigger business which might come directly from Los Angeles to Java."

In the Dutch East Indies, Romer said, there is no labor trouble because of the intermingling of races. The Javanese are the only people on the islands and they, under the Dutch rule, have proven good workmen.

IS COMPLETELY DEMOLISHED.

Anaheim People in Buggy Have Vehicle Wrecked and They Sustain Injuries from Auto Contact.

ANAHEIM, April 30.—While George Huntington and wife of West Anaheim were driving home in their single rig last evening, they were run down by an automobile driven by John Spencer, a High School student and a neighbor of the Huntingtons. Both Spencer and Huntington were driving west on Center street and when opposite the Fremont school the strong headlight of a Cadillac machine was thrown in Spencer's face and in turning to avoid a collision with the Cadillac, he crashed into the buggy driven by Mr. Huntington and wife.

Spencer said the headlight blinded him so that he did not see the rig until it was too late to avoid the collision. The two machines and the rig were approaching a dip in the pavement and the machines were doubtless making a short turn to avoid the jolt. Mrs. Huntington was thrown from the rig and was unconscious when picked up from the pavement but regained consciousness before she was taken to her home. The rig was demolished. One leg of the horse was broken and the animal was shot today.

TRIANGLE LEAGUE DAY.

It has been decided by the Y.M.C.A. that Orange county Triangle League Day will be May 11 and the members of the various schools of the county who joined the league are preparing to enter and compete for the prizes that have been offered. The pledge of the league is to abstain from the use of tobacco, liquor and bad language. Many Anaheim students, both boys and girls, have signed up and state they are going to keep the pledge.

This is the first League Day that has been celebrated in the county and the event will occur at Santa Ana. The admission is to be free and the first event will be a spelling match. A silver cup will be awarded to the best boy and the best girl speller in Orange county and also a banner to the school of winning student.

A girls' basketball throwing contest is to be a special feature and will be open to two girls from the seventh grade and two girls from the eighth grade from each school in Orange county. Awards: Ribbons to four best throwers in the eighth grade, and four best in the seventh grade and points of 5, 3, 2 and 1 will count for school in awarding the championship banner.

A track and field meet will also be conducted for the boys and ribbon prizes will be awarded.

VISALIA.

VISALIA, April 30.—Bert Maxon, superintendent of the linemen for a telephone company in Porterville, was run down and seriously hurt and his motorcycle was reduced to junk, by a heavy touring car driven by A. W. Wilson down Church street early this afternoon. Maxon's right ankle was sprained, his hip wrenched and he is covered with bruises. The machine, a brand new, twin cylinder motor, is a wreck.

Law About Patents.

[Scientific American:] We are all accustomed to see a patented article marked "Patented," with the date of the patent. It is doubtful, however, whether one in a hundred, or in five hundred, who notices the mark realizes its importance to the patentee. The statute on the subject makes it the duty of all patentees or those holding under or making the patented article for them to apply the mark "Patented," together with the day and year the patent was granted, and the same statute provides as a penalty for not marking that "in any suit for infringement by the party failing to so mark no damages shall be recovered by the plaintiff, except on proof that the defendant was duly notified of the infringement, and continued, after such notice, to make, use or vend the article so patented."

SOME WORKING GIRLS LOSE TOO MUCH TIME

Two Girls Tell How To Avoid It.

There is nothing that teaches more than experience. We therefore quote from the letters of two girls who suffered and were restored to health. The same remedy is within reach of all.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"Prior to taking the first bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered agony every month, but after your wonderful medicine had been taken a while I felt a little better, and after taking seven bottles of it I feel that I can truly say I have no more pain or inconvenience.

"As I am out in the business world as a stenographer, I come in contact with many girls, and when the opportune moment arrives I tell them about the Vegetable Compound and I know that quite a few are taking it."—HELEN CANET, 556 Dean St.

Another Girl's Experience.

Tishomingo, Okla.—"I am a stenographer and book-keeper, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved my life. I am enjoying the best of health now, but I was suffering from female troubles and painful periods, and would have backache, headache and fainting spells. If any woman would like to write to me I will gladly answer her letter and tell her what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. MATTIE COPENHAVER, Tishomingo, Okla.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

sented "The Belle of Broadway" last night for the first time in this city, and so loud were the shouts of approval that if you had pricked up your ears on Broadway you might have heard them.

Gladys Vaughn shows up as a little star of the first magnitude. Los Angeles mankind is already deeply in love with her; Winnie Baldwin, too, apparently, was not behind the door when good looks and talent were being served out. Then there was another young woman whose personal charm made the heart beat faster. This was Evelyn Whaling, who looked just too stunning for words. Although as a suffragette leader, she had but a small part, and only one song, she got as big an ovation as anyone.

Frank Morton, as the Brewer's friend, got the audiences doubled up with laughter all the while he was on, and at his dancing in the last act people laughed until they cried, which was a bit of a hit.

Then there was the chorus. Well, Los Angeles is used to seeing some fine specimens of feminine humanity in the chorus of its musical comedies, but the Adolphus coterie will bear comparisons with the best bunch of beauties that has ever gathered together here, and they are vivacious, which some of the critics count as a defect, but the audience liked it, so why worry?

Every person in the company has what is called at fat part, and they more than get away with them.

Kinemacolor Theater.

"The Burial of the Maine" at the Kinemacolor Theater this week shows the final sinking of this historic vessel in the Atlantic Ocean just off the Island of Cuba with full military honors. A more impressive sight would be hard to imagine than that of the warships from the United States and Cuba thundering a martial requiem, the hull, almost hidden with garlands of roses and palm leaves, towed slowly out of Havana harbor and sunk. The funeral services held at the Havana City Hall and at Washington, D. C., are also shown, both places being one mass of flowers. The colors in each instance are brought out wonderfully by the Kinemacolor process.

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: A plan for keeping the teeth in order at so much per year! Is not that a novelty and an excellent one? This is actually done by a local specialist in dentistry—one who compares favorably with any in the world. Imagine what it would mean to children to have their teeth properly cared for from the first and kept in order always. Do you not wish such a plan had been in effect when you were a small child?

New Garments.

In one of the high-class Broadway shops, I had a peep at the latest creations in blouses and coatees.

The blouses were the season's "latest" in combinations of lace and embroidery, many different varieties to-choose as is the habit of Dame Fashion to select, at present, and most of them had peplums or tunic skirts attached, while some of course, bore the pendant postilion.

The charming examples were of sheer French voile, trimmed in Agaric lace. The coatees were adorable creations in taffeta changeable; and it is no wonder that the suit department contended that they belonged on that side of the house.

The "blouse coatee," if I may coin the term, was made of the new zephyr linen—fine and so soft that it folds to take no larger space than would a fichet handkerchief. One of these in black, was made with a slender vest and was enlivened by a narrow band of pique in white, extending down the entire front, and with cuffs and rounding collar of the same, all with the embellishments studded with small white pearl buttons. Another of the useful and chic garments had Agaric for trimming in place of white pique.

With a well-made skirt of taffeta, one of these "blouse coatees" would be quite swagger, especially if worn by a hat of white with some trim of black—or fine black Milan, in the modified Derby shape, severely tailored in white. Of course the shoes should be of white, with white vamp, and gloves of white with stitching in black would complete a most striking and yet tasteful suit, for street wear.

Shopping Clothes.

"I declare," said a lady to another, as they stood before one of the Broadway windows, "I am glad when there is something great going on downtown for then we see evening dress in the windows. I do not go much with affairs myself, but I enjoy seeing those beautiful clothes and wondering how others will look when wearing them."

You know, I fancy that many persons feel as she does. One misses the pretty finery of the wax ladies, when they are replaced by the more practical and prosaic articles. I have heard many expressions of admiration for that sweet (wax) girl in the rosy dancing frock, her charming curls held in leash by an equally rosy head-dress.

Silver Deposit.

A new line of silver deposit ware, upon china in delicate shades of cream and champagne, has been installed by one of the reliable Broadway houses. The shapes are graceful, and the work is all done in sterling silver, which makes the ware a worthy gift for the approaching June bridal time. The same house has some excellent values in silver deposit on glass, at remarkably low prices.

• •

New Trays.

From the orient comes a late importation, made on purpose to fill an American need, in the way of trays. These are of basketry, in brown—are very smoothly fashioned, and treated with something which makes them waterproof—quite a needed provision, as you know if you have had this ware turn light where a glass has been spilled in transit.

• •

Handbag Work-box.

It looks like any well behaved high class handbag of good leather and when it is used thus, no one would ever suspect its possibilities; for it has possibilities. If, for instance, you are one of a band of "bring-your-work-and-spend-the-afternoon," you will seem to have forgotten all about anything to occupy your hands and when every one has finished upbraiding you, you may give a secret touch to that magical flat handbox and behold, a small and well equipped "work table" with every appliance for handicraft of whatever sort you may wish. There is a folding extension upon that bag, something on the order of the folding bed, which appears from nowhere and returns to the same limbo when its need is passed. Or perhaps it is a manicure table that you want—presto, it is that, upon the instant it is wanted. A clever contrivance and in cost no higher than any good leather handbag.

• •

Ugliness and Unrest.

A writer in a recent magazine gives as a reason for the continual moving about of people from house to house, the fact that there is so much ugliness in much of the house furnishing and so-called decoration.

This may be true; but I think there is a reason for unrest in the unhome-like atmosphere of many modern homes of today.

Elegance takes the place of coziness, and also many persons depend too much upon the taste of others in the construction of the home. The home should be the outgrowth of personality—rather than the expression of something outside the family life. Have you ever seen any place more truly homelike than the old house which had wings spread in all directions as the wants of the family grew? Possibly it was not architecturally correct, but it had an element which all the correctness in the world sometimes lacks.

May Day.

One of the ladies furnishing stores on Broadway has a pretty window in which wax ladies clad in handsome gowns and hats circle around a May pole. Each carries a May basket and holds in one hand the broad ends of the May pole ribbons. The scene is pretty and appropriate to the time, as the garments worn by the circling ladies are appropriate to the season, both as to style and fabric.

• •

Fashion Whispers.

The sway of the one-sided trimming is still with us.

Every other corsage is in the Marie Antoinette effect.

Prince of Wales feathers are quite the rage in millinery.

Double and triple skirts are fashionable for lingerie dresses.

THE FINEST ON PARADE.

Three Hundred Members of Police Department Will Participate In Annual Inspection—Stunts.

Members of the Police Department numbering 300 will participate in the annual police inspection today. At 1:30 maneuvers will be held at Fiesta Park, and a parade of the members of the force and city officials will move through the streets of the business section at 2:45 p.m. The public is invited to view the drills and practice runs at the park.

The final drills of the off-duty squads were held yesterday under the supervision of Capt. Lehnhausen. Final instructions regarding the parade were given, and last preparations were made for the biggest event in the police year.

For the first time this year the men will appear in their summer uniforms, which have been carefully pressed for the occasion. For days the men in all branches have been drilling for the inspection, and Chief Sebastian expects his men to make a better showing than on any similar occasion.

At the park platoons of patrolmen will drill and answer supposed calls for aid. The police autos and auto patrols will make exhibition runs, and there will be races between motorcycle men.

Led by three lines of motorcycle patrolmen, the parade, which will include divisions of patrolmen, auto patrols, police autos, and city officials, will leave Fiesta Park at 2:45 p.m., and proceed on Pico street to Olive, north on Olive to Tenth street, east to Broadway and north on Broadway to First street, and to the Central Station, where the Mayor and members of the City Council and Police Commission will address the men. During the line of march various formations will be gone through by the patrolmen and motorcycle men. One of them will be the "hollow square," a formation taken during riots and an attack on a squad of patrolmen.

EARNING THEIR WAGES.

The good results obtained by the new motorcycle squad maintained by the District Attorney was evidenced yesterday when Deputy District Attorney Joos issued twenty-three speeding complaints. The offenders will be in the Justice Court today to plead.

WE RAN across a case, the other day, that it might interest you to read about.

An Englishwoman, it is, whose story we are telling, a woman of culture, refinement, and—very recently—of experience.

That woman, when she married, was petted, pampered, shielded. The vulgar systems of the business world were too coarse for her to be allowed to investigate.

Well and good, as long as her husband lived.

But:- he happened to stay out in the rain too long, one cool evening, and so contracted an uncommonly aggressive case of pneumonia which hustled him into the Great Beyond.

And the tender, clinging, dependent, inexperienced little Englishwoman was left alone, save for a check book whose use she had to be told about, and a balance of $21,500 to her credit.

Now money meant nothing to her. It was merely something to spend. And spend it she did. In just three years she cleaned up the whole of her little fortune.

Here's our question. If that woman had always had a bank book, if she had learned to keep it balanced, herself, had used it to pay the expenses of her home, would she be running a lodging house today?

We think not. What do you think?

GETS THE MONEY BUT IS CAUGHT.

NEWSPAPER TREASURER JAILED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT.

Grand Jury Returns Indictment Against Man Who Held Entire Confidence of His Employers Until Short Time Ago—How He Covered Traces—Much Missing.

George P. Green, treasurer of the Examiner, was indicted by the grand jury yesterday afternoon on an embezzlement charge.

A bench warrant was issued from Judge Hutton's court and given to the Sheriff for service. The defendant will be arraigned this morning. He was expecting arrest, for he was found soon after the warrant issued in the office of a friend in the International Bank building, a short distance from the Courthouse. He was locked up in the County Jail in default of $5000 bonds.

In the indictment returned yesterday, Green is specifically accused of having embezzled $60 on or about June last. But Chief Trial Deputy Horton, who had charge of the investigation, stated in open court it is probable that additional true bills will be found against the newspaper man based on further investigation by expert accountants.

It is said a shortage of, approximately $5000 has already been found in Green's accounts and that it is believed the total will approximate $10,000. The accused has been with the local Hearst paper practically since its birth in this city over seven years ago.

Green had the confidence of the owner of the paper, as well as of the various business managers sent here periodically to take charge of the plant. The disclosure is said to have come about through the protest of an advertiser who was asked to pay a bill which he had once paid.

An investigation was begun by Max Ihmsen, general manager. A number of apparent false entries were found in the books and W. G. Langdon, traveling auditor of the Hearst papers, who came here in the course of his annual inspection, soon noted an apparent deficit of over $5000.

It is said Green was asked to explain and that he admitted he was short. According to the information in the hands of the District Attorney, the indicted man professed to be unable to explain his alleged defalcation, but promised to make it good. He was discharged and has since remained in the city trying to adjust matters so as to avoid criminal prosecution.

Apparently word came to Ihmsen that Green was about to leave the city, for he hurriedly sought the District Attorney night before last and laid the matter before him. The details of prosecution were then arranged, but the news was not made public until yesterday afternoon when the grand jury returned a true bill in Department Ten of the Superior Court.

The method by which Green is supposed to have taken money from his employers was to take cash from the money drawer. In some instances he supposedly placed slips bearing his initials when he took out cash and later removed the memorandum. Also, it is alleged that on many occasions when an advertiser would send a check for his monthly bill, Green would stamp the check for deposit but take an amount from the cash drawer equal to the amount of the check. He had some method, it is alleged, by which the supposed defalcations could not be traced except by an expert bookkeeper.

BURGLARS TAKE JEWELRY.

Enter Stephens Home by Side Window and Leave Same Way When Surprised—Boys Taken as Suspects.

Hon. Albert Lee Stephens's residence, No. 277 South Coronado street, was burglarized about 3 o'clock last night, and James Thompson, who lives on Hines street, and George Majors, No. 2741 La Salle street, a colored boy, were arrested a short time afterward on suspicion by Detectives Dixon and Fitzgerald. None of the jewelry reported missing was found upon the boys, neither of whom is over 17 years of age.

The burglars entered through a side window. They were quietly at work when Stephens unexpectedly returned home. As he entered the front door, they retreated through the window. He caught a glimpse of them and, running to the window, called for help.

WAGON GOES OVER BOY.

A 7-year-old boy was run over by a horse and wagon last evening on San Fernando street between Elmyra and Ann, but it made such little impression upon him he tried to run away before the driver could get off his seat. The front wheel passed over the right shoulder and the right side of his face. No bones were broken. The boy refused to give his last name, but said his first is Augustine, and that he lives at No. 1112 North Main street. He was run over by J. Aronson, No. 157 South Avenue Nineteen, who reported to the police that the boy ran across the street in front of the horse, and then started back again.

AMERICAN RACE MIXTURE.

Part That Immigrants Are Playing in the Economic and Political Development of This Country.

[North American Review:] The rapidity with which the democratic ideas are taken on by immigrants under the influence of our institutions is remarkable. I have personally had experiences with French-Canadians, Portuguese, Hebrews and Italians. These races have certainly taken advantage of their opportunities among us in a fashion to promise well for their final effect upon this country. The French-Canadian has become a sufficiently good American to have given up his earlier programme of turning New England into a new France—that is, into a Catholic province or of returning to the Province of Quebec. He is seeing something better than a racial or religious ideal in the freedom of American citizenship; and on one or two occasions, when he had political power in two municipalities, he refrained from exercising it to the detriment of the public school system. He has added a gracious manner and a new feeling for beauty to New England traits.

The Portuguese have taken up neglected or abandoned New England agricultural land and have turned it to productive and valuable use. Both the French-Canadian and the Portuguese have come to us by way of the New England textile mills.

The intellectual problems and the advanced thinking of the Hebrew, his fondness for study and his freedom on the whole from wasteful forms of dissipation, sport and mental stagnation, constitute him a more fortunate acquisition for this country than are thousands of the descendants of colonial settlers. In short, we must reconstruct our idea of democracy—of American democracy. This done, we must construct a new picture of citizenship. If we do these things we shall welcome the rugged strength of the peasant or the subtle thought of the man of the Ghetto in our reconsidered American ideals.

Our question, then, as to the effect of race mixture is not the rather supercilious one: What are we admitting into America that may possibly injure American ideals? but, what are the old American races doing to perpetuate these ideals? And is not our future as a race largely by our own fault in the hands of the peasant races of Europe?

GRANDPA'S GOOD HABITS.

Temperance Orator Made a Wrong Estimate of the Reason for Living to an Advanced Age.

[Baltimore American:] "My grandfather on the paternal side lived to the ripe age of 94," remarked Dr. Thomas Hunt Stuckey, a leading physician of Louisville, Ky. "He was a grand old citizen of splendid character, noted for his good works and beloved by all his neighbors, and yet, from a certain narrow viewpoint he would scarcely be regarded as of irreproachable habits.

"On a certain occasion there came to the town in which my grandsire dwelt, not far from Louisville, a noted temperance orator. This gentleman's mission in the community was to organize a temperance revival or anti-liquor crusade, and among the auditors at his first meeting was my grandfather, who was then somewhere around 85 years.

"At the close of an eloquent address the speaker called upon certain persons in the congregation to arise and tell their experiences. The first he singled out was the patriarch of the community. Pointing toward him, the revivalist exclaimed in a dramatic way:

"'There sits Grandfather Stuckey, a man of blameless life, who has been an exemplar to all the people of this vicinity for more than a generation. I have no idea that Grandpa Stuckey ever took a chew tobacco or let a drop of intoxicants pass his lips in all the days of his life. He is now long past the allotted three-score and ten years and, no doubt, that long stay in the land has been due to his total abstinence. Will Grandfather Stuckey kindly make a few remarks to these men and women present to encourage them toward leading a better life?'

"At that the old gentleman arose deliberately, and, bowing to the preacher and congregation, said:

"'I am doubtful whether anything I can say will be of any benefit to my neighbors in this audience, but I do not propose to sit silent and hear myself slandered. I have chewed tobacco ever since I was 7 years old, and I take a drink of whisky whenever I feel like it.'"

MEXICO REPEATS ITSELF.

Conditions In the Country Are Practically the Same as When Diaz Was First Elected President.

[Philadelphia Times:] Events in Mexico ominously resemble those which transpired there a half century ago, when the condition of the country led Napoleon III. to believe that he could set Maximilian on the throne.

The same battle grounds are being fought over again, and, more's the pity, the Mexican in all the years of Diaz's rule seems to have acquired only a veneer of stability and regard for order.

Now and then, until Diaz fought his way to the front, there appears nobody strong enough to rule. Madero, cooped up in the City of Mexico, is as helpless as was Juarez. Revolt is the order of the day, and if the President should be expelled from power there is no reason to believe that whoever succeeded him would be any more successful in riding his wild horses.

Nothing is easier than a revolution in Mexico. Any leader is able to muster a few thousand men, and men who will fight as long as the commissary holds out. When defeat comes, all it is necessary to do is to scatter to the mountains.

It is not at all reassuring to recall that Mexico had about fifty years of this sort of thing before Diaz brought order out of chaos. Since that time there have been hundreds of millions of American and European money invested in Mexico. Though we were never so indifferent as to what happens to Mexicans themselves, the question is: "How long will Europe look on while the money of her nationals is jeopardized?"

The business of being the big policeman of this hemisphere, which we have taken upon ourselves with the Monroe doctrine, has its drawbacks. The one thing to be grateful for is that Washington is fully cognizant of the tremendous difficulties that will confront us if we undertake to intervene and is showing every desire to sit tight until it is absolutely forced to move.

PROFIT IN DRESSMAKING.

Mme. Paquin Draws Sixty Thousand Dollars a Year Salary Besides a Share in Annual Profits.

[Woman's Home Companion:] "If anybody is qualified to explain the mysterious processes by which fashions in dress are imposed upon the world it must be the head of the Parisian house of Paquin in the Rue de la Paix."

There is no doubt of the efficiency with which she dominates the greatest dressmaking establishment in the world. Mme. Paquin assumed "the dictatorship of the realm of fashion," as the phrase-makers will have it, in December, 1907, upon the death of her husband. M. Isador Paquin was decorated by the Minister of Commerce for his services to France through his pre-eminent genius in his art. He was an unknown clerk of the Paris Bourse, and his bride was an equally obscure little dressmaker at the time of their marriage, about 1891. But shortly after they set up housekeeping a wealthy patron established them in a dressmaking business, small but in an excellent location.

At that time the great artists of fashion were wont to hold themselves coldly and mysteriously aloof from their patrons. Newcomers in the field adopted an opposite policy. Monsieur, a born diplomat and a far-sighted business man, young, handsome and, suave, and madame, charming and tactful, were always accessible and always courteous.

Such qualities, supplementing unquestioned taste and originality, proved so compelling that by the end of a dozen years the annual income of the house of Paquin was about $400,000. Today it is probably far in excess of that figure. Aside from her interest in the establishment, Mme. Paquin draws a salary of $60,000.

The detail of business is enormous. A small army is employed not only in designing, experimenting and making but also in scouting for new ideas to be modified or exaggerated. Then there are the mannequins, who exhibit the costumes in the showrooms, not to speak of persons of far more consequence who wear the latest creations on the stage or at the races.

WORKINGMEN'S THRIFT.

European's Idea Is That the Workers as Well as Millionaires of America Are Extravagant.

[British National Review:] An admirable form of thrift is that of the average American workman, who, despite his lavish scale of living, as compared with the European workingman, is one of the important factors in the enormous increase of the wealth of the United States. The annual report of the superintendent of banks of the State of New York, which has just been made public, shows that last year the deposits of the savings banks increased by an amount equal to 32 shillings for every man, woman and child in the State. Last year there were 141 banks in the State holding aggregate deposits of nearly $1,600,000,000, considerably more than half of which was in the banks of New York City.

All these deposits do not, of course, come from the savings of workingmen, as all classes now use the savings banks, but the bulk of the deposits is in small sums slowly added to, which show that they represent the self-denial of men and women wage-earners, who have established the principle of putting a regular portion of their wages in the banks, and this number is very much larger than Europeans imagine, who hear only of American extravagance, but very little of American thrift.

According to the European idea, all Americans are extravagant, the workingman no less than the millionaire, for the workingman is well fed and well clothed, and regards as necessaries many things which the European looks upon as luxuries; but despite that he does not recklessly throw his money away, and he knows the value of saving, as proved by the constantly increasing deposits in the savings banks of the country.

When workingmen are employed on full time on regular wages, the savings funds show a progressive increase, it is only in hard times when men are unemployed that the savings accounts are drawn upon. The savings banks are the best barometer of the conditions among the wage-earners.

Too Much Red Flag.

[New York Times:] The Socialists of Milwaukee made the mistake of using their red flag too much in campaign, and of showing hatred of the American flag. fusionists thereupon, seized on American flag as the symbol of campaign, and they used it with good effect. In any worthy American community the red flag and "Marseillaise" do not constitute good campaign outfit. Socialists the Seidel and Berger type are sonably mild and plausible in language, but their dislike of American flag and of the Amer Constitution and their doctrine respect to religion and the home not commend them to our liking. litically, the doctrines of the ist when applied to administrative fairs are a sheer futility; if they not they would lead straight to lam. Milwaukee is to be congratulated upon its exhibition of common-sense.

OCCIDENTAL HEAD MAKES A PLAIN STATEMENT.

President Baer Discusses Rescinding of Anti-Co-ed Ruling, Affirming Legality of Move but Declaring That Developments Made Plain the Danger of Serious Mistake.

At Occidental chapel yesterday morning President Baer made a statement to the student body and members of the faculty relative to the rescinding of the trustees' ruling that Occidental shall become a men's institution only. The statement follows in full:

The trustees of Occidental College have rescinded their action making Occidental a men's college. The final vote was unanimous, all but three trustees being present, at the meeting. Very soon after the vote was taken, a committee from the Los Angeles Presbytery, which had been invited to meet the trustees, were informed the trustees had reversed their former vote, and the committee was cordially invited to meet the trustees. After being introduced, each member of the committee of five expressed most hearty approval of the trustees' action and gave expressions of confidence and co-operation. The committee retired for a meeting in President Baer's office, and drew up the following resolutions and presented them to the trustees:

"President Baer has announced that the Board of Trustees of Occidental College have rescinded their former action making Occidental a men's college. This action was taken at a meeting held at the college yesterday afternoon. About one hour later the committee appointed by the Los Angeles Presbytery to confer with the trustees was welcomed and then informed of the action.

"The Presbytery's committee then retired and drew up the following resolution and presented it to the trustees:

"The committee appointed by the Los Angeles Presbytery to confer with the Board of Trustees of Occidental College will submit the following to the Presbytery at its next meeting:

"Your committee appointed to meet the Board of Trustees of Occidental College, is informed by that board that they have rescinded the resolution which would have made Occidental a men's college exclusively. This action of the board gives great pleasure to your committee and the following resolution is adopted:

"Resolved, that we take occasion as a committee to state that we believe that the present conditions must appeal to the loyal spirit of every Presbyterian of Southern California; and we sincerely hope that this condition shall be used of God to lift the institution to even a higher place than ever yet attained.

"O. H. L. MASON,
"EDWARD CAMPBELL."

That is about all there is to say so far as the trustees are concerned and they will most heartily stand by their decision which was made only after the most careful reconsideration and it is a source of great satisfaction that the action had finally unanimous support.

Now let me add a personal word to you, my students and faculty, for you have a right to know where your president stands in view of my responsibility in the whole matter.

For two weeks I have hardly given thought to any other question, and have sought for light.

After most careful reconsidering all phases of the intricate question, I most emphatically affirm that, in my judgment, the trustees were well within their legal rights when they made the decision which has caused so much disapproval. At the same time, I have come to feel that many Presbyterians, when taking in consideration the past history, are not unwarranted in believing that we were making a most serious mistake, in excluding the young women from Occidental College.

Indeed, it seems to me personally, that my former decision may be ethically wrong, even though legally right, and I tell you frankly, on that account I much prefer to make a mistake, if one is to be made, on the safe side. So I did not hesitate to face about squarely, and frankly asked the trustees to join with me in reconsidering the whole question. More than that, I am now comfortable and perfectly satisfied in the reversal of the former decision, and I pledge to Occidental College my full strength and purpose, and call upon old and new friends unitedly, to build "the greater Occidental for good and for God." I do this heartily, sincerely and honestly, and may I call upon those who have heretofore seen different sides of this question, to unite in this one purpose. More than that, I propose to carry out this plan with genuine enthusiasm, confident that so far as Occidental is concerned, the decision that now stands is wise, prudent, and right.

CHARTER COMMITTEE CHANGES.

Names of Three Women and Two Men Dropped and Five New Ones Added to the Roll.

The City Council yesterday indorsed the recommendation of the Charter Revision Committee that five new names be added to the committee in place of the three women and two men who are not eligible to serve on the Board of Freeholders, because of not having the proper qualifications as to having been freeholder voters for the past five years within Los Angeles.

The names to be dropped are Miss Jeanette Converse, Mrs. Charles Farwell Edson and Miss Evylin Stoddart, and Messrs. George Baker Anderson and W. R. Williams. The names to be added are H. Stanley Benedict, F. W. Braun, W. H. Hutchison, C. A. Parmerlee and C. C. Reynolds. These are to serve until the regular Board of Freeholders is elected.

INCRIMINATING LETTERS.

Frank D. Teller, No. 1353 Second street, Santa Monica, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Browne at the request of county probation officers. It is alleged Teller answered an advertisement through which the probation officers were trying to find a home for one of the girl wards and wrote letters which render him liable under the Federal law. Browne said yesterday he has a lot of letters from Teller which he will turn over to the postal inspectors.

USES HIS FISTS ON RELATIVES.

DOCTOR "ACTS UP" WHEN WIFE TAKES HIS WATCH.

Wants to Go Out for Good Time, but She Says He Musn't Take His Jewelry—Two Families and Gardener Start Something That Police Have to Quell.

A wife's objection to her husband wearing expensive jewelry which she alleges she bought for him, when he went out "to have a royal time," resulted in a fight last night at No. 400 South Grand avenue, and in the Fremont Apartments, Fourth and Olive streets, in which two sisters, their respective husbands and a gardener participated.

At one stage of the proceedings the police had to keep the brothers-in-law apart. No arrests were made. The participants are: Dr. J. W. Jauch and wife, No. 400 South Grand avenue; Col. R. A. Falkenberg and wife, Fremont Apartments; John Gray, gardener employed by Jauch.

The trouble began shortly after dinner when Dr. Jauch went to the Falkenberg residence to tell his wife, who was visiting her sister, that he was going out "to have a royal time." The wife remarked that he wasn't going out with all his jewelry on, which she says she bought him, and tried to take his watch. The chain was broken, the doctor lost his temper, and, according to the police version, struck her. Dr. Jauch ran home, followed shortly afterward by Falkenberg and Gray. They knocked on the front door, and when it was opened, Jauch declares, his brother-in-law and the hired man assaulted him. He fought back, and Falkenberg sustained a cut on the head. The doctor received two cuts on his head.

In the interim the two sisters arrived. Mrs. Jauch rushed into her house, found her revolver and discharged it several times through the window to attract attention. Then she telephoned to the police. A number of detectives were rushed to the Jauch residence.

Before the detectives could reach the house, Dr. Jauch locked himself in a room on the second floor. When the door was unlocked he and his brother-in-law tried to renew their fist fight.

At the Receiving Hospital it was said Dr. Jauch is not seriously injured. His wife and Falkenberg were not much hurt.

Join the Verdugo Home Buyers' and Investors' Club

—The Books Close May 10th on Second Allotment Offering— Investigate This New Foothill Suburb This Week

The call to the public to buy the second allotment in the Verdugo Home Buyers' Club has met with a heavy response. And no wonder. Where else can you secure beautiful, high, mountain and foothill environed homesites, with the finest type of improvements, good car service, mountain water, freedom from fog, noise, dust, smoke, frost and all other undesirable conditions (peculiar to the lowlands) at TWO-THIRDS LESS than regular retail prices? Where else can you buy and participate in profits equal to those made by the large land-buying syndicates? Where else can you get the amount of your entire investment returned, plus 6 per cent., either in land at the low wholesale membership prices or in cash—and then still own a large bonus stock interest in the entire project? Is it any wonder that shrewd, discriminating home buyers and investors are passing up the hundreds of high-priced propositions now being advertised so extensively, and are uniting with the Verdugo Home Buyers' Club?

Our club is not an experiment. This is our tenth successful project in California. The property chosen by the club, which will be called "Verdugo Heights," includes an ideal piece of acreage on that beautiful mesa between Glendale and La Crescenta. It is a central spot of 400 acres, to which the adoining three valleys are tributary. It is destined to be the very center of activities in this newly-opened picturesque region. Its strategic position will appeal to you at once. The elevation is 1250 feet above sea level, level throughout and with just the right slope for drainage and view. Scores of land experts have pronounced it to be the most desirable elevation from a climatic, scenic and residential standpoint suburban to Los Angeles.

Remember that a membership entitles you to a homesite and stock participation in the profits of the entire project. Remember that an organized, united movement of investors and home-makers of this type produces double the ordinary increase in value. Call for our booklet and learn the inside financial laws of land profits. It is free.

Only half of the improved lots will be allotted to members individually. The remaining half will be held and owned jointly by the club as a whole, to await further increase in value. You can make the profits of this land syndicate earn an acre, a half-acre or a sixty-foot residence site for you.

Go and price property in Hollywood, Altadena or Highland Park. Then go out and see what you will get in a more beautiful location—Verdugo Heights—that will stand you as little as $220 for a sixty-foot lot.

This will be your last opportunity to participate in the profits and home-buying features of a public syndicate in this particular type of land. There is no more of it to be secured, except at prices prohibitive to the man of moderate means. Enroll with us now, before it is too late. The first allotment was over-subscribed, and the second bids fair to be also.

Special auto trips are made to the property twice daily (except Sunday) for the benefit of prospective members. No free rides—auto fare, 50 cents round trip. Western Empire Verdugo Association, 100 Chamber of Commerce Building, Ground Floor, Los Angeles, Cal.

AN ISLAND IN IMAGINATION.

Sanity Returns and He Wants His Money Back.

Paroled Prisoner Is Found Among Vagrant Throng.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An action instituted in the Superior Court by C. H. Hendrickson, charged Capt. A. C. Johnstone, owner of the schooner Emma with fraudulently relating to the plaintiff fairy tales of a mysterious island, where no white man save Johnstone had ever set foot, and which is rich in copper and guano deposits.

On the strength of these representations, Hendrickson alleged he advanced to Johnstone $700 with which to repair and to provision the schooner Emma for a cruise to the mysterious island. Hendrickson also alleges that he was to receive one-fourth of the profits of the expedition. The contract, he claims, was entered into in April 1911, and that the expedition was to start in June that year.

Afterwards Hendrickson claims he learned that the same proposition had been made to T. F. Cooney, who advanced Johnstone $800. The expedition never sailed, according to Hendrickson.

Johnstone is also charged with making false representation by stating the schooner was clear and free of all incumbrances. Hendrickson claims he discovered that when the contract was entered into, Johnstone had mortgaged the schooner to his wife for $3500. The wife, Emma Klauber Johnstone is made a co-defendant. So Cooley assigned to Hendrickson his claim of $800. Hendrickson seeks to recover $1500 and a lien on the schooner.

PAROLED I. W. W.

Peter Christensen, paroled from San Quentin February 1, last, after serving one year of a three years' sentence for burglary committed in Los Angeles county, was arrested by Detective Lopes at Old Town and with thirteen other members of the I. W. W., he was marched to Sorrento and ordered to leave the city.

After Lopes returned to headquarters he was handed a number of photographs and descriptions of parole violators and the picture of Christensen was the first to meet his gaze. Christensen is badly wanted by the prison officials and, according to the officers, began violating his parole within a few weeks after his freedom was secured. The Los Angeles police have been notified that Christensen is now headed that way, and his arrest is expected.

HAS FORTUNE.

Joe Magruder, aged 27 years, believed to be somewhere in San Diego, has a letter proving his title to $8000 awaiting him at the sailors' rest in San Pedro, according to information received here by Chief Wilson. The letter comes from C. E. Sebastian, Chief of Police of Los Angeles. On behalf of Mrs. E. Magruder, mother of the missing man, Chief Sebastian is directing the search. Magruder is 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighs about 200 pounds, is smooth-shaven and dresses like a sailor. Chief Sebastian believes that the young man, without knowledge of the money which awaits his claim, is working along the water front. Mrs. Magruder is stopping at the Hotel St. Francis, San Pedro, and asks that information regarding her son be sent to the place.

MISS GOULD LEAVES.

Miss Helen Miller Gould and her party, who have been in San Diego and Coronado since last Friday night, left for Los Angeles and Pasadena this morning on their way East. Miss Gould visited the Y.W.C.A., Fort Rosecrans and the cruiser Maryland while in San Diego, and was the guest of honor at one reception. All other social functions in her honor were cancelled at her request.

ALLEGED ROBBER.

John Harrelson, a carpenter, was arrested in Selma today by Deputy Sheriff Thorwelson on telegraphic instructions from Sheriff Hutchinson of Cordell, Okla., stating that he held a warrant charging the prisoner with bank robbery.

Harrelson has been peacefully working at the carpenter trade in Selma for some time past and his arrest was a surprise. No details of the alleged crime are known here, and Harrelson refuses to talk.

SHE MAKES A SCENE.

Prepossessing Young Woman Screams With All Her Might on Street and Fights the Police.

An unidentified prepossessing young woman, created a scene in front of the Hotel Alexandria about 9 o'clock last night, when she was refused admittance because of indications of intoxication. When told that she could not have an apartment she began to scream at the top of her voice. A crowd quickly gathered. It was rapidly assuming large proportions when Patrolman McMillen took the woman into custody. She was making so much noise he did not wait to send for the patrol, but pressed into service the first auto that came along.

The officer had to be assisted by several men in placing the woman in the machine. She fought with all her might, and continued to scream so loud she could be heard more than a block.

When the Central Police Station was reached, it required the combined strength of three men to lead her from the machine to the desk sergeant. Between screams en route to the jail the woman demanded that Capt. Pierson of Pasadena, Dan Baldwin of Omaha, and Tom Zeigler of the local force, be notified at once.

In the matron's quarters the woman became so hysterical that medical attention from the Receiving Hospital was secured for her. She continued hysterical for more than an hour, when she quieted down and slept. In her ravings the woman said she had been arrested here before.

She wore a neat fitting gray gown, tan shoes and hose, and a straw hat profusely decorated with artificial flowers. She is light complexioned, with light eyes and almost yellow hair.

HIS SINS FIND HIM OUT.

Fresno Man Will Have to Go to Prison for Refusing to Support His Wife Properly.

FRESNO (Cal.) April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After being at liberty on parole for four months during which time he resided in Coalinga under an assumed name, Leo Clark was arrested there today and lodged in the County Jail tonight. He will have to serve two years for failing to provide for his wife.

Clark's first and second arrests were due to an affinity. Six months ago Clark was caught in Santa Ana in the company of this woman and returned to Fresno. Through the efforts of his aged mother, he was released on parole, providing he would support his wife and leave his "soul mate" alone. This Clark failed to do as he went to Coalinga, changed his name and resumed the companionship of the woman in the case.

EATS POISON; RECOVERS.

Despondent Because She Can't Escape from Detention Home, Girl Swallows Ant Paste—A Statement.

The turbulency of the Detention Home was accentuated Monday night when Louise Mogus, an inmate, was rushed to the County Hospital in a supposed dying condition from eating ant paste, a deadly poison.

At the hospital the girl's life was saved through prompt and rapid work. It was reported that the girl had almost recovered from the effects of the poison. The superintendent last evening made the following statement:

"When we moved over from the old home, we brought a quantity of ant paste with us. While unpacking, the girls found the paste, and hid it. Last night the Mogus girl thought she hadn't anything more to live for, and swallowed a quantity of it. She took the stuff after she went to bed. We discovered her condition when the paste made her sick."

Despondency through her inability to escape from the home is thought to have prompted the girl to attempt to destroy herself.

SUPERVISORS IN SESSION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Addresses by Prof. Carl C. Plehn of the State University on the separation of State and local taxation and by Colvin B. Brown on the Panama-Pacific Exposition, were features of today's session of the State Convention of County Supervisors.

Prof. Plehn said that the changes just made in the matter of taxation constitute but the first step in a general plan of tax reform. He advocated the assessment of property by counties and cities at full cash value, but opposed local option in methods of taxation.

A resolution favoring the placing of all the county exhibits at the Panama Fair in one building, to be located in Golden Gate Park, was passed, and legislation favoring the payment of expenses of delegates to the supervisors' convention from the public funds was favored.

OXNARD SECURES HOSPITAL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OXNARD, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By the donation of $10,000 worth of property as a site, Oxnard has secured a fine Sisters' Hospital, the first portion of which will be built May 18. The property was today donated by John Borchard, a wealthy rancher, and first plans are now being turned out by Architect Martin of Los Angeles. A temporary building is to be constructed at once and a building to cost $25,000 will then be commenced and to this further additions later made. Ten acres of ground will surround the building, to be greatly beautified.

THREE MEN HURT.

Three prominent business men were badly hurt this afternoon when the automobile in which they were riding turned turtle with them, near Montalvo. In the party were W. B. Cooper, driving, and Chet Arnold and Dave Cohn.

Near Montalvo they struck a sand pile and in trying to get out of it the machine was tipped and rolled over several times, leaving its occupants in the road. Mr. Cooper had his right ear torn terribly and was badly bruised, also Mr. Cohn suffered from severe bruises to his chest and body.

Fourth Triumph.

RAISIN DAY AT FRESNO AN UNEQUIVOCAL SUCCESS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FRESNO, April 30.—Starting with a parade of gorgeously decorated automobiles this afternoon followed by sporting events at the fair grounds and entertainments and picnics in the parks, California's Raisin Day was brought to a close in Fresno tonight with gaiety prevailing in all of the grills and theaters.

That the fourth Raisin Day by far surpassed the previous three was the opinion of the members of the various committees tonight. No special services this morning marked the opening of the Raisin Day, but the streets were thronged with out of town people who came to Fresno to spend Raisin Day, every business house in the city was closed all day and Raisin Day was a gala holiday for every one.

Shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon the Fresno ceremony was started in this city by an automobile parade. The machines were driven through the streets and were loaded down with roses, orange blossoms and bunches of raisins. The ball players rode in the parade on large auto trucks. The hit of the decorated machines was a burlesque auto made of a toy wagon and driven by two youngsters. The afternoon was opened at the fair grounds with a baseball game between the Fresno All-Stars and the Firemen. The All-Stars won by a score of 8 to 0. A boxing match was held between Arthur McAfee and Ben Brown resulting in a draw.

At Zapp's Park the Fresno and Selma Native Sons entertained with games and a wild west show. Potato races and fat men's races were held. Dancing was enjoyed at the park this evening.

Tonight the streets are brilliantly lighted with streamers of electric light globes and glee clubs composed of girls from the Normal School and boys of the Y.M.C.A. are stopping on the street corners and singing Raisin Day songs. A celebration is also being held at Recreation Park this evening. President W. W. Phillips of the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon received word from the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce stating that Raisin Day was being observed there.

At Dinuba a parade was held this morning and races this afternoon. W. R. Nutting of Fresno this evening delivered a Raisin Day address at Dinuba. This makes the second annual Raisin Day celebration for Dinuba. Kerman is also another one of the Fresno county towns that observed the day. A celebration was held in the town and picnics were held on the banks of the San Joaquin River. Raisin Day is also being observed on the high seas. On board the steamer Sonoma bound for Panama is Alphonse Newhouse, of this city, with a goodly supply of raisins which he took for the purpose of distributing among the passengers today. A box of raisins will be presented to Col. Goethals, who is in charge of the work on the Panama Canal.

And Other Thousands.

THOUSANDS OF MOOSE IN BRILLIANT CARNIVAL.

FIFTEEN thousand persons attended the grand opening of the Loyal Order of the Moose carnival at Luna Park last night and participated in the joyous celebration which will continue until Sunday.

The park was a gorgeous sight with scores of illuminated booths, richly decorated with flowers, pennants, flags and bunting. The carnival bids fair to be one of the most elaborate and novel celebrations of the kind ever held on the Coast.

Scenic artists, decorators, carpenters and electricians have transformed the buildings and halls into magnificent groups of alluring and attractive retreats and midways.

Over five thousand Moose marched in the street parade in five divisions. Tens of thousands of spectators lined the streets in the downtown section and watched the pageant as it passed.

A troop of mounted police led the procession, followed by the Royal Marine Band, the Mayor and Moose officers. Then came Queen Florence Ruth Dendinger and her royal escort from San Diego, 100 strong. The remaining divisions were composed of mounted cowboys, cowgirls, scores of clowns, visiting lodges in costume, floats, stages and bands.

The procession formed at Third and Main streets, moved down Main to Seventh, west on Seventh to Spring, north on Spring to Second, west on Second to Broadway, to First and countermarched to the junction of Main and Broadway and thence to Luna Park.

The Mayor made a short address opening the carnival from the stage arranged on a platform over Luna Lake. He complimented the Moose officers and the directors of the spectacle on its beautiful appearance.

The Queen was then shown to the throne by the royal escort, and she was crowned by Director W. A. Anderson amid tumultuous applause. The coronation exercises formed one of the unique and interesting features of the evening's programme, and Queen Florence looked and acted like a real queen.

Thousands crowded the various attractions on the midway, which represents in a realistic manner the days of '49. There is a dance hall, "bar," gambling room, with a highly colored roulette wheel running full blast. Red-shirted miners, dancing girls, cowboys, gamblers with three-karat sparklers and checked suits, are found along the midway boulevards.

Thousands of loyal Moose throughout California are coming to Los Angeles during the week to participate in the show. Five hundred are coming from Pomona on Friday. The Oakland Moose have chartered the steamer Harvard, and will bring hundreds of relatives and friends. San Diego expects to bring 800 before the end of the week. Special excursions will be run on all railroads this week to accommodate the great crowds who have heard of the gala festivities planned for the carnival.

They threw raisins at you on the streets—handed you a package. But it was a welcome package, full of wrapped-and-ready-for-eating fruit.

Automobiles crowded to the guards with chorus girls steamed through the streets in the wake of a brass band—as if they needed an announcers! and literally showered the boxes at persons on the sidewalks. The Merchants' Exchange is authority for the statement that the merry songstresses tossed away 20,000 packages of raisins. The Merchants' Exchange ought to know, for it fostered, fathered and grandfathered Raisin Day. It also bossed and managed the celebration.

At the Southern Pacific ticket offices, No. 600 South Spring street, they cut into something early in the morning that was juicier than a melon. It was a loaf of raisin bread nearly six feet long, and it looked as if it weighed a ton with its shoes off. Geel but it was good. The doors swung in at 8 o'clock, and a crowd of early morning celebrants flowed in and asked of four colored breadcutters, "Gimme some raisin bread, please."

They began by giving away 1000 whole loaves of the delicious stuff, and, when they were gone, went back to slicing that enormous loaf of bread. It had a little brother that looked as if it weighed only about half a ton.

The Los Angeles Ad Club celebrated with a raisin luncheon at Levy's Cafe. Everything served had raisins in it.

It didn't stop there. Confectioneries displayed tempting tidbits with raisins as the raison d'etre. Chocolate-coated raisins sold faster than hot cakes in January.

Raisin Day is an institution of the Fresno raisin kings. It isn't a pretty custom—it's a delicious one. There's only one drawback. Raisin Day falls on April 30, and there is only one April 30 in a whole year!

ROAD SYSTEM COMPLETED.

Van Nuys Now Connected With Los Angeles by Splendid Highway. News in Brief.

VAN NUYS, April 30.—Van Nuys is now connected with the city of Los Angeles by an uninterrupted stretch of improved roads. On Tuesday morning the new road, built by the County Commissioners, extending between Lankershim and the eastern terminus of Sherman way, was thrown open for travel. This road is rock macadamed, regulation width, and closes the only gap of dirt road which existed on the main highway leading to the city.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Representatives of the Southern California Edison Company have been in Van Nuys for the last several days soliciting contracts for the use of electricity for power and lighting purposes. All the houses in this place are wired for lighting, which will greatly expedite the securing of this service, which is expected within thirty to sixty days.

B. Limoges, who is identified with the firm which manufactures the celebrated French china which bears his name, and who has been spending the winter in Southern California, is among the recent purchasers of property in Van Nuys. Mr. Limoges expects to build a handsome residence on his property before his return to Canada, where he is stationed in the interests of his firm.

PIONEER PASSES AWAY.

The ranks of Los Angeles' pioneers were lessened yesterday through the death of Charles Harrison White, who passed away at the family residence, No. 2614 East Fourth street, aged 71 years. He had only been sick since last Friday, succumbing to an acute attack of diabetes. White leaves a daughter, Mrs. Grace W. Held, and a son, H. L. White, a sergeant in the Police Department. Arrangements have not been made for the funeral. White was born in Howard county, Missouri, and when he retired from active business twenty-six years ago came to Los Angeles.

The following temples will act as escort to the Imperial Potentate and during the trip across the country: Aad, Duluth; Kem, Grand Forks, N. D.; Khartum, Winnipeg; Osman, St. Paul; Yeldus, Aberdeen, S. D.; Zuhrah, Minneapolis. The Imperial Potentate special will arrive in two sections, the first at 10:20 o'clock a.m., and the second at 10:40 a.m.

The committee received word yesterday that Nile temple, Seattle, will reach here the evening of May 5; Al Azhar temple, Calgary, Alberta, is due at 6 o'clock a.m. Monday, and the Al Kader special from Portland, Or., a few hours later the same day. The Oakland Shriners will arrive Sunday morning in a special train of eleven coaches. San Francisco has chartered a steamship and will disembark in Los Angeles harbor early Sunday morning.

The Kansas City Shriners will arrive Sunday morning 125 strong. The Missouri fez wearers will bring a genuine "houn' dawg" as mascot. The famous "Houn' Dawg" song will be the official tune of the delegation.

Thirteen of the seventy special trains will come by the Salt Lake route. Six private cars bearing Shriners will also arrive over this line. The officials of the line have made arrangements to provide for 2500 Shriners from Salt Lake.

The Salt Lake specials are as follows: Abou Ben Adhem, Springfield, Mo., seventy-five Nobles, Sunday, 9 a.m.; Mecca, New York City, 100, 3:35 p.m.; Al Koran, Cleveland, 100, 10 a.m.; El Kalah, Salt Lake, 150, noon; Ararat, Kansas City, 125, 9 a.m.; El Kahir, Cedar Rapids, 100, 10:15 a.m.; Za-Ga-Zig, Des Moines, 100, 10 a.m.; Algeria, Helena, fifty, 3 p.m.; Bagdad, Butte, Mont., fifty, 3 p.m.; Bagdad, Grand Rapids, 200, 4:30 a.m.; Moolah, St. Louis, 150, 5 p.m.; Omaha and Sioux City temples, 100, 8:30 p.m.; Medinah, Chicago, 300, 5 p.m.; Damascus, Rochester, ninety, 12:30 p.m.; Allepo, Boston, 100, 3 p.m.; Isis, Salina, Kan., 10 a.m. Hamasa and Wahabi, Meridian, Miss., fifty, arrive Saturday morning and the Ft. Worth Shrine with seventy-five Nobles is due Sunday afternoon.

THURSDAY BIG DAY.

Thursday will be the big day of the entire Shrine week—if there is to be any one big day. On that day the monster floral procession will be held. Over 100 magnificent flower-decked floats will be seen in the procession. Almost every type of flora, wild and cultivated, known to botanists and flower lovers of Southern California will cover the floats. Five hundred school children, appropriately costumed, will ride on the floats with characters representing all the monarchs of old Spain and France, bishops of the olden days and great men of the Protestant and Catholic history of early California.

SPEECH, CUT SHORT.

POMONA, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A delayed automobile made Senator Robert La Follette an hour late in arriving to address a meeting at the Fraternal Aid Theater this afternoon. While the crowd was awaiting the Senator's arrival music was furnished by local vocalists and Pomona College boys. Senator La Follette was greeted with the cheers of the large audience, the theater being crowded, and had launched into an interesting speech when his manager admonished him that he must start at once for Los Angeles in order to catch the train for San Francisco tonight. Senator La Follette left amid incessant applause and cheers, promising to visit Pomona again if possible. A. N. Bates presided at the meeting.

SHAVES RATES.

gas, $35,000; making a total saving to the public and loss to the companies of $658,000.

The reductions which will affect most people are the dropping the price of gas from 80 cents to 75 cents, in the city proper, electric light from 7 cents to 6½ cents per kilowatt hour, and the minimum from 75 cents to 65 cents.

The water rates are subject to approval of the Council and the recommendation adopted by the commission last night contemplates no change in the rates now paid in the city proper nor in San Pedro, but there is a considerable reduction in the rates of the Union Hollywood Water Company.

The following are the schedules adopted: Gas, in the city proper, 75 cents instead of 80 cents per 1000 feet; in Wilmington, $1.30 instead of $1.35 per 1000 feet.

Electric light—minimum, 65 cents; first 100 kilowatt hours at 6½ cents; 150 at 6 cents; 250 at 5½ cents; 500 at 4½ cents; 1000 at 3½ cents; next 1000 at 2.6 cents; 3000 and over at 2.3 cents. Last year's rates—minimum, 75 cents; 250 kilowatt hours at 7 cents; next 250 at 6 cents; 500 at 5 cents; 1000 at 4 cents; 2000 at 3 cents; 4000 and over at 2¾ cents.

Electric power—minimum, $1 or 35 cents for each horse power installed; 100 kilowatt hours at 6 cents; 200 at 5 cents; next 200 at 4 cents; 500 at 3½ cents; next 500 at 2½ cents; next 500 at 2 cents; 1000 at 1.8 cents; 3000 and over at 1.2 cents. Last year's rates—minimum, $1 or 50 cents for each horse power installed; 100 kilowatt hours at 7 cents; 200 at 6 cents; next 200 at 5 cents; 500 at 4 cents; next 500 at 3 cents; next 500 at 2½ cents; 1000 at 2 cents; next 1000 at 1½ cents; 4000 and over, 1.4 cents.

The above rates will be published, and if there is no protest within thirty days, will be in force. If the protest from any quarter is deemed sufficient, the Council may hold hearings, and has the power to override the Utilities Commission and change the rates.

Water rates—the recommendation of the commission is as follows: A uniform rate of $1.40 for all water consumption of 800 cubic feet or under is provided on the lines of the Hollywood Union Water Company. For each 100 feet in excess of 800 feet a charge of 11½ cents per hundred cubic feet; orchard irrigation, $1.25 for 800 cubic feet with a charge of 7½ cents per 100 cubic feet for excess. Under an injunction of the court the Union Hollywood Water Company has been collecting $1.60, and the difference between that and the rate fixed by the city has been impounded in the court, awaiting the outcome of litigation, in which a decision is pending. The rate is now fixed at $1.40 flat, with 11½ cents for excess. All other rates for the Union Hollywood Water Company stand. These rates, as stated above, are subject to approval by the City Council.

IN FEAR OF HUSBAND.

Young Italian Woman Seeks Refuge in Humane Society Rooms—Warrant Issued for the Man's Arrest.

With fear haunting her large, dark eyes 19-year-old Elizabeth Cannitello sought refuge at the rooms of the Humane Society yesterday. A few minutes later a warrant was sworn out for Sam Cannitello, erstwhile barber, and according to the police, a man now going along dangerous lines.

The petite Italian wife told a story that moved Humane Officer McLaughlin to anger. She said her husband locked her up in a room, a prisoner for six months, beating her every day. When he was in a playful mood, she said, he used her as a human target. His mother and father held the girl wife immovable while Sam hurled plates at her, according to her story.

McLaughlin said yesterday that the neighbors of the little house the Cannitellos occupied at No. 1809 North Main street, corroborated Elizabeth as to the beatings. Investigating further McLaughlin states, the young woman's story that Cannitello was arrested by the police March 18 on a battery charge. Direfully threatened with the vengeance of the Black Hand, Mrs. Cannitello refused to appear against him and the charge was dismissed, they said. His name does not appear on the police records, however, and the officers think he gave an assumed one.

HUNDRED FOUR MILLIONS.

Los Angeles Bank Clearings Last Month Greatest in the History of Great Financial City.

Bank clearings for April exceeded all expectations, the total being $104,-101,914. April was, therefore, the greatest month in the history of clearings in Los Angeles, running several millions above those of last year and leaving all other years far in the rear.

The March clearings were $93,242,-804, which was the record to that time, but below April's total by $11,-000,000. Four days could have been cut off April clearing and then the amount would have been almost as large as that of March.

Clearings of the year to May 1 are more than $377,000,000, or about $77,000,000 more than those of the corresponding period last year.

In April last year the clearings were $79,430,822, and for April, 1910, they were $74,041,104.

Pasadena.

Health Officers in Convention in Crown City.

Teamsters Have an Advocate Before the Council.

PASADENA, May 1.—City health officers from many municipalities in Los Angeles county and several from other parts of the State met at the Hotel Maryland yesterday to discuss what looms up as the greatest problem ahead of them, that of maintaining sanitary conditions when the Panama Canal is opened and the rush of immigration begins.

All are agreed that the establishment of a quarantine station at San Pedro will be an absolutely necessary step on the part of the government. But, as this is looked for as a matter of course, no action was taken regarding it. The afternoon was given over to an address by Dr. William A. Weldon of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service. He took "Immigration" for his theme, and a general discussion followed his remarks, which, to a large extent, were of a technical nature.

The physicians assembled again in the evening to listen to a paper on "Electric Treatment of Sewage" by Robert S. Allen of this city, and one on "Garbage Disposal" by Dr. L. M. Powers, City Health Officer of Los Angeles.

The two meetings were preliminary to the Southern California Medical Society convention, which opens here today. The first session will convene at the Hotel Maryland at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. About one hundred physicians will attend and the conference in many ways will be one of the most important the organization will ever have had. Dr. Stanley P. Black of this city will preside.

Many of the delegates arrived last night, and the others are due early this morning. Tomorrow morning the visitors will be shown the attractions of the city from automobiles.

CLEAR COURSE AHEAD.

City officials yesterday took a deep breath of comfort upon hearing that Mayor Thum had been given verbal assurance by the County Supervisors that the recently-enacted ordinance abolishing piggeries in the county after today will not be enforced in the case of Pasadena until the projected garbage incinerator is completed. That is, the Mayor said he had talked with the Supervisors and that they had smiled and had not said they would compel Pasadena to abandon using the City Farm at once. He took this to be tacit assurance that time for the erection of the incinerating plant will be allowed.

The City Council yesterday had before it for consideration a petition signed by 492 residents of the city who protest against the enforcement of the new ordinance, decreeing that no wagons shall stand in city streets without horses attached to them.

Attorney H. N. Tichenor spoke in behalf of the teamsters and maintained that gravel cannot be successfully hauled out of the Arroyo Seco under existing restrictions. He said that the teamsters "are between the devil and the deep sea," for if they do not double their teams to pull out of the Arroyo they are arrested by officers of the Humane Society for cruelty to animals, and if they leave an unattached wagon in the road in order to double up they are arrested by the police for obstructing the thoroughfare.

The Council took the petition under advisement.

The hearing anent the new pavement that was laid on South Orange Grove avenue last winter, which property owners say does not meet requirements of the contract, proceeded for an hour or two. It was finally continued for another week.

HAS A BAD FALL.

W. D. Kann, of No. 317 West Green street, a lineman employed by the Southern California Edison Company, at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon fell from a South Loop Pacific Electric car near the Southern Pacific depot.

He struck the pavement heavily and sustained severe injuries. His head was cut, one arm was sprained, and it is feared he may have suffered internal injuries.

He was caried unconscious into a drug store near by and later taken to his home in an ambulance.

JUDGES ARE APPOINTED.

Judges who are to award prizes at the May festival to be given at Carmelita Playgrounds next Saturday were named yesterday. Mrs. Thomas E. Curtin, Mrs. Pinney Watson and Mrs. H. C. French will make the awards for roses exhibited by amateurs, while the entries of private growers will be judged by W. L. Green, A. Urquhart, Ernest Braunton and William Hertrich. The judging will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning. The afternoon programme will open at 2:30 o'clock and no admission will be charged. Twenty different folk dances will be danced by children who have been practicing for weeks past. All will be in costume.

There will be still another feature of the day, an evening entertainment, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The programme has been arranged under direction of George H. Swarthout, who has charge of the playgrounds.

DONNING BRIGHT COLORS.

The decorating of the city for Pasadena Day of the Shriners' conclave next Monday, is now in progress and yesterday many emblematic pennants and decorations of one kind and another were attached to the fronts of the business blocks of the city or hung in windows.

Pasadena will do everything within her power to make the day a memorable one for visiting Masons and their wives and families and uncles and cousins and aunts that come with them. Preparations have been in progress for several months. It was announced by the Committee on Entertainment yesterday that Porter's Band, a band of forty pieces, will provide the music at Tournament Park in the afternoon. The City Commissioners yesterday appropriated $90 to swell the funds.

Monday will be essentially a day of music. Besides this band, there will be the bands of all patrols that will participate in the programme, singing by the famous choir of the Moolah Temple, of St. Louis, and the music of the Aloha Temple musicians from Honolulu.

CITY BRIEFS.

The rain that fell last Sunday night added .02 of an inch to the seasonal precipitation, which is now 17.87 inches, according to Observer Sorver's guage.

Nurses who are soon to graduate from the Pasadena Mospital school will present a propo will present a repocity day programme at the Shakespeare Clubhouse next Friday. The programme will follow a luncheon to be served at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Questions of professional interest will be discussed and several will speak on different lines of work that women's clubs of Southern California have taken up.

Three different parent-teacher organizations of the city will hold meetings today. They are the parent-teacher association of the Grover Cleveland, Andrew Jackson and James A. Garfield schools. The meetings will be held at the respective school buildings. Interesting programmes have been arranged.

Many Pasadenans will go to Sierra Madre this morning to see the start in of the Fifth Annual Mt. Wilson Hill-climbing Contest. Some planned last night to get an early start and ascended the mountain in order to witness the finish.

FOUR BUSY MONTHS.

Building Activity at Pomona Surpasses All Records and Prospects Are for Its Continuance.

POMONA, April 30.—Building activity continues here and the permits issued for the first four months of this year total about $15,000. The large five-story fire-proof building of the Pomona Investment Company at the corner of Third and Thomas streets will be completed July 1. Work is progressing well on the $11,000 apartment house being built for Mrs. Mabel Esterly at Fourth and Gordon streets. Contractor Heckman is rushing the $3000 enlargement to the Christian Science chapel and the $10,000 addition to the public library will soon be completed.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gascoigne had a narrow escape from death at at nine o'clock last night. They were driving north on Garey avenue in a light runabout and reached the crossing as the east-bound Salt Lake overland train steamed into the station. County Auditor Lewis happened to be standing on the sidewalk and shouted warning to Gascoigne, who had not seen the engine. Gascoigne wrenched his car to the side and stopped within two feet of the oncoming train.

Members of the Pomona Masonic lodge enjoyed "ladies night" at the Masonic temple this evening. There was a pleasing literary and musical programme and refreshments were served.

Rev. T. T. Creswell of the First Presbyterian Church has just finished his sixth year as pastor here and during his pastorate, 766 members have been added to the church, over $105,000 has been raised by the congregation for church buildings and expenses and over $6000 has been raised for benevolent purposes. The church is entirely free from debt.

Messrs. Clarence and Frank Bates have purchased the Northside Grocery on Garey avenue from Flegler and Sons. The Messrs. Bates fomerly lived here.

EAGLES PLAN A CARNIVAL.

Redondo Beach Fraternalists Appoint Committee to Arrange Details of Summer Merry Making.

REDONDO BEACH, April 30.—The local Aerie of Eagles is planning to give a big street carnival here to continue from July 14 to July 22. The carnival will be held on the vacant lots at the junction of Diamond and Pacific streets, and will extend to Commercial street. The committee in charge of the affair is Cleveland Hoansler, James Ferguson, James Roach and F. Langer.

Capt. F. H. Walters has returned from San Francisco, where he went to arrange for the overhauling of the tug Collia, which is to be made into an excursion boat for this port. About $15,000 will be expended on the tug and it will be made into a modern excursion boat. Electric lights will be installed, her deck house will be widened and other changes made in the tug, which will carry about 200 passengers. The tug recently was transferred from the Southern Pacific company to the Pacific Electric company.

The overhauling of the boat will probably be completed within thirty days and it will return to this harbor from San Francisco to enter the excursion business for the summer.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Mat Burns, charged with the robbery of Edward Cook on the beach last Thursday night, was given his preliminary hearing before Judge L. F. Wells this morning and bound over to the Superior Court on a bail of $1000. Burns is alleged to have struck Cook senseless while in company with him and a third man on the beach and to have robbed him $118.

The Ladies of the Maccabees of this city will give a dance at Hote. Redondo May 16.

Long Beach.

AN OFFENSE TO ARTISTIC EYES.

Long Beach Would Preserve Architectural Harmony.

Building Permits for Month Were Exceptionally Large.

Marvelous Tale of Mexican Bandits Is Related.

LONG BEACH, April 30.—The recent removal to the new and pretty residence districts of the city of old houses from the downtown district, taken away to make room for business blocks, has aroused such a storm of protest from the home lovers of Long Beach who are striving for a "city beautiful," that the Council has started on its passage an ordinance forbidding the removal of any houses not complying with the building ordinance into that section of the city bounded by Maine street on the west, Anaheim road on the north and Grand avenue on the east, covering practically the entire residential part of the city.

The result of this ordinance will be to make available for kindling wood many old structures which were built when Long Beach was just rising from a sheep pasture.

EUREKA DEPARTS.

The steamship Eureka, which was recently put into commission between this city and Mexican ports by the North Pacific Company, left tonight on her farewell trip. Delays in getting shipments here by rail is alleged to be the reason.

The Eureka has made three trips and on two of these the railroads caused a delay of several hours by failure to switch promptly. The eleven cars of cement carried today left Riverside last Friday and arrived last night.

WOULD COME WEST.

So anxious is their desire to leave the East and Middle West and come to California that educators of prominence and renown are willing to give up positions commanding higher salaries than offered here for the position of city superintendent of schools. The Board of Education has over a dozen applications of this sort, but has decided to move carefully in the selection of a successor to Superintendent Graham, whose contract ends with this year.

MANY PERMITS.

During the month of April, closed today, Building Inspector Twombley issued 161 permits of the contract value of $270,066, which is an increase of $158,274 over last month. For the four months of this year 579 permits have been issued of the contract value of $855,290. The same months last year the permits reached $543,516.

TELLS OF BANDITS.

J. W. Morris arrived in the city today and tells of a thrilling experience he had Friday night with a band of Mexican bandits. Morris was one of a gang of steam-shovel men working on the railroad from San Diego to Yuma and when the bandits appeared they dropped everything and hotfooted it across country for sixty-five miles until they reached a railroad. The Mexicans pursued them for several hours but finally abandoned the chase.

AN AWFUL ROAD.

Residents of Florida avenue learning for the first time that they must pay $8000 damages awarded other residents of the street for the opening of the northern part of the thoroughfare, while they had voluntarily given of their own holdings free, invaded the Council last night and raised such a protest that the Council agreed to abandon proceedings if court costs were paid, which was agreed tto. The damages had been assessed against sixty-nine pieces of property.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Rev. O. H. L. Mason, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church has announced that on next Sunday he will give reasons for believing that a saloon and more liberal policies toward the Pike would make Long Beach a better city. Coming from such a source the announcement has created a buzz of excitement and promises a crowded church next Sunday.

John McGowan, the elderly man who was struck by a Salt Lake train some weeks ago, is partially paralyzed and his speech somewhat effected as the result of a small piece of bone pressing at the point where his skull was fractured and a surgical operation will be performed in a few days to relieve it.

Executive officers of the various civic organizations of the city met tonight to discuss the proposed campaign for a commission form of government and crystallize into activity the movement.

MUST CLEAN THINGS UP.

Monrovia Trustees Set Aside Day for Putting the Municipal House In Order—News Briefs.

MONROVIA, April 30.—At the request of the Merchants' Association the Board of Trustees last night issued a proclamation declaring Monday, May 13, a day set aside for municipal furbishing in preparation for the three-day carnival beginning May 16.

All resident owners are required to clean parkways and vacant lots of weeds and rubbish and absentee owners must either delegate the work to some local agent or the city will perform it, the expense becoming a lien on the property until liquidated.

NEW BROOM SWEEP.

Few new brooms sweep as clean as the recently elected majority of the Board of Trustees. Of the trained departmental heads and subordinates only a corporal's guard will be left to answer roll call tomorrow morning. Even the volunteer fire organization was placed in line and at last night's meeting there was mention of replacing the board of library trustees. Mayor Dorland stated that difficulty had been met in finding successors to Trustees W. B. Scarborough and H. S. McKee, who resigned. H. Russel Greaves was elected last night to fill one vacancy and the Mayor expressed the hope that the fifth member would be secured this week.

Preparations for the carnival of May 16, 17 and 18 continue apace and enthusiasm increases as the days draw near. Not the least interesting features of the preparations is the voting contest for the queen. Unaffiliated and impartial voters are handicapped in making choice by the belief that all five nominees deserve to be elected. Undoubtedly many split their ballots and will contribute to keeping the result in doubt until the last day of the contest, May 6.

Santa Monica.

SANTA MONICANS ASSURED OF THE MARYLAND'S ARRIVAL.

Rumors of Transfer to Mexican Waters Are Thus Set at Rest. Aerial Trolley Company Asks for Franchise and Promises a Five-cent Fare to the Beach.

SANTA MONICA, April 30.—Although the flagship Maryland, now at San Diego, is thought to be held under war orders waiting any sudden call to steam at once to the west coast of Mexico, advices were received here this afternoon from the Navy Department stating that, agreeable to promises made several weeks ago, the Maryland would be anchored at this beach during the automobile road races and the visit of the Shriners.

The message to the Chamber of Commerce was to the effect that the Maryland would anchor off the municipal pier here Thursday morning, May 2, and would remain in these waters until May 12. The length of her stay depends, of course, upon the situation in Mexico. The flagship will be open to visitors each day, and while it is here the officers will be tendered a ball and banquet. It is promised that shore leave will be granted to 600 men during the stay of the ship here.

TROLLEY IN MID-AIR.

Last night the City Council received the formal application of the Fawkes Aerial Railway Company for a franchise for the construction and operation of a railway of this description here. The route selected for the experimental line is on Fremont avenue from tidewater to Sawtelle on the east.

The objective point of the proposed new road is Los Angeles, the remaining portion of the franchise interesting Sawtelle and the county. The promise of the builders is to give a 5-cent fare in this city; begin work within four months after the issuance of the franchise, and pay the city a percentage of the gross receipts after five years. The proposed franchise is to be offered at public sale to the highest bidder at a date late in May. The application will be considered by the Council Friday night.

ACTION DEFERRED.

"As charges have been made, I move that action on the application for new liquor licenses be deferred for one week in order to give the Council an opportunity to investigate." This was the motion made by Councilman Butzer last night. It prevailed, and the liquor question is still the burning issue. He did not state what the charges were, who had preferred them or what principle or persons they involved, and the Council named no committee to make the investigation. The action was surprising to the hundreds of protestants, who had been informed that at a secret session the Council had agreed to indorse the recommendation of the Police Commission and refuse to grant the new licenses.

In demanding city mail delivery for the southern end of the city, the Council has joined the Mayors of the two cities and the three postmasters in declining to pull Congressional chestnuts out of the fire. The request of Representative Stephens to the officials was that they make a recommendation relative to the consolidation of the beach postoffice. This request they have gracefully sidestepped. Now come resolutions demanding city delivery and ignoring the insistence of postal inspectors for consolidation of the three offices. The resolutions do not prescribe from what office free delivery should be made, but intimate that postal consolidation would be unsatisfactory.

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED.

South Pasadena Trustees Are Organized for the Year's Work—City Will Help the Women.

SOUTH PASADENA, April 30.—At an adjourned meeting of the Board of Trustees held in the Council Chambers last evening, the following committees were appointed: Finance, George Adams and Harry Hawgood; Streets and Parks, Harry Hawgood and Herbert J. Vatcher, Sr.; Police and Sanitation, Charles Wilson and George Adams; Street Lighting, Herbert J. Vatcher, Sr., and Charles Wilson.

No appointments of officials were made for the ensuing two years, but these appointments will probably be made at the next regular meeting to be held two weeks from last evening.

WILL HELP.

At the request of the South Pasadena Chamber of Commerce and the Women's Improvement Association of this city, the Trustees last evening decided to give the services of the street force, including the teams and wagons, for "clean-up" day next Monday. The services of this force are for the private property owner as well as the streets, but the owner will get all of his rubbish in piles, which will be hauled away by the street force.

This movement is a commendable one, and it is hoped that every resident in the city will co-operate, in order that South Pasadena will be one of the most cleanly cities in Southern California.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The High School students have done splendid work this year in the debating league with Anaheim, Pasadena, Covina, Whittier, Los Angeles, Long Beach and Hollywood high schools. South Pasadena stands in the first place, nine points ahead of any other team. The championship debate will be held May 24 with Hollywood High, the school next in order. Helen Royce and Ward Fowler of this city have been chosen to represent the school, and all preparations are now being made. Superintendents Bush and Snyder, respectively, of the two schools, will select judges for the affair, which will take place in the local High School, and is causing enthusiasm among the pupils, who are certain of victory. The subject for the debate will be "The Single Tax."

NOBLES TRAVEL DE LUXE.

Medinah Temple of Chicago Will Send Three Hundred to Los Angeles in Three Special Trains.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Members of Medinah Temple and their wives, to the number of 200, will leave in three special trains over the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, Thursday, at 11 p.m., for Los Angeles, to attend the thirty-eighth annual convention of the Imperial Council, Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

The Chicago delegation will be headed by Illustrious Potentate Robert J. Daly. The Arab Patrol and Medinah Temple band will make the trip. Funds for the march of the patrol and band were obtained by means of the recent "Society Circus" produced by members of the temple, which was a pronounced success.

The special trains will be known over the route as the "Medinah Temple de Luxe Specials," and are scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles Sunday evening.

Besides the Illustrious Potentate, other officials of the temple who will be in the party are: John Heist, Oscar A. Kropf, Nelson N. Lampert, and Past Imperial Potentate Frank C. Roundy.

IMPRISONED FOR A YEAR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—Samuel Keller, head of the Broadway Bargain Company, pleaded guilty today to a Federal indictment charging the use of the mails to swindle out-of-town merchants of goods worth more than $100,000.

On one count of the indictment Judge Holt sentenced Keller to a term of a year and a day in the Federal Prison at Atlanta.

STEEL EARNINGS FALL OFF.

Corporation Fails to Yield Dividends for Quarter by More Than Six Million Dollars.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—That the United States Steel Corporation failed to earn its dividends on the preferred and common shares for the first three months of this year by more than $6,000,000 was disclosed today at the quarterly meeting of the directors.

Earnings amounted to $17,826,973. After making the usual allowance for depreciation and other regular fixed charges, including the sinking fund, earnings were reduced to $12,108,415.

A further deduction of $5,741,849, representing interest for the quarter for the outstanding issues, reduced the balance applicable to dividends to $6,366,566. Inasmuch as $12,653,700 was necessary to meet dividend requirements on the preferred and common shares, a deficit of $6,292,134 was created. In the language of the official statement, this was "provided from the undivided surplus on December 31, 1911."

Today's meeting was largely attended and unusually prolonged. It was rumored that some of the directors favored a reduction of the common dividend because of the showing, but this was denied.

CABINET MEMBERS RESIGN.

CARACAS (Venezuela) April 30.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The Venezuelan Cabinet resigned today. The reason for the step is not indicated. The directors of the various ministries have taken charge temporarily of the various developments.

Celebrated Specialists DRS. SHORES Twenty Years Experience

EVERY sick person is vitally interested in knowing the exact nature of their disease, and the probabilities of a permanent cure. It is presumed that if you are sick you are taking medical treatment. Does your doctor tell you frankly what your trouble is, or does he evade your questions? Does he know how to treat your troubles and give you relief? Or does he experiment with first one thing and then other? Are you getting results from his treatment or do you stay the same or get worse? Answer these questions for yourself—look at the matter in a strictly business light. You are paying for a cure; but what are you getting for the money? Make no mistake.

If you want to know all about your trouble—what it is, if and how it can be cured, what it will cost—DRS. SHORES & SHORES offer a FREE medical examination, and free advice, to all who apply THIS WEEK. Begin treatment now and get cured.

WE TREAT ALL CHRONIC DISEASES.

Drs. Shores not only treat Catarrh, but they treat Nervous Diseases, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Bladder Troubles, Heart Diseases, Rectal Diseases, Nervous Debility, Skin and Blood Diseases, Asthma, Consumption, Chronic Bronchial and Lung Troubles, Sciatica, Rheumatism, Hay Fever, Neuralgia, Hysteria, Deafness, Ear Diseases, Goitre, Epilepsy, La Grippe, Varicocele, etc., and all forms of Nervous, Chronic and Private Diseases that Modern Offices, up-to-date appliances and treatment, Electricity, etc. Dr. C. W. Shores are curable.

CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND EAR NOISES.

Why not try the treatment that cures? We have published many testimonials from well-known and reliable people who have been cured of Catarrh, Asthma, Deafness and Ear Noises. If you suffer from any Chronic Ailments, why not come and see the Doctors who cure?

Blight of a Bad Breath.

Do people shun you because you have an offensive breath? Certain forms of catarrh, commonly called "ozena" or dry catarrh, have a very offensive odor.

LIVER

Kidney

Troubles, Pain in Back, Burning or Smarting when urinating, Puffiness under the Eyes, Head these warnings. Bring a sample of urine and have it tested free.

Chronic Diseases a Specialty

Drs. Shores have spent many years in the study and treatment of Catarrh, Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases of Men, Women and Children. They have treated over 100,000 cases in the past twenty years, an experience rarely ever granted any specialists, and have gleaned therefrom information that is invaluable to sick people. They would not attempt to treat Scarlet Fever or Diphtheria at any price, not because they don't know how, but because they have not given it the thought and constant study that other doctors have, and, in short, it is not in their line of specialties. Every moment is given to the study of Catarrh, Consumption, Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases. There is where they excel, and there is where they can serve you better than most anyone else. Don't be a permanent invalid.

They know what causes Catarrh. They know how to cure it. They know what causes Stomach Trouble. They know how to cure it, instead of merely relieving it. They have studied the Liver, the Kidneys, the Ears, the Throat, the Lungs, and Private Diseases, and they know what to do for these troubles. Drs. Shores are regular Graduates and Licensed Physicians and are Strictly Reliable.

Big Clothiers Lose Lease

Court Approves Sale of Building to Parties Who Will Erect Skyscraper

Having a long lease on the building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Spring Streets, the Monroe-Davis-Herington Co. had expected to remain there indefinitely. However, the lease was terminated without notice when the court approved the sale of the building.

As the parties purchasing the property intend erecting a skyscraper in the near future, an effort to secure a new lease would be futile.

Consequntly, these big clothiers and men's furnishers must look for new quarters. The prospects, at present, for securing suitable quarters to accommodate their large patronage are not very promising.

Having just received several hundred carloads of new spring suits and men's furnishings for their summer trade, this company was in a quandary as to the best method of procedure to overcome the serious proposition confronting them.

After due consideration they decided the only thing to do was to heavily underprice every garment and article of men's furnishings on sale tomorrow, 8 a.m., in the hope of making a quick clean-up of their tremendous stock in the short time remaining before they will have to vacate.

In addition to their large spring stock they have a large number of Sample Suits brought in by their wholesale department traveling salesmen, which will be placed on sale at $10—barely the cost of material alone. All regular suit prices are cut to 50 per cent and more.

The following are some of the astonishing prices placed on their various articles of clothing and furnishings:

Men's $15 Suits and Overcoats, $5.45; the $13 ones at $4.85; good $25 values at $8.75 and $37.50 values for $9.65.

Boys' $2.50 Suits, 95c; $4.50 Suits, $1.65; $5.00 Suits, $2.35; Sweater Coats, $1 values at 49c; $2 values at 98c; $3 values at $1.50; $4 values, $1.95, and $5 values at $2.35. Then there are $2 and $3 hats at 98c, and $3.50 and $4 hats $1.75.

Fine Underwear in 39c, 50c and 60c grade, 23c; $1 and $1.25 values at 49c, and $1.50 values at 69c. Ties are on sale in 25c, 35c, 50c values for 15c; 60c and 75c ties, 19c.

Men's Work Shirts, 75c values, 39c; white $2 fine shirts, in madras, percales, etc., are 85c. Then, too, 15c, 20c and 25c Hosiery is 8 1-3c. Men's Pants, $3 values, $1.48; $5 values, $2.35. The $2 Union Suits at 98c; $3 grades, $1.25; $1 Night Shirts for 49c; $2 Night Shirts and Pajamas, 98c; $2.50 grades, $1.25; Handkerchiefs, branded and marked 12½c by the manufacturer, 5c; and 25c White-Foot Hose, 8 1-3c; 33 1-3c Hose, 13½c; 50c Caps, 18c.

And just think, for 5c you can buy 12½c handkerchiefs, 12½c rubber collars, 15c arm bands and 15c silk bow ties. Fifteen cents will buy 35c mercerized silk hose, 35c wool hose, 35c wash ties, 25c Boston Garters and 25c pad garters. For 19c, 35c Athletic Mesh underwear, 50c neckwear, 35c Balbriggan underwear, 25c suspenders, 50c silk hose, 50c lisle hose and 50c cashmere hose. For 8 1-3c, 20c white foot hose, 20c hose, in black, tan and colors, 20c linene handkerchiefs and 20c garters. For 25c, 75c shirts, new spring patterns, 50c Balbriggan underwear, 50c Porosknit underwear and 50c work gloves. For 39c, 75c Spring Needle ribbed underwear, 75c Balbriggan, double seat, strap back underwear, 50c work shirts, 75c dress gloves. For 25c, 50c and 75c ties, latest knit, wash and tubular, 50c suspenders, 50c underwear and 75c and 50c pure thread silk hose, all colors. For 49c, $1 shirts, cuffs attached and detached, $1 wool underwear, $1 mesh union suits, $1 heavy ribbed underwear. For 95c, $2 wool underwear, $2 ribbed union suits, $2 dress shirts and $2 pongee shirts. For 49c you can buy $1.50 union suits, genuine Cooper Spring Needle underwear and $1.50 and $1.50 shirts, with cuffs attached and detached and detached soft collars, plain or striped effects.

There will be a great many more wonderful bargains offered tomorrow at this big retail store of MONROE-DAVIS-HERINGTON COMPANY, NORTHEAST CORNER SIXTH AND SPRING STREETS, which lack of space will not permit us to mention here.

HIS ECZEMA GONE AND BOILS CURED

Eczema Began When Three Weeks Old. Arms, Shoulders and Breast a Solid Scab. Boils Broke Out During Teething. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and He Was the Picture of Health.

224 E. Jackson St., Colorado Springs, Colo.—"My son was about three weeks old when I noticed a breaking-out on his cheeks, from which a watery substance oozed. A short time after, his arms, shoulders and breast broke out also, and in a few days became a solid scab. The little fellow was under treatment for about three months. By the end of that time, he seemed no better. I became discouraged. I commenced the use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and in a few days noticed a marked change. The eruption on his cheeks was almost healed, and his shoulders, arms and breast were decidedly better. When he was about seven months old, all trace of the eczema was gone.

"During his teething period, his head and face were broken out in boils which I cured with Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Surely he must have been a great sufferer. During the time of teething I used the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, nothing else, and when two years old he was the picture of health. His complexion was soft and beautiful, and his head a mass of silky curls. I had been afraid that he would never be well, and I feel that I owe a great deal to the Cuticura Remedies." (Signed) Mrs. Mary W. Ramsey, Sept. 24, 1910.

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her system, soon loses her personal magnetism. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her amiability and womanly charms. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

By Pierce's Discovery Purifies, regulates and strengthens Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

David Bruce Brown, who will pilot the Benz, Ralph de Palma, the Mercer man, and the most famous Old World pilot; Earl Cooper, the Stutz man; Caley Bragg, the millionaire Pasadenan who will drive the Fiat; H. C. Krouse, the little Reo pilot; Teddy Tetzlaff, the Fiat man, and Bert Dingley, the daring Simplex pilot. All these drivers are groomed for the fiercest and fastest drive in an effort to earn a world record.

BROWN FAVORITE OVER OLDFIELD IN ROAD RACE.

Rain Makes Santa Monica Road Race Course Dangerous as the Cars Rush Through the Early Morning Mist—Benz Breaks All Records for the 8.417 Miles of Road—Course in Better Shape Than Ever Before.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

DAVID BRUCE BROWN yesterday turned the fastest lap ever made on the Santa Monica Road Race course when he circled the 8.417 miles in 5m. 58 2-5s. He looks to be the favorite in the big free-for-all.

Barney Oldfield did not go out for a fast lap, but was content to romp away without giving any of the spectators a line on what his big Fiat can do. Oldfield only drove the back stretches of the course at top speed. He took the turns slowly. His tire record was remarkable.

Ralph De Palma is the favorite in the medium car event. With the Mercer turning laps in 6m. 20s. he is the fastest in the race in which he is entered. The handsome Italian is driving better than ever before and is making better than ninety miles an hour.

Caley Bragg was out in the Fiat 90 yesterday morning. He says he is satisfied with his big 120-horse-power Fiat and will thoroughly overhaul it preparatory to the big race. He is trying the course and only jogged around the turns.

Louis Nikrent appears to be the favorite in the Light Car Race. He flew down the back stretch at eighty miles an hour yesterday morning and looks like a winner. His car is one of the fastest in the light event.

The two Flanders cars were not sent away for fast laps. It is almost impossible to get the dope on these little racers. Jack Tower and Bob Evans seemed to be satisfied with the work done by the racing machines.

Roscoe Anthony on the Regal was one of the wise young drivers in the Light Event. He kept the throng from keeping tab on him, but showed enough speed to win. The Regal is good for eighty miles an hour. It was working perfectly yesterday.

Dead Man's Turn has been rolled and made harder. One of the greatest menaces on the Santa Monica road race course has been improved. The danger of skidding is still great, but Road Overseer Stone has done all in his power to avoid accidents. Thrills are certain to come on the Nevada and Ocean avenue turn, but there is reason to believe that unless the speed craze grips the hearts of the drivers too fiercely the record of the Santa Monica road race course will be sustained and the race this year will not be marred by an accident.

Rain made the practice yesterday morning dangerous. The Palisades were particularly slippery and it was hazardous to drive into the "S" turn at top speed. Brown paid no attention, whatever, to the wet and dangerous pools. He shot away at a speed which none of the other drivers cared to equal. He was supreme king of the speed thrills and had the throng with him.

OLDFIELD'S RECORD.

Vernon Victory.

BEAVER PITCHERS PROVE EASY FOR TIGER BATTERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In an exciting but exceedingly squally and loose jointed contest, featured by a run-in between Umpire Casey and his former team-mate, Happy Hogan, Vernon came from behind in the ninth inning today, and batted in three runs, enough to nail down the lid in the first clash of the third home series. Score, 7 to 5.

Southpaw Raleigh proved an enigma to the locals, the two tallies which put Portland in the lead 5 to 4 in the eighth inning being the only runs earned by the Beavers. McCredie, on the other hand, had to call in three pitchers, Harkness being railroaded in the first inning. Temple relieved him and flung till the ninth inning, when he walked the first man, Litschi, Burrell following with a single. McCredie flung Koestner into the breach at this stage, but Koestner fared little better. He threw wild to first on Brown's sacrifice and filled the bags.

Hogan sent McDonald in to bat for Raleigh. McDonald singled scoring two and after Bayless had singled and filled the bags again Brashear tore out a zipper, scoring Brown.

McCredie jerked two of his southpaw batsmen, Lindsay and Doane early in the melee, and sent in two right-hand youngsters, Bancroft at third and McDowell in rightfield.

Raleigh didn't seem to be able to pitch effectively against the recruits, Bancroft walking once and tallying the run which brought the Beavers closer, 3 to 4 in the seventh, and McDowell walking twice and banging out the double which started the two-run outburst in the eighth.

It was on Bancroft's walk that Manager Hogan protested the fourth ball, and ultimately landed on the bench.

For Portland, Temple scored in the third on Chadbourne's double, after going safe on Brashear's misplay. Bancroft scored in the sixth on a walk, a fielder's choice and Litschi's bobble. Chadbourne tallied the third in the seventh inning on Butler's hit after getting life on a grounder that Patterson and Raleigh spilled up at first.

Such was the situation in the eighth when doubles by McDowell, Rodgers and Chadbourne put Portland in the lead.

VERNON'S RUNS.

Vernon's three runs in the first inning came on walks to Carlisle and Bayless, a sacrifice by Patterson and singles by Brashear and Litschi.

Vernon's run in the fourth inning, followed by a single by Burnell and a triple by Brown that Art Krueger tried to scoop up with one hand.

McDowell, subbing for Doane in right, made a great showing. In addition to the batting McDowell starred with a wonderful catch of Stinson's long drive that looked good for a double in the eighth.

Pitcher Temple reached first base three times in four on errors by the opposition. McDonald was caught at the plate in the ninth inning, trying to make it two tallies on Brashear's single. Chadbourne pegged perfectly to the plate.

Hosp was out of the game at short today because of an injured leg.

Litschi hit the first time up, fanned twice and walked once.

The turf around second base is exceedingly uneven. Rodgers let one get away from him and Brashear two. Last week Leard had a terrible time trying to judge hops.

Carson pitched the last inning af-

Oxy Wins.

WHITTIER COULDN'T HIT BILL ALLEN'S CURVES.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

BILL ALLEN of Oxy defeated the Whittier ball team in one of the fastest college baseball games of the season yesterday afternoon on the Tiger grounds by the score of 6 to 0. We say Bill did the trick, because he was the one stumbling block in the way of Whittier all afternoon. When a little freshman southpaw gets up and shuts out a varsity team in the run column and then allows but one hit, and that in the ninth, it is generally considered that he has arrived as a heaver, and we welcome you Bill, you are there.

For eight long juicy innings, never a Poet got a clean swat and in the ninth, Bill let Sharpless find one over the groove and the same was banged out for a double, then Bill came back and made the third out of the inning by striking out his opponent, Oliver, not Slats, who was considered the one heavy swatter on the team.

The Tigers played a nice game behind Allen and would have won from any college team on the Coast yesterday and if they keep up this stride, we will have to make the dope sheet all over again for the southern baseball championship in intercollegiate ranks.

In telling how the game was won, the Quakers do not figure only in trying to punch all the air out of the park, the boys swing well at Allen's stuff, but that lets them out for the afternoon.

In the first spasm, after the Poets had been blanked one, two, three, Dutch Seay opened for the Tigers with a healthy three-cushion swat into the right field pocket. This jolt took some of the "pep" out of Oliver and Blount walked as a result. Win then stole second. Cap Bishop winged a fast one to Rennecker at second base, which he booted nicely, allowing Seay and Blount to score. Bishop took second while they were trying to grab Blount at the platter. A passed ball put Bishop on the last corner. Then Wieman got on the business end of a hit and run play, scoring the red-headed captain, with the third ace of the canto.

The Tigers made it four nothing in the second frame, when McLain nearly caused the bleachers to die, by tripling over the right fielder's head, he came home on Baer's out at first base.

There was nothing more doing till the seventh, with the exception of some very pretty baseball on the part of the Tiger infield, with Seay and Kirkpatrick showing up in real league style. Another three-cushion swat was the cause of the run in the seventh. Blount walked and was sent down to the keystone pillow by Bishop on a S. H., bunt, Drury Wieman hit the ball over the center fielder's dome and Blount scored in a canter, while Wieman took three bags for the wallop.

In the eighth, Allen got on, when Rennecker booted his grounder going to second on a neat sacrifice by War-

WHITE HOPE COMES HIGH.

Uppercut Liable to Foul Lengthy Aspirant.

Empress Vaudeville Slat Is Eager to Learn.

Boxing Budget Covering All the Live News.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

In looking for White Hopes, it would seem that none of the gumshoe corps have been looking high enough and so for that reason have missed a good bet in the matter of altitude and size.

Og, Gog, and Magog, the three famous heavyweights of Queen Elizabeth's time, would be rank outsiders when compared with this new find, George Auger, who is posing as Jack the Giant Killer at the Empress this week. He can't find any real giants so wrote a letter to our friend Tom Jones, and said that he was sure that white hope possibilities were resting under his skin and would Tom take up his cause and see what could be done in the way of laying out a campaign for the utter wiping out of John Arthur Johnson, who at the present time is sitting on the heavyweight throne without even a sign of an upheaval.

If Jones could use Auger as a lever he might bring about this much looked for upheaval, but methinks he would not be a class "A" gimlet. A few facts and specifications on the floor plan of this exterminator of the Sons of Ham.

He is seven feet ten inches tall and has a reach of ninety-six inches. At the present time, he is struggling around with 350 pounds net weight, but says that under a hard course of training he feels confident that he can tip the beam at 296 ringside, and further states that he would be fast at this weight, but it is a cinch to get fast at this tonnage he would have to be kept in motion all the time for it would be disastrous to stop after once starting as would take fully a minute to get up speed again, working on the basis of the present street car system.

NEED NEW RULES.

If ever Tom Jones should get this mountain of human flesh and bone into the ring, a new set of fighting articles would have to be brought to light before any real matches could possibly be scheduled. In the first place the W. H. would have to have a special clause inserted permitting him to wear shin guards, because when lined up with any ordinary citizen, the O. C.'s nose hits about his waist and any upper cuts would surely land on the shin bone. His opponent would have to have a clause prohibiting any pile-driver blows, as from his great weight Auger would be able to decapitate almost any man.

Somebody got busy yesterday and asked if this big fellow had ever fought anywhere. No, he never has

[A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—According to a statement by Packy McFarland here, his $10,000 reward for defeating Matt Wells, the English lightweight champion, brings his total winnings in the ring up to an even $110,000. His figures show that an additional $90,000 represents his earnings in theatrical side lines, making a grand total of $200,000 since he knocked out his first opponent, Pete West, in two rounds eight years ago. He received only $25 for that bout.

When McFarland left the garden after whipping Wells, he hurried back to his quarters in the Bronx and sent out for a quart of ice cream. As he slowly got away with it, he remarked: "This is my weakness, boys. It makes me feel fine."

Sensational Run in Tenth Inning Nets Victory for Tigers—Hallinan of St. Louis Browns Spiked in Cleveland and Is Carried from Field—Vean Gregg Does Great Work for Naps.

CHICAGO, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ty Cobb scored from first base on a single in the tenth inning today, and Detroit won from the White Sox. The Sox had tied up the score in the ninth inning, a two-base hit by Bodie sending two runs across the plate.

Bodie made a great throw from center to catch Cobb at third in the final round, the ball beating the Georgia Peach by five feet, but Tannehill muffed the throw, Cobb racing on toward home.

Hallinan of the St. Louis Browns had to quit in the sixth inning of the Cleveland game. He was spiked, and had to be carried from the field. He had poled out a two-base hit on his last trip to the bat.

Vean Gregg, who worked for the Naps, struck out eight men and did not issue a base on balls. He was hit safely eleven times, but in all but the eighth inning he managed to keep the swats well scattered. Olson and Ryan both pilfered a base and Buddy had two hits to his credit.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—In response to a telegram from J. B. Franklin, president of the Southern Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, requesting information in regard to the Olympic tug-of-war try-outs, the American Olympic Committee today sent the following message:

"Subscriptions received up to date do not warrant taking a tug-of-war team. Try-outs might create false impressions that a tug-of-war team would be sent. Committee, however, will authorize try-outs in Chicago with understanding that the winning team must finance its own trip to Stockholm."

New Regime.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

YESTERDAY afternoon at one-thirty, a new football regime was started at the University of Southern California, when Graduate-Manager Warren Bovard signed up with Clarence C. Manning of the university to act as coach of the varsity rugby team for the coming season.

This is the first time in the history of the institution that a student coach has been employed and all the football fans of the South will be anxiously awaiting the outcome of the experiment, this season. There should be no reason why Manning should not turn out a winning aggregation next fall, he has had six years of practical work in the English game and knows American rugby from the ground up. The old-time theory that an expert from the old world was the only man who could successfully handle the situation, has long been exploded and what we want for the American teams is American coaches.

They know the men and also the conditions under which the college man in the United States must labor to get the new sport well planted in the brain and body of the local college player. For many years, they have been taught to buck the line and do any number of things which are not in the rugby schedule and it comes hard to change all at once from the old style to the new, but the university made good last season with a rush that will long be remembered on the Pacific Coast.

Manning is well fitted to take hold of the situation here and his six years of rugby have been right in the South and he knows how to get men into physical condition and then adapt their play to the environment on the coast and further, will hold many of the local stars here.

During four years, Manning was the main-stay of the Polytechnic High School team and then after graduating from the Poly squad, he worked one season with the Law School rugby team and last year was the veteran on the U. S. C. varsity team. Manning is twenty-six years of age and one of the most steady members of the squad.

Manager Bovard says that if the university can't play the game this fall, it will be through no fault on the part of the institution itself, as Coach Manning and Capt. Adamson are going to be sent to the wilds of Stanford and Berkeley this fall for two weeks, spending one week at each place. They will get all the new dope and many valuable ideas on coaching and formations. This is extremely the fact that the northern universities start two weeks earlier than the local colleges.

The team, as it will probably line up for the opening of the season this September, has all the ear marks of a winner. In the famous scrum, Capt. Adamson, will be the kingpin, backed up by Cliff Swarts, Teschke, Murphy and Livernash, all the latter men being veterans of one year's standing. Pat Grant, who graduated from Poly last year, will also be in the front rank.

In the back field, we find Tod Wright and Don Wallace, both of which, in the opinion of Pat Higgins, the famous rugby authority, were two of the best men in the South last season. Secor, from Poly, is also slated for the backfield with the two Haney brothers, Bill and Carl.

The missing ones will be Foss, Maddock and Mililkan, but the new blood should off set this loss to a certain extent. One of the big features of the season will be the Thanksgiving date between the university team and the Sherman Indians. In the past, some of the greatest football battles on record have been between these two teams and the whole football West is agog over the possibility of the old rivalry being renewed. The entire city turned out in the old days to see the games and there should be no reason why the park should not be filled to over-flowing this fall. The Sherman team will be the only rugby Indian team in the world and here is another feature.

There is one thing for which the loyal southern fans should be thankful, and that is the fact that the southern athletes will now have a chance at home. With U. S. C., Sherman and all the larger high schools playing rugby, it is only a matter of one or two seasons until Oxy and Pomona will once more fill out a full local football schedule, they will come to rugby sooner or later, and the sooner the better.

Mere Strength Won't Do

You're buying a pleasure car—not a motor truck. The chassis of the new Moon "40" is 20 horsepower stronger than its 46 horsepower motor—no car need, should or could be stronger. But grace, style, class and comfort are also requisites—generously provided in The Character Car.

A car is no greater than the pleasure it gives—the pride it prompts—as well as the safety it includes.

The owner of the new Moon "40," with men passengers, is eager to explain that his car has the T-head long-stroke motor—120-inch wheel base (really 121 inches)—demountable rims—36x4-inch tires—oversized transmission, rear axle and steering gear, typical of cars selling for $1,000 more than the Moon price, $1,800.

But when women are riding in a Moon, it's an extra pleasure for the owner to note their admiration of The Character Car's stylish, classy lines—its 10-inch upholstery—its all-metal black and nickel finished body—its provisions for little comforts, even gasoline gauges and glove or goggle boxes. Lamps, steering gear, the visible things in a car—women are keen critics of these.

Phone us today for a demonstration or come in and see why everybody is calling the new Moon "40" "The Character Car." (38) been in the ring with the gloves, but for seven years was a wrestler in Sweden and while there floored Nor Hassen, in 2 hours and 40 minutes, thereby setting all the Baltic country on its ear.

His fame spread after this and some enterprising theatrical manager saw him and his days as a wrestler were over for the time. In talking with Jones yesterday, Auger said that he was ready to go into active training after the first of June, at which time his contract with the theater people expires.

It seems that one time, while in the east right after the terrible Reno affair, he walked up to Johnson and told him that he could wallop the life out of any dark meat with six weeks training. Knowing Arthur we are inclined to take this as a wild burst of animal spirits, but teach the big man something and get him in a few minor fights and who knows but we would have another Atlas in our midst.

Speaking of fights, Auger stated yesterday that he was ready to start fighting anybody in try-outs after June 1 and would not expect to win at first, but would be willing to take any number of beatings to get good enough to get a crack at the Johnson man.

Auger is a real person and before the pipe goes out on this line, we would say that if he means business, he had better start right away with Jones, for he will get action here if all the rest of the world was dead.

Ad Wolgast, King of the lightweights, sends word to the effect that he will be in town on May 3 and will take in the auto races at Santa Monica. Sunday he will work out with Frankie Conley at Doyles, then hit the grit for the Bay City Monday afternoon.

We wonder what brings Ad to the road races. Of course he has a nice little blue Mercer racer, but then it would be a safe bet to figure Ad on the scene to have a look at Barney Oldfield, as Ad wants to know if the benzine demon can come back.

The woods are full of fighters who want to show the dear public that they can come back severally and individually. There is Abe Attell, for instance, who is just dying to get a chance, and take it from us, he will have to come back with a rush to make the people believe that he has something in his elbow. Others are Jack White and Frankie Conley, both having been trimmed to the queen's taste, right here, but they are good enough to warrant another chance and when a fight is started between two forlorn hopes, one will be in the D. and O., club by the next day and these two boys are dreaming nights how to avoid to terrible a thing. When they line up on May 10, the fur is going to fly and all the fans, who want action, had better have a look, somebody is going to be carried out.

Here comes that old welterweight division again and tagging right at its heels is Packy McFarland. Uncle Tom wants to line the packer up with Frank Picato at 142 pounds, but Packy wants to know why he should fight welters when he can get fights with lightweights, which is reasonable enough, but who is he going to fight next in the lightweight ranks of any class. McCarey would like to stage this fight on or about the first of June.

There is another thing in the way, however, in the offer of the Indianapolis promoters who have offered the stockyard champ a neat little sum for a go with Ray Bronson, but to date, the packer will not listen to this either. A little pressure in the right place may bring McFarland to his right mind in this case and he may go into the welter rank where he belongs.

If it was not for the fact that Joe Levy was with "our Joe Rivers" in San Francisco at the present time, getting him ready for his three-round exhibition with this Davis party, we would feel a little doubtful as to what would happen to Joe in the way of adverse criticism. In the first place, Rivers is not a three-round fighter and never will be and does not leave his battle in the gym as so many of the fighters do now-a-days, but takes it into the ring and does not pull the stuff till after he gets going. If Davis covers up all the time and will not trade a few punches with the Mexican, the Frisco fans will say that he is a rank proposition for Wolgast. Then if he should happen to get one of those famous over-hand wallops home, the cry would be that he is a world beater. Anyway you figure it, the Bay City fans will have something to think about, with Rivers and Wolgast showing within a few days of each other, and this will probably stimulate a great deal of interest in the coming world's championship affair. Clever Levy, clever.

The boxing fans from this section of the country are very anxious to see Rivers in action and the best that I could do for them (according to Wolgast-Rivers articles) was to allow Joe to give them an exhibition before the Dreamland Rink.

Nearly every promoter in San Francisco made offers for Joe's services in a fight, but I wouldn't do anything contrary to the articles mentioned above. I will write you again soon. Rivers and Rooney all join me in our best wishes to you. I remain,

GIANT MOTORS FOR MOTOR

Louis Disbrow, who owns the Jay-Eye-See, believes that it will prove itself one of the fastest racing machines in the world, and with an even break in luck and the conditions of the track right, he will lower the former record of thirty-six seconds for the track.

The motordrome meet Sunday will also bring out the Simplex "Zip," the world's record-breaking car which recently established new marks for the fifteen, twenty, and twenty-five-mile distances at San Jose, Cal., and later established a mark of forty-six seconds for a mile, on the half-mile Oakland motordrome.

THE PINK'S LETTER BOX.

NORDHOFF, April 29.—[Sporting Editor The Times:] Hello, there. We have had a very good time so far.

Only landed a few rabbits so far. Nothing else in season.

Best regards to all.

Yours,
AD WOLGAST.

FROM RIVER'S MANAGER.

SAN FRANCISCO (April 28.)—[Sporting Editor The Times:] Dear Friend: We arrived here some few days ago in the best of spirits. Nothing new has developed until today. I booked Joe Rivers to appear in an exhibition bout here May 3. Joe will box three one-minute rounds with Babe Davis.

The boxing fans from this section of the country are very anxious to see Rivers in action and the best that I could do for them (according to Wolgast-Rivers articles) was to allow Joe to give them an exhibition before the Dreamland Rink.

Nearly every promoter in San Francisco made offers for Joe's services in a fight, but I wouldn't do anything contrary to the articles mentioned above. I will write you again soon. Rivers and Rooney all join me in our best wishes to you. I remain,

Your friend,
JOE LEVY.

P. S.—Stopping at the Continental Hotel.

BILLY NOLAN'S PEEVE.

SAN FRANCISCO (April 28.)—[To Sporting Editor of The Times:] On April 26 in the sporting columns of The Times for the first time I read the reply made by Wolgast in reference to a match with Abe Attell. I am glad to know that Wolgast did not try to hide or seek the skirts of Tom McCarey, as his elusive manager, Tom Jones, did in trying to evade the issue.

Wolgast replies in reference to the $7500 purse or 75 per cent. of the house, that was offered for the four, six or ten-round bout:

"Those were the kind of purses that they used to fight for in the days when Bill Nolan was a live one as a manager. He hasn't kept up with the times. Champions don't fight for those figures any more. I would have to have more than $7500 as my share alone to fight Abe Attell. I will be glad to fight him if he wants to, but certainly not for a percentage of a $7500 purse."

When he tries to compare the money that he has been getting to the amount Battling Nelson received, it's a joke. Nelson, aside from money earned in actual fighting, received more money for stage work alone than Wolgast received in his entire career. It's too ridiculous for comparison.

Now, Mr. Wolgast, why are you battling for a small guarantee in San Francisco now, if you are accustomed to get such high figures?

You know in your heart what Abe Attell will do to you if you take the chance; he knows you and is aching for that time to arrive. Just say the word, Wolgast, and I will promise you that you will not have to offer $500 bonuses to have your money covered. This should prove who the live one is.

Don't let this proposition get cold. You can get plenty of printer's ink. Give your manager one of the same brand you hit on April 25, and we may all get together. Remember the name—Abe Attell.

BILLY NOLAN.

After the Battle.

GIANT MOTORS GROOMED FOR MOTORDROME MEET.

THE world's largest racing car arrived in Los Angeles yesterday prepared to go after the world's short-distance speed marks at the board motordrome next Sunday, with Louis Disbrow, the famous New York pilot, at its wheel.

Louis Disbrow, who owns the Jay-Eye-See, believes that it will prove itself one of the fastest racing machines in the world, and with an even break in luck and the conditions of the track right, he will lower the former record of thirty-six seconds for the track.

The motordrome meet Sunday will also bring out the Simplex "Zip," the world's record-breaking car which recently established new marks for the fifteen, twenty, and twenty-five-mile distances at San Jose, Cal., and later established a mark of forty-six seconds for a mile, on the half-mile Oakland motordrome.

The Jay-Eye-See was placed on exhibition at the Vance-Cana garage yesterday, and throughout the day many called to see the great machine before it is taken to Playa del Rey.

The Simplex Zip, upon its arrival in the city, was taken to the Simplex garage, where it will be kept until Sunday.

Practically every car entered in the Santa Monica race meet will be on hand at the motordrome, and it is a safe bet to say that a half-dozen world's marks in the various classes will be bettered.

Caleb Bragg had his Fiat Cyclone on the motordrome Monday and found his machine was traveling faster than ever. The Fiat Cyclone, while only a small part of what the original car was, is looked upon as the master of any machine in the world.

STANFORD MEN GIVEN COVETED EMBLEMS.

(Special Correspondence of The Times.)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 27.—Twenty-two athletes who won points in the intercollegiate track meet with California have been awarded varsity letters.

The names of the men who received the emblems follows: Capt. Tom Coleman ('12) of Los Angeles; Capt.-elect E. P. Campbell ('13,) Fletcher ('11,) Bonnett ('15,) of Riverside; Dodge ('12) of Los Angeles; Gard ('14) of Glendora; Millsap ('12) of Pasadena; Richdale ('14,) Wallace ('12,) Smith ('12,) Brown ('14,) Murray ('12,) Finney ('12,) Peake ('12,) of Los Angeles, and Boulware ('14.)

J. E. Woolley ('12) was awarded four stars for winning points in four consecutive meets. Fourteen of the men who were given "S's" had never before won their letter on the cinder path. Finney captured one-third of a point in the high jump, and Peake and Boulware each won one-seventh of a point in the vault.

VENTURA RACES TODAY.

VENTURA, April 30.—This city holds its first race meet tomorrow on its new speed course just completed at Seaside Park. This is the only race track between San Francisco and Los Angeles and the promise is that there will be a large number of horsemen present with fast and blooded stock. May Day in this city is always looked upon as a holiday and business in the city will be practically suspended. The whole day is to be given over to sports at the park. The motorcycle and automobile races will take place in the forenoon, while the afternoon will be devoted to horse racing. There are a number of entries of good local horses and some good purses have been hung up for the occasion.

DE WITT VAN COURT'S COLUMN.

When Freddy first landed in New York he had about $140 in his jeans. He put up at a cheap hotel on the Bowery and when he awoke in the morning, discovered that he had been cleaned of everything but his cap, coat and the overalls that he wore.

Freddy was discouraged and walked around the city for several days broke and hungry. He picked up a paper one morning and discovered an advertisement for an assistant to Dr. Knipe as an instructor.

He immediately took heart and the next morning found him about 9 o'clock at the entrance to the doctor's office. There was a long stairway that led up to the office, and as he started up he was stopped by several roughnecks who told him to beat it, as they had been waiting for several hours.

Freddy walked down the stairs and sat on the edge of the sidewalk thinking it all over, when suddenly he was struck with an idea. He walked around the block and came back with three bricks done up in a piece of newspaper. He did not stop for anything or anybody, but beat it up the stairs. When he got near the top a big huskie grabbed him by the shoulder and said, "You had better duck or you will get your block knocked off."

"Wait," said Freddy, holding the package of bricks, "I am the plumber and Dr. Knipe has sent for me to fix his shower bath, as it is leaking."

He got by and lost no time in knocking on the door of the office, and without waiting for an answer, entered. He took off his hat and said, "I hope you will pardon me, doctor, for entering your office without being asked, but I saw your advertisement in the paper this morning for a boxing instructor. I am broke and want you to put me to work."

"Well," said Knipe, "you have your nerve with you, but wait and I will see what you can do." He got up and called all those huskies into his office and said, "I am going to give this job to the best boxer, so any one that wants the job can strip and get ready."

He called Freddy first, and paired him off with a fellow much larger than he. Freddy lost no time and had him on the floor in the second round. Another was called, and Freddy laid him out in the third round. The doctor looked around for the third man and was surprised to see his office empty. Freddy got the job and made good from the start.

Later he got a six-round fight with a young fellow in Billy Brown's gymnasium and won the decision. It was for a $5 purse. When Freddy called on Brown for his money, he was told to beat it. Freddy kept after Brown for several days for his money, until Brown gave him $2.50 to get rid of him.

He then took on several fights and made good, left for Philadelphia and opened a school of his own and made money until he got word from the old country that his mother was very ill.

He left and went back, had a few more fights and returned to this country. We all know of the success he made since that time. This fighting game is not all milk and honey by any means.

Harry Gilmore, Jr., has selected Los Angeles as his future home. Together with his boxing interests, he will edit the Los Angeles edition of the Referee, a sporting weekly.

Both Harry and Mrs. Gilmore are residing at Venice, where last Monday night, they had a jovial celebration of the first anniversary of their marriage. Quite a number of their friends were on hand to wish them success and future happiness.

Both are High School graduates from Chicago. Mrs. Gilmore's maiden name was Carolyne Hennrietta Collhan and she is a talented lady.

Gilmore will no doubt make a success of his new undertaking. There is not a man in the country that is better posted on the fighting game. He was formally manager of Packy McFarland and Frankie Conley and at the present time is looking after the interests of Jack Herrick. Gilmore intends to make his paper one of the sporting authorities on boxing, fighting, baseball, horse racing and, in fact, all good, clean sports. His many friends wish him success in his new venture.

MT. WILSON CLIMB.

Runners Will Start Early This Morning on Journey Up the Trail. Indian Zeyouma Favorite.

The fifth annual Sierra Madre-Mt. Wilson hill climb, which is to start at 8:45 this morning from the Sierra Madre Board of Trade building, promises to be one of the big league amateur events of the season.

There are more entries in this year's race than ever before and the men who are to cover the up-hill course are faster than those of previous years, if their practice work-outs are to be taken into consideration.

Entries have come in from all over the country and there is greater interest manifested in this race than in any affair of its kind ever attempted in Southern California. Westerlund comes from San Francisco, Dal Fahy from Honolulu, Calligaro will wear the colors of the Sporting Club of Italy, J. D. Jordan in running for the Illinois Athletic Club of Chicago, and Phillip Zeyouma has come in from Sherman Institute at Riverside.

In addition to these classy trail coverers, there are over twenty local athletes, all well known, and who will make all comers hustle for honors and the medals and cups which are up for prizes.

Most of the runners went out to Sierra Madre last night and stopped at the hotel, as guests of the Board of Trade, so as to be on hand for the early start. The other contestants will go out to the start on the first car this morning.

The officials all went out last night and those who are to serve at the finish went up the trail at a late hour and spent the rest of the night at the hotel on the summit.

This year the race starts in Sierra Madre, instead of at the foot of the trail, and makes the course of the race over a half mile longer, but there are a number of the runners who expect to break the record, despite the added distance.

FROM THE MASON TO THE MAJESTIC

By Julian Johnson.

John Cort, the impressive White Hope that the Northwest grew to buck the theatrical trust, came to town yesterday morning.

He came principally to confer with Oliver Morosco concerning the new Boston and New York theaters, now being built, and to be owned jointly by himself and Mr. Morosco.

He hopes to star them himself next year, in a new vehicle.

"The piece?" said Cort.

"Pshaw! That's not important. The hell of it is to get those two famous boys away from their two thousand a week and thirty minutes a day.

"Pretty soft, you know, when you can carry your wife around with you, and, in the afternoon and evening, say: 'Will you excuse me just a moment, dear? I must go act now!'

"I consider 'the Gypsy'" continued Mr. Cort, "the best work Pixley and Luders have ever done. It is both popular and substantial. It is so good, in fact, that I doubt if these two ever collaborate again. Each has his strong points. There is none better than Luders as a composer of the melody of contemporary comedies with music; and as a writer of lyrics, I don't believe America has ever produced another Frank Pixley."

Mr. Cort will leave over the Charleyspike road this morning for a fast trip to New York and Boston.

He will remain in the East but two weeks, and will then return to his comfortable country place near Seattle, "Whiskers Farm."

One of the results of the yesterday's Morosco-Cort conference is an extension of the time of "Bought and Paid For," and "When Bunty Pulls the Strings," to two weeks, when these pieces come to the Majestic Theater. "Everywoman" may also get the two-weeks' ruling.

Tommy Namack, tenor singer in advance of Maude Adams, was observed sneaking into the Southern Pacific's raisin-bread line yesterday.

Pathos note: Mr. Namack was not getting the bread for himself, he says. Inference: he was getting it for, Miss Adams.

Is, not was, as is often the case.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Frank Egan, the actor-maker, received a mournful letter from his one-time pupil, Laurette Taylor, informing him of the death of a mutual friend, a promising young violinist, who went down with the Titanic.

Mrs. Stone (Margaret Langham,) who arrived here last week, heard of the illness of her husband yesterday morning, and was preparing to start back to the metropolis immediately, when she received another wire, saying that he was just leaving for home. So she is awaiting his arrival.

Dave Hartford left New York also, yesterday, Detroit-bound.

What will Dave do in Detroit—go into the automobile business?

Percy Bronson is back in town. Roscoe Arbuckle is said to be another recently leaving the Hartman company, on the road.

I hear that Fischer is really planning a revival of "Little Johnny Jones," with Reece Gardner as Johnny. Who for Florabelle Fly?

I hear that there will be a startling invitation-matinee at the Burbank this summer, with clubwomen only as the invited guests, and with Dick Bennett as the star performer.

The play?

Brieux's "Damaged Goods!"

"The Bird of Paradise" will not come to the Coast next year.

According to the present Morosco booking, it will spend the entire year in Chicago and Boston.

Dick Tully's next play to go on here, "Cupid the Cowpunch," is a homely, Middle West affair, not at all resembling his romantic and highly-colorful Hawaiian exotic.

Tully has aimed to make it an effective and typically American satire on certain modern conditions.

Back to the Georgia camp-meeting for McIntyre and Heath. These irrepressibles never had such a vehicle—probably never will have again.

To them it's like "The Music Master" to Warfield, or like getting-together to Kolb & Dill.

Morosco may bring Bill Desmond and Blanche Hall back to the Burbank Theater this fall, either in September or October, for a joint starring engagement of a month or more.

A play of modern Japanese nature, said to be tremendously dramatic and very humanly effective, has swam into the Morosco ken, and he has the entire American rights.

"A Man's World," at the Belasco, belies its name, for the show is nearly "stolen" by little Roberta Arnold, an ingenuous kid, even if she is married.

Yes, she will go away with it again. They say they had rather lose the spring than Eva.

The Keith deal, consummated on South Broadway last week, is said to have been the final straw bringing about the gigantic, world-beating vaudeville combination reported in Monday's Times.

"Seven Sisters" will be the next play on the Burbank stage.

It will mark the local debut of Laurette Taylor.

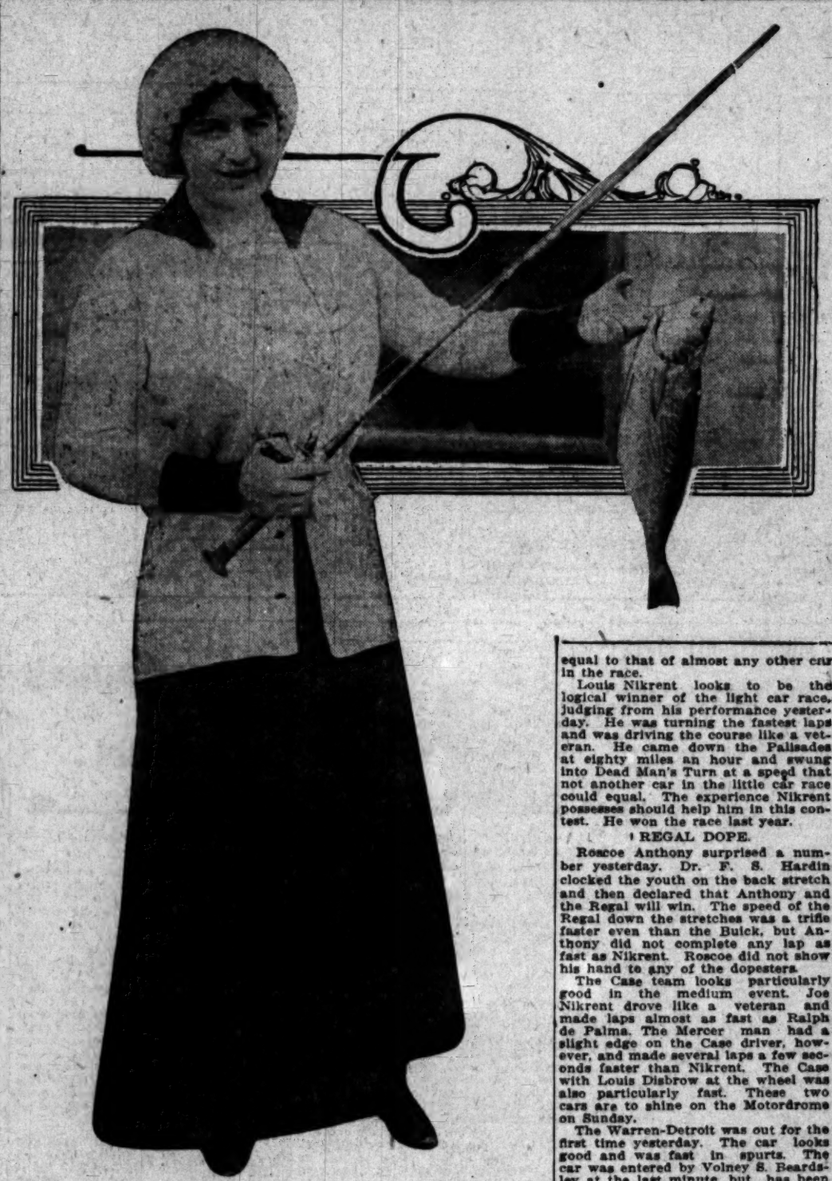
M. Affre

And Mme. Richardson, principals of the late French Opera Company, who will return to town via Pantages circuit next week.



Grace Travers,

SEALS BEAT SOLONS, WITH HENLEY IN BOX.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Henley's pitching won for San Francisco from Sacramento this afternoon by 3 to 1. One run got past him in the first, but after that he settled down and held the visitors to three hits for the game. Score:

tires. He has driven for three mornings without a tire change. This is making many sit up and take particular notice. This may mean that Oldfield will win the big speed battle by his superior knowledge of tires. It must be remembered that H. S. Firestone, the big tire manufacturer whom Barney represents, has consented to allow Oldfield to drive the "Select Kid," the Fiat entered by Eddie Maier. Oldfield's experience as a driver, coupled with his knowledge of the non-skid Firestone may shove him into a world record.

Judge R. D. Barr, the Firestone manager for the Coast, reached here yesterday and will have charge of the pits during the big races. He will hand out the tires to Oldfield, but says he will have little to do as he expects Barney to go through with few changes. This race, according to Barr, is to be won on tires that hold the pace.

The course is faster than ever before. The cars looks better than ever. There is less tire trouble and practically no engine trouble. The course is patrolled perfectly and Chief of Police Randall is making a host of friends.

The course also is well guarded and is to be policed in such a way that the pedestrians will be kept back from the side lines and out of harm's way. Knowing the tendency of excited spectators to rush across the speedway Chief Randall will have hundreds of uniformed men under his direct administration and his word will be law. He is the kind of man who acts and acts promptly. He hands out an order and then sees to it that his order is obeyed.

There is a unanimity of sentiment at Santa Monica. The residents there are boosting for the race. The citizens of the seaside city realize what a great advertisement this race means to the city. The fact that 100,000 spectators will watch the cars fly over the roads and that Santa Monica will be placed on the map of the world appeals to the property holders in the beach city.

BIG SUCCESS.

This year the race is a success. The management is pleased. The prizes are larger than ever before. The prize money is in sight for every race. The cups are up and the honor of world champion is the only thing now in the balance. This must be fought for by a score and a half of the world's best men who are groomed for a thrill that has never before been equaled.

Crowds visit the beach in the early morning to watch the cars sail over the roads. Throngs line the stretch and congregate at Dead Man's Turn and watch the cars skid around the curve. The indications are that all attendance records will be broken. Saturday, May 4, is to be just like a holiday. The Santa Monica road race course will be the Mecca of many thousands of worshipers of the speed marvels now in action.

DARK HORSE.

Bert Dingley on the Simplex is the dark horse of the big free-for-all. Much to the surprise of all the fans, Bert's car is as fast as any motor in the big race. Equipped with a Miller carburetor, one of the fastest air-mixers on the market, the Simplex is doing a little better than 105 miles an hour.

Oscar Werner, the local Simplex agent, who enters the red racer, is sure the Simplex will place. The Simplex is a handsome car, is speedy and looks particularly good as it shoots down the Palisades at a speed equal to that of almost any other car in the race.

Louis Nikrent looks to be the logical winner of the light car race, judging from his performance yesterday. He was turning the fastest laps and was driving the course like a veteran. He came down the Palisades at eighty miles an hour and swung into Dead Man's Turn at a speed that not another car in the little car race could equal. The experience Nikrent possesses should help him in this contest. He won the race last year.

REGAL DOPE.

Roscoe Anthony surprised a number yesterday. Dr. F. S. Hardin clocked the youth on the back stretch and then declared that Anthony and the Regal will win. The speed of the Regal down the stretches was a trifle faster even than the Buick, but Anthony did not complete any lap as fast as Nikrent. Roscoe did not show his hand to any of the dopesters.

The Case team looks particularly good in the medium event. Joe Nikrent drove like a veteran and made laps almost as fast as Ralph de Palma. The Mercer man had a slight edge on the Case driver, however, and made several laps a few seconds faster than Nikrent. The Case with Louis Disbrow at the wheel was also particularly fast. These two cars are to shine on the Motordrome on Sunday.

The Warren-Detroit was out for the first time yesterday. The car looks good and was fast in spurts. The car was entered by Volney S. Beardsley at the last minute, but has been carefully tuned. The Warren has the winning habit and must be watched carefully every second of this race.

George Joermann in the Maxwell is turning some fast laps. This young man has the right spirit about his work. He is a care-free youth who believes in his car and is certain he can win.

PAL MOORE WAS EASY FOR BRITTON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jack Britton of Chicago won as he pleased from Pal Moore of Philadelphia tonight.

Outside of the fact that the match went twenty rounds to the decision that was given finally by Referee Hanlon, with Britton outboxing Moore at every step of the way and having his own way entirely after the second round, there isn't much to record. Some one aptly remarked that so far as Britton was concerned he might have been fighting his sand bag out at the training quarters with nothing to do but land a punch and get out of the way of the returning weight. And that tells the story.

Britton's natural advantage in height, reach and weight would have been quite enough to win from Moore. Aside from that, however, the Chicagoan showed some wonderfully clever boxing with a straight left in particular that was hard to dodge, while Moore had none of his promised speed, a left that wasn't of much use at him and nothing to help him along in his bout.

The easterner was game enough, and had a vague sort of aggressiveness that was more of a hindrance than anything else, but he was through and through a disappointment to the crowd that watched the match. He did use a sort of jumping left in the early rounds, but for the most part he found he couldn't reach Britton, and the lacing that he took from the straight lefts and the rights that came into play toward the close will give him something to remember for days to come.

SULLIVAN IN OLYMPICS.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] James E. Sullivan of New York, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, has been designated by President Taft as commissioner for the United States to the Fifth International Olympic Games at Stockholm.

No. 13D

Mr. Base Ball Player

How does your record compare with those of the players on the National and American League teams?

And how can you compare them if you do not play with a Cork Center Ball? Your accurate throwing, your perfect stick work, your long throws, and above all that perfect confidence which all ball players need, all depend upon a standard ball, and the real standard ball is the style used in the World Series games. The Spalding "Official National League" Cork Center Ball, $1.25 each, is the Official Ball of the World Series, and the Standard Base Ball of the World.

Send for samples of materials for Base Ball Uniforms, free on request. We outfit all National and American League teams. Spalding Catalogue sent on request to any address.

Polytechnic High School Group Depends on Voters.

Former Supervisor Dies in Hospital for Insane.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 30.—Senator La Follette spoke to a packed opera house this afternoon, his denunciation of Roosevelt bringing tremendous applause. Despite the fact that the meeting was held during the busiest part of the day, La Follette scored with the biggest audience which has packed the opera house in many years, to hear a political address, and the frequent applause showed he had the attention of the big gathering. "The curbing of the trusts is not a Rough Rider's job," was a central note of the address which took with the crowd. The High School closed for the afternoon to give the 400 pupils an opportunity to hear the speaker.

SCHOOL BOND PLAN.

At the meeting of the Board of Education tomorrow night, a movement will be started looking to the calling of an election to vote bonds for a polytechnical high school group.

The city owns twenty acres for the site. Several times in the past few years such a bond election has been thought of, but now the growth of the schools compells immediate action. Unless the bond issue carries the school authorities will be forced to build additions to the High School, and even then many pupils will have to be turned away next term.

DIES IN PATTON.

The remains of Judge J. H. West, former Supervisor of this county, from Needles, who died Sunday night at Patton, were taken east on last night's Santa Fe overland. The casket will be removed from the train at Needles, where brief ceremonie will be held. Afterward the remains will be shipped direct to Binghampton, N. Y., for interment in the family burial plot. For fourteen years the deceased had served as a supervisor. Resolutions of respect were adopted by the Board of Supervisors today and the portrait of the dead official, hanging on the walls of the Supervisorial chambers, was draped.

TO PROTECT ROADS.

The Board of Supervisors is seeking a means of prohibiting heavy motor trucks uding county bridges which might prove unable to stand the weight. The Supervisors point to several instances where bridges have been damaged by heavily loaded trucks, one bridge between Colton and Riverside collapsing. The District Attorney's office is now inquiring into the problem, along with a search of means of closing the Waterman Canyon road to cattlemen. It is claimed that the driving of large bands of cattle over the mountain road does immense damage. An effort will be made to have stock driven out or into Bear Valley by way of Victorville, instead of up the Waterman Canyon road.

TRIAL OF NOTE.

The trial of John Blake, "Mayor" of Kramer, charged with the murder of J. C. Steiner, Santa Fe section boss, will be held Tuesday, July 16, according to the date fixed in the Superior Court today. The prominence of Blake, who is an aged man, bids fair to attract to the trial more than ordinary interest. Steiner stepped in line of fire when Blake pointed a revolver at Station Agent Woung, Steiner's father-in-law, when Young made a demonstration against Blake. The latter says he did not intend to pull the trigger.

Attorney Byron Waters has been selected to make the oration at the May Day barbecue to be given Wednesday in Yucaipa Valley. The feasting place will be in Wildwood Canyon, one of the most picturesque spots in this section, overlooking the beautiful Yucaipa, and its growing orchards. Picnickers will come from all over this county and Riverside.

POTASH LAKE.

James Howe has located 1280 acres in the bed of Nipton Lake, a dry lake on the desert, which he says contains potash. It is believed, by the locator that the deposite, which he has found will furnish potash for the country for many decades, the supply being practically inexhaustible.

TO FIX GAS RATE.

The City Council has served notice on the two gas corporations giving them three weeks in which to produce reasons why the gas rate in this city should not be fixed at $1.05 per 1000 feet, instead of $1.15, as raised by the two companies, acting in concert. The report of experts employed by the City Council, supports the contention that the companies can furnish gas at the $1.05 rate and earn a fair profit.

COLTON.

COLTON, April 30.—Jack Myter was given his preliminary hearing before Justice Hanna yesterday afternoon, on the charge of forging the name of his employer, T. M. Moran, to a check, which was cashed by Marks, the baker. Myter was bound over to the Superior Court with bail fixed at $1000.

The City Trustees at a special session last evening granted another wholesale liquor license, this making four retail and three wholesale licenses thus far granted.

The local kindergarten children, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Fanny Hampton, gave a half-hour exhibition of their drills, dances, marches, games and songs this afternoon at the meeting of the Colton Woman's Club, the programme of which was in charge of Mrs. E. C. Merryfield.

TAFT MEETING.

ORANGE, April 30.—E. A. Tucker, who made the campaign with Roosevelt in Nebraska in 1900, but who is now one of the strongest supporters of President Taft for the re-nomination, has agreed to speak at Orange on Friday night, with Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz of Los Angeles. Chairman Stanton of the Taft Campaign Committee is arranging for representatives of the committee to be present.

HERESY CHARGE NOT SUSTAINED.

Denver Preacher, Who Is a Former Moderator, Meets With Congregation and Pays High Tribute to Character of the Man Assailed. Final Vote Almost Unanimous.

FULLERTON, April 30.—Charges of heresy made before the Los Angeles Presbytery against Rev. Edward J. Statom of the local church, which has agitated and caused a small schism in the congregation, were not sustained by the committee appointed by the presbytery to investigate the matter.

Dr. Robert Coyle of Denver, Colo., one of the foremost divines in the church, and ex-moderator of the general assembly, met with the congregation this afternoon here, as a representative of the committee, the sentiment of which, as reflected by Dr. Coyle, was with the majority of the membership for the installation of Rev. Statom.

The publication in The Times of the charges has attracted much attention, and the pastor has received a large number of inquiries from all over the country requesting further information and examples of his sermons.

Members of the investigating committee and Dr. Coyle have been here upon two Sabboths, and the result was a refutation of the implication of heretic teachings.

Rev. Statom has maintained silence and refused to make a statement until today, when he said:

"I cannot believe that anybody in my congregation ever doubted my belief in the divinity of Jesus Christ. Loyalty to Him and obedience to His plain teaching is the keynote of my preaching.

"There is much in the Bible that is easy to understand, but hard to live up to; and then there are statements that are obscure or mysterious that involve no obedience. I preach on plain subjects that concern everyday conduct and let others bother their heads with the riddles. Plain preaching that deals with man's relation to God, naturally is disagreeable to some people, who look on religion as an individual affair. This, I presume, is the ground for the attacks that have been so bitterly made upon me by a half-dozen or so of the people who are displeased with my preaching. The charges, with the exception of that one which referred to the divinity of Christ, were amusingly trivial. I do not know, and do not care to know, the politics of the church people. As for dancing, I have not heard of anything of the sort since I came here, and if I did hear of it, it would not scare me.

"I refuse to waste time with tiddley-winks when justice and righteousness demand my attention. I am sworn to preach the teachings of the Bible, and shall not fail to keep my ordination vow.

"The work will go on and the church will grow and become a force for righteousness in the community.

"I can stand the damage to my reputation that my opponents have inflicted. My welfare and the welfare of my family depend upon my character and my reputation, and they who attack me know this. If I should in any way damage their orange orchards upon which they depend for their living they would prosecute me in the courts.

"It seems a light matter for them to damage me. Slander travels rapidly, and this slander about me has gone into every State of the Union."

Dr. Coyle stated today: "No ground for the division exists; the character of Dr. Statom is unquestioned, and his orthodoxy has never been questioned. He is a superior preacher, and the charges are the outgrowth of trivial differences. The committee is in sympathy with Rev. Statom, and the action of the committee will be backed up by the presbytery."

After a debate, in which many members of the congregation participated this afternoon, the vote stood forty-seven to three in favor of the installation of Rev. Statom.

CHECK OPERATOR GUILTY.

SANTA ANA, April 30.—The trial of P. R. Stock, whose manipulations with worthless checks extend over territory reaching from Walla Walla, Wash., where he was sent to the penitentiary, to San Diego, was begun this morning and finished at 4 o'clock with a verdict of guilty of passing a $500 check on the First National Bank of Anaheim, drawn on the First National Bank of Los Angeles, where he had no account, on May 31, 1911.

Stock is a natty young man, shrewd and daring. He was credited with being the brains of a plot to dig out of jail and a scheme to overpower the jailer. He was on parole from Washington when the check episode at Anaheim occurred.

Stock attempted to employ an attorney on a promise to assign to him an interest in a fabulous estate to be distributed in England some years hence. That failing, the court appointed Attorney W. E. Ferguson to defend him. Ferguson moved to Fresno, and when trial came Stock had two other attorneys, J. H. Bell and D. F. Harding.

After the verdict of guilty was brought in, Attorney Harding asked that Stock be examined as to his sanity before sentence. The officers look on the plea of insanity as almost ridiculous, for they have considered Stock the sharpest prisoner in the County Jail.

In the testimony taken today it was brought out that Stock took contracts to paint houses in the new town of Placentia for A. S. Bradford, and he got Bradford to introduce him at the bank, where Stock deposited the check that afterward proved worthless, started an account and immediately drew upon it.

Today a good-looking young woman appeared in the coutroom and took a chair beside the brisk defendant. She is said to be his sister.

OFFICIAL FIND.

In Antonio Garcia, yesterday convicted of running a blind pig at Yorba, the officers are convinced they have a burglar. When they raided Garcia's house for beer and brandy they found a suit of clothes, twenty-four pairs of gloves and a big box of soap, as well as beer and brandy. This afternoon the suit of clothes was identified as one stolen from the Suititorium on February 17. The clothes belong to Herman Stern. Garcia has been charged with burglary.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Because Jose Argote would not swear to a complaint against Bernardino Sandejos for firing bullets through Argote's arm and leg, the officers prosecuted Sandejos on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, a revolver. For that, Justice Cox fined him $100. "You Mexicans have got to quit carrying guns," said the justice, "or I'll send every devil of them to jail."

Riverside.

CARNIVAL HAS A GOOD START.

RIVERSIDE'S FUN AND INDUSTRIAL SHOW A SUCCESS.

Receipts Are to Be Divided Between Road and Fourth of July Funds — Young Rancher Weds Nurse While Fatally Ill—La Follette Delights Crowd.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Riverside's carnival and industrial show had a most successful opening tonight. Local business men and manufacturing concerns have taken all the three dozen spaces in the big industrial tent, and the displays are attractive and original to a degree.

The carnival features are the same as participated in the recent Long Beach carnival, and cover a half-block on Mulberry and Eighth streets. The show will continue until May 4.

A percentage of the receipts goes to the ocean-to-ocean highway fund and a like amount to the fund for a proposed Fourth-of-July celebration.

INVALID WEDS NURSE.

Too ill to leave his bed, Robert A. Harper, a resident of Adin, Cal., who several weeks ago came to Riverside for treatment, was tonight wedded to Miss Edith Emily Palmer, his pretty young nurse, who has faithfully tended him during his hours of sickness. The license was secured by a neighbor friend of the couple, and only a few witnesses were present when the faithful young woman plighted her troth to the man who is afflicted with a fatal malady. Her costume was the simple habit of the nurse, in which she was truly charming. The groom is a well-known young rancher, 28 years of age, and his bride is only 22.

TO INITIATE LEGISLATION.

Petitions containing 2400 signatures were presented to the City Council today, asking that that body approve attached ordinance, calling for the closing of the pool halls on Sundays. In case the Council should refuse this action the petitions asked that the question be submitted to the voters at a special election under the initiative.

As the signatures represented a majority of the votes cast at the last municipal election, those who appeared in support of the petitions hoped that the moral effect would be to galvanize the Council into action favorable to the ordinance and so obviate the expense and trouble attaching to a special election.

As only 1500 signatures had been certified to the Council decided to put the matter up to the people at a special election.

GOOD ONE ON TEDDY.

Senator Robert M. La Follette, who was heard in an address here this morning, made several references to Theodore Roosevelt that amused the crowd more than any other of the Senator's humorous thrusts. Owing to the bad condition of his voice the speaker was under the necessity of speaking indoors, and his swollen throat made it incumbent on him to loosen his collar.

After warming up to his speech La Follette expressed a desire for more fresh air, declaring that he always got hot during a discussion of the trusts.

Without a moment's hesitation the Senator retorted: "I'd suffer a good deal before I'd follow his example," at which the audience went fairly wild with merriment.

Roosevelt was declared to be one of the greatest moral exhorters of his time, but utterly devoid of statesmanship or grasp of economic problems. "What is needed now," said La Follette in closing, "is a work of surgical statesmanship—it is no job for a Rough Rider."

RESIGNS PLACE AS HEAD.

ONTARIO, April 30.—W. A. Freemire, recently elected Mayor of Ontario, last evening resigned his position as president of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce.

Glenn D. Smith, who has served the Chamber as vice-president, was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy and Crombie Allen, editor of the Ontario Daily Report, was in turn elected vice-president of the Chamber.

The resignation of Freemire and that recently of G. G. Watson left two vacancies on the board of directors and these were filled by E. R. Alter and Frank C. Bell.

TO CONTINUE LECTURES.

It was decided at the meeting of the Chamber last evening that the lectures on Ontario and vicinity which are being conducted daily at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce by Secretary George T. Barr of the Ontario Chamber, will be continued next year and arrangements will be made at once for reserving the lecture room for the regular Ontario hour, 11 to 11:30 each morning.

NEWS BRIEFS.

James M. Webster has sold his five-acre orange grove on West Eighth street to S. L. Ross of Des Moines, Iowa, for a reported consideration of $10,500.

The installation of crossing gates at Euclid and Laurel avenues on the Southern Pacific has been completed. The gates were put in as a result of efforts on the part of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce and the City Council.

The Great Boulevard on Van Nuys-Lankershim Lands

Profits Follow Big Improvements

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been and are being spent on these vast improvements. A magnificent parkway, fifteen miles in length, costing alone over $500,000, is now rapidly nearing completion through these splendid lands. Great gangs of men are rushing the extension to Owensmouth, the new wonder town of the valley.

Every foot completed means increasing values on the land adjacent, the great Van Nuys-Lankershim Tract.

Already over 900 business men, ranchers and home-seekers have purchased—have staked their faith on these value-producing improvements, the splendid, "close-in" location and the fertile, sub-irrigated soil.

Profits should be quick—whether the land is used for fruit, sugar beets or melons or whether you hold for a turn of the market.

The present low prices around the new town of Owensmouth cannot remain for long. The rapid approach of the boulevard, the new electric road and the completion of the many handsome homes means a sure advance.

Contracts are being made for further extensions of the Boulevard System and other improvements. Prices will be advanced at an early date. The amount of the advance is to be used in general improvements.

Now's Your Opportunity

Highest priced frontage on $500,000 boulevard. All subject to 25 per cent. improvement discount

Get in ahead of these big improvements. Own a country estate or small ranch, HERE—share in the effect of this great development work. Some choice sections, until now reserved from sale to enable later buyers a selection in the best neighborhoods—HAVE JUST BEEN PLACED ON THE MARKET. Come out today—see for yourself, the beautiful country homes under erection, the young peach orchards and the orange and olive orchards nearby. Do not delay—good close-in land is limited.

FINANCIAL NEWS SUMMARY.

NEW YORK, April 30. — American stocks in London heavy, off ¼ to ⅝. Quarterly earnings of United States Steel to be announced this afternoon.

Philadelphia county authorizes new stock issue of $30,000,000 — 6 per cent, cumulative and preferred as to assets; also $10,000,000 5 per cent. debenture bonds.

Twelve industrials declined .35 per cent. Twenty active rails advanced .11 per cent.

The market today reflected the uncertainty over the outcome of the Presidential primaries in Massachusetts. During the forenoon there was quite a little short covering in steel, but in the afternoon prices receded generally though at no time was the tone of market distinctly weak.

We believe the immediate course of prices will be governed in great part by the result of the primaries and also by the tenor of the news relative to the Mexican situation. The advices from the latter quarter of late have been quite disturbing. The steel statement for which the street is now waiting will also be a factor.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

If light receipts of potatoes continue predictions are that they will advance. Receipts the past several days have been small and potatoes have displayed a steady tone at intervals. Yesterday receipts were light—389 sacks—about the same as Monday. Watsonville potatoes declined to $2, a drop of 50 cents, the Watsonville variety being in heavy local receipt last week.

Other repeated cuts in prices the past two weeks potatoes dropped in the face of heavy receipts, with a large storage stock on hand, below the prices quoted for the corresponding days the past year.

Butter, eggs and cheese were steady, receipts being about normal in every instance—653 cases butter, 39,797; cheese, 350 pounds.

Fruit grades produce the market was varied, prices however remaining practically unchanged. Imperial onions arrived in larger quantities than heretofore. Peas were weak, the receipts being mostly from the North. Where new crop peas are well advanced. Asparagus, both white and green, was in supply sufficient to meet all demands. Wax beans from Imperial Valley and the North continued to arrive in normal quantities, there being a good demand for them at quotations. Lettuce was plentiful, as was also onions and other garden truck.

Receipts of fresh mushrooms of the season were on hand. They came from Huntington Beach, selling at 40 cents to $1 a pound.

Close Is Nervous and Shows a Slight Falling Off—Corn Marks Up Net Gain, Oats Irregular and Provisions Decline—Pork Feels the Heaviest Reaction.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 30.—Improved crop conditions throughout the West, but especially in Oklahoma, sent wheat traders today to the bear side. The close was nervous, varying from ⅝@⅞ lower to ¼ cent advance, as compared with last night. Corn showed a net gain of ¼ to ½; oats closed irregular, ¼ off to ⅛ up, and provisions at a decline of 2½ to 27½. July wheat ranged from 1.10¼ to 1.12, with last sales 1.11¼@1.11¾, a let loss of ⅝@⅞. July corn fluctuated between 77⅛@77⅝, and 78¼@78⅝, closing firm, ⅛ net higher at 78¼@78⅝. Cash grades were offered in only a sparing way; No. 2 yellow, 80¾@81. Outside limits for July oats were 54⅜ and 53⅞, with the close 54⅜. Just the same as last night. Suggestions that abnormally high prices for hacking-house products would cause serious curtailment of consumption led to a lower quotation today. A large run of hogs here and west had considerable influence in the same direction. Pork reacted the most, 10 to 27½.

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour—Firm; spring patents, best hard, 6.20; 1?s, No. 2, 95@95¾. Barley—Feed or mixing, 90@1.00; fair to choice malting, 1.20@1.34. Timothy seed, 7.00@12.00. Clover seed, 15.00@20.50. Meat pork, 19.25@19.87½. Lard, in tierces, 10.85. Short ribs, loose, 10.20.

Grain Statistics.

CHICAGO, April 30.—[By A. P. Day Wire.] Total clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 276,700 bushels. Primary receipts were 234,000 bushels, compared with 330,400 bushels the corresponding day a year ago. The world's visible supply, as shown by Bradstreet's, December, 3,587,000 bushels. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 97 cars; corn, 150 cars; oats, 108 cars; hogs, 30,000 head.

New York Cotton Market.

[Special Service to The Times by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members N. Y. Stock Exchange, 113 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—Heavy buying by the old bull crowd this morning turned cotton market upward once more, and tonight sentiment is again swinging around to the bull side. According to preliminary reports to a prominent trade house, present new crop prospects are decidedly favorable. Weather reports being even worse than at this date in 1909, when a crop of only 10,000,000 bales was produced. Ten days ago October cotton sold at 11.90 in New York, and while prices have declined on the average of about $3 a bale, crop prospects today are much worse than when prices were sixty points higher.

Spot cotton in the south is still firmly held around the highest prices of the year. On the decline many weakly held accounts have been liquidated, and a large short interest has accumulated.

We consider present prices safe and advise purchases on all soft spots, believing in much higher prices than have yet been seen.

A. Norden & Co.'s preliminary cotton acreage estimate subject to revision June 1, makes average reduction in acreage of 7.6 per cent. Reports show that this crop as to the present outlook ranks far below any of the small crops.

Logan & Bryan's letter says: "Market was full of changeable moods, weak and strong by turns, but in the main trading was done at a higher level than the previous close. The official forecast for showers and thunderstorms in the western belt switched traders back to buying side. Early sellers covered freely and the leading bulls showed more activity and aggressive tactics than for some time. Sentiment influenced to bull side, and no small part of the buying induced by private crop reports from two firms whose correspondents estimate acreage reduction to 7 per cent., and 3 per cent., respectively, and a poor outlook for the crop.

"In this connection, it may be said, an acreage estimate at this time is practically valueless, and especially so this year when conditions are abnormal.

"Corn and cotton planting over a large section account of weather conditions will be done in the same time, and give rise to apparent advance in cotton prices and better assurance of a yield from late planting than from late planted corn, chances favor increasing cotton acreage over that first intended. Subsequent weather will govern."

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—Light precipitation has occurred at scattered places in California during the last thirty-six hours; also in the North Pacific States. The rainfall were gained by a storm which entered the Pacific Northwest Sunday night and which is now central over the British possessions north of Montana. Another disturbance is central off the Middle Atlantic coast, and unsettled weather, with showers, prevails at most places east of the Mississippi River. The highest precipitations was at New Orleans, 1.28 inches being reported from that station for the last twenty-four hours. In the Middle West and Southern Plains States the weather is fair, but cloudy. The clouds are expected to clear away in Los Angeles and vicinity, followed by fair weather on Wednesday. The total precipitation for the storm in Los Angeles was .61 of an inch.

FORECASTS.—For Los Angeles and vicinity: Generally fair Wednesday, with some cloudiness; east to southwest winds.

Pasadena, Redlands, Riverside and San Bernardino: Generally fair Wednesday, with some cloudiness.

California south of the Tehachepi: Showers Wednesday.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Forecast: San Francisco and vicinity: Cloudy, with showers, Wednesday; brisk to high southerly wind.

Sacramento, Santa Clara and San Joaquin valleys: Showers Wednesday; brisk south wind.

Arizona: Fair Wednesday and Thursday.

STOCK EXCHANGE FEELS POLITICS.

TRANSACTIONS SHOW NUMBER OF ADVERSE INFLUENCES.

Massachusetts Primaries, Danger of Further Trouble Between Railroads and Engineers and Government Crop Report Are Factors in Operations of Day.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—The hesitation and reaction which dominated operations on the stock exchange today were generally attributed to a variety of causes or reasons. Among them were the Massachusetts primaries, the possibility of another hitch between the railways and engineers, the United States Steel corporation's quarterly statement, and the government's weekly weather report, which confirmed discouraging advices concerning crop conditions in cereal-producing States. The steel statement published after the close of business was unfavorable. Earnings and net earnings were below even the most pessimistic estimates, and in order to pay the regularly quarterly dividends of 1¾ per cent. on the preferred, and 1¼ per cent. on the common shares, a deficit of almost $6,200,000 was created. This was taken from the undivided surplus remaining at the end of last year's final quarter. Steel shares were moderately strong. Baltimore and Ohio was the strongest of the standard railway shares. Smart gains were made by Pacific Telephone. International Harvester was among the strongest stocks in its especial department. Such erstwhile favorites as the Harriman and Hill issues were not prominent. Final quotations were generally under yesterday's close, with a heavy undertone. Numerous railway reports for March were submitted, and that of the Reading system being the most notable, with a gain in net of over $650,000 by the railway, while the Reading Coal and Iron Company reported a net increase of almost as much. This brought the net returns of the system up to slightly more than $1,000,000. Chicago and Alton, Toledo, St. Louis and Western and Chicago Great Western also made returns for March, these ranging from the indifferent to the very poor. The bond market was irregular, with a sharp break in Alls Chalmers. Total sales, par value, $1,858,000. United States government bonds were heavy, the 3's coupon declining ⅜, the 3's registered ¼ and the Panama 3's ¼ on call.

Los Angeles Times

INFORMATION

For Newcomers, Inquirers, Subscribers and Advertisers, Agents and the General Public.

SCOPE AND AIMS:

THE TIMES PUBLISHES REGULARLY more pages of news and other reading matter and a larger volume of advertising than any other paper extant.

DISTINGUISHING FEATURES: Independent, uncompromised, unshackled, unpurchasable, unafraid and unincumbered. THE LOS ANGELES TIMES is devoted to the great principles of Liberty under Law, Equal Rights in all fields of lawful human endeavor, Industrial Freedom, and to the upbuilding of Los Angeles, the State of California and the great Southwest.

AS TO LABOR: The Times is the undeviating friend of all honest toilers—of all unshackled law-abiding workers everywhere; and while never denying the right of workmen to organize lawfully, it is the unyielding foe of lawless, proscriptive, monopolistic and exclusive labor organizations, because they are the selfish enemies of their own class and of the common industrial weal. Our position is unmistakable and will be maintained. The long record of The Times as a just, liberal, reliable paymaster is unassailable. During the period between August 4, 1890, and September 30, 1911, there was paid to our loyal and well-satisfied non-union workmen, in salaries and wages, the telling aggregate cash sum of $4,243,219.17—mainly to skilled labor.

SWORN CIRCULATION: Daily net average—seven days, Sunday included—for 1854, 15,561; for 1897, 19,350; for 1898, 26,156; for 1899, 23,721; for 1900, 26,723; for 1901, 26,443; for 1902, 26,950; for 1903, 26,346; for 1904, 27,702; for 1905, 42,150; for 1906, 50,881 copies; for 1907, 52,311 copies; for 1908, 58,700 copies; for 1909, 84,924 copies. Sunday average for 1910, 85,152 copies. Daily and Sunday average for 1910, 97,358 copies. Average circulation every day for first three months of 1912, 80,185 copies.

AGENTS: Eastern Agents, Williams, Lawrence & Cresmer Co., Brunswick Building, 9th Ave. and 26th St., New York; 524-25 Harris Trust Bldg., 111 West Monroe St., Chicago. Washington Bureau, 46 Frost Building (THE TIMES on file.) San Francisco Office, Room 1206 Call Building; R. J. Bidwell, Representative.

THE ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY: Published on Saturdays; 40 pages; distinct and complete in itself; "The Unique Magazine of the Sensuous Southwest." Mailed to subscribers separately from the Daily Times for $2.50 per year, postpaid. Single copies 10 cents, postpaid.

TWO SPECIAL OFFERS: From and after this date, an extra copy of the Los Angeles Times Illustrated Weekly will be MAILED FREE FOR SIX MONTHS upon the order of any person, whether an old subscriber or a new, who contracts to subscribe for the Daily and Sunday Times for one year and pay the price, $8.00, in quarterly installments of $2.25 each, in advance. Or, with a full year's subscription to the Daily and Sunday papers, and $9.00 cash in advance, an extra copy of the Illustrated Weekly will be sent free for 12 months. This is an exceptional opportunity, good for a limited period, to serve a distant friend and at the same time do good missionary work for Los Angeles.

TERMS: Daily and Sunday, 75 cents a month, or $9.00 a year. Daily without Sunday, $7.00 a year. Sunday alone, $2.50; without the Illustrated Weekly, $2.00. When the Sunday issue is mailed, the Illustrated Weekly is mailed separately, a day in advance.

POSTAGE: On the regular week-day issue (1 or 2 parts) 1 cents; on the Sunday issue (2 parts) 2 cents.

There was once a time when this State was Democratic and when a boss ruled the Bourbons with as tight a hand as if they were marionettes — and they were. Everybody denounced Boss Buckley, except the men whom he put in office. He was a rascal, they said, and nothing that he did was anything but reprehensible. He was the worst specimen of the boss ever known, every newspaper declared. But—his men, called "Buckley's Lambs," obeyed orders. In 1888 he helped to elect Warren English, brother of the State chairman of the party, to the State Senate from Alameda county. When the Legislature assembled and the "lambs" voted, English refused. "I won't vote in that company," he said. Yesterday in the City Council chamber, there were nine members of the board present. "I have no use for a man in public life who will take orders," once Mayor Rowell of Fresno, uncle of Lissner's side-partner, said on the floor of the State Senate. But the question yesterday was the confirmation of the nomination of Frank Henderson to be a member of the Public Service Commission. Topham, Whitten, Lusk—these all protested, but, when the vote was taken, they fell into line, and eight voted "aye." Betkouski, personally friendly to Henderson so long as the latter remained a clerk, declared that he could not swallow him on the Public Service Commission and Betkouski declined to vote. Of course, no one would insinuate that there was any parallel between Betouski and English, for there is no "boss" in Los Angeles now, surely; and there cannot have been any order for Topham, Lusk and Whitten to take, for who in the world would give orders these days? But, if there was no boss, even the men who reluctantly carried out the instructions of the no-boss would admit that it was a pretty close imitation of the real thing.

La Follette's supporters in this part of the State are not going to allow the Roosevelt speakers to have the last word, as the latter thought they would have by sending Johnson along on the trail of the Wisconsin Senator. Yesterday afternoon Otto Bassbard, one of the big spellbinders of Wisconsin, arrived at the Alexandria to visit every city and town in Southern California and today Gilbert E. Roe, who was graduated from the University of Wisconsin with La Follette, and who was for several years his law partner, will arrive to follow Johnson. Roe is now practicing law in New York, but he is a warm adherent of his old partner, and has written several articles on the judiciary for La Follette's Weekly, that have been used by the Wisconsin campaigners as texts in politics. At La Follette headquarters last night Mrs. Bishop, who is in charge, declared that Johnson's speech in the Auditorium had made votes for La Follette. "The Governor's explanation of his defection was no explanation at all," she said. The audience, she said, contained many La Follette people, who were there solely to hear Johnson's effort to explain his defection from Roosevelt, and they went away satisfied that he could not explain. All that Johnson had said, it was pointed out, simply emphasized the fact that they had all along known that Senator La Follette was a candidate and there had been no honest excuse for throwing him aside for Roosevelt.

Already great preparations are being made for the great Taft meeting to be addressed by Secretary of State Knox in the Auditorium on May 9.

Tax Collector Expects Delinquent List Will be Largely Reduced by Checks He Is Receiving.

When all the tax money now in the mails is received at the office of County Tax Collector Welch, he estimates there will not be delinquent much more than $150,000.

It will be a week or ten days before the employees can arrange the receipts of the last two or three days. The largest taxpayers almost invariably send a check to cover on the last day allowed by law. Letters mailed before midnight Monday are good and the delinquent penalty of 5 per cent. does not apply.

The total taxes charged to the Tax Collector is $6,485,521.35. It is expected about 2 per cent. of this amount will be delinquent.

Cascarets for a Sick, Sour Stomach

Gently but Thoroughly Cleanse and Regulate Your Stomach, Liver and Bowels While You Sleep.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means indigestion; a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they cure indigestion, because they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended forever. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

Going Up!

GREATEST OF BUILDING MONTHS WAS APRIL.

APRIL broke all records in the construction annals of Los Angeles in the number of permits issued for new buildings in any one month, and claimed third place in valuation. In many ways, the month was by far the most remarkable in the history of the city.

One thousand, four hundred and thirty-nine permits were taken out during the month, calling for new structures of all kinds, whose total cost will be $2,650,461. The highest number of permits ever previously issued in a single month was 1347.

April, 1910, with $2,360,577 valuation, and June, 1911, with $2,790,521 valuation, respectively, exceeded the month just closed only because each period boasted among its permits a single building costing in excess of $1,000,000.

April was a month of ordinary building activities and its huge valuation figure is the more remarkable. For new homes alone, 673 permits were issued by the building department, these calling for dwellings whose total cost will be $1,456,495. This established a new record for the outlay for new residences for a single month. The only really large item of the month was the permit for the $300,000 apartment hotel that is to be erected by Hugh W. Bryson at the corner of Wilshire boulevard and Rampart street.

To date, for the year, 4923 permits, representing new buildings whose aggregate cost will be $8,948,076, have been issued by the Chief Inspector of Buildings. For the corresponding period of last year, which eclipsed all records previous to that time, the figures were 3597 permits and $6,850,503 valuation.

Time and Peace.

FINDING A WAY AROUND THAT GARBAGE WAR.

THE city is to have time to perfect means for handling the garbage situation under different plans, and the District Attorney will not press the rigid enforcement of the county ordinance today. This is practically the outcome of conferences yesterday between the District Attorney, Commissioner Humphreys and City Attorney Shenk.

In the afternoon Humphreys and Shenk went out to the hog farm near Covina to make a general inspection and to see the exact situation over which complaint has been made. Every effort is to be made to keep the place in as unobjectionable a condition as possible.

Dist.-Atty. Fredericks has agreed that there shall be no drastic action on his part for ten days or longer, possibly, and in the meantime, City Attorney Shenk is to give to the Board of Public Works an opinion as to the validity of the county ordinance. The District Attorney wrote to the Mayor yesterday that he has no desire to force a fight between the city and county and hopes that an understanding may be reached that will prevent such a situation. The Mayor referred him to Humphreys and the City Attorney and the conference was the result.

It has been suggested that it is possible within a very few days to make arrangements for the transportation of garbage to the sea and have it carried out and dumped in deep water. Humphreys yesterday stated that he would not consider such a plan, as it has been tried in many places and found a failure. He said that in New York City it was tried, the garbage being carried thirty miles to sea, but complaint was made that the insoluble refuse was carried back to the shore line and became a beach nuisance. Large English coast cities also tried this plan, says Humphreys, and failed.

He expects to make a thorough inspection of reduction plants operated in the large cities of the East next month, and as soon as possible thereafter definite plans will be made for the city's new system for caring for its garbage.

Beautiful French Plumes

Of Male Bird Feathers—Rich and Glossy With Heavy Heads and Extra Wide Flues—Worth Twice These Prices!

Whatever novelty feathers may come and go as the modes are swayed by the whims of Queen Fashion, the popularity of ostrich feathers remains. For richness and beauty—for the ease with which their use transforms a bare shape into a hat that is exquisite, artistic and becoming, no trimming can excel them. And the number of times a good plume can be used gives them high rank from an economy standpoint as well.

YOUNG MOTHERS

No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both herself and the coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby, too, is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.
